AN ENERGETIC ATHLETIC SECRETARY.

C. C. HUGHES, WHO FINDS TIME TO WORK AND TO PLAY.

The energetic secretary of the Manhattan Athletic Club, C. C. Hughes, is not yet forty-one years old. He was born at Athens, Ga., and was educated at Cornwall's Military Academy, being further fitted for active life by Professor Rutherford, of Franklin College. Mr. Hughes is a man of really surprising enthusiasm. His is not the fierce but fading flame of the man who goes into schemes giving them up when their difficulties develop or something else catches his fancy, but the steady consuming ambition that overcomes all obstacles and pushes forward to complete success. Such has been his record in amateur athletics. Beginning with the Manhattan Athletic Club in its infancy, he has been its unwearying pusher, and no one at all acquainted with amateur athletics will think of denying that to his zeal and ability is due much of the proud success of the Cherry Diamond organization.

C. C. HUGHES.

For six years, from 1877 to 1883, Secretary Hughes, who is superintendent of the Shore Line district of the Wagner Palace Car Company, lived abroad, and while there competed at cross country running and in distance races on the cinder path, succeeding in winning prizes at various distances from 300 yards up to eleven and three-quarter miles. His last competition on the other side was in the National Cross-country Association's championship of England in 1883. His record for a quarter mile is 56 seconds and for mile is 4 minutes 38 seconds. This last record was made in 1868 and stood for some time as the best on record in America for an amateur. While abroad Mr. Hughes was prominently connected with amateur athletics, being at one time the honorable secretary of the London Athletic Club, of which Lord George Hamilton was then the president. He also served two years as treasurer of the Southern Counties Cross Country Association of England and was a delegate to the Amateur Athletic Association of Great Britain. On his return to America he was at once elected trustee of the Manhattan Athletic Club, and since 1886 has been unanimously re-elected secretary of this club every year.

Mr. Hughes was the first president of the American National Cross Country Association, is a member of the St. David's Society, of the New-Jersey Consistory of Free and Accepted Masons and is a Knight Templar. He has a first-class reputation as an expert timer, officiating at the New-England intercollegiate championship meeting, at Worcester, last year, and holding the watch at the last Canadian championship meeting against the electric timing apparatus with most satisfactory results. At all the great games in the East Mr. Hughes and his champion timing-watch are considered fixtures. He is of dark complexion and is a good-looking man, 5 feet 8 1-2 inches tall, and weighing 150 pounds, in condition, who makes a good impression wherever he goes. Beside his running specialties, Mr. Hughes is to-day a fine equestrian and a tiptop swimmer, and devotes considerable time to bicycling.

The fight between the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Association of Amateur Athletes of America, which was practically a war headed by the New-York Athletic Club against the Manhattan Athletic Club, served to bring out Mr. Hughes's characteristics strongly. He fought the union bitterly, neither asking nor giving quarter, and so wisely that for a long time the issue was in doubt. When the old "N. A. A.'s" was taken into camp and the athletic world decided to roll on peacefully there was no stancher, more trusted upholder of the new order of things than C. C. Hughes. There is probably no man in the Manhattan Athletic Club to-day who has so thoroughly stamped his individuality on the organization as the subject of this sketch. Mr. Hughes is always to be found at the fine building in Forty-fifth-st., and it is a matter of common remark that the club would be hard pushed to find a man to fill his place.

Of course he is an authority on sporting affairs and he has a regular collection of presentations as well as medals and trophies. Watches, rings, scarf pins, walking-sticks and umbrellas have been showered upon him as slight testimonials of his valuable services to athletics and athletic organizations. He is also the editor of "The Manhattan Athletic Club Chronicle."

OFFICERS OF THE DENTAL ASSOCIATION.

Saratoga, Aug. 7 (Special).—The American Dental Association to-day closed its annual meeting of four days. The following officers were elected: President, W. W. Walker; vice-president, S. C. G. Watkins; recording secretary, G. H. Cushing; corresponding secretary, Frederick A. Levy; treasurer, A. H. Fuller.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKETS.

FEATURES OF NEW-YORK DEALINGS.

The markets on the Produce Exchange yesterday were not especially interesting, and trading was almost exclusively of a local character. Less than 2,500,000 bushels represent the dealings in wheat, yet at one time the market ruled 1 cent higher. The close showed a general reaction of ¼@⅝ cent. Advices from the Continent were rather gloomy respecting the condition of the crops, particularly from Austro-Hungary, Russia and France, and on top of the shorts both here and at the West covered in a moderate way. A private cable dispatch from Paris reported a decline of 40 centimes, and this served to check the advance for a while. The weather in the United Kingdom was favorable, yet the cables from there were contradictory, some reporting dryness, while others were weak. The big clearances materially helped the upward tendency, though there was some falling off in the export demand.

September opened at 87⅞ cents, and presently touched 88c, cents. December started at 91, and subsequently sold up to $1 00 13-16, closing at $1 00⅝. The spot market gained ⅛@¼ cent, and there were 280,000 bushels taken for export, prompt, and for deliveries up to October. At the outports shippers bought 200,000 bushels. There was also a liberal business reported in flour for export to the West Indies and United Kingdom. Millers only took 16,500 bushels.

Corn was dull, comparatively speaking, and the market ruled irregular. There was a slight decline early in the day, based on the favorable weather West and easier cables. But the buying improved later on, stimulated by the strength in wheat and favorable "sports." The close showed a rise of ⅛@⅛ cent over yesterday. The late cables came ¼@½d. higher on futures. There was quite a steady market, though trade continued quiet, only 6,500 bushels taken for export.

Oats had a day of dullness, particularly on spot lots, which showed a sharp advance, owing to the scarcity of stock. Receipts at interior points were somewhat below expectations. Options closed 1 cent higher on August and ⅛@⅜ cent up on later months.

Lard opened rather easier, but closed a shade higher, sympathizing with grain.

The closing prices were: Wheat—August, 98⅝ cents; September, 98⅝; October, 98⅞; December, $1 00½; May, $1 05⅝. Oats—August, 35 cents; September, 33⅛; October, 33⅝. Corn—August, 67⅛ cents; September, 65⅝; October, 65⅞; December, 59. Lard—August, $6 06; September, $6 73; October, $6 83; November, $6 95; December, $7 03.

The receipts of wheat, corn, oats, and flour at New-York, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Boston yesterday were: Wheat, 614,117 bushels; corn, 43,089 bushels; oats, 60,570 bushels; total, 718,376 bushels. Flour, 39,325 packages.

At Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Louis the receipts were: Wheat, 245,817 bushels; corn, 208,713 bushels; oats, 376,851 bushels; total, 1,081,881 bushels. Flour, 25,469 packages.

Philadelphia, Aug. 7.—Flour—To-day market continued very quiet, but desirable old wheats were scarce and steadily held, while new winters were weak with free offerings to arrive. Rye flour quiet and unchanged; $4 15 for new and $4 50 for half old and half new. Wheat market opened strong under a good demand to cover shorts, and speculative buying on this week's decrease in the interior movement which for four days at Chicago and nine other centres fell over 811,007 bush as compared with that of last week. Chicago estimates for to-morrow are 450 cars as against 304 actual receipts to-day. Early in the day prices advanced ½@¾c, but afterward reacted ¼c and closed barely steady. Export demand was fair but there was little inquiry from millers. Choice No 2 Delaware red in grain depot, 99c; No 2 red, in elevator, 97½c; No 2 red August and September, 97⅝@97¾c; October, 98¾@98⅞c; November, 99@99¼c. Corn market for car lots was irregular and further declined ½c under a good demand. Stocks were moderate but offerings were more than equal to requirements and holders were anxious to realize. Futures were neglected and nominal. No 2 yellow track, 72c; No 2 mixed, in grain depot, 71½c; No 2 yellow, in 20th-st. elevator, 71c; No 2 high mixed, in 20th-st. elevator, 70½c; No 2 mixed August, 68@68½c; September, 68@67½c; October, 63½@64½c; November, 63@63½c. Oats—Market for car lots was very strong under light offerings; old ungraded white sold at 53c. There were no old No 2 white offerings, and if here they would probably have brought 54c, or 2c advance on yesterday's prices. New No 2 white sold at 46c. Futures were strong and advanced with the sympathy with the improvement in other markets. No 2 white, August, 36@37c; September, 34½@35c; October, 34½@35½c; November, 36@36½c.
