WHOLESALE PRICES OF COUNTRY PRODUCE.

For the week ending February 28, 1893.

BEANS AND PEAS.

Receipts for the week—Beans, 1,542 bbls; peas, 17,550 bush. Exports—Beans, 851 pkgs; peas, 465 bbls. Imports—353 bags beans. Very few changes have come to the market this week. Neither the export demand nor home jobbing trade in domestic beans has shown any improvement; but receipts have continued moderate, and sellers are generally holding for about former prices. Possibly the feeling on marrow, pea and red kidney is a shade easier, and buyers for round lots could probably secure slight concessions. A fair movement is reported in foreign beans, with rather better prices obtained on the hand-picked lots, especially pea. California lima selling very well. Green peas in moderate supply and firm.

BUTTER.

Receipts for week, 24,349 pkgs. No exports, and nothing to indicate a place in the foreign market for our butter. In fact, a few lots of low grades have been purchased in Liverpool and will be returned here. Our local market has dragged along wearily, and prices have settled 1@2c per ℔ below the rates ruling a week ago. Possibly the consumption is widening, as a result of the lower retail prices now being charged throughout this and adjoining cities, but the demand still falls short of the supply, and it is the little surplus stock that is to be found in most stores that depresses the market. At the close, fancy western creamery is selling mainly at 27c; here and there a favorite brand of Elgin brings 1-2c premium, and on some of the fancy Iowa separators the price has been shaded to 26 1-2c rather than lose a good customer. Firsts have fallen to 24@25c, and are dull at that, and seconds are offering freely at 22@23c. Some very wintry light-colored goods are going down to 20@21c. Only small lots of first Pennsylvania arriving, and these are worked out mainly to every trade; it would be difficult to job fancy lots at over 27c. Western held creamery has but little call at present, and values are largely nominal. The increase in the receipts of new State dairy is very gradual, but prices have fallen nearly 2c in sympathy with the decline in creamery; 26c is now outside for selections of Delawares, lower grades ranging from 25c downward. The quality is improving, more lots showing all new milk, but there is still a good deal of irregularity to the receipts. Old dairy in very limited supply, and holds up surprisingly well. Western packings, such as imitation creamery, dairy and fresh factory, are quite plenty, very dull and lower. Not much call for rolls.

CHEESE.

Receipts for week, 9,406 boxes; exports, 8,873 boxes. The market seems to have lost a little tone during the week. The general movement has been quite moderate and so largely of a jobbing character that some holders have offered slight inducements to buyers of good size lots. Hence while 12c has been, and is still, the trading price for most of the fancy large size full cream, 1-8@1-4c less has been accepted on some lots, a line of 300 boxes of a well-known combination, colored, selling at 11 3-4c. Fair to choice grades are offering at 10 3-4@11 1-2c, and the fall made, part skims, bring 7@10 1-2c. Some winter made, part skims, are going to exporters at 6@8 1-2c, and more closely skimmed lots range from 5c down to 1c. Very little doing in Pennsylvania skims. Small size fall cream cheese of choice to fancy quality are quotable at 12@12 1-2c, but the outside figure is difficult to reach except for white, which are getting scarce. Liverpool cable, 55s 5d.

EGGS.

Receipts for week 1,264 bbls, 35,147 cases. Immediately following our last report the arrivals increased considerably and as out-of-town orders were more reduced it became necessary to find a larger local demand. Prices for best Western fell to 26@26 1-2c on Thursday, and to 22 1-2@23c on Friday, and on Saturday, rather than hold stock over Sunday, holders cut the price to 20c. This week opened with large arrivals and a drop to 19c, and early this (Tuesday) morning sales were made down to 18 1-4c, under the largest posted receipts of the season. But after the call on 'Change it became evident that more goods were posted than were actually available, and the market soon stiffened to 18 1-2c. At that stock has been closely cleaned up and the market is closing bare of offerings, with a strong probability of some recovery to-morrow. State and Pennsylvania, per dozen

FRUITS AND BERRIES—FRESH.

Fresh apples are in liberal supply, but the demand is good and prices rule firm or slightly in seller's favor on desirable grades. Few fresh grapes arrive, and fancy Catawba meet some demand. Cranberries in light stock and held a shade higher. Florida oranges in large supply; stock mostly of undesirable quality or in bad order, and all such pressed for sale, very dull and weak. Extra fancy fruit is relatively scarce and held with some firmness. Tangerines, mandarins and grapefruit sell fairly when fancy, but most lots are below prime and of very uncertain value.

DRIED FRUIT.

Receipts for week, 8,563 pkgs; exports for the week, 5[illegible]2 pkgs. A quiet trade is reported in all grades of evaporated apples, and while there is not much pressure to sell, the tone of prices is a little easier; outside quotations have become extreme. Sun-dried apples steady, but quiet. Chops and cores and skins slow. Peaches in small supply and firm, some demand for raspberries and good state plums, and values in seller's favor. Cherries, huckleberries and blackberries dull. California apricots in light stock and higher. Prunes sell very well.

HOPS.

Receipts for the week, 747 bales; exports, 465 bales; imports, 235 bales. Weaker advices from the country coupled with a continued dull trade here have caused a further shrinkage in values on nearly all sorts. The choicest State '92 hops can now be bought easily at 23c, and good, useful brewing stock is offering at 22c. Exporters get unfavorable cable advices from the English markets, and are not trying to do much new business at present.

POULTRY AND GAME.

Ten carloads of live poultry came in yesterday and to-day to meet the demand for the Jewish Purim holiday, but the buying has been less active than was expected and the prices have eased off a little on nearly all kinds. Fowls closed weak at 13 1-2c, both southern and Western selling at that, and turkeys have to be fine to command 14c. Ducks are not over plenty and hold up very well. Geese, 12 1-2c lower. Pigeons steady.

Receipts of fresh killed poultry have increased materially, and prices for fowls, chickens and turkeys show some decline. At the close fine turkeys are considered to be on a fairly safe basis, but there is a weak feeling on fowls and chickens with a general expectation of further decline. Capons quiet and steady. Squabs scarce and firm. Frozen poultry shows some reaction in prices in sympathy with the weakness in fresh killed, but fine turkeys are held firmly as present quotations.

Very little call for wild ducks and prices irregular. Rabbits are neither plenty nor much wanted.

POTATOES AND VEGETABLES.

Receipts of foreign potatoes have been excessive and of irregular quality and condition, a large part of the stock by nearly all steamers coming out reported of more or less wet and decayed. Average prime lots freely offered at $2 15@$2 30 for Scotch and $2@$2 10 for Irish and English; a few extra marks are held at a slight premium, but many fair grades are going down to $1 75, while very inferior drag at lower and on certain prices. Domestic potatoes in light supply, but quiet, the load being chiefly supplied with foreign. Sweet potatoes steady. Onions firm. Norfolk kale and spinach in fair supply and of very irregular quality and condition; prime in fair demand. Florida green vegetables in larger supply and generally lower; stock largely below prime and such very dull. Asparagus more plenty and easier. Fancy tomatoes firm; poor lots neglected.

Speculative trading was active, the sales aggregating 322,900 bales, while the market ruled firm, closing at a net advance of 9@11 points in the face of a decline indicated by opening prices of 3@5 points. The firmness was the result of what was regarded as favorable news relative to the Lancashire strike, coupled with the belief that the Anti-Option bill is dead.
