MORTALITY FIGURES OF THE STATE.

THE DEATH RATE FOR 1892 SLIGHTLY LOWER THAN FOR THE PRECEDING YEAR.

Albany, Feb. 1.—The State Board of Health to-day issued a summary of the mortality of the State for the year 1892. The total number of deaths in the State for the year was 120,750. This makes the death rate for the year 20.78 per 1,000 population; in 1891 it was estimated at 21.43; in 1890 and 1889 at 19.65. The infant mortality (under five years of age) was 33.5 per cent. The zymotic death rate for the year was 182.87 per 1,000 deaths from all causes; for the first six months, 132.57; for the last six months, 230.34. In 1891 it was 178, and for the five years preceding 193. Typhoid fever caused 300 fewer deaths than last year. From diphtheria there were 5,918 deaths, or 250 more than in 1891. It has been prevalent during the fall in many scattered localities. Scarlet fever caused 2,177 deaths, as against 2,254 in 1891. Measles caused 1,350 deaths, as against 1,200 in 1891. From diarrheal diseases the mortality was the same as in 1891. Whooping cough caused 921 deaths, against 825 in 1891.

There is little variation from last year in the deaths from malarial diseases and cerebro-spinal fever. Smallpox prevailed throughout the year in the maritime district; of 143 deaths, all but one occurring there. In 1891 there were only four deaths from smallpox. Typhus fever has been limited to New-York City throughout the year. From epidemic influenza (grippe), the third appearance of which began in December, 1891, and did not pass entirely away until early summer, 6,000 deaths were estimated to have occurred, and 8,000 including December. It seems to have reappeared in very mild form toward the close of the year. From all local diseases there was a large increase in mortality during the grip epidemic. The death rate from old age was especially large in January, 1892. From consumption there were 13,471 deaths; there was one death in every 475.57 of the population, which is about the average for the five years preceding.

FERDINAND W. PECK ON THE BIG FAIR.

HE SAYS IT WILL BE A BAD THING TO CLOSE IT ON SUNDAY.

Ferdinand W. Peck, the vice-president of the directory of the World's Columbian Exposition and the chairman of the Finance Committee, who is at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, furnishes some interesting figures regarding the money that will have been expended on the enterprise by May 1. When talking to a Tribune reporter about the money that has been raised for the Exposition he said that more that $35,000,000 will have been paid out in the interest of the Fair, the amount having been raised as follows:

By the Illinois Corporation	$20,000,000
By the States, more than	5,000,000
By the foreign Governments, more than	5,000,000
By the United States Government, $2,500,000 in 50 cent souvenir pieces, or	5,000,000
Total	$35,000,000

"Those figures illustrate the magnitude of the enterprise," said Mr. Peck. "The people expect to see a magnificent sight, and they will not be disappointed. Success we can already see is assured. Many unkind things have been said about the men who have devoted so much of their time and energy to the Exposition. The World's Fair directors have not received a dollar either directly or indirectly for the labor they have given in the interest of the Exposition, and when it is said that the Illinois corporation proposes to open the Exposition grounds on Sunday in defiance of the will of the House of Congress it is offering an insult to forty-five of the most prominent and most honorable business men in the United States. When we accepted the $2,500,000 appropriation from Congress, we accepted it on condition that the grounds should be closed on Sunday, and unless that clause in the act is repealed we shall certainly abide by the provision. The gates will certainly be closed on Sunday if Congress does not permit us to open them on that day.

"The closing of the grounds on the Sabbath from a moral point of view is an unwise thing to do. People will come to Chicago for the pleasure of seeing the exhibits, and thousands of strangers will be there on Sunday. The barrooms will receive the patronage instead of the Exposition if the gates are closed. Strangers in the city will look for amusement outside the grounds if they cannot get on the inside, and the amusement they will seek in saloons and in other evil places will not tend to elevate the moral character of the visitors. But if Congress says that the Exposition is to be closed on Sunday the Exposition directors will not defy the Nation's wishes. We do not regard the Exposition as a local Chicago enterprise; we regard it as a national one. Chicago and Illinois have contributed $20,000,000 to its success, while the Nation's appropriation is $2,500,000, but at the same time we regard it as a national affair.

"People who talk and write against the Exposition will only do themselves injury. The attitude of The New-York Tribune and some of the other New-York papers toward the Fair has been especially commendable, but other newspapers have been especially bitter. Time will show to whom the injury will be done."

AN EXHIBITION OF CURIOS AND WORKS OF ART.

The collection of relics, curios, works of art and literature which are to be exhibited at the World's Fair at Chicago, were placed on exhibition at the Hotel Castleton, St. George, S. I., yesterday, under the auspices of the Richmond County Board of Women Managers of the World's Fair. Mrs. William Winter is in charge of the literary exhibits. In her department there are a number of old books and manuscripts, including a document signed by George III, and a deed in sheep skin, dated 1797, and signed by George Clinton, first Governor of the State of New-York. The art and loan department, in charge of Mrs. Francis McDonald, includes a set presented by the Japanese Government to Abraham Lincoln. The communion service presented to the Moravian church at New-Dorp by Queen Anne attracted much attention.

