ADVANCES MADE BY DELAWARE AND HUDSON AND ST. PAUL—A BETTER DEMAND FOR MONEY AND AN INCREASE OF BUSINESS IN MERCANTILE AND SPECULATIVE QUARTERS.

Sunday, April 8—p. m.

The United States Treasurer received last week from customs $2,418,723; from internal revenue, $2,852,328, and from miscellaneous sources, $365,538; total from all, $5,636,589, against $5,079,574 in the previous week. The weekly Treasury statement shows an increase of $1,591,864 in the net cash in vaults, and a decrease of $22,594 in deposits in National banks. The cash balances were strengthened according to this statement by $1,569,270. The principal changes in the vault balances were made up as follows: A loss in the gold balance of $374,801, by a decrease of $438,601 in coin and bullion, minus a reduction of $63,800 in the amount of outstanding certificates; a loss in the silver balance of $150,988, by an increase of $720,467 in certificates and Treasury notes, less a gain of $269,479 in coin and bullion, and a gain in the legal tender balance of $2,897,289, by an increase of $5,357,289 in notes, less an issue of $2,460,000 of currency certificates. There was again a falling off of $479,656 in the Treasury holdings of National bank notes. There was no important change in the amount of Treasury notes outstanding, but a few were returned in the ordinary course of business. The Treasury's liability for the redemption of National bank notes was reduced by $65,526, and deposits on that account, at the end of the week, amounted to $25,902,332.

Subjoined is Saturday's statement compared with that of March 31:

BANK CONDITIONS COMPARED.

By the operations of the New-York Sub-Treasury in the week ended Friday night, which included payments of $57,000 for purchases of Pacific Railroad bonds, the associated banks lost $2,866,478. The weekly bank statement published yesterday showed an average loss in cash of $1,114,000. Both the bank and Treasury statements were affected by the payment to the Government of $6,740,000 on account of the Cherokee bond purchase. This was made on Tuesday, and consequently from the statements two inferences may be drawn. Without this transaction the banks would have gained at least $3,000,000 from Treasury disbursements on account of interest, and the item of loans in the bank statement would have shown a moderate increase. It is clear that the movement of money is still toward the centre and that there is a better demand for money from both mercantile and speculative sources. The increase in deposits was larger by nearly $1,250,000 than other changes demanded, but in view of unusually large transactions this discrepancy may not have been wholly unnatural. The actual condition of the banks probably was very materially better than the showing. The result of all the changes was a loss of $2,802,175 in the surplus reserve, but the banks still hold in excess of legal requirements $80,797,945 against $9,212,950 in the corresponding week a year ago and $15,839,200 at the same time in the preceding year.

The changes in the corresponding week in three preceding years were made up as follows: 1893—loans increased $680,300, cash decreased $1,608,000, deposits decreased $631,500, and surplus reserve decreased $1,450,125; 1892—loans increased $1,150,600, cash decreased $2,276,400, deposits decreased $390,600, and surplus reserve decreased $2,178,750; 1891—loans increased $1,078,100, cash decreased $658,200, deposits increased $475,300, and surplus reserve decreased $777,025.

Subjoined is Saturday's statement compared with the corresponding dates of the preceding two years:

THE MONETARY SITUATION.

There was possibly a little better demand for money. Rates were no higher, but the increase in business in mercantile as well as speculative quarters suggested improvement. At the Stock Exchange call loans continued to rule at 1 per cent, and for long periods rates were not over 3 per cent, and for a year they were easily negotiated at 4 per cent. There was a little better supply of commercial paper, but it was sold at about the same figures that prevailed a week ago. In the European markets the financial situation was not changed. In London the open rate for money was about 1¼ per cent for discounts, and at Paris and Berlin the tendency was toward greater ease. At Berlin the street rate for money fell from 2¼ to 1⅞ per cent.

The foreign exchanges were firm, and at one time there were indications that gold would be shipped to Europe. Bankers supplied the demand, which was not large, but the market closed at about the highest rates, and exports of gold are something more than probable. Quotations for actual business were $4 87½ and $4 88½ for long and short sterling bills respectively, an advance, compared with the previous week, of about ½@¾. It must be noted that the Bank of France has reduced the price for gold coin.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

The Tribune has printed the gross earnings of forty-one railroad companies or systems for the fourth week in March. Of the number five companies return gains of $42,459, or 15.5 per cent, and thirty-six companies, losses of $1,091,724, or 13.8 per cent. The total number shows a loss of $1,049,265, or 12.8 per cent. It has printed also the gross earnings of sixty-two companies for the third week in March. The total number shows a loss of $996,881, or 13.8 per cent, as compared with the same week last year.

THE WEEK IN WALL STREET.

Aside from a few special stocks the market was not active, and for bonds there was a smaller demand. Whether the market has reached its highest points is not clear, but the trading was altogether professional. There were some advances, and the largest gain was made by Delaware and Hudson on the report that a new issue of stock might result in a change of management. Missouri Pacific was unusually active, and it gained over 3 per cent. The Granger stocks as a group showed some hesitation, and St. Paul, after variations of 2 per cent, closed practically unchanged. Rock Island was almost buoyant on reports of earnings, but its final change was only fractional. Union Pacific was influenced by the report that the debt of the Government would be placed at a low rate of interest and for a long term of years.

The stock market shows great strength. The buying for foreign account apparently has ceased. There is, however, a demand from investors which has not yet been satisfied. It is admitted that Congress will do nothing on financial or tariff matters. Mr. Bland tried to pass the silver seigniorage bill over the President's veto and failed. There can be no silver legislation at this session of Congress, and suggestions of a monetary conference must come from Europe. There are many reasons why European nations should reopen the discussion in regard to silver as a medium of exchange.

Following is the usual table, giving the number of shares sold of all stocks, the highest, lowest and final prices of the week, together with the final prices of a week ago, prefixed by the average prices of April 8, 1893:
