A MINING CAMP WIPED OUT.

LOSS OF A MILLION DOLLARS AT JIMTOWN, NEAR CREEDE, COLORADO.

Denver, June 5.—The bustling camp of Jimtown, which is separated from the famous mining town of Creede by a mile and a half, was almost totally destroyed by fire, which started at 5:30 this morning. Many houses were blown up with giant powder in an attempt to stop the fire, but this had no effect, for the flames leaped from one vacant space to another and only stopped for the want of material. Little if any of the contents were saved, and there are hundreds of families homeless, but they will be provided for by the people of Creede. While the fire was in progress the numerous saloons were thrown open to the crowd, and liquor was free to all who might desire it. The result was that many drunken men were on the streets, but they did no damage. One hundred deputy sheriffs have been sworn in, and they will protect the town against attempts of thieving by persons who on occasions of this kind take advantage of the great distress.

The total loss is estimated at $1,000,000.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKETS.

FEATURES OF NEW-YORK DEALINGS.

The upward tendency of wheat was continued on Saturday under the recent influences. The crop news was bad. St. Louis buying orders came in here, the big shorts at the West were said to be covering and heavy clearances were reported. Added to these stimulants was the sympathetic effect of the rise in corn. The shorts showed extreme nervousness and there was further "gunning" for Pardridge, the prominent Chicago bear. Paris cables came 50@70 centimes up on flour, which was also used to some advantage. The speculation aggregated nearly 2,000,000 bushels, and at one time there was a rise of 5-8@7-8 cent, the closing being at a reaction of 1-8@1-4 cent. On the curb July closed at 93 cents, August at 93 5-16 cents and December at 95 7-8 cents. Spot wheat advanced 1-2@3-4 cent, but the trading was comparatively light. There were sales of 88,000 bushels for export.

Corn was quite brisk and very strong on bad crop news, covering extremely moderate receipts at Chicago and poor grading. One dispatch declared that not more than half of the crop had been planted from Chicago to St. Louis and this tended to assist the buoyancy. Options rose 2 1-2@3 cents, the extreme advance being in June, closing with a reaction of 1-2@1 cent. Curb prices were 1-4@5-8 cent higher, as follows: June, 61 1-8; July, 58 1-8, and August, 57 1-4 cents. Spot lots were 2@2 1-2 cents better, but business was stagnant.

Oats rose 5-8 cent with corn. Spot oats were 1-2@1 cent higher, with little doing.

Lard dropped 2@3 points, but there were 1,150 tierces sold on the spot.

The final quotations were as follows:

Wheat—June, 91 1-2; July, 92 7-8; August, 93 1-4; September, 92 7-8; December, 95 3-4; May, 1893, 99 1-2 cents.

Corn—June, 60 1-2; July, 57 3-4; August, 57; September, 57 cents.

Oats—June, 38 3-8; July, 38 3-8; August, 37 3-4; September, 37 1-4 cents.

Lard—July, $6 66; August, $6 74; September, $6 81.

The receipts of grain and flour reported on Saturday at New-York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Boston were as follows: Wheat, 507,207 bushels; corn, 123,408 bushels; oats, 102,681 bushels; total grain, 733,356 bushels; flour, 49,426 packages. At Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Louis the arrivals were: Wheat, 56,929 bushels; corn, 231,711 bushels; oats, 265,400 bushels; total grain, 574,049 bushels; flour, 24,165 packages.

THE TRADE IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, June 5 (special).—Wheat started strong, in spite of the efforts by Pardridge Friday night and early yesterday morning before the opening to make a weak curb. July, which closed Friday at 85 1-4, opened at 86 14, sold between 85 1-4 and 87 and closed at 86 1-8c. Unquestionably the uppermost influence was the fact that Pardridge's short line is as big as ever. The crowd is confident that this big short seller will have to take to the woods. The fact that he has extraordinary losses in corn makes the crowd all the more certain of his defeat in wheat. The weather map looked bad, showing rains in Iowa and Nebraska. The tip-top prices were made on predictions by the Government of very warm weather Sunday. It is the theory that very hot weather will develop rust. Seaboard clearances were large; on the other hand, Northwestern receipts were large. Ordinary circumstances, however, are being entirely ignored. The weather and the oversold condition of the market are the factors. Corn was exceptionally strong and very active. July, which closed at 50 Friday, opened at 50 3-4 and instantly sold up to 52 3-4c. There were evidences that Pardridge was still at work reducing his short line. There were only 185 cars; the estimate for Monday was only 175. The inspection-sheet showed only fifteen cars of contract. Oats were up over a cent, July selling between 38 1-8 and 38 1-4 and closing at 38 1-8c. It has been largely a matter of sympathy with corn. There were also unmanageable reports of crop damage. In spite of the very strong grain market, provisions were lower. There were too many hogs. The May receipts were the largest on record, and it seems certain that the June receipts will also be the largest on record. There were 24,000 yesterday; the estimate for Monday was 40,000.

