PRICES IN THE MARKETS.

SOUTHERN VEGETABLES—A PLENTIFUL SUPPLY OF FISH FOR LENT.

The mild weather of the present month has done much to push forward the supply of early vegetables from the South. New tomatoes from Florida can be had for 20 and 25 cents a quart, while hothouse tomatoes from the hothouses of Rhode Island sell for 40 cents a pound; green string beans from the extreme southern part of the Florida peninsula are worth 30 cents a quart; Florida lettuce costs 75 cents a dozen heads and new Florida beets 3 cents each; hothouse breakfast radishes, 4 and 5 cents a bunch; hothouse lettuce from Boston, $1 25 a dozen heads and fresh hothouse Romaine lettuce, two heads for 25 cents; Boston Hubbard squashes are 15 and 20 cents each; Rochester celery, half a dozen stalks for 30 cents, while of dwarf celery two bunches sell for 25 cents. New Bermuda and Havana potatoes can be had for 80 cents a peck, and Early Rose potatoes of last year's crop for 30 cents a peck, or $2 75 to $3 a barrel. South Jersey kiln-dried sweet potatoes cost 60 to 80 cents a peck. Mushrooms range from 40 cents to $1 a pound.

The approach of spring is noticeable also in the renewed activity of the hens, and the fall in the price of eggs as well as in cheaper prices for butter, not to speak of the seizures of "bob" veal at the ferries leading into this city—the latter always an infallible sign of the approaching break in the backbone of winter. Good, fresh laid Long Island eggs can be had for 40 cents a dozen, while Western eggs retail at the rate of nine for a quarter, or about 33 cents a dozen. The best Elgin butter sells for 35 cents a pound; good State dairy butter can be bought for 30 and 32 cents a pound; country butter for 25 cents and Philadelphia prints for 40 cents a pound.

Of course the demands of Lent upon the resources of the fish market make this the most prosperous season of the year in this line of business. Everything considered, prices are not unreasonable in the fish market. Roe shad from the St. John's and Savannah rivers can be had for 75 cents and the bucks for 50 cents each; roe shad from Albemarle Sound and Cape Fear River sell for $1 75 to $2 each and the bucks for 75 cents to $1. Southern sheepshead sell for 15 cents a pound; red snappers from the Gulf of Mexico are worth 18 cents a pound; Spanish mackerel, 25 cents; flounders and flukes, 12 1-2 cents; large sea bass 18 cents, and small ones 12 1-2 cents a pound; whitebait, 20 cents; haddock, 6 cents, and black bass, 18 cents a pound. Frozen mackerel cost 20 cents each. Frozen bluefish steaks are worth 15 cents a pound, halibut steaks 20 cents, and chicken halibut 30 cents a pound. Striped bass cost from 20 cents a pound for the smaller size to 35 cents a pound for fish that weigh from 5 to 12 pounds. Long Island smelts can be had for 25 and 30 cents a pound; frozen smelts, 15 cents, and lobsters, 25 cents a pound. Scollops are almost out of the market they are so scarce; those that can be had cost 85 cents a quart.

Orange County sausages sell for 14 cents, and Vermont sausages for 18 and 25 cents a pound. Calves' feet are worth 25 cents a set; calves' tongues, $1 and $1 50 a dozen; calf's head, 50 cents; beef tenderloins, 25 and 30 cents each; beef tongues, 60 cents each; beef brains, 6 and 8 cents a pair; fresh lamb tongues, 40 cents a dozen; beef kidneys, 10 cents each, and mutton kidneys, 3 cents each.

Reports from Indiana and other Western States are to the effect that the peach buds have been killed. Just now the peach-growers, fruitmen and city grocers are watching the effect of the cold weather on the peach trees anxiously. If satisfied that much damage has been done, the first result will be dearer canned fruits.

The principal apples to be found in the market now are Greenings, Baldwins, Northern spies and Spitzbergens. These range from $4 to $5 a barrel, or from 40 to 60 cents a dozen. The season for receiving imported hothouse grapes is nearly over. Those in market now bring $2 50 to $3 a pound. Pineapples from Porto Rico cost from 25 to 60 cents; grapefruit sell for $1 25 a dozen, and Florida navel oranges for $1 25 a dozen.

A SALE OF PAINTINGS POSTPONED.

Owing to the severe snowstorm last night, the sale at auction of the interesting collection of modern paintings belonging to Walter Richmond, of Providence, R. I., which was to have been held at Chickering Hall, was postponed indefinitely.

Mr. Richmond said last night: "Since my arrival here, two days ago, I have felt highly complimented by the words of praise that have been spoken by artists concerning my collection. The Tribune particularly has passed a most kind and thorough criticism on my paintings. There were only 100 persons present in the hall to-night at 9 o'clock, and I did not feel justified in opening the sale. I cannot say when I shall sell the collection, but shall probably do so soon."

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKETS.

FEATURES OF NEW-YORK DEALINGS.

The market for wheat futures was again quiet and irregular at the Produce Exchange yesterday. Cable accounts were easier, and early prices indicated a decline of 3-4 cent as a result of liquidation by the West and by local "longs." Subsequently a fractional reaction took place, and the market closed at a net loss of 3-8@1-2 cent for the day. March options sold at 77 13-16@78 3-8; May at 80 3-16@80 13-16, and July at 81 5-16@81 15-16 cents. The sales were 3,640,000 bushels. Some improvement was shown in the demand for spot wheat. Exporters took 80,000 bushels, and there were rumors that 40,000 bushels additional had been taken.

Corn options were dull to the extent of only 295,000 bushels. The opening prices indicated a decline of 3-8 cent, but there was subsequently a sharp reaction, and the market closed at a net advance of 1-4 cent on early and a net decline of 1-4 cent on late deliveries. Spot corn ruled firm and was moderately active on home trade account. The spot sales were 51,000 bushels.

Oats were again dull for futures, but spot lots were active, the sales of the latter amounting to 109,000 bushels.

The final quotations were as follows:

Wheat—February, 77 3-4; March, 78 1-8; May, 80 1-2; July, 81 5-8 cents.

Corn—February, 52 1-2; March, 52 1-4; May, 51 1-2; July, 51 5-8 cents.

Oats—February, 37 3-4; March, 38; May, 38 1-4 cents.

Lard—March, $13 20; May, $13 20; July, $12 80.

The receipts of grain and flour reported yesterday at New-York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Boston were as follows: Wheat, 50,930 bushels; corn, 137,684 bushels; oats, 42,611 bushels; total grain, 231,225 bushels; flour, 45,940 packages. At Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Louis the arrivals were: Wheat, 174,354 bushels; corn, 314,075 bushels; oats, 292,816 bushels; total grain, 781,239 bushels; flour, 28,876 barrels.

THE TRADE IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, Feb. 17 (Special).—Wheat to-day was weak. May, which closed Thursday at 77 3-4, sold as low as 76 3-4, and closed at 77 1-8. There would have been even a further decline but for stanch support around 77 cents. There seemed to be a dozen reasons for the weakness. The demoralization in Wall Street, weakness in cables, large receipts, and the prospect of an increase in the visible supply Monday, all had their effect. The Northwest was very weak, and offered a good deal of cash wheat here on which it guaranteed the grade. Minneapolis and Duluth had 372 cars, the largest for any day in the month; here there were 214; the estimate for Saturday was 164. In corn, it looked as if there was further selling, for "Deacon" White, Baldwin-Farnum and Schwartz-Dupee sold about a million between them. May sold from 45 1-2 to 44 7-8, and closed at 45 1-8. The receipts were 294 cars; the estimate for Saturday, 300. Oats followed wheat and corn. May sold from 34 to 33 1-2, and closed at 33 3-4. Provisions were strong. The lard clique supported lard and advanced the price; the rest of the market sympathized. There were only 14,000 hogs; the estimate for Saturday was only 9,000. Prices were 5 to 10 cents higher; May lard sold between $12 70 and $12 95, and closed at $12 90; May pork, between $19 67 and $19 82, and closed at $19 77; May ribs, between $10 32 and $10 45, and closed at $10 40. Flax was firm; May closed at $1 24 3-4.

