[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

Cincinnati, Sept. 16.—Ward and his men finished the series with Cincinnati and won a lively game of baseball with something to spare. A singular feature of the contest was that Petty pitched against old comrades, and so did Sullivan. Neither can be proud of his record. Parrott started in to pitch for Cincinnati and lasted just one inning, giving the first three men bases on balls, while the next four made hits. Sullivan pitched the remainder of the game. Petty's curves were hit safely three times in the second inning and three times in the third, and Ward concluded to give Baldwin a chance to redeem himself. Petty and Milligan went to the bench, Wilson going behind the bat. With two out and two men on bases in the eighth inning, McCarthy hit safely to centre field, scoring Halliday and Latham. McCarthy kept on for the plate and would have been retired had not Latham and Comiskey got in Wilson's way and prevented him from touching McCarthy. McQuade saw the deliberate interference and called McCarthy out. Davis, Fuller, Ward and Connor played finely.

The Giants' coaching was a vast improvement on that generally seen at the Polo Grounds. The Giants have won three victories during the week, and only for the rowdyish tactics of the Cleveland team would have now four and possibly five. The score:

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 16.—Louisville and Brooklyn played two games to-day and broke even. In the first game Louisville could not hit Daub, while Menefee was an easy victim for Brooklyn, and aided by rank errors Byrne's men had no trouble in winning. Louisville won the second game by timely hitting in the second and fourth innings, Sharrott being hit very hard while Kilroy was very effective. Attendance 3,000. The scores:

GAMES IN OTHER CITIES.

Cleveland, Sept. 16.—Umpire Hurst awarded the game to Cleveland this afternoon by the score of 9 to 0. Captain Robinson, of the Baltimores, refused to return the ball to the pitcher after being asked three times by the umpire whether he would do so or not. Robinson thought it was too dark to continue the game. The score of the game as played follows up to the time that it was awarded to Cleveland by the umpire. The wind blew a gale from the west, and it was next to impossible to tell where the ball would go or pitch with any accuracy. Attendance, 500. The score:

Cleveland	3	0	0	1	1	2	4	4	4—15
Baltimore	0	5	1	0	0	4	1	x—11

Batteries—Cleveland 15, Baltimore 10. Errors—Cleveland 5, Baltimore 8. Batteries—Young and Connor; Baker and Robinson. Umpire—Hurst. Game awarded to Cleveland in eighth inning, Baltimore refusing to play.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Until the eighth inning the Phillies had the game well in hand. Then Wilmot's triple filled the colts with ginger, and two singles, a double, a hit by pitcher and two wild throws let in four runs and landed the game for Chicago. For the first time this season Captain Anson was absent from the field. His wife in dangerously sick and her death is momentarily expected. The weather was clear and cool and the attendance 2,500. Score:

Chicago	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	1	2—8
Philadelphia	0	0	1	0	2	0	0	0	1—4

Batteries—Chicago 8, Philadelphia 9. Errors—Chicago 3, Philadelphia 4. Batteries—Clausen and Schriver; Carsey and Cross. Umpire—Gaffney.

Pittsburg, Sept. 16.—Pittsburg lost to-day's game by miserable work in the field. Had Killen been given good support he would have won his game. Nichols pitched a good game and the champions played a fine and sharp fielding game. Weather pleasant. Attendance, 6,500. The score:

Pittsburg	0	1	0	0	0	2	0	0	0—3
Boston	0	3	1	0	1	1	0	0	1—7

HORSE RACING.

ALIX WINS THE $15,000 PURSE.

A FINE EXHIBITION AT WASHINGTON PARK—ALLEGED CONSPIRACY TO DEFEAT THE SPEEDY MARE.

Chicago, Sept. 16 (Special).—After three days the battle between the free-for-all trotters for the purse of $15,000 came to an end at Washington Park this afternoon. This race, which began on Thursday, has been the most sensational one of the year, not only for speed, but also for the numerous incidents that accompanied it. The ninth heat to-day resulted in a pronounced victory for Alix, who came out wonderfully fresh after the terrible strain she had undergone during Thursday and Friday. Pixley was favorite before the deciding heat, but she could only hold the lead to the last furlong, when Alix, who had been forcing the clip, passed her and won by six lengths in 2:09¾. Morris J. Jones, of Kenosha, Wis., one of the owners of this wonderful race mare, says that he was warned of a combination to defeat Alix yesterday. He asked the judges to protect Alix, and they did increase the number of patrol judges, but when Pixley ran into the other mare the three men in power failed to punish the offence properly. Mr. Jones also says that his driver had an offer of $2,500 to drop the first heat yesterday, and that it was on account of his refusal that the combination was made to cut Alix down. The judges have come in for general censure.

The rest of the card to-day was uneventful, two classes for colts being simply forces so far as a contest was concerned. Coastman, the favorite for the pace, came off winner after some close finishes. Cartridge had the speed of the 2:22 trotters, and stepped three heats below his former record. Belle Vara came out late in her attempt to beat the world's record, and as Budd Doble was too ill to drive her, she was handled by his brother Charles. The latter could not do the mare credit, and after a break in the first trial past the half, Belle Vara trotted a mile in 2:09½, nearly a second slower than her own mark. There are a few unimportant classes left over yet, but the meeting is practically at an end. The circuit goes on next week at St. Joseph, Mo., where most of the fast ones will compete. Summaries:

TOADSTOOLS AGAIN PROVE FATAL.

A WOMAN DIES FROM EATING THEM—THREE OTHER PERSONS POISONED.

Giuseppe and Valino Mazzia, brothers, living in Spring-st., Orange Valley, and Mrs. Margaretta Christonio, and her five-year-old son, of No. 23 Christopher-st., Orange, were poisoned by toadstools on Friday. The woman died late last night. Her husband gathered what he supposed to be mushrooms on the Orange Mountains. He does not care for them, but his wife had urged him to get some for a long time. The wife and child ate heartily of the dish and became ill in a few hours. The Mazzias also gathered the supposed mushrooms on the mountain. It is believed that they will recover.

SHE JUMPED FROM A FAST EXPRESS

A NEW-JERSEY TEACHER KILLS HERSELF WHILE RETURNING FROM THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Miss Elsie S. Howell, of Andover, N. J., died at St. Joseph's Hospital, Paterson, at 7 o'clock last night, from injuries received by jumping from a fast express train on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad. Miss Howell had been visiting the World's Fair, and was accompanied by her aunt. Her father, Charles M. Howell, arrived at the hospital last evening, shortly before his daughter's death. While at the World's Fair Miss Howell developed insanity. An immediate start for home was made. When the train was nearing East Stroudsburg, Penn., just beyond the Water Gap, Miss Howell left her companion and entered the toilet-room. She remained away so long that the porter went in search of her. She could not be found, and the conductor stopped the train. A searching party started back along the railroad track. Ten miles from where the train had stopped the young woman was found lying unconscious beside the track. She was put on the first train and hurried to Paterson. She was a school teacher.

TROUBLE IN A FLATBUSH CHURCH.

THE SUNDAY-SCHOOL DISBANDED AND FIVE TEACHERS DEPOSED—FEAR THAT THE CONGREGATION WILL BE BROKEN UP.

The second quarterly conference of the Board of Officers of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Windsor Terrace, Flatbush, L. I., developed a quarrel which threatens to disrupt the congregation. By a vote of seven to two, at their meeting on Friday evening, the members of the board disbanded the Sunday-school and deposed five teachers. The Rev. C. S. Wing, presiding elder of the district, called the meeting to order. Besides the pastor, the Rev. E. S. Wright, there were present R. H. Elliott, G. F. Matthews, George H. Fox, William Palmer, Henry Thomas, Samuel Owens, Frank K. Southwick and William M. Ridge.

Messrs. Ridge and Southwick strongly opposed the motions to disband the school and to name a committee to reorganize it and make up a new list of teachers. They were overruled, however. Subsequent action by the conference made it clear that Mr. Ridge was not "wanted" as a teacher any longer. Arthur Flint, Mrs. T. J. Heaslip and Miss Emma Young were dropped from the teachers' roll. Robert Anderson was appointed temporary secretary of the church in place of Mr. Flint. The pastor, by appointment of the conference, succeeds William H. Hoople as superintendent of the Sunday-school.

The congregation is divided, and many members condemn the action of the conference.

For many years the deposed teachers and secretary have been active members of the church, and their expulsion from the Sunday-school, it is feared, will cause them and their followers to leave the church.

Mr. Wright was seen at his home in East Fifth-st. last night. "I will say that the conference acted for the best interests of the church in doing what it did," he said in answer to questions.

William Palmer, who was also seen, said: "We have extended the hand of unity to these people who refuse to harmonize with us and want to separate the Sunday-school from the church and run things to suit themselves."

MOUNT VERNON.

The fair in aid of the Mount Vernon Hospital ended last night. It was estimated that at least $3,000 had been made for the treasury of the free hospital. A great many articles were sold, and some of the booths were replenished from night to night by additional gifts. The concert last night was furnished by the Baroness Von Meyernick, soprano; William H. Hughes, tenor; D. A. Gourlay, barytone; Miss Marie Ostrander, reader; H. E. Melville and H. E. Arnold, violin; M. B. Sloat and M. Parpart, violoncello, and Professor A. J. Davis, accompanist. The fair has been liberally patronized by the people of the city. Now that it is over the new hospital building will speedily be thrown open for the reception of patients; a meeting of the board of managers to-morrow night will decide upon the date.

NEW-ROCHELLE.

The local police have so far been unsuccessful in their efforts toward finding the burglars who robbed the houses of Mrs. Crocker, the widow of E. B. Crocker, Fred F. Proctor, of Proctor's Theatre, New-York, and Thomas McCann, a wealthy New-Yorker, who has a summer residence at Larchmont. The stolen property is valued at from $5,000 to $6,000. Mrs. Crocker says the table silver taken from her house was worth $1,000. There has been some talk that the burglars came to Larchmont in a black sloop. This sloop is said to have been seen cruising about Larchmont on Wednesday afternoon last, the robberies having occurred that night. From this it is thought that the thieves were from New-York, and took their plunder to the metropolis.

WHITE PLAINS.

Another hearing in the case of Robert Deitz, against the firm of Field, Lindley, Wiechers & Co., of which Edward M. Field and Cyrus W. Field were members, came up before Judge Dykman yesterday in the Supreme Court. Deitz sues the firm and the assignee, Charles W. Gould, for $112,467 12 securities which he had deposited with the firm just before the failure, and which were taken out of the bank and sold by Edward M. Field. The case was adjourned for further hearing.

The legal contest over the selling of the assessment bonds by private sale by the Board of Trustees of Williamsbridge to Coffin & Stanton, the New-York brokers, came up before Judge Dykman at a special term of the Supreme Court yesterday. Judge Isaac N. Mills represented the brokers, Henry C. Henderson the taxpayers and David Hunt the corporation of Williamsbridge. Judge Dykman decided that the village erred in delivering the bonds without a full consideration, and also had no right to sell them below par. He therefore ordered that the bonds be returned to the authorities of Williamsbridge and the village pay back the $9,000 received. This will no doubt lead to more legal complications, as some of the money received from the brokers has already been spent for improvements on the highway, and as the village has no ready money Stanton & Coffin will not return the bonds until the money is paid back.

JERSEY CITY.

Detective Sheridan, of New-York, yesterday applied to Governor Werts, at his home in Crescent-ave., Jersey City, for the surrender of William P. Wentworth, who is charged with swindling the proprietors of the Victoria Hotel, New-York. Wentworth's counsel told Governor Werts that the evidence and the indictment were vague, and that Hoyt & Stanfield merely desired to have Wentworth extradited in order to further their civil suits against him. Governor Werts denied the application, and said he would hear the argument at Chancery Chambers on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock.

POWDERLY ON PENSIONS FOR RAILROAD MEN.

Harrisburg, Penn., Sept. 16 (Special).—At a meeting of the Steam Road Men's Union, to be held here to-morrow, a letter from T. V. Powderly will be read. It is in part as follows:

"It is not Utopian, neither is it beyond the realm of probability, to look forward for the dawning of the day when the workers of this Nation will see the railroads and telegraphs in the hands of the Government. The soldier should be pensioned for defending and saving the Nation. I care not whether he was wounded or not, he deserves no less at the hands of a grateful Nation than independence from want in old age. What we do, or should do, for the soldier we should do for the railroad workman, who must give up his occupation at a time in life when he cannot turn to anything else."

A SANDY HOOK PILOT CARRIED TO SEA.

Thomas Shields, a Sandy Hook pilot belonging to the pilot boat Thomas F. Loubat, No. 16, was carried to sea yesterday on board the new Cunard steamship Lucania. This was one of the results of the collision between the tank steamer Delaware and the tugboat Talisman. When the Lucania reached the bar the station boat was absent, and there was no opportunity for the pilot to leave the outbound steamer. Shields lives in Brooklyn.

THROWN FROM HIS CARRIAGE AND BRUISED.

Benjamin J. Warner, an aged citizen of Brooklyn, living at No. 81 Morton-st., was thrown from his carriage in Flatbush, L. I., last night, and severely bruised. He was driving in a top buggy across the Park Circle on the Coney Island road, when another vehicle came swiftly out of Prospect Park and dashed into his carriage, tearing off and smashing the front left wheel. Mr. Warner in falling struck his face against the ground, badly bruising it. The driver of the other carriage disappeared. Mr. Warner was cared for in a hotel in the neighborhood.

WISCONSIN FOREST FIRES SUBSIDING.

Merrill, Wis., Sept. 16.—The fire at Pine River is somewhat subdued. Large forces have been fighting to save property. Many persons have been severely burned, and nearly forty families are homeless and destitute. A volunteer relief committee is working nobly, and the victims of the fire are being brought to this city as fast as possible and temporarily cared for. One woman, fleeing from the fire, with a twenty-four-hour-old babe in her arms, took refuge in the river. Her condition is critical.

Colby, Wis., Sept. 16.—This city has had a serious time with fire since Thursday noon, the wind blowing a gale, and driving forest fires at a fearful rate up to the city limits. By hard work the town has been saved and is now practically out of danger. There are many reports of losses to farmers in this vicinity, and full reports will show great damage.

Necedah, Wis., Sept. 16.—The situation is improved here to-day. The forest fires, so threatening near town last night, have been controlled. Loss on hay and cranberry vines will be great. The wind is still strong from the northwest.
