LOCAL BRIEFS.

Read Sheriff's sale. Read "For Sale" advertisement elsewhere. Read R. Brandt's summer trade advertisement.

Mrs. Habenchit advertises this morning Heinz's pickling vinegar, together with fancy groceries, etc. The ladies of the Methodist Church will serve ice cream in the court house yard this (Tuesday) afternoon at 5.30 o'clock.

This office has received a specimen stalk of Jackson limbless cotton grown by Mr. W. M. Patrick, of Woodward. The plant has five squares to the stem.

Rev. C. E. McDonald being absent, the pulpit at the A. R. P. Church was occupied Sunday morning and evening by the Rev. Mr. Bigham, of Chester.

The Bateburg team failed to show up Friday, but a game was played between the locals and a team from Morgantown. Score: Wino-boro, 11; Morgantown, 2.

Frank Williams, colored, came near being seriously injured Tuesday afternoon. He was standing near a tree opposite Mrs. Hanahan's residence when lightning struck it. He was given a pretty severe shock.

People in this vicinity will be surprised to know that in some localities near Wino-boro it is very dry. They aren't actually suffering for rain, but they have escaped the continuous downpour that we have had recently.

In spite of alleged persecution the Mormons seem to be still largely in evidence in this part of the world. It is reported that a grand reunion of the members of that sect will be held shortly at Sharpe's Turnout near Blythe-wood.

"Our War with Spain for Cuba" is the title of a thoroughly complete and reliable history of the struggle just ended. It will be a valuable addition to any library. The book is being sold by subscription and Miss Charlotte Allston is the local agent.

As the time for the primary election approaches affairs are beginning to assume a feverish activity in political and sporting circles. The candidates are busy meeting people and hustling for votes. There are a great many voters with just a trace of sporting blood in their veins who are busy making "books" on the result of the election.

J. R. Curlee, President.

A CARD FROM MR. WOLLING.

Mr. Editor: Please allow me space in your paper to make a correction. It has been brought to my attention that there is an impression in some parts of the county that I opposed the passage of the Separate Coach Bill. This is without foundation and absolutely false, as I advocated and voted for its passage, and I refer them to House Journal, pages 409 and 410. Respectfully,

J. G. Wolling.

TRYING TO GET A COMPANY.

Mr. Editor: Please permit me to say through the columns of your paper that I am organizing a company to constitute a part of the 2nd Regiment, S. C. Volunteers, and would be glad to have as many men from Fairfield, my native county, as possible. All desiring to enlist will write to me at once for particulars, at Union, S. C. August 9, 1898. W. W. Dixon.

PICNIC AT MITFORD.

On Thursday, the 18th inst., the county campaign meeting will be held at Mitford. The Oakland, Morgantown, and Gladden's Grove Democratic Clubs will unite and give a picnic on that day. Persons attending are expected, of course, to bring large and well filled baskets. One of the attractions for the day will be a game of baseball between the Wino-boro and Morgantown teams.

Success—Worth Knowing. 40 years' success in the South, proves Hughes' Tonic a great remedy for Chills and all Malarial Fevers. Better than Quinine. Guaranteed, try it. At Druggists. 50c. and $1.00 bottles.

Mr. Ellison's Condition. Rev. Dr. Evans of Trinity Church is now in Baltimore, and went to see Mr. Robt. Ellison a few days ago at the Johns Hopkins hospital. Dr. Evans reports that Mr. Ellison is getting along very nicely. It is thought at the hospital that he will be restored to health by medical treatment alone, without any surgical operation. He is very cheerful and is looking well. Dr. Evans says that Mr. Ellison's companion on the bed with him was a copy of the State. Mrs. Ellison is with her son.—The State.

One of the Boys in Blue. Mr. W. A. Ellison, of Troop I, 2nd U. S. Cavalry, passed through Wino-boro Friday with his regiment bound for Montauk Point, Long Island. Fortunately for Mr. Ellison's friends and relatives the train stopped at the station here long enough for them to have quite a little chat with him. Army life seems to agree with this young soldier. He seems to be in perfect health in spite of the trying discomforts of life in a Florida camp.

