CLUBS WHO HAVE MORE THAN THIRTEEN GOOD PLAYERS MUST DISGORGE.

GAMES YESTERDAY.

Cleveland 10, New-York 5. Baltimore 5, Louisville 3. Brooklyn 3, Chicago 0. Cincinnati 7, Boston 4. St. Louis 15, Washington 11. Philadelphia 11, Pittsburg 5.

Steps were taken yesterday by the National Baseball League to strengthen the New-York team, and every local lover of baseball will be joyful when he hears the news. The local team, respected at first and tolerated afterward, is positively despised now, and a team of copper-colored Sandwich Islanders would be welcomed in its place. The game at the Polo Grounds yesterday was between the New-York and Cleveland teams and the result was the same old story, New-York away behind.

The weather was insufferably hot, yet its effect should have been as bad upon the visitors as upon the home players. King pitched indifferently, and while Young did not do much better, on the whole, he did so at trying moments. The local players ran the bases so well that eleven men were left on them. To Davis was presented a floral horseshoe of gigantic size and some fragrance. If New-York could get a few such players, brownstone houses would be their reward.

The Cleveland men took the lead in the opening inning by scoring one run.

King acted as if he felt offended at something in the next inning, and as a result Cleveland's record was bettered by two more runs.

The local players were blanked for two innings, but in the third they aroused some enthusiasm by making two runs and reducing the lead of their rivals. The local players made one more in the fifth, another in the eighth, and a solitary run in the ninth. The Cleveland men scored one run in the fourth, but the four runs they made in the fifth virtually settled the game. The score was as follows:

The Brooklyn players yesterday had the supreme satisfaction of not only humbling the proud spirit of the famous "Baby" Anson, but also of bestowing a coat of whitewash upon his beloved "Colts," as the Windy City aggregation is called. Anson is believed of the enthusiast, but the players like nothing better than to grind the old warhorse in the dust, and then, for good measure, grind him some more. Nearly 3,000 people went to Eastern Park to witness the game, and the victory for the home team and the defeat in distant Boston was balm to the followers of the Bridegrooms.

Haddock was effective, as are all good pitchers, at trying moments. While Chicago is credited with eight hits, not a run came over the plate. The home players took the lead in the second inning. O'Brien hit safely, and Daly reached first on an error by Canavan. O'Brien reached third on another blunder, and scored on a sacrifice by Haddock.

The Brooklyn men scored their second run in the sixth inning. Griffin got a "life" on an error by Dahlen, took third on a wild pitch and scored on a hit by Corcoran. In the ninth inning the home players scored their final run. Ward was sent to first on called balls, took third on a hit by Joyce and scored on a safe drive by Brouthers. The score was as appended:

The clubowners of the National League held a special meeting at the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday, and accomplished more actual work in a couple of hours than is generally accomplished by them in a couple of days. Probably the weather had something to do with expediting matters, or it might have been that the delegates had been invited to witness the New-Yorks play ball to-day, and preferred getting out of the city at once.

The directors wanted, they said, to reduce expenses, and to strengthen the weaker teams. They thought that the best way was to make clubs with superfluous players disgorge for the benefit of themselves financially and for the weaker clubs in added strength. The resolution adopted was as follows: "It is the sense of this League that for the purpose of reducing the financial expenses of the various clubs, and to equalize the playing strength, no club shall carry over thirteen players, and on July 2 each club shall furnish to the secretary of the League the names of the players it desires to retain."

This will enable the New-York club to get several players, and Story and Bennett may be two of them. Bassett is to be released or exchanged for some other second baseman. The clubs in future will forward 12½ per cent of gate receipts to the president of the League, instead of 10 per cent, as has heretofore been the case. This money is to be used in settling the debts contracted in buying out the old Association clubs and in settling the "tiff" with the Brotherhood.

Raymond, of the Pittsburg club, and Donovan, of the Washington club, have been exchanged with the consent of the players. Terry, the pitcher, has signed with the Pittsburg club.

Bernard Longoer, a blind man, whose home was in the asylum at Amsterdam-ave. and One-hundred-and-fourth-st., was run over by one of Dunlap's express wagons near the asylum yesterday. His thigh and collar-bone were broken.

JEALOUSY MADE HIM TRY TO KILL HER.

SHE WOULDN'T MARRY HIM SO HE CUT HER FACE WITH A RAZOR AND THEN CUT HIS THROAT.

Jealousy led Edward Huppe to make a murderous assault upon Mrs. Paulina Hummell, his former landlady, in her home at No. 1,316 Second-ave., on Sunday night. Failing to kill her, but believing he had done so, he ran into the street and cut his own throat. Huppe was believed to be dying in the Presbyterian Hospital yesterday. He was twenty-six years old, unmarried and a horseshoer. Mrs. Hummell is the mother of two children. Her husband, who is a fireman on the elevated railroad, deserted her about four years ago, and she afterward let one of the rooms in her flat to a boarder. Huppe recently went to board at her house and fell in love with her. His attentions became so troublesome that she turned him out of his room two weeks ago, and let the room to another boarder. Huppe rented a room on the opposite side of the avenue and imprved every opportunity to speak to Mrs. Hummell in the street.

Late on Sunday night he went to Mrs. Hummell's flat and found her at work in the kitchen. He asked her to marry him, and she ordered him to leave the house. As he refused to go she pushed him out of the room. At the door he drew a razor from his pocket and slashed her across the face. She put out her hand to ward off another blow and her hand was cut severely. She fell fainting on the floor, and Huppe ran downstairs. On the sidewalk he drew the razor across his throat, making a frightful gash from which his blood flowed freely.

One ambulance carried Mrs. Hummell and her assailant to the hospital. She was said to be out of danger yesterday, but Huppe had lost so much blood that the surgeons said his death might occur at any minute.

MRS. WELLMAN EXCEEDINGLY ILL.

The trial of Michael T. Sliney for the killing of Robert Lyons was postponed until to-day in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, yesterday, in consequence of the dangerous illness of the wife of Assistant District-Attorney Wellman. NEWS FROM NEW-JERSEY

NEWARK.

BOLD ATTEMPT AT KIDNAPPING.

The police are searching for Edward Meickner, a young farmhand employed by a farmer in Lyons-ave., near Irvington. Last Thursday Lena Cobb, ten years old, and her brother, twelve years old, living in Irvington, were on their way home from a private school in Clinton-ave., when Meickner drove up and offered to give them a ride. The children climbed into the wagon and at Clinton Place the boy pointed out his home to the driver and asked him to stop. Instead of doing so, the fellow caught the girl about the waist and whipped up his team. The boy, Archie, climbed out the back of the wagon and ran to tell his mother that Lena had been carried off by a strange man. The mother shouted to Charles Brown, her colored coachman, to get a horse and follow the wagon. The coachman mounted and rode down the avenue and came in sight of the wagon, the driver of which, seeing that he was pursued, whipped up his horses. Near the Lyons Farms Cemetery the wagon ran into a culvert, the front axle was snapped, and the driver and Lena were thrown out. When the coachman reached the spot he found the child unhurt by the fall, but in hysterics. The driver had got to his feet and run off. Brown carried the child back to her mother, and then a number of neighbors started in pursuit of Meickner. They found the wagon and horses ditched, the horses being pinned down by the pole of the wagon. The party proceeded to the farm in Lyons-ave. and made diligent search for the miscreant, but were unable to find him. The matter was reported to the police.

HOBOKEN.

A call for a mass-meeting was issued yesterday to protest against high taxes. The address to the Council and the people issued by Mayor Stanton was printed on the back of the call. The Mayor says the budget for the coming year can be reduced $56,759 below the amount fixed by the Tax Commissioners. The mass-meeting will be held at Wische's Hall this evening.

BLOOMFIELD.

Children's day was observed with appropriate exercises in the Park Methodist Episcopal Church, First Presbyterian, Christ Episcopal and Westminster Presbyterian Church.

The Republicans are fully aroused, and will have two large meetings this week. The Second Ward Republican Club will have a ratification meeting in their large rooms in Maple-st. on Thursday night. The Young Men's Republican Club will have a grand meeting in Dodd's Hall on Friday night.

MONTCLAIR.

The annual commencement exercises of the Montclair Military Academy was held yesterday at the gymnasium. A large number of people were present, both from Montclair and other places. At 10 a. m. the rhetorical exercises took place and were followed by a dumb-bell drill and a dress parade of the cadets. The graduating exercises were held at 7:30 p. m. and closed with a reception of the cadets. Professor John George McVicar is the head of the school.

JERSEY CITY.

Walter Dexter, fourteen years old, of No. 733 1-2 Jersey-ave., was swimming with some other boys yesterday afternoon at the foot of Jersey-ave. He dived from a pier and his head stuck in the mud. When taken out he was still alive, but died two hours afterward.

