WHOLESALE PRICES COUNTRY PRODUCE.

For the week ending April 18, 1893.

BEANS AND PEAS.

Receipts for the week—Beans, 2,199 bbls; peas, 8,800 bush. Exports—Beans, 951 pkgs; peas, 2,920 bbls. Imports, 12,927 bags beans and 550 bags peas. After a considerable period of weakness and depression the market for foreign beans is showing just a shade steadier tone. Most of the large lots have been put in store, and receivers feel that the situation does not warrant forced sales at a loss. Dealers have been working down their stocks of late, putting off buying as long as possible so as to get in at the lowest rates. Some lots of ordinary quality—irregular in size and mixed with colored beans—have sold at $1 40@$1 45, but for fair like beans $1 50 is the current rate, prime selling at $1 55@$1 60, and two or three cars of very choice quality have been placed at $1 65. Imported pea are going at $1 60@$1 70. Domestic narrow are ruling about steady, with an occasional export order filled at $2 37 1-2@$2 40. Best marks of Canadian medium are offering at $2—a sale of 50 bbls, choice is reported at $1 97 1-2. Choice peas are weak at $1 95. Red kidney slow and easy. California Lima, job, at $2 15, but lines sell at $2 10. Green peas slow.

BUTTER.

Receipts for week, 24,332 pkgs. For a couple of days following our last weekly report there was some pressure to sell and values settled to 27 1-2@28c for fanciest fresh creamery, and 26@26 1-2c for best state dairy tubs. These figures attracted buyers from other markets, and before the close on Thursday about all of the surplus stock was cleaned up. A better feeling was developed at once and before Saturday night prices had recovered 1-2@1c per lb. So far this week there has been active trading at higher rates for all sorts. Supplies have run short of pressing necessities, and there has been strong competition between local and out-of-town buyers, which has forced an advance rather against the wishes of most operators. At the close fancy, fresh creamery is firm at 29@29 1-2c, and an occasional lot of silk-edge quality reaches 30c. Firsts have worked up to 27@28c, and seconds are active at 25@26c. State creamery is increasing, and while some of the finest lots bring 29c, rarely 29 1-2c, most sales are at 27@28c. Five carloads of California grass butter arrived during the week; bulk of sales at 22@23c, but the car in to-day brought 26@27c. State dairy is running scarce, and there are more orders in hand than can be filled; selections of Delawares bring 28c, fancy lines sell at 27 1-2c, and other grades range downward about as quoted. Best Welsh advanced to 26 1-2@27c, and was strong at that. Several small lots of old dairy firkins have sold at 22@23c. Imitation creamery and fresh factory in light receipt and selling quickly at the advance.

CHEESE.

Receipts for week, 10,397 boxes; exports, 6,323 boxes. The first sprinkling of new full-cream cheese came in this week. Fancy small sizes met some demand from home trade and brought 11 1-2@11 3-4c, but the large sizes, mostly white, had slow sale at 10@10 1-2c. Probably 500 boxes of Herkimer County part skims arrived, but not more than half are sold as yet. Shippers are showing some interest but are unwilling to pay the rates which some receivers want, so far as reported the sales are mostly at 6@6c. A few of the best Chenangoes brought 6@7c, but the quality of the stock from that section is still below shippers' wants and sales drag at from 5c down to 1c. The market for fine and fancy old cheese has been fully sustained, possibly showing a little more firmness toward the close. Local trade has been fair and the demand from out of town has improved. More of the under grades are moving, but at easy prices. Liverpool cable, 53@55s.

EGGS.

Receipts for week, 2,149 bbls., 56,972 cases. Offerings became considerably more urgent during the latter half of last week and, receipts keeping up beyond general expectations, prices weakened, the best Western setting back to 16c, with some sales of Southwestern at 15 3-4c. But Western markets have been sustained at relatively high figures by a continued large demand for cold storage, and at the close stock arriving here is again reservedly offered, having only a moderate supply for actual current wants. Prices have again advanced to 16 1-2c for the best Western, the market closing firm. Southern eggs are dull and in buyers favor except for a few of the very best marks. Fancy Baltimore duck eggs firm, but Western and Southern move slowly. Goose eggs lower.

FRUITS AND BERRIES—FRESH.

Receipts of apples have been liberal and urgently offered; the tone has been generally weak, but closes about steady on good fruit. Florida oranges are in moderate supply and the better grades meet a fair demand at firm prices; medium qualities quiet. Receipts of strawberries have been very much larger from Florida and Charleston and a good many are now coming from North Carolina. Prices have declined heavily since Saturday, but the demand is now responding to the lower rates and stock is clearing up fairly well.

DRIED FRUIT.

Receipts for the week, 2,292 pkgs; exports for the week, 1,127 pkgs. There has been a quiet jobbing trade in choice and fancy apples at slightly reduced prices, but for prime and lower grades the market is still very dull and declining; some fair stock has been sold at 8 1-8@8 1-4c, and prime can be bought at 8 3-4@9c. Some dried apples are offering lower but do not attract buyers as yet; fortunately the stock here is light. Chops steady for prime heavy packed lots. No call for cores and skins. Raspberries and cherries have declined under very slow trade, and freer offerings. Huckleberries slightly weaker, and blackberries are largely nominal. California apricots held about steady, but peaches and prunes are a shade easier.

HOPS.

Receipts for the week, 1,193 bales; exports, 697 bales; imports, 53 bales. About the same conditions prevail that have been noted for several weeks past. Growers, having gone into an association to regulate the price of hops, are holding for 20c and upward, but make only occasional sales to parties who have immediate need of the goods. But brewers are not buying to any extent and the majority of dealers are simply standing by awaiting developments. Any one who wants hops at the moment is compelled to pay full prices, but the volume of business is very light.

POULTRY.

Receipts of live poultry have been a little too heavy for the demand most of the week, and prices favored the buyer at the close, however, supplies are lighter, and the market is developing quite a strong tone on weighing stock. Fowls sold to-day at 13 1-2c, but 14c is likely to be the ruling rate to-morrow. Chickens are scarce, and range close up to fowls. Good turkeys bring 13c. Ducks and geese still running poor and have slow sale. Pigeons active and firm.

Fresh killed fowls made a slight improvement last Thursday, but it was lost on Friday, and the week closed with a decline to 12 1-2@13c. So far this week trade has been quiet, but receipts are light and prices are held steady. Fresh turkeys in light supply and of very irregular quality and value. Broiling chickens scarce and firm. Fresh capons steady. Squabs in light supply. Frozen poultry is held with some confidence at quotations, but moves rather slowly.

POTATOES AND VEGETABLES.

Light arrivals of foreign potatoes have permitted a further reduction of stock, and prime fresh land of goods are doing better. Domestic potatoes are a shade firmer, but not active. Bermuda new cabbage under larger arrivals. Sweet potatoes steady. There is a large increase in supplies of Southern green vegetables and prices for most kinds have declined. Norfolk kale and spinach close about steady for prime grades. Asparagus lower, but selling very well. Charleston cabbage in fair demand but a shade easier; Florida lots largely inferior and showing wide range in value. String beans wanted, but receipts mostly poor. Green peas in much larger supply and lower. Tomatoes plenty and easier. Beets and squash lower. Bermuda onions have fallen to $1 60@$1 75 under receipts of over 30,000 boxes.

GENERAL MARKET REPORT.

New-York, April 18, 1893.

BUILDING MATERIALS—The market is moderately active and steady, with prices showing no change of consequence. BRICKS—Quote: $4 75@$4 90 for North River hard; $4 25@$5 for Jersey; $2 25@$2 50 for pale; $12@$13 for Croton, red and dark; $11 for Croton, white. CEMENT—Rosendale quoted at $7@$7 50, and Portland at $1 90@$2 60. PLASTER—Quoted at $3@$3 50 per ton, and in bulk at $6@$6 50. LATHS—Market steady at $2 40. LIME—Quiet, at $1 for common and $1 10 for finishing; State, 80c for common, and $1 05 for finishing.

COTTON—The cotton market at New-York has been very active and decidedly stronger. There was an advance of 6 points at the opening with a further advance of 22 points; after that a break of 9 points, and then a sharply rallying of 16 points. A very much better feeling prevails. Private cables state that the recent sharp break in cotton both at Liverpool and in this market is regarded in Europe as senseless. A number of cables from Liverpool say that the tone of the market is firm; prices have struck bottom, at least for the present. The improvement here has been easily traced to the better character of the European advices; the Liverpool market after losing 3-64d. recovering the loss and closing very steady at 1-64d to 2-64d over yesterday's final figures. The weak feature of the foreign advices is the moderate business in actual cotton, the sales in Liverpool amounting to but 7,000 bales; very little more than the average during the recent lockout; at the same time we note that receipts at Liverpool are large, amounting to 20,000 bales; 18,000 bales of which consist of American growth. The already large stocks of cotton held in Liverpool are thus being increased at a time when a material reduction is expected as a sine qua non to higher prices. Advices from the South indicate a rather better feeling and less disposition to force spot cotton. European orders have been numerous in this market for buying cotton. Strictly local sentiment is somewhat confused, and no a few of our traders believe that to-day's favorable change is simply a natural reaction after a protracted decline while the market is on its way to still lower prices.

COFFEE—The coffee market has been very unsettled, and apparently, at times, on the verge of panic. Following yesterday's decline of over a cent, there is a still further decline of over 1c to-day. Transactions have been enormous. Sales up to 3 p. m. had reached over 262,250 bags. The break is said to have resulted from a concerted action on the part of the bears to undermine the great speculator, K Lilienhain. The sales in Havre reached 200,000 bags again to-day. Prices declined in that market 5c to 7½c. The Hamburg market lost 3¼ to 5¼ pfgs. and the London market declined 3s 6d. The New-York spot coffee market has been very unsettled, and nominally a half to three-quarters of a cent lower. At 3 o'clock they were rallying on "Change of a reactionary feeling, but the market is still unsettled and in a chaotic nervous condition. One man's opinion is as good as another's. After so heavy a break, however, some careful operators have been buying for a reaction, on the reaction theory, rather than on any substantial grounds for an improvement. On this the market rallied 30 points just before the close. The failure of T M Barr & Co. announced at 1:30 p. m. to-day, is believed on 'Change not to be more than a temporary suspension, the firm, it is supposed, taking advantage of the rules to liquidate their interests on the average of to-day's prices by announcing before 2 p. m. their inability to meet calls for margins. The firm assigns as the reason for their suspension their inability to secure margins from their customers fast enough for the enormous and almost unprecedented drain of the three days' steady decline. A member of the firm claims that their differences will not exceed $75,000@$100,000. Sales to-day: April, 24,000 bags; May, 48,500 bags; June, 10,000 bags; July, 32,250 bags; August, 4,000 bags; September, 38,000 bags; October, 19,500 bags; November, 1,500 bags; December, 22,000 bags; total, 242,250 bags. Market closed steady. Quotations:
