THE PETROLEUM MARKET.

NEWS FROM THE FIELD AND RANGE OF PRICES.

New-York, August 5, 1893.

The export of petroleum continues to show immense gains. The total movement of crude, refined, etc., from the Atlantic ports from January 1 to date has reached 471,530,000 gallons, an increase of 94,000,000 gallons over the corresponding period of 1892, equal to about 2,900,000 barrels of crude equivalent. Kiernan's weekly review of the petroleum trade says:

"The leading features of the petroleum trade continue to be the failure to increase production to any appreciable extent, the continued large monthly decrease in stocks and the heavy exports. Of these it is difficult to distinguish the most important, for the moment, but in the long run it will be found that the apparent impossibility of increasing the production will be the most weighty. Considering the efforts that have been made, it now appears that there is little probability of any important increase in production, and that stocks must fall off at even an accelerated rate. So far as the runs and shipments have been reported, the decrease in stocks during July in all Eastern districts reached close to 750,000 barrels, and for August a decrease of a like, if not of a greater, quantity can confidently be expected. In Western Ohio and Northeastern Indiana, however, there was a slight increase in stock, but for the whole month it will hardly reach more than 75,000 to 100,000 barrels. In the new Southwestern districts there have been again some slight extensions of the areas of the producing territory, but they cannot fairly be said to be of any considerable importance.

"Dealings in Pipe Line certificates during the week have been light, buyers being conservative because of the extraordinary monetary conditions, and sellers retaining their holdings in the justifiable belief that prices must advance.

"The complete returns of the Pipe Lines for the month of July (charters to July 30) are:

Minneapolis, Aug. 5.—The wheat market was active for Saturday. The harvest is well along in South Dakota with portion very poor. The range of expectations is now stated at 55,000,000 bush for the three states to 110,000,000. The chief cause of difference was on account of the spotted character of the crop, some places yielding but little while others are good for an average. Futures closed 5c higher for December, 68¾c for December. The cash wheat market was a little slow during the early part of the session, buyers and sellers being apart in their views. Receipts were light and holders stiff. Late in the day buyers came in and sales were made at slightly higher range than yesterday. No 1 hard sold at 61@62 1-8c; No 1 Northern at 57@57½; No 2, 54@55.

Corn strong and prices advanced ½c on options and 1c on local cargoes. No 2 mixed, August, 48@48½c; September, 48¾@48⅞c; October, 48¾@48⅞c; November, 49¼@49½c. Oats strong and prices advanced ½c on cargoes and ¼c on options. Trade, however, quiet. No 2 white, August, 32½@32¾c; September, 32½@32¾c; October, 32½@33c. Sugar—Refined quiet and steady, with quotations unchanged.

THE TRADE IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, Aug. 6 (Special).—Wheat was up a cent yesterday, notwithstanding the bad New-York bank statement, and in spite of the important jobbing failure which took place here Friday after the close. The strength came from the cash demand, the more remarkable because New-York exchange was $15 discount. With not one shipper in ten able to accept the bids he had, charters were made for 190,000 bushels. Export sales were made of about 160,000 bushels. An exporter said that a million could be worked if the New-York or foreign exchange could be sold. September sold from 61 to 62, and closed at the top. Holders were encouraged by the enormous exports for the week—5,600,000 bushels. Paris cables were up. That was another help. It was predicted that the visible supply would show a decrease Monday of 500,000 bushels. Business in the pit was important. Receipts were 168 cars; estimate for Monday, 216.

Corn started strong, because the Signal Service map showed no rain anywhere for twenty-four hours. About noon there was some yielding in the price, because private messages said that it was showery in Nebraska. The close was at the bottom, although Washington predicted no rain over Sunday. The range was within ¾ cent. September sold between 40¾ and 40, and closed at 40@40⅛ cents. The receipts were 487 cars; the estimate for Monday, 340. Charters were made for 170,000 bushels. The weather is so dry throughout Illinois that even pastures are dying. Small stocks and a sharp cash demand advanced oats some. Cash oats sold at ¼ cent over August. August advanced further than September. September sold between 24⅝ and 25, and closed at 24⅞ cents.

Provisions were eased up a little by some realizing by Armour, who has been the big buyer of the week. The fluctuations were narrow. September lard sold between $7 70 and $7 60, and closed at $7 62. September ribs sold between $7 30 and $6 90, and closed at $7 20. September pork sold between $12 70 and $12 50, and closed at $12 60. The cash demand from the West is remarkable. Kansas City actually buying ribs for Chicago, paying a heavy freight and also a premium over September.

At night on the curb "puts" on September wheat were 61¼; "calls," 63⅛@63¼. "Puts" on September corn were 39⅝; "calls," 41.
