W. J. FLORENCE'S FUNERAL.

SERVICES IN ST. AGNES'S CHURCH.

A LARGE CONGREGATION AND MANY PROMINENT PEOPLE PRESENT—THE REV. DR. BRANN'S EULOGY.

St. Agnes's Church, in East Forty-third-st., was zealously guarded yesterday while the requiem mass for W. J. Florence went on within. Lines of police kept casual passers away from the whole block, and the strictest care was taken that no one should gain admittance to the church without a ticket. There had been an exceedingly large demand for the cards of admission, and the attendants at the Actors' Fund had been kept busy all day Sunday in giving them out, but only enough had been distributed to fill the church, and the building was not uncomfortably crowded.

The body of the dead actor was taken from the Fifth Avenue Hotel at about 9:30 o'clock, and was conveyed to the church, where it was placed before the altar, in the midst of a mass of beautiful floral offerings from friends and associates. Among the most notable of these tributes was a large urn with the word "Husband," from Mrs. Florence; a star of chrysanthemums from the Actors' Fund, a huge wreath from the Edwin Forrest Lodge of the Actors' Order of Friendship, with the word "Brother"; a handsome piece from the Players, and one from A. M. Palmer, palm leaves from Augustin Daly, a crown of ivy and a wreath of camelias from Robert Mantell, a bed of roses and ivy from Miss Maggie Mitchell, and a pyramid of chrysanthemums and ivy from Boston friends. A tribute that has especial significance was a wreath of evergreen from Sir Edwin Arnold. The charm of Mr. Florence's social qualities was one reason why he had more friends than almost any other actor on the American stage. One of the last opportunities that he had to exercise these qualities was at a dinner a few weeks ago, at which Sir Edwin Arnold, Joseph Jefferson, Murat Halstead and Major J. B. Pond were present. Sir Edwin was delighted with Mr. Florence's conversation and reminiscences, and when his sickness was announced he watched the papers carefully for news of him. He sent this wreath to the funeral with a card bearing the words: "Sans Adieu—Edwin Arnold—W. J. Florence—November 23, 1891."

The pallbearers were Edwin Booth, John G. Heckscher, William Winter, Charles N. Vilas, A. M. Palmer, C. P. Fearing, Colonel Clayton McMichael and John Russell Young. The ushers were Major John B. Pasitt, Richard Church, Daniel P. Worden, A. P. Montant, Montefiore Isaacs, F. W. Sanger, Louis Aldrich, Lester S. Gurney, Thomas Q. Seabrooke, Herbert Kelcey and Maurice Barrymore. The committee appointed to represent the Lotos Club consisted of the following members, nearly all of whom were present: Frederic C. P. Robinson, Joseph Jefferson, Bronson Howard, Frank R. Lawrence, Robert G. Ingersoll, Horace Porter, Edward Moran, Charles H. T. Collis, John Elderkin, William T. Carleton, Stephen Fiske, Chandos Fulton, Sidney Rosenfeld, Harry N. Alden, Charles Inslee Pardee, Henry Watterson, H. W. Ranger, Henry F. Gillig, Richard Lathers, T. Henry French, Thomas W. Knox, Eben Plympton, A. Oakey Hall, John Russell Young, W. B. Somerville, E. B. Harper, S. S. Packard, Walter P. Phillips and L. L. Seaman. The Players were represented by their board of directors, who are Edwin Booth, Augustin Daly, A. M. Palmer, William Bispham, Stephen Olin and Joseph Jefferson. Mr. Jefferson was, of course, not present. The Actors' Fund and the Actors' Order of Friendship were also represented.

