AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

A YOUNG BOY BLEEDS TO DEATH.

THE RESULT OF A BLOW FROM A COMRADE—DOCTORS UNABLE TO STOP THE FLOW.

Edward Blum, sixteen years old, bled to death at the home of his parents, No. 78 Varet-st., on Sunday, and the police of the Sixteenth Precinct are now looking for Frank Foster, eighteen, who, young Blum charged, was responsible for his death. The two boys met about three weeks ago in Harrison-ave., near Wallabout-st. In the conversation, Blum, it is charged, made a remark which didn't please Foster, and the latter struck him with his fist on the nose. The boy's nose began to bleed, and Foster ran away. Young Blum hastened home, his nose still bleeding. The flow was temporarily checked by a piece of ice, but late that night his nose began to bleed again. The boy was taken to Dr. J. Landauer's, at No. 62 McKibbin-st., who succeeded in stopping the flow, but it began again the following day. Dr. Max Levy, of No. 74 McKibbin-st., was then sent for, and he also stopped the flow. A few days later the boy's nose began to bleed again, and Dr. Margulis, of No. 63 McKibbin-st., was consulted. Dr. Jacob Fuhs was also called in for consultation, and both agreed that the boy would bleed to death.

The boy did not tell his parents that he had been struck by Foster until the day he died. They did not send word to the police or Coroner Creamer until late Sunday night. When the Coroner reached the house he at once told the police to find Foster. They hastened to his home and learned that he had not been there for several days. Dr. Freel made an autopsy on the boy yesterday and found that death was due to the bursting of a blood vessel in the brain.

EXCISE MONEY AND THE INEBRIATES' HOME.

Arguments were listened to by Judge Cullen yesterday in the proceedings begun by A. T. White and C. T. Christensen to enjoin the Mayor and Controller from paying any more excise moneys to the Inebriates' Home at Fort Hamilton, and to compel the home to make an accounting and restitution of the $627,000 already paid to it under the laws of 1877. R. B. Moffatt, for the plaintiffs, argued that the law of 1877 giving to the institution 15 per cent of the excise receipts was unconstitutional as it violated the section of the State Constitution forbidding a city from paying money to a private institution, also that the law was repealed by the Consolidation act of 1888. The home was incorporated in 1867.

Corporation Counsel Jenks appeared for the city authorities.

Judge Cullen suggested that the matter remain as at present until carried to the Court of Appeals, but counsel for the home urged that there were 118 indigent patients at the home and they could not be supported and cared for without money from the city.

George G. Hepman, president of the home, submitted an affidavit that the home was a State institution supported by the excise funds and the board paid by patients. Indigent patients from Kings County received board free also others paid $5 a week or more. The free patients varied from 50 to 200, averaging about 150, each person having to stay six months. Decision was reserved.

A LIFE SAVER SENT TO THE PENITENTIARY.

John Mulholland, a lumber handler, was sent to the penitentiary yesterday for six months by Justice Goetting, in the Lee-ave. police court, for assaulting Policeman Thomas Reilly, of the Fifth Precinct, on Saturday night. Mulholland has a reputation as a life saver. His last act of this kind was on Saturday afternoon, when he saved a boy named Eaton from drowning. On Saturday night Policeman Reilly heard that several men had been assaulting people in the lumber yard at North First-st. and the river, and hastened there to arrest them. He met Mulholland and ordered him to move on. Mulholland, however, turned on the officer and threw him to the pier. Several of his associates then went to his aid and tried to push the officer from the pier. Two officers succeeded in arresting Mulholland. The other men escaped.

GATHERED ABOUT THE TOWN.

William B. Warner, who was arrested last week in Canada, was arraigned before Police Justice Connolly yesterday to answer to a charge of grand larceny, in swindling Mrs. Lucie Balcom, of No. 88 Herkimer-st., out of $2,500 by bogus chattel mortgages. He entered a plea of not guilty, and bail was fixed at $3,000.

The Ariosa Coffee Mills, which were shut down on Saturday, throwing 800 persons out of employment, will be started again on Thursday.

Austin Kelley will sail for Europe on the steamship Britannic on Wednesday of this week. He will be accompanied by his wife, daughter and niece, Miss Carrie A. Kelley, daughter of John C. Kelley, of Hancock-st. They expect to make an extensive tour of the Continent, and will be abroad for several months.

THE SOLDIERS HAD SUBSTITUTES

COLONEL SCOTT, OF THE 8TH REGIMENT, SAYS THAT THE BREACH OF DISCIPLINE WILL BE INVESTIGATED.