OTHER SUBURBAN TOWNS.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

NEW-ROCHELLE.—There were two more incendiary fires in New-Rochelle early on Sunday morning. The first destroyed a house at Cedar Road and Church-st. No sooner had the firemen returned to their quarters than they were again called out to extinguish a fire in a house owned by Mrs. Eliza Moulton, in Huguenot-st., and recently leased for hospital purposes. The flames were promptly subdued after doing little damage. This was the second attempt made to destroy the building.

LONG ISLAND.

FLUSHING.—Miss Youngs, a wealthy young woman, living in Jamaica-ave., was attacked by a large dog last night while on her way home from church. The dog after tearing a valuable silk dress and other clothing to shreds, sprang twice at the throat of Miss Youngs. She defended herself with her parasol, but would undoubtedly have been seriously hurt had it not been for the timely assistance of William Mulligan and John S. Childs, who succeeded, after much trouble, in beating the brute off with clubs. As it was, Miss Youngs and her rescuers were all severely scratched about the hands. Miss Youngs is suffering so much from shock that she is confined to her bed.

MANY REGATTAS IN PROSPECT.

THE ATLANTIC YACHT CLUB WILL SAIL ITS TWENTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL ONE TO-DAY.

The Atlantic Yacht Club will hold its twenty-seventh annual regatta to-day. The entries are as follows: Schooners, Class II—Marguerite, R. Suydam Palmer, owner; Water Witch, David Banks; Shamrock, J. Rogers Maxwell. Class III—Peerless, J. Edward Ackley and J. Murray Mitchell; Vidette, H. F. Mumm. Sloops, Class II—Gracie, Joseph P. Earle; Fanny, Thomas P. Fiske. Class IV—Anaconda, John G. Prague; Oriva, Herman Clark; Clara, Robert W. Osborne. Class V—Wasp, J. Archibald Rogers; Gulnare, John E. Dwight; Daphne, Alfred W. Booth. Class VI—Chispa, N. D. Lawton. Class VII—Tigress, James Weir, jr.; Daffodil, James R. Whiting; Saona, Alexander P. Ketchum; Dilvyn, C. A. Stephenson. Class VIII—Lena, J. R. Collins; Arab, Edmund Fish; Moya, George H. Church. Class IX—El Chico, H. Maitland Kersey; Freyja, T. W. Davis; Notus, J. B. Craft. Catboats—Enid, H. V. B. Nash; Marguerite, F. R. Simmons; Acorn, Paul H. Jeannot; Oconee, Charles T. Pierce; Wilmerad, John H. Hanan; White Cap, John B. Lord; Novice, Atlantic Yacht Club; Stranger, Atlantic Yacht Club.

The contest between the schooners Marguerite and Shamrock will be of especial interest, as those two boats seem to have pitted themselves against each other at the beginning of the season and sailed a close race in the annual regatta of the New-York Yacht Club. Mr. Palmer is young and enthusiastic. Mr. Maxwell is old enough to be Mr. Palmer's father in point of years, but is as young as the owner of the Marguerite in yachting enthusiasm. Whenever these two boats meet this season there is sure to be sport worth seeing. The old rivals, Fanny and Gracie, are pitted against each other in second-class sloops. For many years, so many that it would not be polite to tell their number, the Fanny and Gracie have been rivals. Time was when they were the fastest boats of their class afloat, and they are not slow boats now. The years which have produced faster boats have left the old contest between the Gracie and the Fanny still unsettled.

The Columbia Yacht Club will sail its twenty-fifth annual regatta to-day. The course will be from the clubhouse on the Hudson River, at Eighty-sixth-st., to Yonkers and return. It will be a Corinthian race, the yachts being sailed by members only. Forty-seven boats have been entered for the regatta.

Next Saturday will be a lively day in yachting. There is a possibility that the Norwood and Vamoose will race on that day. All arrangements for the race have been made, as they have many times before, and it is hoped that talking and letter-writing will finally be succeeded by a race between these two remarkably fast steam yachts. The American Steam Yacht Club took the matter of a race between the Norwood and Vamoose in hand last year and has persisted in a determination to bring them together. The race will be over the eighty-knot course from New-London to Milton Point.

On Saturday the Corinthian Navy will sail its opening regatta off Glen Cove, L. I. The Hempstead Harbor Club has extended the courtesies of its house and grounds to the Corinthian Navy for the day of the regatta.

The special races of the Seawanhaka Yacht Club for the Rouse and Wetmore prizes will be sailed on Saturday also. This will be the first of a series of races for these prizes. The day originally set for the first race of the series, June 11, happened to be the day set by the Marine and Field Club for its regatta, so the date was changed to Saturday.

