GENERAL MARKET REPORT.

New-York, July 12, 1893.

COTTON—The cotton market at New-York opened at an advance of four to five points for the reason that the Liverpool advices were better than looked for, in view of the fact that our market lost 14 to 15 points yesterday. Later there was a weaker feeling partly in consequence of reports of rains in Texas, but more directly due to the renewed evidences of business troubles, notably in the West where a few failures were reported, and also from London, where several additional failures have occurred. Private advices intimate that Manchester does not pay much attention to the unsettled condition of affairs and really wants cotton. From the cotton spinners in the East, however, inability to obtain discounts is leading to much embarrassment in the purchase of the usual supplies of raw material. According to recent advices the English estimate of the American cotton crop now growing is 7,500,000 bales. Locally to-day the market has been rather quiet; there is a general hesitation to trade, as the stock is large enough to cause some uneasiness as to how it will carry it through August. Some are expecting large deliveries on August contracts and in two weeks from to-day notices will be out for the delivery of cotton, and it remains to be seen whether this cotton will fall in strong hands without first a materially wider difference than now exists between August and the later deliveries. The weather is generally regarded as favorable as indicated by the Government report this morning, but conservative merchants are not looking for much further decline in prices until they have more definite testimony concerning the prospects of the crop now growing. Operators in cotton are far from satisfied that the meeting of Congress will bring about the desired results as to finances, and altogether the situation is such as to check investment buying. Hubbard, Price & Co. say: "At the moment the feeling is becoming very pessimistic, and all traces of the disposition of last week to consider the financial distress at its most acute point, and a rally in the price of cotton therefore liable at any moment, has disappeared. This temper in the market is, however, apt to be deceptive, as bad crop accounts would at any moment change the current temper among operators."

COFFEE—The coffee market at New-York opened at a decline of from 15 to 20 points, because the European market advices were disappointing. Trading ruled quiet. There was subsequently a rally of 5 to 10 points on some local covering mixed with a little European buying and some buying for Baltimore account. In the unsettled condition of political matters in Brazil nobody seems willing to take the short side of coffee and the scarcity of sellers gives to the market rather a firm undertone, taking one day with another. This afternoon, however, the future market seemed quite weak, and closed not better than barely steady, while prices in the spot market were also lower, with No 7 selling at 17c, which is ⅛c off. Total sales to-day, 19,000 bags.

The total stock of Brazil coffee in the United States to-day is 240,417 bags, after from Rio, Santos, etc., 187,000 bags; total stock in New-York, 177,459 bags; warehouse deliveries yesterday, 5,911 bags; stock, New-Orleans, 25,550 bags; in Baltimore, 37,408 bags. The market for spot coffee was easier at 17c for Rio 7. Sales: 1,000 bags Rio 7, to be shipped, 17c; 1,000 bags 5 to 8 Rio spot at 17⅛c; 2,000 bags spot Santos 8s, at 16⅞c. The business in mild included 500 bags Maracaibo and 800 bags Central American.

FLOUR—The market was slow again to-day, with trade in Western spring and winter in small and lot quantities. Buyers continue to exhibit a feeling of indifference and are waiting for the long talked of but slowly arriving improvement in conditions. Exporters are indifferent and the undertone of the market is easy and neglected. Sales were 12,300 packages, including 3,500 this city mill patents in p t; 800 bbls of straights at $3 25@$3 40; 1,000 sacks of clears for export at $2 70, and 3,000 bbls of city mills on p t; 800 bbls of extra fs at $2 20@$2 70, in sacks and bbls; 150 bbls of extra 2s at $2 55; 150 bbls of superfine at $2 15, and 150 bbls at $2 10. CORNMEAL—The market is steady at former prices. Sales, 2,000 sacks of Western at quotations: yellow, Western, $2 65@$2 75; Southern white, $2 65@$2 75; Brandywine, $2 75. MEAL—Quiet and nominally unchanged. Quotations: fine white, $1 60@$1 10; fine yellow, $1 05@$1 10; coarse, 95@97c. FEED—Market is quiet, but firmly held at 80c for city. Quotations: 40-lb, 75c; 100-lb, 75c; 80-lb, 70c; 100-lb, 80@85c; sharps, 90@95c; rye feed, 80c; hominy chop, 80@85c; cottonseed meal, $1 20@$1 25 per 100 lb; oil meal, $1 30@$1 40. Sales were 4,000 bags of city at 80@85c, latter in small lots, and 100 tons of middling from the West on private terms.