Colonel George D. Scott, of the 8th Regiment, was seen yesterday by a Tribune reporter in regard to the charge that several captains in his regiment had failed to discover substitutes in their companies. Colonel Scott said:

"The matter will be looked into, and those who were at fault will be punished. I do not know who were responsible for the breach of discipline, or when they will be called upon to answer for it. I have not heard from General Porter, and therefore cannot exactly tell what will be done. That there were substitutes in some of the companies I will admit, but I was not aware of the fact until after the regiment had returned from camp. Whether the negligent captains will be court-martialled or not, I am unable to say. What their punishment will be depends largely upon circumstances. I regret exceedingly that such a breach of discipline should have occurred in my regiment, and I will do what I can to trace the blame."

BELIEF THAT DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL.

ASCHER WEINSTEIN'S COMPANION MEETS HIS BROTHER AND GIVES HIS VERSION OF THE AFFAIR.

Carlton Simon, the companion of Ascher Weinstein, who was drowned from the Umbria on July 14, met Morris Weinstein, the brother of the dead man, yesterday, at the office of Myer J. Stein, No. 31 Park Row, and for the first time gave his version of the circumstances attending the death of Ascher Weinstein. Mrs. Annie Weinstein, the widow, two of her children and Morris Weinstein came to this city from Long Branch yesterday morning and went to the offices of Mr. Weinstein at No. 59 Liberty-st. Mrs. Weinstein was too grieved to see young Simon and sent her brother-in-law instead. After the interview Simon refused to talk for publication, but Mr. Stein, who is Simon's lawyer, said that from what had been said he could not see how Mr. Weinstein's death was other than purely accidental.

W. E. Johnson, mortuary registrar of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, said that Mr. Weinstein had taken out two policies on his life for $5,000 each, the first in December, 1888, and the second in May, 1892. Upon presentation of proof of his death the two policies would be paid, without any question as to the manner of his death.

J. H. Weil, a friend of Ascher Weinstein, said yesterday: "Mr. Weinstein, while a shrewd business man, was illiterate; he was capable of making extensive deals and of investing fearlessly, but, unfortunately, could not read or write sufficient English to conduct his business operations. Consequently he carried the details of his business in his head, and it is my opinion that this caused his ill health and probably unbalanced his mind at times. I do not believe the story that he had sustained business losses before going away. He was too shrewd a man to lose much money in his specialty. It is my opinion that his mind became suddenly unbalanced."

NO FEAR OF A WATER FAMINE.

The long period of drouth has led many to fear a large reduction in the city's water supply, but Chief Engineer George W. Birdsall, of the Department of Public Works, said yesterday that people need not lose any sleep on this account at present.

"We are now distributing in this city 175,000,000 gallons of water daily," he said. "Of this quantity we get 115,000,000 gallons from our storage supply and 65,000,000 gallons from the Croton River. We have now stored in the reservoirs in the Bronx and Croton River watersheds 17,500,000,000 gallons of water. With things going as they are now we can keep up our daily water distribution of 175,000,000 gallons for 150 days—five months."

"Suppose your regular supply from the Croton and Bronx rivers materially falls off?"

"If it should fall by half of its present yield—that is, drop to 30,000,000 gallons a day—we should still be able to furnish New-York City with 175,000,000 gallons for three months yet, or until nearly the 1st of November. But I should feel it my duty to reduce the city's daily supply if there should be much of a Croton reduction. In any event, you can place the time for a water famine to begin at least as far off as January 1, 1894."

NEW-YORK CITY.

Policeman William Dwyer and Charles W. Ficken, doorman at the Old Slip Station, were admitted to $5,000 bail each yesterday, the amount being fixed by Acting District-Attorney H. D. Macdona. Dwyer is accused of assaulting Henry Kress, liquor-seller at No. 72 Nassau-st., whom he arrested, and Ficken of extorting money from the prisoner.

The medical board before which Pay Inspector John H. Stevenson was ordered for examination has reported him physically qualified for promotion, and it is said that he will now be ordered before a fourth board for examination for promotion.

The published story that Superintendent Byrnes would soon retire was said to be false at Police Headquarters yesterday. Some people at the Central Office, however, think that the action of the Police Commissioners in letting each inspector have charge of the department while Superintendent Byrnes is away was in order to find out who could best fill Superintendent Byrnes's place should he resign.

