Leaving Washington every Wednesday and Saturday, the Southern Railway (Piedmont Air Line) and Sunset Route operate personally conducted tourist excursions to San Francisco, Cal., without change of cars, conductors and porters. The route is through Atlanta, Montgomery, New Orleans, Houston, San Antonio, New Mexico, Arizona and Southern California. The cars are of the very latest pattern of Pullman tourist sleepers, beds equal to those of any standard sleeper, ladies' lavatory (private apartment for ladies) and toilet facilities of the most approved style. Three and one-half days to New Mexico and Arizona, four days to Los Angeles and Southern California, and five days to San Francisco, Portland, Oregon, through the semi-tropical garden of the South, and picturesque Mt. Shasta, in seven days, with only one change of cars. Tacoma and Seattle, Wash., the afternoon of the 7th day.

Service and facilities for transcontinental travel have never before been offered. Tourist car fares $7.00 to San Francisco and Los Angeles, and intermediate points proportionately less, and railroad fare same as on other line, thus effecting a saving of $25.00 to $30.00.

For further information and reservations, inquire of any Southern Railway agent, or write to the general agent, J. C. Johnson, 51 Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, D. C.

A NOTEWORTHY COINCIDENCE. The following interesting article relating to Mr. Wm. M. Nelson, a former resident of Wino, is taken from the State:

A noteworthy coincidence is related of the service of Wm. M. Nelson, private in Company K, the Governor's Guards. When the First regiment left Chickamauga for Jacksonville and there appeared to be a certainty of their going to Cuba, Mr. Nelson volunteered to clerical duty and continued at this until the day of muster out. In 1861-5 Mr. Nelson served as a private in the Confederate army in Company C, Sixth South Carolina Infantry, John Bratton colonel. In this regiment he was assigned to clerical work, aiding Capt. B. A. Gaillard, of Wino, who was adjutant of the regiment. In both of these wars Mr. Nelson was engaged in the preparation of the regular muster rolls.

He says that these monthly muster rolls of the Confederate army were very complete, and if they could be obtained for compilation, much valuable history could be obtained. But all Confederate records on file in the archives at Washington are merely for reference and cannot be taken away. Mr. Nelson is well known in Columbia, having at one time been proprietor of the Nelson hotel, burned in 1895.

He is an expert accountant, was very useful in the clerical work of his company, writing a beautiful hand, and is a gentleman of the old school. Mr. Nelson said that when he volunteered, he found the regiment losing ground daily on account of the lax discipline of Chickamauga, but it was his candid opinion that the First regiment would have had no equal in active service.

BLYTHEWOOD NEWS. "Sad and weary, cold and dreary" I find myself engaged in the task of writing the happenings of our town. Rain! Rain! Rain! What a down-fall upon "Chrysanthemums" defenseless heads. But let us not be so gloomy, the approaching sound of merry Christmas bells should be a cure for our despondency.

We had very disagreeable weather for going to the fair, notwithstanding there was quite a large attendance from Blythewood.

Mr. Jas. A. Ballentine, our night operator, is staying at "Hoffman's Hotel" while Mr. Ballentine is visiting relatives at Belton, S. C.

Miss Ella Moore is also one of Mr. and Mrs. B. Hoffman's boarders. Mr. B. B. Jones, of Edgetield, paid a short visit a few days ago.

Miss Lily Hoffman, who has been visiting her sister Mrs. Preston Lion, at Wino, returned home last Wednesday.

Mr. J. W. Blain's brother from Greenwood was the guest at his house last Sunday.

With best wishes to our county paper. Chrysanthemum. Nov. 19, '98.

"THE LINE OF PROSPERITY."