GRAIN—WHEAT—in spots it was a case of small things again to-day, not only in price but in fluctuations. The first movement was toward a little lower range of prices on the additional bank failures through the West, and disappointment at the cable advices. The pressure carried the market off slightly from the closing price of last evening, but by noon, on covering by shorts and some buying on the expectation of a large decrease in the visible supply, prices recovered and advanced to a point, showing quite a little gain over last night. It then turned dull and slowly sagged off, developing considerable heaviness on Bradstreet's visible, which really was quite disappointing, as it indicated a decrease of only 698,000 bush in the American visible, while the world's visible increase was 158,000 bush. Prices dropped off on this statement with a fair local trade. The position of the market shows very little of importance bearing on the immediate condition of affairs in the way of a promise of better things. The visible supply is enormous for the period of the year, and yet there is no probability of much further decrease, as the time has arrived when the visible ought to show an increasing instead of a decreasing tendency. Crop reports to-day were favorable, taken as a whole, though some dry talk were not especially promising. Secretary Mohler asserts that less than half the Kansas acreage will be cut, while King & Co. maintain that out of a large number of reports from country dealers and millers there is nothing to indicate more than 150,000,000 bushels of wheat in the six principal winter States, which last year raised 232,000,000 bushels. Wheat during the latter part of the day was a little firmer in tone, closing at about the best prices on the covering of shorts who were disappointed at the action of the market on Bradstreet's visible. Late cables showed a little better tone, also encouraging buyers. In cash wheat there was a fair trade, again adding to the better feeling. Total sales of cash were reported of 215,000 bushels, including 175,000 bushels for export as follows: No 2 red, quoted 3¼c under September elevator: September closed at 75⅞c; 2¼c under September f o b store; 3c under September f o b afloat; No 2 hard winter, 4,000 bush 3¼c under September delivered; No 1 Northern spring, 24,000 bush, 2¼c under September delivered spot, and 46,000 bush, 2½c under September next week delivered; 123,000 bush private terms, delivered and 4¼@4½c under September delivered. No 2 Milwaukee, 8,000 bush, 2¼c under September f o b afloat next week, and 8,000 bush, private terms; No 1 Northern, 8,000 bush, 2¼c delivered. August 5, King & Co., of Toledo, say: "During the last four days we have received replies from 2,631 reliable grain dealers and millers. They cover almost every important wheat county in the six principal winter wheat States, which last year raised 230,000,000 bush and generally produce two-thirds of the winter wheat crop. They now promise about 150,000,000 bush for 1893. Ohio has the best and a very favorable prospect. It is the only one of the six States which will have as large a crop as a year ago. Indiana promises an average crop; Michigan nearly an average. About 5 per cent report the crop almost a total failure; these came from Kansas and Illinois. There has been a small improvement in the condition over a month ago. The quality is difficult to determine until the crop is secured and threshed. Sixty per cent of our replies say the chances now favor a better quality than from the last crop." Secretary Mohler's full report for July contains the following points: "The area sown to wheat in the fall of 1892 was 4,293,234 acres. The acreage reported worth harvesting is 2,327,724 acres, on which the average yield per acre in the Eastern belt is estimated at 13.4 bush, Central belt at 8 bush, and Western belt 6.6 bush per acre. The product of the Western belt is reported at 377,000 bush. The area sown to spring wheat was 291,412 acres. In the Eastern belt nearly all is worth harvesting. Corn has been planted where winter wheat failed over large areas. The rain during the last week in June has given corn an excellent appearance, and the condition is fully 85 per cent. With fair weather in July and August the corn crop will make up for a large part of the loss in wheat." The National Weather and Crop Bulletin shows that during the last week the temperature through a greater part of the country south of the central line of the Ohio and all along the Atlantic coast has been 2 to 3 degrees above the normal; in the Northwest it has been 1 to 6 degrees below. The Michigan crop report says the acreage of wheat in that State is 1,578,000 acres, promising 19.24 bush per acre, or 20,895,000 bush for the crop. Last year the crop of Michigan by the National report was 23,854,000 bush. The area planted was 94 per cent of an average, and the condition 5 to 14 points below an average. The crop of oats is doing well, and nearly a full average crop is expected. "Bradstreet's" visible made a decrease in wheat of 625,000 bush east of the Rockies, and a decrease of 74,000 bush on the Pacific coast, a net decrease of 699,000 bush. Corn increased 494,000 bush, and oats decreased 162,000 bush. The European and Australian supply of wheat increased 852,000 bush. The total world's supply increased 153,000 bush. The total American visible is: Corn, 10,645,000 bush; oats, 4,643,000 bush; wheat, 74,809,000 bush. European and Australian supply of wheat, 82,552,000 bush; total of wheat, 157,361,000 bush. In addition, a decrease last week of 300,000 bush of wheat in Northwest interior elevators. CORN—The market for corn was moderately active and slightly easier early, being influenced by the favorable weather, good crop reports and the decline in wheat. Later there was some improvement on a very small volume of trade, however. The general tendency of advices from the growing crop points to nearly if not quite the largest crop on record, although to produce the crop, the growth during the next six weeks will have to be very rapid. The market for corn was also firmer late in the day, showing only a small volume of offerings, and finally left off at best prices. In cash the offerings were small, but the tone was firm and the prices showed a slight improvement over yesterday. Total sales were 78,000 bush, including 22,000 bush for export as follows: No 2 corn, 46,000 bush, 48⅝@48⅞c elevator; No 2 corn, 8,000 bush, 49⅛c delivered; No 2 corn, 24,000 bush, private terms, f o b, afloat, early August. OATS—In oats there was a fair volume of trade in the early morning. With the near deliveries continuing to show a very firm undertone due to the moderate movement at the interior and the continued good export inquiry. The demand for old oats promises to be good right along, as it is rather uncertain what will be the quality of the new crop and how soon the movement will assume proportions large enough to affect prices. Oats were also better during the latter part of the day and closed firm. There was a small amount of stuff offering in both cash and futures and a fairly good demand. Cash oats were quiet at the advance, however, and the total volume of sales were only 94,000 bush, including none reported for export. Sales: No 2 oats, 31,000 bush, 37⅝c elevator and 38⅝c delivered; No 3 oats, nominal, 37c; No 2 white, nominal, 40c; No 3 white, 42c. Sales track mixed, 54,000 bush, 39@44⅝c; track mixed, 6,000 bush, 37⅝@38⅝c; No 2 white clipped, 2,000 bush, 41c elevator.