LAWYER ACCUSED OF FORGERY.

Amsterdam, N. Y., Feb. 1 (Special).—John Weighmy, a well-known pension attorney, was arrested this afternoon on a warrant issued by Justice Stover, of the Supreme Court. The formal complaint was made by Leonard F. Fish, District-Attorney. The charge is forgery in the second degree, the offence charged consisting of the alleged forgery and uttering of a judgment or decree of divorce which purports to be granted by Justice Edwards, of the Albany District, and to be certified to by the Clerk of Albany County, with the seal of Albany County attached. The signatures of Justice Edwards and the County Clerk and the impression of the seal, it is asserted, are fraudulent. Last spring a young woman named Ada Sandford, living at Fort Johnson, applied to Mr. Weighmy to secure for her a divorce. It is asserted that he gave her assurances that he would procure her a decree, and, as she understood, instituted proceedings for that purpose. The matter culminated in the mailing to her about January 1 of the alleged fraudulent certified copy of the decree of divorce.

Mr. Weighmy declines to discuss his arrest, but says it is a trumped-up charge, and that he will be able to prove his innocence. Mr. Weighmy served part of two terms in prison for perjury committed in Saratoga County some years ago in connection with the probate of his father's will. He was pardoned by Governor Cornell and Governor Robinson. His income from the pension business is said to be over $25,000.

TO REDUCE TELEPHONE CHARGES.

A NEW COMPANY WITH AMBITIOUS PLANS—WHAT THEY EXPECT TO DO.

Chicago, Feb. 1.—A new telephone company with ambitious plans, capital stock of $80,000,000, and two men of National celebrity among its directors, applied for incorporation at the office of the Illinois Secretary of State this afternoon. The granting of the incorporation papers follows as a matter of course. The name chosen is the Harrison International Telephone Company, and the two conspicuous members of the directory are Major William Warner and Richard C. Kierens. Warner is the ex-commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, and Kierens is the well-known railway magnate, Missouri's member of the Republican National Committee. The other directors are Dr. E. M. Harrison, of Fort Smith, the inventor of the telephone; L. B. Ingalls, of Chicago; George R. Peck, of Topeka, Kan.; Charles Force, Albert L. Stone, John T. Blake, Howard M. Holden and Webster E. Davis, of Kansas City, and D. J. Young. Charles M. Ferce is president of the company; Howard M. Holden, vice-president; Albert L. Stone, secretary, and a prominent Chicago man is treasurer. A number of the directors are in Chicago and have been quietly holding meetings at the Grand Pacific Hotel.

The Harrison patent was some time ago involved in a lawsuit with the Bell Telephone Company. The case was hotly contested before the Supreme Court of the United States, and was the first in which the Bell Company ever suffered defeat. On May 30, 1892, Mr. Harrison secured patents covering the entire United States. The incorporators claim they can give service for one-half the rates now charged. President Ferce said: "We will construct a circuit between New-York, Boston, Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit, St. Louis, Louisville, Cincinnati, Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore, and from there back to New-York. This circuit will cost $10,000,000, but we expect it to yield handsome dividends. One of the most important features of our new system is that we expect to do away with the telephone girl. We do this by a system of automatic switchboards. In conjunction with the telephone we will have a new system of telegraphy by which messages are written out and an exact fac-simile is transmitted to the receiver."

LIZZIE BORDEN'S NEW COUNSEL.

Boston, Feb. 1.—Ex-Governor Robinson has been retained as counsel for Lizzie Borden and will appear for her at her trial. General Pillsbury is going south for his health, and will be away a month. It is not known when the trial will begin.

W. F. SHEEHAN WILL DEFEND HIM.

Buffalo, Feb. 1.—It was announced in court to-day that Lieutenant-Governor Sheehan had been engaged to defend James Dugnan, charged with falsifying returns in the last election. Congressman Lockwood is also counsel in the case. The trial was postponed till next Monday, as Mr. Sheehan could not be present till that day.

TROLLEY ACCIDENTS IN BOSTON LAST YEAR.

Boston, Feb. 1.—The record of accidents in and around Boston caused by the electric street cars in 1892 shows that ten persons were killed and 265 injured.

MAJOR GENERAL CARROLL'S FUNERAL.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Funeral services were held over the body of Major-General S. S. Carroll at St. John's Episcopal Church this morning. The cavalry from Fort Myers and the light battery from the barracks escorted the body to the church. The pall bearers were General Thomas N. Vincent, Commodore Ramsay, General Henry Bingham, General P. M. B. Young, Colonel William E. Haynes, of the General's 8th Ohio Regiment; General Fitzhugh Lee, Major Augustus L. Nicholson and Major William P. Saville. Brief religious services were held at the grave at Arlington, followed by military exercises.

THE WEATHER REPORT.

APPROACH OF THE COLD WAVE.

Washington, Feb. 1.—The barometer continues unusually high over Minnesota; it has risen rapidly in the lake region and over the central valleys and Texas. It has fallen rapidly in the extreme Northwest, and slowly on the Atlantic Coast. The cold wave extends eastward over the upper lake region and the Ohio Valley, and southward over the northern portion of the Gulf States; the temperature having fallen 20 degrees to 50 degrees in this region during the past twenty-four hours. It is about 20 degrees warmer in Montana; it is also warmer along the Atlantic Coast. Rain is reported throughout the Ohio Valley, New-England, New-York and Pennsylvania, and snow prevails in the lake regions and central Mississippi Valley. Fair weather continues in the South Atlantic and Gulf States, and generally throughout the Northwest. The indications are that rain will prevail along the Atlantic Coast probably turning into snow from Virginia north, and followed by clearing, colder weather. Cloudiness will increase over the Gulf States with much colder weather; showers or snows and warmer into snow in northern portion. The temperature will rise rapidly in the Northwest.

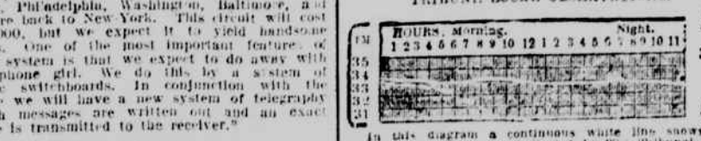
DETAILED FORECAST FOR TO-DAY.

For New-England, rain and snow, followed by clearing in the afternoon or evening; colder by night; winds shifting to northerly.

For Eastern New-York, Eastern Pennsylvania, New-Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Virginia, rain or snow; colder; northerly wind.

For Western New-York, Western Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, cloudy weather and snow, probably followed by clearing; colder.

TRIBUNE LOCAL OBSERVATIONS.



In this diagram a continuous white line shows the changes in pressure, as indicated by The Tribune's self-recording barometer. The broken line represents the temperature as observed at Perry's Pharmacy.

Tribune Office, Feb. 2, 1 a. m.—There was light snow yesterday morning, fog in the afternoon and rain at evening, with northeasterly winds. The temperature ranged between 30 and 25 degrees, the average (32¾) being 5¾ lower than on the corresponding day last year, and 2 lower than on Tuesday.

In and near this city to-day there will probably be rain, possibly changing to snow; clearing late in the day, and growing colder.

OUR NEW-YORK WOMEN.

STYLISH AND CHARMING, BUT NOT STRONG.

CONCEDED BY ALL TO BE MORE ATTRACTIVE THAN THEIR EUROPEAN SISTERS, BUT LACKING IN STRENGTH.

It has been declared that New-York women are the most beautiful, the most stylish, the most attractive women of any city in the world, and those who have been in nearly every city on the globe admit it. All agree, however, that while New-York ladies may be charming, they are not strong; they have not the robustness nor powers of endurance that English women have, nor the life and vitality of women seen upon the Continent. The great difficulty with American women seems to be that their nervous systems are in far too many cases both weak and impaired. A careful inquiry among some of the ladies in New-York has been made, and the results are given herewith, which will be found of interest.

Mrs. Grace Henderson, No. 314 West Fifty-first-st., said: "When I graduated from school some five years ago there was not one among my classmates who was in a better state of health than was I. After a trip abroad I returned to my old home, married, and came to New-York to live. Within a year my husband was dead and I was compelled to earn my own living. Having some influence, and being naturally adapted for such an occupation, I secured a position as teacher in one of the public schools. The work is particularly trying to a person of sensitive disposition, and I felt that it was having its effect upon me. My nerves, usually very strong, had become so weakened that the least unusual occurrence would cause me the greatest annoyance.

"My strength began to fail me. My appetite was poor. My physician told me that my only hope of regaining health was to rest. My means would not allow of my doing such a thing, hence I had to find some medicine that would tone up my system.

"I found such a remedy and used it constantly for nearly five months. When I began to use it I weighed but 103 pounds, which was some 40 pounds less than when I began teaching. In four months I gained 30 pounds and felt perfectly well, as shown by my picture. I am truly a convert to the benefits to be gained from using that wonderful medicine, Paine's celery compound."

Rev. A. K. Claflin, pastor of Allen Street Mission, said: "My wife has been a sufferer from nervous diseases for some time and determined to try the merits of Paine's celery compound when that remedy was brought to our notice. We found it to be a very fine tonic, far superior to anything ever before used, and will continue its use, believing it is capable of curing such diseases as nervousness and insomnia."

Mrs. Mary L. Tappan, 318 West Forty-eighth-st., said: "I cannot express my gratitude for the benefits received from using Paine's celery compound. During the past year I have used a number of bottles, which have completely cured me of a complication of diseases from which I have suffered for several years. To the celery compound alone belongs the credit, for I used no other medicine. I am grateful to the discoverer who gave the public such a wonderful remedy."

Rev. W. M. Walker, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, said: "For months my wife has had stomach troubles which have caused her a great deal of uneasiness, for it was rapidly developing into a chronic condition. She used the celery compound and has found great relief, so much so, that she can now eat almost anything."

The secret of the continued health and beauty of many New-York women can be learned from the above remarkable statements. It shows that New-York ladies, although in many cases weak, nervous and easily overcome by social duties, still they may be kept in a condition of health, vigor and happiness, which will render them, as they deserve to be, the most attractive women in the world.
