INJURED BY EXPLODING GAS.

A MAN AND HORSE HURT, A WAGON BROKEN AND WINDOWS CRACKED.

A small cylinder of carbonic acid gas, of the kind used at soda water stands, exploded with a loud report at Hudson and West Eleventh-sts. ten minutes after noon yesterday. The explosion hurt one man and a horse, broke a wagon and cracked several windows. The wagon on which the cylinder was carried belonged to the Geyser's Natural Liquid Carbonic Acid Gas Company, of which W. Urbach is the agent at No. 503 East One-hundred-and-fifty-eighth-st. It was being driven over the horse-car tracks in West Eleventh-st. and the bumping probably injured the cylinder in some way. Other cylinders on the wagon remained intact after the explosion. Pieces of the wrecked cylinder were flung right and left. Some of them broke the plateglass windows of James M. Collins's drugstore, at No. 576 Hudson-st., and the small panes of glass in several other windows were cracked. A horse and cab near by were struck by pieces of iron and the horse was hurt slightly. George J. Fischer, of No. 277 West Eleventh-st., was knocked down and his back was injured severely, but he was able to walk home. The driver of the wagon and the horses attached to it were not hurt. Although the wagon was broken badly the driver took it away. It was said that the windows of a horse-car in West Eleventh-st. were broken by the explosion, but that the passengers in the car had escaped injury.

TO FIGHT MANHATTAN'S SCHEME.

CONTROLLER MYERS WISHES TO BE HEARD BY THE RAPID TRANSIT COMMISSION.

It is not probable that the Rapid Transit Commissioners will come to any agreement with the Manhattan Railway Company on the question of compensation at the meeting to be held in Mr. Steinway's house this afternoon. The Commissioners are not willing to accept the terms of compensation offered by the Manhattan Company last Friday. Controller Myers is anxious to take a hand in settling this question of compensation. He wrote to the Rapid Transit Commission on Wednesday asking to be heard before any changes were made in the terms of compensation. Controller Myers said yesterday afternoon that he had not heard from the Commission. He would not attend the meeting to-day unless he heard from the Commissioners. "I do not propose," he said, "to allow the Manhattan Company to take this town by the throat and make it grant valuable concessions for nothing."

The alternative proposition of the Manhattan Company as to compensation will again be offered to the Commission to-day. It is as follows: "As an alternative proposition, the company states that it is ready to agree to pay the city of New-York, upon the completion of the new lines, a sum that, together with the amounts that it is now liable to pay, shall equal three (3) per centum of the net receipts of its entire system—meaning thereby the gross receipts less operating expenses, which shall include expenditures actually made during the year to keep the road and equipment in safe and workable condition, taxes and interest on funded debt."

The contention to-day will probably be over the Manhattan Company's startling definition of net receipts. The proposition of the company will be opposed by all the Commissioners. Directors of the Manhattan Company who were seen yesterday said that the company had not altered the terms offered last week.

READY FOR AN INVESTIGATION.

The investigation into the Custom House by the Commissioners appointed by President Cleveland will begin on Monday. Among the departments to be investigated especially by the commission are the Appraisers' and the Special Agents' departments. Appraiser Cooper said yesterday that he would be willing to give the investigators all the assistance in his power. The merchants who are interested in the examination of the Custom House hope that the investigation will not be conducted with closed doors. A letter has been sent to the President, signed by a number of the New-York merchants, asking that the Commission hold public meetings.

GENERAL MARKET REPORT.

New-York, May 11, 1893.

COTTON—The cotton market at New-York disappointed the hopes of the bulls, selling off 10 to 12 points during the forenoon, with the new crop features particularly weak. Most of the traders went home long of cotton last night, relying upon the Liverpool market to respond more fully than it did to the bull flurry seen in this market yesterday afternoon. But Liverpool came only 2 to 3-64d higher, and closed with even that advance nearly all lost. Added to this was warmer weather in the South and generally favorable crop conditions, except in one instance—the report that at Lakeport the river near Greenville, on the Arkansas side had overflowed its banks. The price at which cotton is selling, however, and the doubt as to the invisible supply, which the bulls claim is very small, make the trade cautious and unwilling to sell more. On the other hand, the friends of cotton lost confidence, owing to the failures reported at Chicago and other Western points—banks, failures—and during the latter part of the session business dragged and a general want of confidence was indicated. Yesterday's Bureau report seemed to exert no influence, and for that matter crop advices at this stage of the season are regarded as being entitled to very little consideration. The private advices coming from the South, however, just now are bullish rather than bearish. The Government states that the chances are that the height of the Mississippi River at Arkansas will reach 50 feet or above, and at Vicksburg 49 feet or more within the next ten days if the levees hold. Our market closed easy at about the lowest point. Sales for the day, 99,200 bales. Hubbard, Price & Co. say: "While the effect of the Bureau report was to cause an advance in Liverpool of 2-64 to 3-64d, its tenor was distinctly jolted by the cables which were sent from this side ridiculing the estimate put forward by the Government, and a greater portion of the advance was lost at the close. Our cables tell us that there is a great feeling of anxiety in Liverpool and rumors are afloat regarding financial affairs in the United States, and that further trouble is looked for on every hand and deters spinners from purchasing cotton or merchants from holding large supplies. . . . No doubt the disaster of last year has caused all the authorities to use every means in their power to prevent the crop from breaking through its banks, but it is well to remember that the Mississippi is now higher than at the same time last year."

COFFEE—With the most of the European market closed—holidays in Brazil and in Havre and in Hamburg—our market has been very quiet and largely dependent upon local influences. There seemed to be some relief by shorts and a little buying for long account, while very few are willing to sell coffee with the foreign markets closed and the possibilities of sensational advices from the other side to-morrow. Consequently our market, while showing a very firm undertone, has been quiet, sales up to 2 o'clock reaching about 10,000 bags. Sales today, May, 4,250 bags; June, 250 bags; July, 2,000 bags; September, 5,000 bags; October, 500 bags; December, 2,750 bags; total, 14,750 bags. Market closed steady. Quotations:

FLOUR AND MEAL—Business in the flour department to-day was somewhat limited owing to the weakness in the wheat market. The former high limits of the Western millers were maintained, but buyers were not disposed to do much even at 10 to 15c concession. What business there was consisted almost entirely of small local sales. The transactions amounted to about 4,000 bbls and 1,700 sacks in lots as follows: 500 bbls winter patents, $3 75@$4; 1,000 bbls winter straights, $3 40@$3 50; 500 bbls winter clears, $2 90@$3 10; 1,250 sacks extra No 1 winter at $2 85; 300 bbls extra No. 2, $2 50@$2 60; 150 bbls superfine, $2 35; 1,500 bbls spring patents, $4 30@$4 50; 500 sacks spring clears, $3@$3 10; 150 bbls rye mixed, $2 75; 500 bbls Southern flour, $3 40@$3 60; 800 bbls rye flour, $3 10@$3 20. GRAIN—WHEAT—The whole change in the New-York wheat market was made to-day on local operations almost exclusively. Bearishness was one of the controlling factors of the situation, and this bearishness was on the local conclusion that the crop prospect. The fact that the average was only 2-1 point less than last month was looked upon as being evidence that the advices of extreme injury in the principal winter wheat States was exaggerated as given out by the State reports. The department admitted, however, that there had been a reduction of 6 points in the six principal States west of the Rockies, and in these six States there has been a large amount of wheat winter killed and ploughed up. Providing the acreage was the same as last year the yield would be about 285,000,000 bush on present indications, as against 359,000,000 bush last year. How much the area winter killed and ploughed up will reduce the total it is impossible to state, but possibly this may be fully 40,000,000 bushels. Assuming that there will be an increased acreage of 2,000,000 acres would indicate a crop on the present promise of approximately 100,000,000 bushels short of last year. The first rush of the market was downward, prices opening off 1c on a bush from the closing of last evening. Added to the local influence was some foreign selling which was accompanied by reports of rains and more favorable weather conditions. For a short time there was a halt in the market, but the reports of bank failures in Chicago and other Western cities started another selling movement about midday, prices declining 2@2½c from the closing figures of last night. The large stocks and the bad financial situation seem to be a great offset against the reports of the damage to the crops. Before the close the market recovered a little, leaving off quiet. Daily, it is said, will have to import this year 13,500,000 bush wheat in excess of the usual amount owing to damage by drought. The Chicago stocks of grain are as follows:

	May 8, '93.	May 1, '93.	May 9, '92.
No 2 red wheat	3,801,606	390,428	108,551

CORN—The market for corn was weak and lower, early sympathizing at first with the decline in wheat. Foreign selling added somewhat to the weakness, but the weather report showing rains developing again in Western Mississippi started a buying movement, and prices rallied, closing off again later. Rains now would delay seeding until after the beginning of the next week, putting the crop so much later. Toward the close prices again rallied on liberal local buying for short account, and left off at about the highest point for the day. Cash corn closed firm and ⅛c higher. Of sales of 42,000 bush, 24,000 bush were for export. Details as follows: No 2 corn, 10,000 bush, ½c over May elevator; do, 32,000 bush, to arrive, private terms. OATS were moderately active and weaker early with corn, but rallied and became quiet. The reports of bank failures caused a little uneasiness, but did not produce sharp selling, and the market closed firm at about the best prices. METALS—IRON—The market for iron is dull and nominal locally. The Pittsburg iron market is reported as follows: Values in the raw material market continue to show signs of weakness. Bessemer iron has sold in this market to-day at $13 25 delivered, and steel billets were offered at $21 50 Pittsburg mill, without takers. There seems to be very little steel for shipment prior to the first of July, but notwithstanding this, there is an anxiety on the part of mills who have any supplies to market it is believed. The condition, however, is marked by the fact of contracts having been made at today's values for shipment over the balance of the year is the cause of this. Sheep mills are running full now, and sheets are also in demand, in fact the finishing mills are pretty generally well provided with orders and running to their full capacity. The tone of the trade is regarded as the one situation, and the report is contradicted that a large tonnage was sold last week. Scrap iron continues very dull and prices are practically made by the buyers.