With cable accounts that were construed as indicating an early settlement of the Lancashire strike the temper of the market was firm with trading active. Opening prices indicated advances ranging from 15@18 points and a further advance of 7@8 points followed. Then there were reports that the anti-Option bill would soon again prove a bugbear, and the market closed at practically the opening figures. Sales, 350,900 bales.

CORNMEAL—In light demand; Brandywine, $2 90; Western and Southern, $2 80@$2 90.

GRAIN—WHEAT—Early prices on the speculative market indicated a decline of ⅛c on easier cables and realizations by the longs and on Western accounts. There was subsequently a fractional reaction and the market closed at a net loss of ⅛@⅜c for the day. The receipts at the interior points were 417,590 bush spring and 45,853 bush winter wheat, comparing with 307,895 and 58,913 bush spring and winter respectively for the corresponding day last year. At the seaboard the arrivals were 50,930 bush, comparing with 132,579 bush for February 16, 1892, and making the total receipts interior and seaboard, 514,373 bush, against 459,387 bush. The clearances from the Atlantic seaboard were 139,941 bush on Wednesday, comparing with 93,518 bush on February 16 last year. The spot market ruled quiet but steady, with a decline of ⅛c having brought the market within shippers' limits. Shippers took 80,000 bush, including No. 2 red mixed, 1½c under May f. o. b. stored; ungraded spring and a small cargo of winter wheat on private terms. Sales, 3,640,000 bush futures, 90,000 bush spot, including No. 2 red winter, 79½c elevator; 79½c afloat; 79¾@80c delivered; No. 1 Northern spring, 81½c; No. 2 do, 83½c, and No. 1 hard, 88¼@88½c; No. 2 February, closing at 77¾c; No. 2 March, 77 13-16@78⅛c, closing at 78⅛c; No. 2 May, 80 3-16@80 13-16c, closing at 80⅜c; No. 2 July, 81 5-16@81 15-16c, closing at 81⅝c.

CORN—Dullness was again the feature of the option market which opened at a decline of ⅛c in sympathy with weakness at the West, advanced ⅛@⅛c and closed steady with prices of early months showing advances of ⅛c and late months showing corresponding declines. Spot corn was firm but quiet. There was no business reported for export, and a light movement on home account. Sales, 295,000 bush futures, 51,000 bush spot, including No. 2 mixed, 52¼@52½c elevator; 53@53½c delivered; ungraded mixed, 49@52c; No. 3 mixed, 49@50c; steamer mixed, 51@51½c elevator; No. 2 February closing at 52⅝c; do March, 52⅛@52⅜c, closing at 52⅜c; do May, 51⅝@51⅞c, closing at 51⅝c; do July, 51⅛@51⅜c, closing at 51⅝c. OATS—Ruled dull for future. Prices indicated a reduction of ¼c at the close. Spot lots showed increased activity and were firm. Sales, 30,000 bush futures, 109,000 bush spot including No. 2 white, 41½c; No. 3 do, 40@40½c; No. 2, 37⅝@38c; No. 3, 37c; No. 2 Chicago, 38@40c, delivered; ungraded Western mixed, 40@45½c; do do, white, 40@45½c. No. 2 February closing at 37¾c; do March closing at 38c; do May, 38⅜@38⅝c, closing at 38½c; do white, February closing at 41c; do March, closing at 41½c. BARLEY—Western, 60@75c; California brewing, 65@67½c; Canadian, 72½c; six-rowed State, 75@78c; two-rowed State, 65@67c, as to quality; No. 2 Canada, 85c in arrive; No. 1 do, nominal; ungraded, 65@95c. MALT—Western, 66@80c; Canadian, 75@77c; six-rowed do, 85@90c; Canada, country and city made, 85@1 05. RYE—Quiet; quotations: 57@58c on track; 60@61c delivered. FEED—Quotations: 90c for 40, 60 and 80 lb and 95c for 100 lb and sharps, and 85@90c for rye. Oil meals $1 37½, job lots, 25c more. Cottonseed meal, $1 47½@$1 50.

The appended table shows the receipts of wheat at the winter and spring wheat centres in the West, for the week ending February 17, 1893, as compared with the same week last year, and from June 27, to February 17, 1893, with comparisons for same period the previous year, in bushels, compiled by "The New-York Produce Exchange Reporter."