He Couldn't Be Cruel.—"We will take a special collection next Sabbath," said the teacher, "for the purpose of making a fund to defray the expense of sending poor boys to school."

"They don't get none of my money," averred Tommy Figg on the way home. "Them poor folks' kids has a tough enough time any way 'thout jammin' 'em into school besides."—(Indianapolis Journal.

THE CONTROL OF THE BRIDGE GOES BACK TO BROOKLYN—A HARMONIOUS MEETING.

The trustees of the Brooklyn Bridge held their annual meeting yesterday afternoon to elect officers for the coming year. The New-York members of the Board, headed by Mayor Grant, went to the meeting in a body. Each of the twenty trustees was present. Mayor Boody was made temporary chairman, and Mayor Grant nominated ex-President James Howell to succeed Colonel Alfred Wagstaff as president. He said it gave him great pleasure to name for the place a man who had proved his competency to fill it in the past. Mr. Wagstaff seconded the nomination, and Mr. Howell was elected by the unanimous vote of his associates, with the exception of Controller Myers, who was temporarily absent from the room. Mr. Howell took his place as presiding officer with a brief expression of thanks and of promise to perform his duties so as to meet the approval of his associates. On motion of Mayor Boody, Colonel Wagstaff was unanimously elected vice-president to succeed Mr. Howell, who was put in that office last year when Colonel Wagstaff was elected president by the efforts of Mayor Grant and the other New-York trustees in the absence of Mayor Chapin and Controller Jackson. Secretary Beam and Treasurer McClellan were unanimously reappointed.

General A. C. Barnes offered resolutions expressing the appreciation of the trustees for the work of Colonel Wagstaff, which were unanimously adopted. President Howell was authorized to appoint a new committee of five upon terminal facilities. The monthly reports showed receipts of $107,013 37 from traffic in May and expenditures of $97,168 49. The total number of passengers was 3,620,045.

A STONE CONTRACTOR KILLS HIMSELF.

John W. Perkins, twenty-eight years old, a stone contractor, committed suicide on Sunday night by shooting himself behind the right ear with a 32-calibre revolver at the home of his sister, No. 90 Cedar-st. His dead body was not discovered until yesterday morning, when his brother-in-law, John McKenzie, went to his room to call him for breakfast. Failing to get any response to his repeated knocks at the door, McKenzie forced it open. On the bed lay the body of the suicide in a pool of blood, while he grasped the weapon tightly in his hand. Perkins was a married man, but had been separated from his wife for some time. Recently he speculated heavily, and is said to have lost all his money. This preyed on his mind, and at times he appeared despondent. On Sunday he was in a happy mood, however, and remained at home all day caring for his sister's children, while she and her husband spent the day at Coney Island. When McKenzie and his wife returned at night Perkins retired to his room. It is unknown when he killed himself, but it is supposed he took his life shortly after retiring.

CUTTING DOWN CITY ESTIMATES.

The Board of Estimate cut off $1,000,000 from the provisional estimates of city and county expenses for the tax budget yesterday and will continue the work on Thursday. The most important reductions were in the figures for the Department of Charities and Correction, in which the sum was cut down from $1,135,300 to $896,800; for the Sheriff, from $193,200 to $140,000; for the County Clerk, from $57,000 to $35,000; for the principal of the county debt, from $327,714 to $150,000; and for the National Guard, from $50,000 to $35,000. The various items in the budget for the Board of Education were cut down by the sum of $834,492.

A CHILD KILLED BY A BREWERY WAGON.

The eight-months-old child of William Cassidy, of No. 94 North Twelfth-st., was instantly killed last evening by one of Berger & Hower's brewery wagons, at Bedford-ave. and North Twelfth-st. The child was in its carriage at the time, and was being cared for by its seven-year-old brother John. The latter was wheeling the baby up and down the sidewalk when a milkman's wagon came into collision with the brewers' wagon, which was standing in front of the liquor shop of Daniel Hart. The sudden jolt caused the team to start and run away. At the time young Cassidy was in the centre of the block, and as the team came tearing toward him he became frightened and leaving the infant ran away. The carriage was turned toward the gutter, and as it began to roll toward the street a shudder went through the people who saw it. They were all powerless to save the infant, however, and as the carriage rolled into the gutter the maddened team came dashing along, and striking it, crushed it to pieces, while the child fell with the wreck, the wheels passing over its head. Death was instantaneous.