THE PETROLEUM MARKET

NEWS FROM THE FIELD AND RANGE OF PRICES.

The promise of conservatism on the part of the producers of Pennsylvania oil, which was given in the April field report, was not borne out by the report of last month. There was an increase in the daily average new production from April of 934 barrels, and the amount is only 866 barrels less than in March. The development work under way at the end of May showed a small increase over the preceding month, and the number of wells drilling and rigs up and building was only slightly smaller than at the end of March. Compared with a year ago, the May report shows a decided decrease in new development work, as well as in the number of wells completed. But as the wells completed recently have averaged more than 40 barrels each in the output, the daily average new production last month was substantially equal to that of the previous year. The following table gives the field reports for the last three months and for May a year ago:

Penn., W. Va., etc. fields—	May, 1891.	March, 1892.	April, 1892.	May 1892.
Wells completed	311	169	158	143

Rigs up and building	208	111	90	107
Total new work	588	362	330	341

The Buckeye (Lima) export for May reflected considerable activity in the field and the new development work has been exceeded only twice in the year—in February and March. The daily average new production increased ninety barrels from April, and is now at the highest amount in any month this year. Annexed are the Buckeye reports from January to May, 1892, inclusive:

Buckeye fields—	Jan.	Feb.	March.	April.	May.
Wells completed	57	82	92	95	93
Daily av. new prod'n	2,853	4,185	3,973	4,270	4,750

Somewhat lower values were reached by petroleum last week, although the decline was not important. The refined market was kept moving only by concessions to buyers, and "Kiernan's News Letter" says that the Rothschilds are pushing the Russian trade. The exports of Russian petroleum in March are reported by Kiernan as follows: To London, 389,000 casks; to Antwerp, 16,810 barrels; London, 45,866 barrels; other English ports, 19,510 barrels; to Italian ports, 21,000 barrels. The visible supply of refined oil for the north of Europe on May 12 was 800,000 barrels, against 852,000 barrels at the same date in 1891. The exports of petroleum from the United States from January 1 to date are estimated at 245,106,000 gallons, an increase of about 45,000,000 gallons from the corresponding period of last year. As prices are much lower than a year ago, the net returns to the American refiners are about the same for the two years.

The incomplete pipe line reports for May show a daily average of runs of 73,336 barrels, compared with full averages of 92,255 barrels in April; 77,383 barrels in May, 1891; 76,722 barrels in 1890, and 58,358 barrels in May, 1889. The deliveries in May have averaged 63,573 barrels, against full averages of 77,809 barrels in April; 65,203 barrels in May, 1891; 80,225 in May, 1890, and 72,812 barrels in 1889. The following are the Pennsylvania Pipe Line returns for May:

	Runs.	Deliveries.	Excess Runs.	Charters.
Total barrels	2,273,421	2,063,750	209,671	1,225,495
Av. per day	73,336	66,573	6,763	39,525

The Buckeye Pipe Line reports for May as follows:

	Runs.	Deliveries.	Excess Deliveries.
Total barrels	1,072,627	1,304,202	290,575
Average per day	35,467	44,974	9,507

The crude certificate market last week suffered a break to the lowest point reached this year. There was no important development to influence values, and the market yielded simply under pressure from holders who had at last wearied under conditions that have been substantially unchanged for months. These conditions have been frequently pointed out by The Tribune, namely: Continued overproduction, over millions more of stocks to carry than a year ago, and increasing activity of Russian competition. Considering that there is no public interest in speculation and that, practically, only one buyer stands in the field taking all the new oil at current rates, and thereby carrying the surplus stocks himself, it is surprising that crude values are so well sustained. The only dealings last week were in options at the Consolidated Exchange. On the switching of June deliveries to July early in the week, prices were marked up to 57 cents, but a sudden development of activity carried values down to 53 cents. In the closing dealings the market was irregular and unsettled, but last prices show only a small loss from the preceding week. Perhaps the trading "shorts" may furnish the basis for a temporary rally, but the speculation has long lacked strength and animation.

The range of prices and the total dealings in National Transit certificates at the Stock Exchange and the Consolidated Stock and Petroleum Exchange for the last two weeks were as follows:

	Stock Exchange.		Consolidated.
Week ended—	May 28.	June 5.	May 28.	June 5.
Opening	55⅝	.....	57	56⅛
Highest	55⅞	.....	57⅛	57

Final	55⅞	.....	56⅛	54⅞
Sales, bbls.	11,000	.....	44,000	*396,000

*Including "switching" operations.

Refined petroleum was dull and 5 points lower at 6 cents per gallon in barrels and 3.50 cents in bulk at New-York, and 5.95 cents and 3.45 cents at Philadelphia and Baltimore. Crude in barrels was lowered 10 points to 5.30 cents, and in bulk to 2.80 cents per gallon. Naphtha was unchanged at 5 cents.

Foreign quotations were quoted at 15⅝ francs per 100 kilos at Antwerp, 5.75 marks per 50 kilos at Bremen, and 4⅞d. per Imperial gallon at London.