From 5 p. m. on Saturday, when Mayor Gilroy started for Poland Springs, Me., until 7 a. m., yesterday, when President McClellan reached New-York from Saranac Lake, after a fortnight's vacation, Vice-President A. A. Noonan, of the Board of Aldermen, was Acting Mayor. Acting Mayor McClellan will be the executive head of the municipality while Mayor Gilroy is in Maine.

The annual report of the Commissioner of Immigration for the year ending June 30 was completed yesterday. The last three months of the year are included in Dr. Senner's term of office. In the year 343,422 immigrants have been landed. Of these, 468 were excluded as contract laborers, and sixty-nine as suffering from incurable diseases.

The sum of $115,931 77 was sent in a draft yesterday to State Treasurer Elliot Danforth by City Chamberlain Joseph J. O'Donohue. It was sent to satisfy the tax judgments which the State obtained against the city.

Charles J. McGee, secretary of the County Democracy, and, with ex-Judge Maurice J. Power, about all there is left of the old organization, said yesterday that when Mr. Power assumed his place as United States Shipping Commissioner on August 1 he would meet no opposition. "While Commissioner Reed," added Mr. McGee, "has not abandoned his contention that he is not removable except for cause, he has sent in his resignation, which means that he will not give Mr. Power any trouble in taking office."

Upon recommendation of a medical board of survey Commander T. A. Lyons was detached on Friday last at Newport from command of the United States ship Monongahela, and granted sick leave of absence. Application for this survey was made by him some days previous to leaving New-York, and was based upon a physical disability, incurred during a former cruise, which was made worse by the recent cruise on the Monongahela.

PURIFYING MACHINES ORDERED.

CROTON WATER TO BE BETTERED BY THE ELECTRICAL PROCESS—THE NEW METHOD WILL BE APPLIED ALSO TO THE QUARANTINE SERVICE.

The Board of Public Works, by advice of the Health Department, ordered yesterday two plants for applying the new electrolyzing process to the Croton water. They will be situated at the Sodom storage reservoir, which supplies between thirty and forty millions of gallons daily to the city. One plant is to be used by day, the other by night. The total cost will be $6,000 for the apparatus and not more than $500 for the cost of maintenance until officially accepted by the department.

The plants will be located at Brewsters, near the present experimental plant. When the apparatus is ready for use, probably by Thursday next, the flow from Sodom dam will be increased to 60,000,000 gallons daily.

Another smaller plant, which will supply 5,000 gallons of the new disinfecting fluid, has been ordered by the Health Department for the quarantine boat Governor Flower. It will be used to disinfect the holds of vessels which bring infectious diseases into port.

Albert E. Woolf, the chemist who discovered this new process, explains its action on the impure water at Brewsters by showing the sudden death of organic germs accomplished. The plant on the quarantine boat will get its raw material from sea water. A powerful current is to be passed through the brine, and the hypochlorites, which constitute about three per cent of it by weight, will be resolved into their chemical elements. The ozone and chlorine thus liberated will attack all germs of cholera or smallpox which they touch. In the Brewsters plant, where sea water is not available, a three per cent solution of sodium chloride in water is to be used, after electrolysis is applied to the stream from the storage reservoir.

THE COURTS.

A DECREE OF DIVORCE REFUSED.

Judge Bischoff, in the Court of Common Pleas, yesterday handed down a decision refusing to grant a divorce to Marie Combes from Franklin C. Combes. The ground of the decision was that there had been collusion in the attempt to secure the divorce. George W. Mathews, a friend of the defendant, was the one who gave the evidence on which the wife tried to secure the decree. Judge Bischoff says he was prompted, apparently, by an intense desire to aid the plaintiff in the procurement of a decree. So well satisfied is he that there was collusion, although the case was not defended, that he refuses to grant a decree.

ARGUMENTS IN THE KEEGAN-SAGE SUIT.

The suit of Delia Keegan for $100,000 against Russell Sage, for an alleged betrayal under a promise of marriage came up again before Judge Bookstaver, in the Court of Common Pleas, yesterday. A motion was argued by J. E. Marshall, counsel for the plaintiff, to set aside an order extending the time allowed the defendant to put in an amended answer. In the argument of this motion the testimony of Mrs. Mulhearn, the sister of the plaintiff, which was taken before a referee on last Thursday, was read to the Court.

Mr. Sage had declared in an affidavit that the suit against him was the invention of a fiendish or an insane person. Dr. Charles S. Collins examined Miss Keegan and he made an affidavit in which he declared that she was not insane.