Among those in attendance who have not already been mentioned were Inspector Conlin and Benjamin Conlin, brothers of Mr. Florence; Mrs. Norman Wiard, Mrs. Barney Williams, Joseph H. Tooker, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Mitchell, Charles Burnham, Edward Kidder, James Collier, Lieutenant Chenney, United States Navy; Joseph Murphy, Miss Marie Jansen, J. H. Stoddart, Miss Maude Harrison, John D. Crimmins, James W. Morrissey, Paderewski, the pianist; Signor Campanini, Edward Harrigan, William M. Dunlevy, Louis Harrison, Daniel Frohman, Mr. and Mrs. Berry Wall, Frank Mordaunt, A. L. Hayman, Mrs. A. M. Palmer, Colonel T. Addison Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Byron, Daniel H. Harkins, Miss Georgia Cayvan, Harry Watkins, Mrs. E. L. Thropp, J. W. Jennings, Frank L. Goodwin, Antonio Pastor, Horace McVicker, Clementine Vaughn, Jennie Vaughn, Morris Simmonds, Annie Lonsdale, Frank Gaylor, Lawrence E. Hodes, William Hodes, Horace Wall, J. S. Cox, J. J. Spies, Miss Dora Goldthwaite, Helen Ransome, Dr. L. C. Vincent, Frank Connelly, Adelina Murio-Celli, James H. Meade, Signor De Vivo, Henry A. Avery, William J. McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. "Billy" Birch, Mrs. E. L. Fernandez, Miss Eljou Fernandez, Vincent Kearney, Major and Mrs. J. B. Pond, Dr. and Mrs. Philip O'Hanlon, E. V. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Rand, Mrs. Georgie Dickson, Mrs. Louise Eldridge, Mme. Ponisi, Mr. and Mrs. James Hyde, Miss Amy Lee, "Ben" Tuttle, W. J. Ferguson, W. H. Crompton, Miss Beatrice Cameron, Richard Mansfield, Miss Emma V. Sheridan, Mrs. Julia Brutone, E. D. Price, James B. Peakes, Henry C. Peakes, Nelse Waldron, Mrs. J. W. Mosher, Leslie Allen, Mrs. Bartley Campbell, Mrs. Nellie Downey, William H. Powers, Mrs. William Henderson, Tom Karl, Miss E. Frohman, Charles B. Jefferson, Mrs. Harry Bloodgood, J. Alexander Brown, Mrs. W. G. Jones, E. J. Ratcliffe, Victor Harmon, Harry Pepper, Burr McIntosh, Jesse Williams, Celie Ellis, Alice Harrison, Dr. Charles C. Madden, Ellie Wilton and M. W. Hanley.

The solemn mass of requiem was celebrated by the Rev. Henry Prat, rector of the Church of St. Columba, and he was assisted by the Rev. Joseph F. Sheehan as deacon; the Rev. James D. Lemon as sub-deacon, and the Rev. Thomas J. Donlon as master of ceremonies. The music was under the direction of Paola Giorza, the organist of the church, and the soloists were C. Spigaroli, Max Trueman, Miss Laura Bellini, Miss C. Brandeis and Mrs. Devin. The eulogy was spoken by the Rev. Dr. Henry A. Brann, rector of St. Agnes's Church. He said in part: "This is the last scene in the last act of the last drama in which our beloved brother will take part, but he never played more eloquently than now lying still and cold in his coffin, for this is no mimicry; it is a reality. It teaches us all that we must die. To you, nobles, princes and emperors of the stage, it teaches the lesson that the drama of life must come to an end, and what then? What avail the plaudits of the multitude, what avail all the honors and glory received while living? When death comes all these are but echoes that have died away on the mountains of the past. They will not bring back the dead or give consolation to the living. That which can give consolation to the living is the memory of the good deeds and virtues of the dead.

"It is not my province to speak of our brother in his professional capacity. I leave that for those who best knew him thus. Mine is the office to speak of him as a man. He was gentle, he was kind, he was noble, he was affectionate. He had great affection for religion and a special love for the Church. With the Rev. Father Dalton, of Newark, N. J., he held the most loving relations for years, and later on with the Rev. Father McDonnell, the first pastor of this parish. Afterward he held the relation of a brother to the good priest who this morning has offered praise and prayers for the repose of the soul of him whom he loved and who loved him. I remember once that he was walking the street with Father Prat, when an ambulance drove by. 'Harry,' said he, 'Father Harry, I never see one of these pass without saying "Hail Mary" for the soul of the poor unfortunate who may be within dead or suffering.' No one, I think, was astonished to learn that Mr. Florence had received the last sacrament of the Church in the hour of danger. I should have been astonished if he had not done so. He was not an atheist, not an unbeliever. Why should he not come back? He was a Christian, and, although he had his failings—and who has not?—his heart and his mind were ever true to the light of his fathers, even unto the end.

"It is absurd to say that this Church dislikes the dramatic profession or the stage. On the contrary, it loves the drama. It recognizes that the actor leads a life of temptation, that he has no private life, that he is more in danger than those in graver professions, that his vices cannot be hidden. The contempt of the Church is for the hypocrite who being guilty of more grievous wrong, points the finger at the unfortunate who falls. The Church hates what is bad, she loathes the immoral drama. Take from the dramas of Shakespeare, as portrayed by one known to all of us, the Emperor, may say of all tragic actors—a man loved, revered, honored and respected wherever the English language is spoken—take, I say, the scenes of the cathedrals, the cardinals, the bishops and the like and the doctrines of the Catholic Church out of Shakespeare and you deprive the literature of more than half its beauty. Mr. Florence never appeared in an immoral play. The lesson taught by every one in which he appeared was a sermon for good. Therefore for this, if nothing more, does he deserve the respect of those who survive him. There is not a man who would throw a pebble at his coffin or cast a thistle on his grave. Rather, were it possible, would all cast flowers on his bier. But he will soon be forgotten, or live but faintly in the memory of the future. In only one place will he be always remembered, and that is here by and in the church he loved so well. No day will pass, no mass will be celebrated, when he is not remembered, and now let us join in a repetition of the prayer he always said when passing an ambulance: 'Hail, Mary, Mother of the Incarnate Christ.'"

