RUSSIA'S BIG CRUISER.

THE ADMIRAL NACHIMOFF ARRIVES HERE FROM THE AZORES.

THOUGH LATE FOR THE COLUMBIAN PARADE SHE WILL JOIN IN TO-DAY'S CELEBRATION.

Two towering masts appeared above the horizon yesterday afternoon off Quarantine. They were the spars of the big armored Russian cruiser Admiral Nachimoff. She should have been here weeks ago to take part in the naval review. She would have come had it not been that she was icebound at Cronstadt. She did the next best thing and came here in time to aid the American Nation in celebrating the Fourth of July. Two other armored cruisers, the Emperor Nicholas and Pamyat Azova, were to have accompanied her, but they will not reach this port for some time. The Admiral Nachimoff made a special effort to reach New-York in time to fire her big guns to-day in honor of American independence. She is a majestic vessel, and as she swept up the harbor dragging a train of foaming water behind her she attracted much attention. Her huge masts, heavily armored sides, and the grim cannon peeping from her turrets presented a strange contrast with the Miantonomoh, which was awaiting the coming of this big sea fortress. The Admiral Nachimoff proceeded up the Hudson River and anchored off Thirty-fourth-st.

As soon as the anchor chain rattled out of the hawse holes the batteries of the cruiser greeted the nation with a salute of twenty-one guns. The low-lying Miantonomoh answered with the National salute. To-day the rigging of the Admiral Nachimoff will blaze with color. The vessel will be dressed in rainbow style in honor of the natal day of the Independence of the United States. At 8 a. m. a salute of twenty-one guns will be fired. There was no communication between the Admiral Nachimoff and the shore yesterday. To-day boats from the big cruiser will land. The Russian Consul was prepared for the coming of the cruiser, and as soon as she came to anchor a tug laden with fresh provisions was alongside. The cruiser is one of the most formidable war vessels which have ever come to this port. The Russian officers said yesterday that the Admiral Nachimoff was a more powerful vessel than the British cruiser Blake, although she does not equal the English vessel in speed. She closely resembles the British man-of-war War Spy.

The Admiral Nachimoff has a displacement of 7,782 tons, her length is 330 feet, her beam 61 feet; and her draught 23 feet. Her engines have an indicated horse-power of 8,000. She is capable of making a speed of about seventeen knots an hour. Her armament consists of twenty-one guns, including eight eight-inch guns and ten six-inch guns. She also has four torpedo tubes. Her crew consists of 604 men. The Admiral Nachimoff will remain in port for four weeks. She came here direct from the Azores, which she left on June 20, and ran at high speed in order to reach New-York in time to join the National celebration. The officers of the Admiral Nachimoff are: First captain, Lavroff; second captain, Steman; lieutenants, Plotnikoff, Shvank, Dmitrieff, Boutakoff, Khomatiano and Nebolsin; sub-lieutenants, Glinka, Grigoroff, Doukitsky, Baron Grevenitz, Zelenov, Khitrova and Sverbeeff; and midshipmen, Downowo, Stramolionbsky, Wernander, Diakonoff, Boyle, and Wessolaine. Leonide Dimoff, a Russian marine painter, who will visit Chicago, was a passenger on board the Admiral Nachimoff.

SENATOR STANFORD'S SUCCESSOR.

Chicago, July 3.—Governor Markham, of California, left here to-day for home. "I will not appoint Senator Stanford's successor," he said, "until my return home the latter part of the week. I have received numerous telegrams from my State urging the appointment of a number of good Republicans, and I shall appoint the man whom I deem best fitted to represent the State, following my inclinations entirely."