The plaintiff was also in court. Her appearance gives an air of truth to the assertion of her sister that she had been sent to Blackwell's Island many times within the last fifteen years for drunkenness.

Henry S. Bennett argued on behalf of the defendant. He declared that it was ridiculous to suppose that Mr. Sage, who was known to every policeman and every newsboy, would go to Central Park for the purposes which it was declared he had gone there. In an affidavit made by Mr. Sage he denied all that had been alleged about his suggesting a settlement. Judge Bookstaver took all the papers and reserved his decision.

CHANGES IN THE SCHOOLS.

BEGINNING A REVOLUTION AT HOME.

THE NEW COMMISSION TO DO ITS WORK THOROUGHLY—STATISTICS TO BE COLLECTED.

While the newspapers of the country are devoting much space to revolutions taking place in far-off nations they seem to be oblivious to the revolution going on right here in the city, which affects the expenditure of millions of dollars annually, and which is of more importance to thousands of people. The commission appointed by Mayor Gilroy to revise the laws governing the public schools of New-York City is quietly progressing in its task of revolutionizing the most important branch of the city's government.

The revolutionary character of the movement was demonstrated yesterday afternoon when the commissioners held their first meeting, in the office of David McClure, No. 22 William-st. Mr. McClure presided, and E. Ellery Anderson was elected permanent chairman. The commissioners present besides Mr. McClure and Mr. Anderson were Stephen H. Olin and Dr. Thomas Hunter. The fifth commissioner, Oscar S. Straus, was unavoidably absent. He is ill at Arverne. The commissioners promptly showed their determination to discuss the school system of New-York from beginning to end, with a view of remodelling it, by deciding to appoint a clerk to collect statistics from all over the United States, and possibly from other countries, bearing on the education of children at public expense. The clerk will have a salary sufficient to enable him to devote all his time to this work. It is the plan of the commission to have its report prepared as early as possible in September or October, so that it can be approved and forwarded to the Legislature.

The sentiment of the commissioners seemed to be adverse to having a paid board of commissioners in place of the present Board of Education, but some action seems to be favored whereby the present mode of conducting the business can be simplified and the responsibility narrowed.

Gilbert H. Crawford, who has been greatly interested in the public school system of this city, gave his views on the work in yesterday's Tribune. He was misunderstood in some details and makes the following corrections: "I did not recommend, without qualification, that trustees should be dispensed with. If there is to be a salaried central board composed of competent men devoting all their time to school administration, then, logically, voluntary unpaid local officers will disappear, because their duties will naturally be performed by the central board itself or by clerks acting under its orders. But if the Revising Commission prefers to retain the present voluntary unpaid system I do not see how we can get along without local trustees, owing to the vast amount of work to be done. I did not recommend that the Board of Education should have dictatorial power over the trustees. My opinion is that there should be one superior class of school officers with large general powers, and with responsibilities commensurate with their powers; and that the powers of inferior officers should be clearly and precisely defined. Of course I did not say that in some wards we have only one trustee or that the superintendent of schools helps to audit repair bills. The superintendent of school buildings does this."

HE WOULD MARRY THE GYPSY'S DAUGHTER

CHIEF LOVELL RECEIVES A LETTER FROM A NEW-YORKER OFFERING TO WED, FOR A CONSIDERATION, THE YOUNG WOMAN WHO RECENTLY ELOPED.

Chief Lovell, of the gypsy camp at Newark, whose daughter Marie recently eloped with her brother-in-law, and was taken back from Asbury Park by Newark officers, has received the following letter from a man offering to marry the girl:

Chief Lovell, Newark, N. J. Dear Sir—If you would have your daughter Marie marry outside of your tribe, I will take good care of her for a small consideration. I am poor, earning a living, and with capital could make at least $40 or $50 weekly. I will not need over $1,500 to start with. I am thirty-eight and strictly temperate. No offence intended in this letter. I will never say aught to the girl regarding the past. JOHN T. ROBIN, 20 West Fourteenth-st., room 19, New-York City.

Chief Lovell was indignant when he read the letter, and he hastened to Police Superintendent Brown, of Newark, and exhibited it, saying he valued his girl's happiness far above money, and would give her all the care she needs.

INSURANCE MEN TO HAVE A REUNION.

The tenth annual reunion of the officers, trustees and managers of the Philadelphia Life Insurance Association will be begun to-day and will end on Saturday. The headquarters of the delegates will be at the Plaza Hotel, where meetings will be held to-morrow and Thursday. At 11 o'clock this morning the delegates will drive through Central and Riverside parks, and dine at McGown's Pass Tavern. On Wednesday morning a trip will be made to Glen Island, and on Thursday evening a dinner will be given at the Plaza Hotel. Among those to be present at the reunion are E. S. Brock, John H. Watt, William H. Rhawn, Benjamin Rowland, George K. Johnson, Benjamin Allen, Joseph Basler, Elwood Johnson and Charles J. Field, of Philadelphia; Colonel Frank Markoe, of the Fifth Regiment, Maryland National Guard, Baltimore; Colonel N. A. Plimpton, Boston, Mass; Charles Thaw, St. Louis; General G. A. Watkins, Detroit, Mich.; J. C. Taylor, Salt Lake City; Charles B. Towns, Jacksonville, Fla.; Senator J. W. Bredell, Cincinnati; Colonel C. S. Smith, Chicago; Major John H. Hall, Richmond, Va.; W. P. Howland, Dallas, Texas; J. H. Harrington, Denver, and others. It is probable that Major Joseph A. Goulden, the New-York representative of the company, will act as chairman.

DEATH OF MRS. PRISCILLA J. JOACHIMSEN.

Priscilla J. Joachimsen, the president of the Hebrew Sheltering Guardian Society, died at her home, No. 61 East Seventy-fifth-st., yesterday morning, after a long and painful illness. She was the widow of ex-Judge Joachimsen, and was one of the founders of the institution. She was elected president at its first commencement, and held this office to the time of her death. She was also one of the founders of the Jewish Lying-In Asylum and of the Home for Aged and Infirm Hebrews of the City of New-York, of which she was the president for five years. She was also one of the founders of the Deborah Nursery and one of its early managers, and a member of most of the Jewish societies in this city. She was born in Plymouth, England, sixty-eight years of age, and came to this country with her parents when she was an infant. She was married to Judge Joachimsen when she was eighteen years old, and at the time of the Judge's death they had been married forty-seven years. One sister, Mrs. S. H. Leszynsky, one brother, Eli A. Godfrey, several nieces and nephews, and three adopted children, one of whom is the wife of Morris Goodhart, chairman of the Advisory Board of the Institution of which she was the president, survive her. She was a member of the Congregation Shearith Israel, Nineteenth-st. and Fifth-ave., of which the Rev. Dr. H. P. Mendes is the rabbi. The funeral will take place at her home on Thursday morning.

NEWS FROM THE SUBURBS.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

SING SING.

STILL ANOTHER PRISONER ESCAPES.

Another prisoner escaped from Sing Sing prison yesterday afternoon. He had not to a late hour been captured, but guards were pursuing him and expected to catch him before morning. The man is Maurice Pretten. He is a "five-year" man, and was aiding in making repairs to the roads about a half mile from the prison. Pretten was one of a gang under Keeper Judson Ransom. Pretten said he wished to get a drink and in this way got a short distance from the guard. The guard became suspicious and shouted to him to come back. Instead of doing so, he broke into a run and the guards started in pursuit. Several shots were fired at him, but all of them failed to stop him. He gained on his pursuers and finally ran to the farm of William Brandreth, and there eluded his pursuers. His trail was found later. Pretten is forty-three years old, and five feet nine inches in height. He was sentenced on September 23, 1891, for assault.

MOUNT VERNON.

The Republican Mayor of Mount Vernon, Dr. Edward F. Brush, assisted by the Board of Aldermen, has given assurance to the citizens that their interests are not to be transferred to corporations without conditions or price. The Union Electric Railway Company has been obliged to meet the conditions laid down or lose its franchise, and work is to begin immediately. The Common Council has supported Mayor Brush in his plan, with the result that the Union Railway Company before July 29 is to file a bond, approved by the Mayor, for $25,000, guaranteeing that the entire line of railway shall be completed, equipped and in operation by November, 1893. The fare is to be 10 cents, except within the city limits and as far as West Farms, where it is to be 5 cents. The company is also required to deposit $6,000 with the City Treasurer as its part of the costs for paving Fourth-ave. from First-st. to Fourth-st. The company is also to place in good condition inside of ten days after November 1 Third-st. from Fourth-ave. to Hutchinson Creek. The entire road is to be completed by that time, or the sum of $25,000 is to be forfeited.

NEW-JERSEY.

JERSEY CITY.