After the service at the church the body was taken to Greenwood and placed in a receiving vault. It will remain there till Mrs. Florence comes, and then it will be buried in Mr. Florence's plot in the same cemetery.

BLUE LIPS AND COLD FEET

Why Ladies look so Miserable in Cold Weather—A few Suggestions about Health and Complexion.

"Why do women look so pinched, blue and cold? Nearly every lady I saw on the street to-day had drawn features, blue lips, and seemed shaking with the cold."

The gentleman who made the above query was an observer simply. He did not know that underneath the gloves which the lady wore were chilled fingers, and within the shoes were cold feet. Unfortunately, however, women are troubled with cold feet, benumbed fingers and a general feeling of chilliness, which is anything but conducive to good health or beauty. Do you ask what causes it? Thin blood and poor circulation. If the blood gets chilled the feet are certain to be cold; if it circulates poorly, colds, coughs, congestion and perhaps pneumonia are the result. Can this be prevented by warm clothing? Partly only. Clothing may warm the outside of the body, but the inside, where the blood circulates most, may still be chilled. Nothing can assist this but pure stimulant, and nothing is so good as whiskey. This is true, beyond a question, but nothing but pure medicinal whiskey will accomplish the result sought for. There is but one pure medicinal whiskey in America, and that is Duffy's Pure Malt. This has been proven and verified over and over, and however unscrupulous certain dealers may be, however they may try to foist cheap and injurious goods upon you, do not let them deceive you. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has no equal, and is the only preparation that can accomplish the end desired, namely, good warm and pure blood kept healthily circulating.

MANAGER HOFELE ATTACKED BY COWBOYS.

The three cowboys, J. R. Gildersleeve, Robert Bruce and his brother John, who assaulted Frederick Hofele, manager of the Harlem Theatre, on Sunday afternoon, were committed without bail at the Harlem Police Court yesterday to await the result of Hofele's injuries. Hofele is confined at his home, No. 108 East One-hundred-and-twenty-fourth-st., suffering from a fracture of the skull. The cause of the fight was Hofele's refusing to allow the cowboys to enter the theatre with their theatrical effects.

The Bruce brothers own the play "Arizona Joe," which was booked for the Harlem Theatre this week. They failed to comply with the contract to forward their lithographs two weeks ago. Hofele told the Bruces that there was no time to advertise their play. On Sunday the three cowboys arrived at the theatre with a truck full of scenery and demanded admission at the stage entrance. After an exchange of words Hofele was attacked by Gildersleeve and the Bruce brothers. The cowboys were arrested by Detectives Mott and Price, of the One-hundred-and-twenty-sixth-st. station. They said that they acted simply in self-defence.

Philadelphia, Nov. 23.—Flour—There was more demand at last week's prices, and the market ruled firm, in sympathy with the continued upward movement in wheat. Western and Pennsylvania super, $3 00@$3 25; do extra, $3 90@$4 25; No. 2 winter family, $4 25@$4 50; Pennsylvania roller straight, $4 50@$4 75; Western winter, clear, $4 50@$4 75; do straight, $4 75@$4 90; winter patent, new, $5@$5 25; Minnesota clear, $4 65@$4 90; do straight, $4 90@$5 10; do patent, $5 15@$5 40; do favorite brands, $5 50@$5 60. Rye flour scarce and firm; choice Pennsylvania, $5 15. Buckwheat flour quiet, firm, at $2 10@$2 20 per 100 lb for new. Wheat market firm, under good speculative buying in all grain centres, and prices advanced 1-4@1-2c per bush. There was a moderate inquiry for parcel lots for export, but demand from millers was light; No. 2 red, November, $1 04 3-4@$1 05 1-4; December, $1 05 3-4@$1 06 1-4; January, $1 07 3-4@$1 08 1-4; February, $1 09 3-4@$1 10 1-4. Rye scarce, firm; ungraded, 99c; No. 2 Pennsylvania, $1; do very choice, $1 02. Corn speculation bullish, owing to wet weather in West, prices of options advanced 1c. The probability that the deficiency in European crops of grain will be largely made up from the American surplus of corn also helps to strengthen the market. For the day, however, export demand was light. Local car lots of new crop were dull and 1c lower. New No. 4 mixed and yellow, in grain depot, 45c; new No. 3 quoted at 52@53c; old and new No. 2 mixed, in Thentieth-st. elevator, 64c; No. 2 mixed November, 68@69c; December, 56@56 1-2c; January, 55 1-2@56c; February, 54 3-4@55 1-4c. ## GENERAL MARKET REPORT.

COFFEE—Rio on the spot ruled dull and nominal on the basis of 18¾c for No 7. Stock to arrive had a moderate demand. Sales, 500 bags No 6, cost and freight, 24c; 1,000 bags No 8 to arrive, 12⅝c; 1,000 bags Nos 6, 7 and 8, to arrive, at 12¾c for No 7, and 1,000 bags Nos 6, 7 and 8, to be shipped, 12⅝c for No 7. Mild growths quiet but steadily maintained on small supplies. In the option line there was rather more activity, with a lower range of prices, based mainly on the foreign news, which prompted selling both for "long" and "short" account. Rio was depressed and lower, with a practical suspension of business, owing to political troubles. Havre dropped 1½@2½c francs on deliveries after November. Hamburg broke ⅛ pfenning on November, while later months lost 1@1½ pfenning. London also weakened. Official quotations, 2:45 p. m.: November, 64c; December, 61c; January, 58c; February, 58c; March, 55c 9d; April, 56c 9d. Options—Higher prices prevailed in this market, and the speculation was moderately active. During the early session the "bulls" had full control of the situation, being aided by stronger Liverpool advices. As a consequence prices advanced 6@7 points, with considerable covering of "shorts." Anticipations of large port receipts, however, led to local realizing, and the improvement was partly lost. Then came a fresh buying movement, and final figures showed net gains of 3@6 points from Saturday last. Sales, 99,500 bales.

FLOUR AND MEAL—FLOUR—Shippers evinced rather more interest to-day, and a fairly active business was accomplished on foreign account, in good part for the United Kingdom, with liberal buying of spring wheat patents. The home trade demand was moderate, principally for the better grades. No material change in prices occurred, though the close was fairly steady. Sales, 24,200 bbls (9,200 bbls for export), including 1,250 bbls Low Extra, $3 00@$3 25; 2,900 bbls City Mill, $5 25 for West Indies; 3,000 bbls Minnesota Extra, $3 65@$5 00; City Mill, $5 for cash; 7,200 bbls Winter Wheat Extra, $3 65@$5 30; 950 bbls Superfine, $3 25@$4 30; 1,700 bbls Fine, $2 90@$3 65. Quotations: City Mill, West Indies, $5 25; Patents, $5 35@$5 60; Low Extra, $3 65@$4 25; Winter Wheat, low grades, $3 65@$4 25; ordinary to choice, $4 30@$4 85; fancy, $4 90@$5; Patents, ordinary to choice, $4 60@$5 10; fancy, $5 10@$5 60; common to fancy, $4 60@$5 15; Patents, ordinary to choice, $4 70@$5 15; fancy, $5 10@$5 60 (special brands of $5 65); superfine, $3 25@$3 85, spring and winter; Rye, $2 90@$3 65, spring and winter. Market closed easy.—SOUTHERN FLOUR—Steadily held, but trading very moderate. Sales, 225 bbls.