The Wino Herald reprints the substance of the letter of Col. T. G. White, recently published in The News and Courier, in which he describes what cotton mills have done for the up-country, and especially for Spartanburg county, and contributes some interesting testimony of its own for the encouragement of towns and counties in the up-country. The best of the bill of industry and prosperity. It notes that "the difference between the two sections of the State is traceable directly to the cotton mill," that "the line of prosperity is marked by cotton mills," and that most of the manufacturing industries in the Piedmont region "had small beginnings and were started by men and people in enterprising sections helping themselves first by moderate outlays," and added: "We have called attention to this because our own people have just started on this line. We cannot boast of such figures as are presented as to Spartanburg, but we should remember that Spartanburg's beginning was as modest as ours. To-day Wino has a small mill, but it will compare most favorably with any mill of its size in the State. The effect of the Fairfield Cotton Mills is already felt upon our development. In the last six months the population of Wino has been added to our population, and the thousands of dollars paid out annually will have its effects. Whether due to the factory or not, it is significant that more building is in progress in Wino to-day than in twenty years ago. The building has followed upon the completion of the factory. In less than six months about twelve store rooms have been built, and other signs of improvement are not wanting. It is true that the low price of cotton has not without its depressing effects, but if the outward evidences of progress shall be as great in 1899 as they have been in 1898, the people of Wino should be proud to complain. Wino and Fairfield county should be very much interested in the success of the beginning. We cannot hope to rival Spartanburg, but if the present enterprise succeeds others like it will follow, and with them other evidences of progress."

We commend this to the consideration of our friends in other counties, who have been "playing on the one-stringed industrial fiddle," or trying to get on in the world with the one industry of raising unprofitable cotton, and suggest to them that they cannot do better than follow Fairfield's belated example of following the example of the Piedmont counties. The one mill in Wino has added 500 to the population of the town, and will add many more, in six months, and has caused more building than in twenty or twenty-five years before. It is the same story everywhere. A cotton mill brings business and prosperity to any town, and sometimes makes towns where there were none before. A notable instance is reported from North Carolina. The Littleton Reporter says of one of the new towns in that State:

"Where Roanoke Rapids, a town of 1,200 inhabitants, is now situated, was less than ten years ago an untamed and barren land. The opening up of cotton mills in that time has made a beautiful and thrifty town. Demand for the goods of the two mills now in operation has increased, and the capacity of the mills will be doubled in two years; this increase of mill machinery will, of course, double the population of the now already crowded town. We say 'crowded town' because there is not vacant cottage in the place. It is said the cottages are the best of any in the South for operatives. What has been done at Roanoke Rapids is being done in many places in this State, and could have been done here with profit to investors and the town. W. W. Waller, of South Carolina, was founded and built up in the same way, and is now larger than its old neighbor, Bennettsville. Bennettsville has learned its lesson, however, and will soon have a mill of its own. Waller Mills Company, at that place, it is announced, 'is now equipping its plant.' The buildings are completed and the complement of machinery is being placed in position, to include 5,000 spindles and 100,000 looms. The capital stock is $100,000. The stockholders of the famous little mill at Clover, S. C., which pays its cost every few years, held a meeting last week and decided to build another mill, and work will be commenced in a few weeks. They know a good thing when they have found one, and they have found one in cotton manufacturing. Many communities and counties in the State share their comfortable experience. Johnson's county, and especially of such a county as Barnwell, should need urging or argument to induce them to 'venture' into the industry at this late day.

A Narrow Escape. Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Groves, S. D. "When I was a child with cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined that I would meet my friends on earth. I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me in all respects. I am saved and now a free and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at McMaster Co.'s drug store. Regular size 50c, and $1.00. Guaranteed or price refunded. 1

The acreage in oats and wheat will be much greater in Fairfield County this fall than it was last. A majority of farmers are convinced that it is more profitable to plant oats or wheat, and follow with peavine hay, than to plant cotton.

HEADACHE. is only a symptom—not a disease. So are Backache, Nervousness, Dizziness and the Blues. They all come from an unhealthy state of the menstrual organs. If you suffer from any of these symptoms—if you feel tired and languid in the morning and which you could be in bed another hour or two—if there is a bad taste in the mouth, and no appetite—if there is pain in the side, back or abdomen—BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR will bring about a sure cure. The doctor may call your trouble some high-sounding Latin name, but never mind the name. The trouble is in the menstrual organs, and Bradfield's Female Regulator will restore you to health and regulate the menses like clockwork.