DIVORCE SUIT OF ELIZABETH J. TROY.

The divorce suit of Elizabeth J. Troy against James Troy, jr., of Paterson, was again before Chancellor McGill, at Jersey City, yesterday, on motion for counsel fee and alimony. An affidavit by Mrs. Troy was read alleging that her husband owned real estate valued at $74,000, and that her services had largely aided her husband in amassing a fortune. Mrs. Troy also alleged that her husband had given four lots to Mrs. Clements, the correspondent named, who is the wife of Robert Clements, once Mr. Troy's partner. Mr. Harding then read an affidavit by Mr. Troy showing that the lots which he had been accused of conveying to Mrs. Clements were the property of Mr. Clements; that he had advanced $600 on them, and that they had afterward been sold for $2,400. The difference had been paid to Mr. Clements. Chancellor McGill granted $100 for counsel fees and $16 a week alimony.

ELIZABETH.

MANY MEN OUT OF EMPLOYMENT.

The New-Jersey Metal Refining Company's works on Staten Island sound below Elizabethport shut down indefinitely on Saturday night, throwing nearly 300 men out of employment. The officers of the company say the plant will not reopen before September 1. It was doubtful if the present depression in trade continued, if the operations would be resumed even then.

The valuable Chetwood property in Broad-st., Elizabeth, was sold by auction yesterday afternoon for $13,500. It is said the purchase was made for either Harry Miner or H. R. Jacobs, and that the old building is to be demolished and a handsome theatre erected. The present building was formerly the Old Ladies' Home and afterward the Elizabeth High school. The nominal buyer is Mr. Colliers, of Newark. He has also secured an option on the adjoining plot, which is the corner of Murray and Broad sts.

LONG ISLAND.

LONG ISLAND CITY.—The Rev. John McGuire, pastor of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, of Long Island City, which was destroyed by fire on Thursday night, returned home from Europe yesterday morning on the steamer Alaska. Tears rolled down the pastor's cheeks as he looked on the ruins of his church. When informed of the particulars of the fire by his assistant, Father Doherty, the clergyman bitterly criticised the local fire department for not making a more heroic effort to save the church. A subscription fund will be started at once toward rebuilding the church.

BROADWAY CARS STILL RUN SLOWLY.

THE NEW TIME SCHEDULE DID NOT GO INTO EFFECT BECAUSE THE MACHINERY WAS NOT READY FOR THE CHANGE.

The new time schedule on the Broadway cable road did not go into effect yesterday as was announced. Superintendent Newell said to a Tribune reporter:

"I have the new schedule ready, but cannot put it into effect because the machinery at the power houses has not been altered to permit of the increase in the speed of the cable which is necessary to make the new schedule practicable. I expect everything to be ready in a week or two. There will be no more danger when the speed is increased than there is now.

"You may say that I am sure that the conductors and gripmen will be perfectly satisfied with the new schedule. They will have ample time for their dinner and will not have to work as hard as they think they will. The public, too, will be benefited by the new time table."

A DRIVER'S NARROW ESCAPE.

A driver who has charge of one of Jacob Elnhorn's delivery wagons, the provision dealer at No. 7 Spring-st., was badly frightened yesterday afternoon, and when he came to think it over decided that he was fortunate to escape being knocked from his wagon and run over by one of the Broadway cable cars. The mishap was at the corner of Broadway and Park Place. Car No. 76 was bound uptown and No. 36 was approaching along the southbound tracks. The driver was in a hurry to go down Park Place and tried to cross the tracks before the cars should meet. He was caught. His horse got across the upbound track, but the wagon was directly on the rails when the car came along, before the gripman could stop it, and crashed into the wagon. The shock threw it over against the southbound car. The momentum of the cars carried them both forward a few feet and wedged the horse and wagon tightly in the space. The frightened animal made frantic plunges to free himself, but he was held as in a vise, and succeeded only in making matters worse. A crowd collected and policemen and drivers went to work at the horse. But it was four or five minutes before the thing could be freed. The driver tremblingly picked up his reins and went his way rejoicing.

ROBBERY AT A BATHING RESORT.

Elon S. Hobbs, a well-known lawyer in the Stewart Building, and also Editor of "The Custom House News," who is at the Hotel Normandy-by-the-Sea, at Seabright, N. J., said to a Tribune reporter yesterday that while he was bathing on Friday his dressing-room was entered and a pocketbook containing about $2,000 in promissory notes and some money, and a valuable gold watch were stolen.
