WEDDINGS.

The marriage of Miss Anne Seabury Brewster and Count Henri de Frankenstein of Russia took place at 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning in St. Patrick's Cathedral, in Fifth-ave. It was, until late on Tuesday, the intention of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Cullen Brewster, to have the ceremony performed at their home, No. 26 East Sixty-fourth-st. A change was made late in the day. Miss Brewster on Saturday last made personal application to Archbishop Corrigan for admission to the Catholic Church. She had for some time been considering the step, but few of her friends were aware that she, an Episcopalian, even at her marriage to Count de Frankenstein, would join the Catholic Church. Miss Brewster, on Tuesday, was admitted to the Catholic faith in the private chapel of the Archiepiscopal mansion in the presence of Count de Frankenstein and Mrs. Brewster, her mother. Archbishop Corrigan, assisted by his secretary, the Rev. James N. Connolly, officiated. Late Tuesday night special messengers were dispatched to inform the guests who had been invited to witness the ceremony that the marriage would take place in the Cathedral.

Yesterday morning at one of the early masses Miss Brewster and Count de Frankenstein received communion in the chapel of the Blessed Virgin in the Cathedral. Few people were present at the marriage ceremony, but the seats in the middle aisle were well filled with guests. The few guests invited were received by the ushers, John R. Ogden, Edward Adriance and Lieutenant L. Lowery Reamy, brother-in-law of the bride, who were attired in conventional morning dress and wore immense boutonnières of gardenias. The only floral decorations in the sanctuary were a few pots of lilies on either side of the altar, on which were two clusters of Easter lilies. It was just 11:30 o'clock when the bride with her father entered the church, and the bridal procession was formed in the recess beneath the choir. William Pecher, the organist, began the Lohengrin March and the bridal procession moved up the middle aisle led by the ushers and followed by the bridesmaids, who, in pretty gowns of pale pink faille, made with puffed sleeves of lace, and wearing short veils of pink chiffon fastened with tiny aigrettes, were Miss Ada Godfrey, Miss Emma Rockefeller, Miss Bertha Robinson and Miss Ellen Fink. Behind them came the bride with her father. She wore a simple, but handsome gown of white satin made with high neck, long sleeves and sparingly trimmed with point lace. The veil of white tulle was fastened with a cluster of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bride was met at the entrance of the sanctuary by the bridegroom and his best man, M. Hansen, the acting Russian Consul-General.

Proceeding into the sanctuary, the pair went before the Archbishop, who had already taken his place on the steps of the altar. The Archbishop after some words of advice performed the marriage ceremony, in which he was assisted by the Rev. James W. Connolly and the Rev. Henry T. Newey. After this the Archbishop retired, wearing his cope and mitre, to the throne on the gospel side of the altar, and the bride and bridegroom took their place at a prie-dieu placed directly in front of the throne. The bridesmaids and ushers occupied seats in the middle aisle. The nuptial mass was then celebrated by the Rev. Patrick Daly, of the Cathedral Parish. Archbishop Corrigan pronounced the final benediction.

The wedding breakfast was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brewster and it was followed by a reception. Some of the guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Bliss, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gilbert Thebaud, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Livingston Hyde, Mr. and Mrs. B. Houston, Mr. and Mrs. H. Victor Newcomb, Marquis de Talleyrand-Perigord, Mr. and Mrs. Van Cortlandt Van Rensselaer, Miss Low, the Misses Rockefeller, R. T. Van Wyck and Count Naselli.

The bride presented her attendants with handsome brooches of pearls, in which were the coats-of-arms of the Frankenstein and Brewster families and the initials of the young pair. Scarfpins of a similar design were presented by the bridegroom to the ushers. The bridal gifts were not displayed, but among them were a superb necklace of sapphires, to which was appended a large silver crucifix, and an unset sapphire from Archbishop Corrigan; a brougham, coupé, victoria and clarence from Mr. Brewster, magnificent silver pieces from Mrs. Brewster and Mrs. Lowery, necklace of diamonds from the Countess de Frankenstein, mother of the bridegroom, and a large diamond sun from the bridegroom. Just before the young pair left the Brewster house in the afternoon on their wedding trip, a cable message conveying the Pope's blessing on the marriage was received from Cardinal Rampolla.

Count de Frankenstein, with his bride, will sail for France on April 7. After visiting the bridegroom's mother in Rome the young people will go to Count de Frankenstein's villa, which is about two miles out of Rome, where they will pass a portion of the summer. Count de Frankenstein, who is an enthusiastic hunter, expects to return to this country next year to shoot game in the Rocky Mountains.

One of the largest and most fashionable of the Easter weddings was that of Miss Elizabeth Thompson, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. William P. Thompson, and Ralph Julius Preston, which was celebrated at noon yesterday in St. Bartholomew's Protestant Episcopal Church, Madison-ave. and Forty-fourth-st. There was an elaborate display of spring flowers and palms in the chancel, and the pews were filled with hundreds of the friends of the young pair. The Rev. Dr. David H. Greer, rector, performed the marriage ceremony, which was followed by a wedding breakfast and reception at the home of the bride's parents, No. 15 West Fifty-first-st. The bride was given away by her father. She was unattended by other bridesmaids or maid of honor. Charles Delevan Wetmore was best man. The ushers, who wore turquoise and diamond scarfpins from the bridegroom, were Hamilton W. Cary, J. Wadsworth Ritchie, Duncan Ewen Cameron, R. Livingston Beeckman, Appleton Smith and Lewis S. Thompson, a brother of the bride. Among the guests at the church and house were Mr. and Mrs. John Alexandre, Mrs. G. L. Beeckman, Mrs. Jose F. de Navarro, Alphonse de Navarro, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Apgar, Mr. and Mrs. George Bird, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tracy Barney, Mrs. Parran Stevens, Dr. and Mrs. James H. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. William Rockefeller, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Breese, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Appleton, Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Atterbury, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Bishop and Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Dyer, jr. Mr. and Mrs. Preston will make their home in Colorado Springs.

The wedding of Miss Jeanne Fisk Park, daughter of Mrs. Edgar Park, of No. 12 West Fifty-eighth-st., and granddaughter of the late General Clinton B. Fisk, and S. Theodore Hodgman took place at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Madison Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church, at Madison-ave. and Sixtieth-st. It was a pretty ceremony at which the Rev. Dr. Ensign McChesney, the pastor, officiated. Miss Edith Wallace was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth W. Duncan, Miss May Soper, Miss F. Edna Montgomery and Miss Mary Edith Park, a sister of the bride. William Alden Pratt was best man. The ushers were Henry Beadleston, Bertram Borden, Andrew Stout, Henry V. Keep, John McClintock and the bride's brother, Edgar Park. A large reception followed at the home of the bride's mother, No. 175 West Fifty-eighth-st. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. John D. Slayback, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Juilliard, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cornell, Mr. and Mrs. James Thorne Harper and Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller.

Miss Marie Louise Denning, daughter of the late Edwin J. Denning, was married at noon yesterday to William Comstock Pearson. The marriage took place at the bride's home, No. 6 East Ninth-st. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Howard Duffield, of the First Presbyterian Church. The marriage was a quiet one, owing to the bride's family being in mourning. Mr. and Mrs. Pearson will live at No. 165 West Seventy-sixth-st. There were no best man, ushers, maid of honor or bridesmaids. The bride was given away by her brother, Stewart Denning.

Miss Edith Eustis Pugh, daughter of the late David B. Pugh, of Louisiana, and granddaughter of John Appleton Haven, of this city, was quietly married at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon to Woodbury Langdon, in the chantry of Grace Church. The bride was given away by her brother, John Pugh. The bridesmaids were Miss Helen H. Langdon, niece of the bridegroom, and Miss Elizabeth Langdon, of Philadelphia, cousin of the bridegroom. J. H. Clark, of Boston, was best man. The ushers were Francis Eustis Langdon, nephew of the bridegroom; Thomas Pugh, brother of the bride, and Langdon Lea, of Philadelphia. The Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington officiated. The reception, which was for the family, was held at the house of Miss Haven, No. 29 West Eleventh-st.

Miss Jennie Louise Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ross, of Hyde Park, N. Y., was married to Dr. Erdmann Neumeister Brandt, of Hastings-on-the-Hudson, yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Church of the Incarnation. The Rev. Arthur Brooks, rector of the church, officiated. The bride was given away by her brother, William Ross, jr. Miss Anna L. Ross, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The bridesmaid was Miss Belle Brandt, sister of the bridegroom. Dr. Nelson Brandt, of Savannah, was best man. The ushers were Charles Mills and J. Lillenthal, of Hastings-on-the-Hudson. A wedding breakfast followed at Sherry's. Dr. and Mrs. Brandt will live at Hastings-on-the-Hudson, where a new house is ready for them.

Meyer. Miss Lillian Ferris, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. The reception which followed at the house of Mr. and Mrs. Bainbridge was for relatives.

Baltimore, March 28 (Special).—The marriage of George Edward Sawyer, of New-York, and Miss Genevieve Trust, youngest daughter of Mrs. Edwin H. Trust, took place at the home of the bride's mother, on Charles-st., this evening. The Rev. Frederick Gibson, of the Episcopal Church, performed the ceremony. The best man was Louis E. Latrens.

SONS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION.

THEY MEET AND ADOPT CHANGES IN THE CONSTITUTION—A DISCUSSION OF VARIOUS AFFAIRS.

The Sons of the American Revolution met last night in the reception parlor of the Hotel Normandie to consider and act on certain amendments to the constitution proposed at the annual meeting of the society held on February 24. It was resolved that the president of each of the local chapters of the society should be an officer of the society proper. An amendment to Article VIII of the constitution, that the president of each chapter should be an ex-officio member of the Board of Managers of the State society, was adopted, as was also a proposition to raise the annual dues to $5.

After dinner the members present discussed matters affecting the welfare of the society, among the speakers being Robert B. Roosevelt, who presided; Edward A. Sumner, Henry Hall, William P. Wadsworth, A. J. C. Foye, James D. Townsend and Edward Hegeman Hall.

PREPARING FOR THE ST. MARY'S CRUISE.

The winter term of instruction in the Nautical School is to close on April 1, and active preparations for the summer's cruise will then begin. The St. Mary's will leave the city about the middle of April for a few weeks in the Sound before the ocean cruise. As at present laid out, this year's cruise will be to the Azores, Lisbon, Gibraltar, the Madeira Islands, and home, the schoolship arriving in the Sound for the fall exercises about the middle of August. Hitherto the Nautical School has been for the exclusive use of New-York City boys. If the bill now before the Legislature becomes a law, as is probable, the State will take control of the schoolship, and the city thereafter will have only its due proportion of boys under instruction, each Senator and Assemblyman having the right to make one appointment. The Nautical School now has an importance which it never had before, owing to the recently enacted law requiring that steamships transferred to the American register under the Ocean Mail act shall be officered by Americans only, and that each of them shall carry one cadet for each 1,000 tons burden. The opportunity thus afforded the graduates of the Nautical School of becoming officers in the merchant marine is being eagerly sought.

THE PRESIDENT HOLDS A RECEPTION.

Washington, March 28.—President Cleveland disposed of all gossip as to his inability to walk on account of a gouty foot by coming down stairs to the East Room of the White House to-day and shaking hands with 500 people, the occasion being his regular tri-weekly reception to the public. These receptions were suspended all last week on account of the great pressure of important public business which absorbed his attention.

To-day, although the President limped slightly, he was evidently not seriously inconvenienced. He was in unusually good spirits and laughed heartily at apparent jokes hastily uttered by some of his visitors.

FOR THE CHURCH HOSPITAL DISPENSARY.

A benefit performance will be given to-morrow afternoon at the Garden Theatre in aid of the Church Hospital Dispensary. Mrs. Minnie Maddern-Fiske will appear in "Frou-Frou," supported by a company composed of well-known actors. The use of the Garden Theatre has been given for the occasion by Mr. Palmer. Among the patronesses of the performance are Mrs. James J. Goodwin, Mrs. Clarence S. Day, Mrs. Nicholas Fish, Mrs. John B. Ireland, Mrs. Samuel Sloan, Mrs. William H. Claflin, Mrs. J. Howard Wainwright, Mrs. David H. Greer, Mrs. Edward L. Bayles, Mrs. J. Hooker Hamersley, Mrs. John Jay, Mrs. E. Ellery Anderson, Mrs. H. Walter Webb, Mrs. Alexander S. Webb, Mrs. John De Ruyter, Mrs. Henry D. Babcock, Mrs. Hicks-Lord and Mrs. J. Coleman Drayton.

BEAUX-ARTS ARCHITECTS MEET.

The Society of Beaux-Arts Architects held its quarterly meeting last evening at the Hotel Martin. William A. Baring presided, and there were present Robert Andrews, Boston; Thomas Hastings, John M. Carrere, E. L. Masqueray, Ernest Flagg, Edward P. Casey, A. P. Thorp, Arthur J. Dillon, Professor A. D. F. Hamlin, R. R. Potter, John E. Howe, John Galen Howard, A. S. Brockway, A. W. Lord, E. A. Joslin, Whitney Warner and R. F. Warner. The Committee on Education reported that arrangements had been made by which students in the studios of the society's architects would be admitted to the competitions in Columbia College on the same plane as students at that institution.

NOTES OF THE STAGE.

"A Sheep in Wolf's Clothing," now played with "The Amazons," will be withdrawn after next week at the Lyceum Theatre. In order to accommodate the demands, however, it will be played on the first three nights of next week, in addition to the matinees.

An arrangement has been made for James A. Herne to play "Shore Acres" at the Lyceum Theatre, London, some time next season. The exact time has not been fixed. His other play, "Margaret Fleming," is to be given at the Fifth Avenue Theatre on April 9.

Frank W. Reynolds, whose benefit at the Bijou Theatre occurs on Sunday night, has secured a long list of attractions. Among them are Miss Theresa Vaughan, Miss Isabelle Urquhardt, Miss Katharine B. Howe, Miss Jennie Joyce, Miss Josephine Knapp, Miss Emily Kean, Miss Kate Davis, Walter Jones, John W. Ransom, Tim Cronin, Guy Standing and Miss Gertrude Reynolds.

COXEY'S MARCH ON CONGRESS.

A MASTER OF PICTURESQUE EFFECT.

From The Boston Globe.

Silica D. Coxey seems to have a very good idea of picturesque effect. Some enterprising circus manager ought to engage him to take charge of street parades after he gets as far as he'll go on his tramp to Washington.

IT WOULD EXPLAIN MUCH.

From The Lockport Journal.

It is now said that Coxey wants to go to Congress. That explains his present demagogic Washington tramp proposition.

NOT YET RECOGNIZED AS BELLIGERENTS.

From the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette.

Would it not be a good idea to let General Coxey, so-called, alone? His proposed movement is not on a war footing, nor is it in any respect warlike. The talk about the enterprise is calculated to magnify a molehill into a mountain.

THE FARCE PLAYED OUT.

From The Pittsburg Commercial-Gazette.

The scheme was too wild and chimerical to receive the sanction of sensible men, and it was impossible of belief that there was one tithe of the number of cranks in the land which Coxey had counted on. The farce is about played out, and the sooner it is withdrawn from the public view the better it will be for all concerned.

THE RIGHT DAY TO START.

From The Chicago Inter-Ocean.

A mistake of just a week was made in the time of starting. Next Sunday will be April Fool Day, and if Coxey had only kept on his mask until that day he might have achieved a brilliant success. His imposition would then have been forgiven as the most suitable observance imaginable of a day immemorially sacred to practical jokes.

TOO MUCH LIKE WORK.

From The St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Coxey's army would increase faster if it were not for the fact that there is very little difference between marching and work.

THE TENNIS AT ST. AUGUSTINE.

OLIVER S. CAMPBELL IN GOOD FORM—RESULTS OF YESTERDAY'S PLAY.

St. Augustine, Fla., March 28 (Special).—The second day of the tournament of the St. Augustine Tennis Club for the National tropical championship afforded interesting play. The weaker men had been weeded out, and the work was of a much higher standard than yesterday. The weather was warmer, and the enthusiasm of the spectators gave more interest to the game. The feature of the morning was the splendid form developed by Charles Bohlen, of the Philadelphia Cricket Club, against T. Stirling Beckwith, champion of Ohio. It looked as if Bohlen would defeat the Western crack. The first game was quickly won by the Philadelphian, and the next sets, which were much closer than the score indicates, were won by Beckwith only after the hardest kind of rallies.

Campbell showed a good deal of his old form in his match with Gregory Bryan. It was supposed that the meeting of the two men would give a strong game, as Bryan has recently won the Tampa and Magnolia tournaments, but Campbell's well-known style of playing from the net left no chance for his opponent to hit the ball.

The surprise of the afternoon was the stand made in the doubles by George Stuart Smith, of the St. Augustine Tennis Club, and Edwin Thompson against Oliver S. Campbell and his partner, William Dinsmore, jr., of New-York. At one time it looked as if the first set would be won by the former pair. They played a net game, meeting the best exponents of that style at their own play with excellent effect. Games were frequently brought to "deuce." Campbell's beautiful playing and Dinsmore's effective volleying were, however, too effective for their adversaries. Great interest centres in the final matches for both doubles and singles. To-morrow Campbell meets Beckwith for the all-comers' and championship trophy. Beckwith has twice before been the "runner up" of the tournament, and will make a hard struggle to capture the trophy. If Campbell wins it, it will be the fourth time he has won the silver gates, and this valuable prize, which has been contested for by the best players in the country for six years, will then become his personal property.

The summary of the day's scores is as follows:

Second round—T. Stirling Beckwith beat Charles Bohlen 1—6, 6—4, 6—2. Oliver S. Campbell beat Gregory Bryan 6—1, 6—3.

First round of doubles—Bryan and Beckwith beat Chester McCoy and Bruce Whiting, of New-York, 6—1, 6—4. Oliver S. Campbell and William B. Dinsmore, jr., beat E. B. Thompson, of England, and George Stuart Smith, of St. Augustine, 7—5, 6—3.

THE WEARY MARCH OF COXEY'S CLANS.

THEY REACHED SALEM, OHIO, YESTERDAY—THEIR GREATEST STRENGTH SHOWN AT MEAL TIMES.

Salem, Ohio, March 28.—Camp Anna L. Diggs, the fourth night bivouac of the Coxey brigade, was established in East Salem at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. When the army decamped from Alliance at 8 o'clock in the morning, curious crowds assembled along the Patterson road to the town's edge to see the novel cavalcade. The roads were rough and muddy, and the tramping troops had a weary look. When nearing Salem about thirty citizens of the Commonweal, who had gone ahead by freight train, joined the column.

Eager people lined Main-st. and Broadway to the camping place. Just after the army had formed the customary circle, a penetrating wind carrying snow began to blow. Marshal Browne announced that the troops would be quartered in two halls secured by local sympathizers. Therefore only the headquarters tent was raised. Mayor Northrup (Pop) was on hand. Supper was served at dusk, being eaten by the men around the blazing campfires in the open air.

At 7 o'clock the command was marshalled, and proceeded to sleeping quarters. A few new recruits were enlisted at this point. Acting Adjutant Kirkland, stating the records, showed twenty. Enough rations to do one day were given by sympathetic citizens.

At 7:30 a public meeting was held in Howe's Hall. It was crowded by 1,200 people, who applauded Marshal Browne frequently. General order No. 6, issued before the meeting, announces that Camp Trenton will be established at Columbiana to-morrow. Considerable curiosity is still felt among correspondents over the identity of Marshal Louis Smith, adjutant of the command, who has been called "The Unknown." All efforts to ascertain it have been fruitless.

"The Astrologer" claims a strength of 500, but Brown and Smith, who are conservative, put it lower. The "war correspondents" have never yet counted a hundred in line. Brown says that the actual strength only develops at meal times. The force is likely to continue just as long as farmers and merchants are willing to feed the wanderers, who are having a good time without responsibility.

SENATOR ALLEN LAUGHS AT IT.

Washington, March 28 (Special).—Senator Allen, of Nebraska, one of the Populist members of the "deliberative branch" of Congress, is disposed to show little sympathy with the methods of agitation employed by "General" Coxey. "I regard the Coxey movement," he said this morning, "as absurd and useless. It is the work of a man who, if not a knave, is crazy, and who does not represent any of the principles of our party. There are none of our people, so far as I have learned, who are in any way connected with the affair, and I should be very sorry to hear of any of them getting fooled by the promises that Coxey is making. I do not believe that Coxey will ever reach Washington for, if his following is not wiped out by the cold weather and scattered by discouragements, the authorities of the States will doubtless take proper measures to stop the march."

BRECKINRIDGE, JUNIOR, HAD THE LAST WORD.

From The Chicago Record.

I heard a good story on Colonel Breckinridge from a Kentucky Congressman last night. It seems that the defendant in the pending breach of promise case has a family of grown-up children, three girls and two boys. One of the latter is a partner in his father's law practice, and has been active in taking depositions for the defence. He has sowed a good many wild oats, but not so many as his brother, who is described as about the wildest and most reckless youth in the blue-grass region. Not long before the present scandal broke out young Breckinridge got into a desperate row down in Kentucky, in which several men were shot and cut, and himself badly used up. Colonel Breckinridge, when he was in Washington, heard the news and telegraphed at once to Colonel Shelby, his partner: "Have Rob kept in jail until I return."

The instructions were carried out. As soon as Colonel Breckinridge could leave Washington he went to Lexington, made Bob pack up his things and took him to Philadelphia, where he put him on board a sailing vessel that was bound for San Francisco around the Horn, with instructions to the captain to discipline him if necessary. He hoped the voyage would do the young man good. But the very day the ship sailed the Pollard scandal was published in the newspapers. Of course Bob heard of it, and read all the disgusting details. Whereupon he went to the telegraph office and wired Colonel Shelby at Lexington: "Have father kept in jail until I return."

THE BOHEMIA SAFE IN PORT.

CONTINUOUS STORMS ALL THE WAY ACROSS THE ATLANTIC—ICEBERGS IN THE PATH OF STEAMERS.

The Hamburg-American Line steamer Bohemia, Captain Schroeder, which sailed from Hamburg on March 9, arrived at Quarantine early this morning. There had been considerable anxiety felt about the Bohemia, as she had been looked for every day this week.

Her captain reports an extremely rough voyage. He had continuous gales from west-northwest and southwest, which increased to hurricane violence, and kicked up heavy head seas, continuing throughout the passage. In latitude 42.58 north and longitude 47.02 west, he saw two icebergs, each about 150 feet high, right in the path of transatlantic liners. Twice in the voyage he was compelled to heave the ship to in consequence of the violence of the storm.

The steamer has six passengers in the cabin and 172 in the steerage, and it is understood that a valuable consignment of trained animals belonging to the Hagenbeck show is on board. How they stood the rough voyage could not be learned last night.

The safe arrival of the Bohemia will serve to lessen the anxiety felt for other steamers which are overdue at this port.

BOAT CLUB DELEGATES MEET.

A regular meeting of the Middle States Regatta Association was held at the Marlborough Hotel last night. The clubs represented were as follows: Metropolitan, Arthur Kill, Palisade, Dauntless, Atalanta, Staten Island, Passaic and Nautilus. After the regular meeting the Regatta Committee held a session, but nothing of importance was transacted.

An amendment to the constitution was made and sections 17 and 18 were abolished, and the following new section was substituted: "In case of a deficit in the expenses of any annual regatta of the association, club members of the association shall be liable to an assessment not to exceed $10."

This change was made with the idea of increasing the membership, as under the old sections a club could be assessed $25. The officials for the annual regatta were chosen.

CLEVELAND STOPS THE "EGG ROLLING."

From the Chicago Record.

Washington has a peculiar Easter custom, which isn't found anywhere else in the world, so far as I know, and that is the gathering of children in the White House grounds on Easter Monday in a multitude to roll eggs down the grassy slopes and have a good time generally. Nobody can remember how or where this custom originated, but it has grown more popular annually until during the last few years nearly every child in Washington, black as well as white, has gone to the President's backyard with its basket full of Easter eggs, and the Marine Band has been ordered out to play for their amusement. The White House gardener has always remonstrated because of the damage done to the turf and shrubbery, but has always been able to repair it in a day or two, and the sacrifice has been small compared with the pleasure enjoyed by the little ones. President Harrison gave himself a holiday on these occasions and accompanied Benjamin and Marthena McKee, his grandchildren, to the playground, where every child either recognized him or learned who he was almost instantly and gave him a cordial welcome.

But for some reason President Cleveland objects to the presence of children. At first he gave orders that the grounds should be locked on Easter Monday; but when Colonel Wilson, the superintendent of public buildings, explained to him that the custom was nearly 100 years old and that no harm could possibly come from it he reluctantly relented, but he has directed that the Marine Band should not be allowed to play. Last year the band came as usual, but, under the orders of the President, returned to their barracks, and there was no music. He says he has no objection to the children enjoying their amusements, but prefers they should go somewhere else, and has given notice that this is the last year they can occupy the White House grounds.

GEO TICKNOR CURTIS DEAD

UNEXPECTED END OF THE WELL-KNOWN LAWYER.

HE HAD BEEN ILL FROM PNEUMONIA—SKETCH OF HIS LIFE—HIS LITERARY CAREER.

George Ticknor Curtis, the venerable lawyer, was found unconscious in his bed, at his home, No. 441 Park-ave., about noon yesterday, and died soon afterward from heart failure, superinduced by a brief attack of acute pneumonia. He was a brother of Benjamin Robbins Curtis, a Justice of the United States Supreme Court, and a nephew of George Ticknor Curtis, of Boston, a well-known literary man in his time and a professor of languages in Harvard College. He was graduated from Harvard College in 1832, and for a time afterward taught school in Green