MALT—Market nominal at unchanged prices. Western, 90@82c; two-rowed State, 65@75c; six-rowed, 75@80c.

SEEDS—Clover—Contract continues dull, being quoted at 11 3-8c bid 11.50c asked. Sales were reported to-day of 100 bags sample at 12c.

Tar, f o b, wh, $2; f o b, f n, $1 15; pitch, light weight, $1 60; pitch, regular weight, $1 60.

OCEAN FREIGHTS—Business continues on a small scale, although at fairly steady prices. The amount of room reported in demand is not large, nevertheless the tone is firm. It is expected that the arrival of tramp steamers will have an influence in preventing any further rise, although there is a general feeling that unless the quantity of stuff going out decreases considerably rates are not likely to drop much. Engagements to-day were 2 loads of grain to London at 4¾d from store; Glasgow, 1 load of grain, 4½d; Avonmouth, 15 st 2s 9d; Hull, 4,000 boxes of cheese at 30s; 1,000 sacks of flour at 15s; 700 boxes of bacon at 20s; Christiana, 1,000 sacks of flour at 20s, and Stettin, 300 tcs of lard, 22s 6d. Charters were as follows: A steamer, 12,000 qrs grain, one of four Atlantic ports to the Sound, 7½d; a steamer, 19,000 qrs grain, Baltimore to Rotterdam, 2s 10½d; a steamer, 15,000 qrs grain, New-York to Bristol Channel, 2s 9d, a steamer, 1,275 tons, three months' time charter, 3s 6d; a steamer, 785 tons, time charter in the Gulf, $850 per month; two ships, deals, St John, N B, to west coast England, 41s 3d@42s 6d; a bark, 512 tons, general cargo, New-York to Demerara, $1,950; a brig, 567 tons, same, $2,000; a schooner, 295 tons, general cargo New-York to Martinique, $1,600; a bark, 600 tons, general cargo, New-York to Prishane, lump sum; a schooner, Darien to New-York, $3 37½; a brig, coal, Perth Amboy to Boston, 75c; a schooner, coal, Weehawken to Portland, 65c.

OILS—Cottonseed oil is moving into consumers' hands in a desultory way, though there does not seem to be any disposition on the part of holders to make any material concession in price. Buyers, however, claim that if there was a considerable demand that sellers would meet the call very freely, while on the other hand sellers say that the turn of the market would be in their favor if the demand should assume important proportions. Meanwhile the tone is not much better than steady with the current quotations met at about quoted prices. Lard oil is selling in a jobbing way at prices within the quoted range. Cod oil remains quiet, while sperm and whale oils are in moderate demand. Neatsfoot oil is dull with prices somewhat nominal. Prime oil rules quiet. Red oil is not wanted by consumers and is quoted prices quite nominal. We quote: Cottonseed oil—Crude, prime, 27c asked; off grade, 21@22c; prime white, 32@33c; off grade, 31@32c; prime white, yellow, prime, 42@43c; off grade, 41@42c; Southern, nominally, 31c. Cocoanut oil—Ceylon, 5½@5¾c; Cochin, 6¼@6½c. Cod oil, 42@45c. Lard oil, 77@75c. Linseed—American, raw, 50c; Calcutta raw, 62c. Rapeseed, American, raw, 50c; Calcutta raw, 62c. Rapeseed, 60@65c. Olive—Italian, common, in bbls, 58@60c; refined, 62@65c. Sperm—crude, 75@80c; natural winter, 87@89c; bleached winter, 93@94c; natural spring, 82@84c; bleached spring, 87@89c.