Sheriff Ellison boarded the train and went as far as Charlotte with his son.

LOSSES ADJUSTED.

Adjusters representing the companies carrying insurance on the cotton destroyed by fire last week were in town Friday for the purpose of making settlements with the parties insured.

U. G. DesPortes carried $4,000 insurance in companies represented by J. F. McMaster, and H. L. Elliott had $2,000 in W. H. Flenkner's companies.

The losses were adjusted promptly and settlements satisfactory to all parties concerned were made.

CHANGES OF RESIDENCE.

Q. D. Williford has purchased the Lumpkin property on north Congress Street and is having the house painted and repaired preparatory to moving into it.

Mr. J. Frank Foose, the newly elected assistant principal at Mt. Zion has rented Mrs. S. C. Timms' residence on West College Street. Mr. Foose will move his family to Wino-boro next week. Mrs. Timms will move to the country to live.

Mrs. Sallie Gladden, widow of the late Jesse A. Gladden, and family have returned to their old home in the Rocky Mount section where they will reside in future.

TROOPS GOING NORTH.

Six long trains loaded with soldiers of the 3rd regular cavalry, and their equipments passed through Wino-boro Thursday afternoon and night. This is one of the regiments that saw hard service before Santiago and everybody was anxious for a glimpse of the battle scarred veterans as they passed through. Nearly all of the trains passed this point late in the afternoon or at night, and a great many people were disappointed. Some young ladies who were at the tank when one of the trains stopped for water came home with a liberal supply of trophies in the shape of buttons, bullets, palm leaves, hard tack, etc.

Several troop trains passed through Friday, having on board the 2nd Cavalry. All of these soldiers are en route to Montauk Point, L. I.

TWO STORIES.

One a Snake and the Other Lightning. A few days ago Mr. J. A. Balentine, Sr., had his dog with him in a field near his house, and the dog ran under some bushes, but soon retreated halting as he ran. The next day Mr. Balentine noticed that the dog's head was very much swollen. He went up to the field, and finally found that his dog had been bitten by a snake. He succeeded in killing the snake which proved to be a rattler.

A lightning story comes to us through Dr. B. J. Quattlebaum. At a picnic just across the Richmond line, below Blythe-wood, a storm came up with a great deal of lightning and thunder. A horse was hit by a buggy near a tree and a small dog lying under the horse. The lightning struck the tree, jumped to the buggy shaft, shocked the dog considerably, and did not affect the horse at all.

BURNED NIGHT AND DAY.

Prof. Withrow's Kitchen Caught Fire, but the Fire Put Out Before Any Damage Was Made—Creight's Warehouse Didn't Get Off so Light—A Large Amount of Cotton Destroyed.

The fire alarm was sounded Tuesday morning about 12 o'clock. It was found upon investigation that the kitchen adjoining Prof. W. H. Withrow's residence was on fire. The flames were quickly extinguished with very little damage to the building.

ANOTHER FIRE.

Another alarm was sounded on Wednesday morning at about 12.30 o'clock. This time it was found that the large brick warehouse just north of the freight depot, in which was stored about 600 bales of cotton, was on fire. Both engines responded to the call, but could not do much at first toward checking the flames. Three streams of water were kept on the building for four or five hours before the flames were gotten under control. The fire department did good work and is to be complimented. The losses were pretty heavy, but were covered by insurance.

Mr. U. G. DesPortes lost 162 bales of cotton, wholly or partly burned. Insured for $4,000.

Mr. H. L. Elliott was the next heaviest loser—93 bales; insurance $2,000.

Mr. W. B. Creight sustained a loss of four bales and a damage of about $100 to the warehouse. No insurance on either.

Fairfield Cotton Mills lost 24 bales, but the loss is fully covered by insurance.

The street in front of the depot was covered with smoking cotton taken from the warehouse on Wednesday. Both the steam engine and the hand engine were playing on it nearly the entire day. A heavy rain came up about three o'clock in the day, but it was hard to see that it had any effect on the burning bales.

For a long, slow and stubborn fire nothing surpasses a cotton fire. At one time on Wednesday, it was found that the eastern side of the warehouse had caught, but fortunately plenty of help was on hand and no damage was done to the house or cotton in that part of the warehouse. A solid wall divides the warehouse, and this prevented the fire on Wednesday morning from spreading.

The fire is supposed to have originated from spontaneous combustion. [It was a mistake about eastern part of warehouse catching fire.]

THE CANDIDATES IN WINNSBORO.

Wino-boro's campaign meeting was held in the court house Friday, and everything passed off quietly. The attendance was good, but at no time during the meeting was it found necessary to hang out the "standing room only" sign. The candidates seem to be conducting the campaign on a high plane. Their speeches were characterized by a refreshing freedom from personalities, abuse, and reckless mud slinging.

Shortly after 11 o'clock Chairman T. H. Ketchin called the meeting to order and requested the audience to accord each of the candidates a quiet and respectful hearing. He then introduced as the first speaker,

HON. W. J. JOHNSON, a candidate for the Legislature. Mr. Johnson said that greater economy in the administration of the State government and the liquor question are vital issues of the campaign. He favors the paying of liberal salaries, but thinks there is a tendency toward extravagance in the State offices. Clerks are employed to do work that could and ought to be done by the officers themselves. Liberal appropriations should be made for the State institutions of learning now in existence, but Clemson College he thinks is being run on too extravagant a scale. This college gets $115,000 from all sources or one-eighth of the entire appropriation for educational purposes. He had always voted prohibition, but didn't think it a practical solution of the liquor question. The dispensary law properly enforced is unquestionably the best law that can be enacted for the regulation of the sale of liquor.

MR. C. S. FORD, a candidate for legislative honors, was the next speaker. He said he was glad to meet the Wino-boro people as a candidate. "I am a Democrat," he said, "but not the David B. Hill kind." He believes in the democracy that recognizes the will of the people. He believes in reform and retrenchment, the reduction of salaries, and the abolishing of useless offices. Salaries should be proportionate to the purchasing power of money. The Legislature should meet every two years instead of annually as at present. Some of the State colleges are too extravagant. Only well educated boys and girls can secure scholarships. The college ought not to be pulled down but common schools should be built up. Mr. Ford is an out-and-out prohibitionist. He advanced strong arguments in support of his position, and quoted freely from the Bible. The tendency of the dispensary is to perpetuate the sale of whiskey.

MR. JOHN G. WOLLING, was next introduced. Mr. Mobley said that he believed the farmers knew exactly whom they wanted to represent them in the Legislature, and they were not going to allow themselves to be fooled or befuddled by anybody. The lien law, he said, ought not to be abolished at present. It should be allowed to exist until the county is in a better condition. The people are in such a condition of financial exhaustion that they cannot afford to have just this system of credit swept away just at present. The day, he hopes, will come when people will not be dependent upon liens.

Free silver and the establishing of State banks of issue are necessary to the solution of the money question. The people are made slaves by the cold, money loving Yankee gamblers. He believes in plain education with in reach of the "farmers' sons."

He is a practical prohibitionist, but could not agree with those who believe it should be attempted in this State. The dispensary system if properly conducted is the correct one.

HON. JOHN G. WOLLING, a candidate for re-election to the house, spoke next. He promised during the campaign two years ago to serve his constituents faithfully and his record is open to inspection. The taxes, he said, had been lowered simply to make it appear that the government was being administered more economically, while as a matter of fact there was a large annual deficit. He realized, as a business man, that the county must get out of debt, and all of his efforts were employed in that direction. The whole debt of about $80,000 will be liquidated by end of fiscal year of 1899. He favored education of the masses and the maintenance of the institutions of higher education. Clemson, he thinks, is getting too much money. All of it, however, comes from indirect tax. Prohibition is not practical. He thinks $100,000 of dispensary profits should be added to the State pension fund.

HON. R. V. LEMMON, the next speaker, is also a candidate for re-election to the house. He had been broad minded and conscientious in serving his constituents and his record covered the very best interests of the county and state. He believes