GRAIN—WHEAT—There was a strong and higher opening in this line to-day, and at one period prices showed a rise of 1@1¼c, with some little covering by local operators. The afternoon session, however, developed a weaker feeling, and the improvement was lost in a great measure. It was a quiet day, taken altogether, less than 2,300,000 bush being dealt in. December opened at $1 07⅞, as against $1 06⅝, the official close on Saturday last, and subsequently dropped to $1 06¾, from where there was a rally to $1 07⅜. Then came a sharp break, attended with more or less liquidation of "longs," caving off at $1 11⅞. May started at $1 12⅝, and then broke to $1 11⅛, after which it advanced to $1 12⅞, closing, however, at $1 11⅞. In the early dealings there was considerable selling by local parties, who turned on a decrease in the visible supply, and this, in conjunction with the Russian ukase noted in our last, served as the chief "bull" factor. The decrease in the stocks in store and liberal clearances also had a strengthening effect for a while. On the other hand, however, the cable advices were disappointing, and foreigners became sellers, in addition to which the visible supply showed an increase of nearly 2,200,000 bush. Big receipts at interior points contributed to the late weakness, and the close was barely steady. Indian shipments for the week were 90,000 qrs to the United Kingdom, and 32,500 qrs to the Continent. Private cables as a rule were weaker, and brought further selling orders. Shippers bought 180,000 bush, but this had little influence. Arrivals at interior points were 1,255,130 bush spring, and 220,570 bush winter, against 663,905 and 44,295 bush respectively a year ago. Seaboard receipts, 768,015 bush, Clearances, 559,585 bush wheat and 19,000 bbls flour. The spot market ruled 3@4c higher early in the session, but the close was rather weak. The export business included No. 2 red afloat at 1c over December; do f. o. b. ⅜@½c over December and ungraded winter red within the range. Millers bought 40,000 bush No. 2 red and ungraded red within the range. Sales, 2,240,000 bush future, 230,000 bush spot and special, including ungraded winter red and white at 91@$1 11½; No. 2 red afloat at $1 07⅜@$1 08⅜; do f. o. b. $1 07⅜@$1 10, according to delivery; do in store quoted at $1 00@$1 06¼; No. 1 Northern spring at $1 09⅜. No. 2 November, closing at $1 06¾; do December, $1 06⅝@$1 07⅜, closing at $1 07⅜; do January, $1 08⅜@$1 09⅝, closing at $1 09⅝; do February, $1 10⅝@$1 10⅞, closing at $1 10⅞; do March, $1 11⅝@$1 12½, closing at $1 11⅞; do April, $1 12⅛@$1 13, closing at $1 12⅞; do May, $1 11⅝@$1 12⅞, closing at $1 11⅞; do June, $1 11@$1 11⅞, closing at $1 11⅞. RYE—In fair demand and firm. Sales, 16,000 bush prime Western, January, $1 10, f. o. b.—BARLEY—Steady and quiet. No. 2 Milwaukee quoted at 71@73c.—CANADA PEAS—Quoted at 77@78c.—CORN—Renewed manipulation at the West carried prices still higher to-day, with a moderate degree of activity. In the option line nearly 1,000,000 bush changed hands, and during the early session there was a rise of ½@1½c. Local "shorts" were buyers to some extent, thus adding to the buoyancy. Cable advices, however, were, if anything, weaker, and late in the day realizing set in, leading to a general reaction. Final figures were ¼c better on some months, while others lost the early improvement. The visible supply increase (144,442 bush) and the subsequent heaviness in wheat contributed to the late decline. Stocks in store showed a slight increase. On the spot the tone was quite firm, though the dealings were very moderate. Shippers took 56,000 bush, part No. 2 special December, 63c. Clearances, 32,922 bush. Sales, 976,000 bush future, 89,000 bush spot, including Ungraded Mixed and White, at 58@72½c; No. 2 Mixed at 70@71⅝c elevator, 72½c afloat; Steamer Mixed, 65c elevator; No. 3 Mixed, 62c elevator; No. 2 White at 68c; No. 2 November, 69⅞@70c, closing at 70c; do December, 58⅞@60c, closing at 59⅝c; do January, 55@56c, closing at 55⅝c; do February, 54⅞@55c, closing at 54⅞c; do March, 54⅛@55c, closing at 55c; do May, 52⅝@53⅛c, closing at 52⅞c.—OATS—Ruled quite firm in the speculative line, with renewed covering of "shorts." Options advanced ⅛@⅜c early in the session, but the close showed some reaction. The visible supply increased 171,405 bush, and local stocks in store gained about 220,000 bush. On the spot there was a moderate trade reported, entirely on local account. Prices at the close were barely steady. Clearances, 20 bush. Sales, 805,000 bush future, 155,000 bush spot, including No. 3 Mixed at 40c elevator; No. 2 White, 40@40⅝c elevator; No. 2 Mixed, 40⅛@40⅝c elevator; No. 2 White, 40¾@41c elevator; No. 1 White, 43c elevator; No. 2 Chicago, 41⅛@41⅝c; ungraded mixed Western, 39@41c; White do, 41@44⅝c; No. 2 November, closing at 40⅛c; do December, 40@40⅝c, closing at 40⅛c; do January, 39⅝@40c, closing at 39⅞c; do May, 39⅝@40c, closing at 40c; No. 2 White November, closing at 40⅝c; do December, 40⅝@41c, closing at 40⅞c; do January, 40⅝@41c, closing at 40⅞c.—FEED—Quoted: 40 lb, 85@90c; spring and winter, 63 lb, 80@85c; 80 lb, 80@85c; 100 lb, $1@$1 10; sharps, $1 20@$1 25; rye feed, 85@90c; cottonseed meal, $1 20@$1 22½; 100 tons sold at equal to $1 22½ per 100 lb; hominy chip, $1 15.
