DR. MACARTHUR A CHAMPION.

HE PREACHES IN FAVOR OF WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

THE CALVARY BAPTIST CONGREGATION LISTENS TO SOME STRONG WORDS ON THE SUBJECT—BOTH SEXES SHOULD ENTER POLITICS TOGETHER, HE SAYS.

The Rev. Dr. R. S. MacArthur, of the Calvary Baptist Church, Fifty-seventh-st. near Sixth-ave., chose as the subject of his discourse last night the woman suffrage question. Dr. MacArthur proved himself to be a starch champion of the ballot for women, and his bright sallies at what he called some of the fallacies of those who desired to keep woman and the ballot forever separate caused great amusement and subdued laughter. At the close of the services, when the congregation started homeward, each family party or detached couple was the centre of a warm discussion of the burning question, and without much doubt curtain lectures were more frequent and lengthy than usual among the married portion of Dr. MacArthur's congregation.

The pastor chose his text from II Corinthians, viii, 14, and explained its application to his subject. He spoke in part as follows: "I advocate equality of suffrage—not necessarily universal suffrage. This discussion is a proper pulpit subject, and means the beginning of a nobler manhood and a diviner womanhood. For weal or woe man and woman are inseparable, and must stand or go down together. Why has man deprived woman of her rights? Because of false standards of civilization he has by brute force robbed her.

THE ATTEMPT TO KEEP THEM DOWN.

"Woman is gradually rising in the scale of civilization," he said, and then described her advance since Homeric days. "We need not be surprised that so much objection is being made to equal suffrage," the speaker continued. "It is not yet recognized at all in most countries where Romanism is dominant. Old, mediæval and antiquated ecclesiastics are always opposed to changes. They seem to fear some abridgement of their ecclesiastical prerogatives if they give suffrage to woman. In every movement a foothold has to be fought for, as is instanced by the examples furnished by Galileo and Columbus.

"The objection is offered that the polls are not proper places for women. Then, in the name of all that is good in American citizenship, let us make them proper places! There is no proper place for men that is not a proper place for women. The time has come to purify politics in every respect. No place ought to be found connected with our duty to the State that would not be perfectly proper for our women. All good men and good women should go into politics and aid in the purification of the sullied stream.

A WORD TO SATOLLI.

If the women had the right to cast the ballot on the liquor question there would be fewer liquor stores, broken hearts and damned souls in New-York. They say women have not the intelligence to vote. I would like to see the man brave enough to get up to make that assertion in the hearing of intelligent women. Ignorant Irish, Poles, Italians and other foreigners go to the polls and vote in droves, and bright and beautiful woman is denied the right of suffrage. Monsignor Satolli had better go back to Italy and teach his ignorant fellow-countrymen who are still left in the country, instead of trying to show us how to run our public schools. It is said that women do not care for the right of suffrage and take no interest in politics. A glorious minority now asks for it, and that minority shall soon become a glorious majority. Once given the right to vote, you will find women very much interested in politics.

THE WOMEN OF HISTORY QUOTED.

"It is protested," Dr. MacArthur declared, "that bad women only would exercise the right of suffrage, and good women would hold aloof. This was disproved by the experience in other States where woman has limited suffrage, which shows the reverse to be true. Silly man! You say our women have not the intelligence to vote. Have you forgotten Catharine of Russia, Queen Victoria and scores of others? It is asked, 'Would a man like to see his wife making a speech on a political platform?' Not unless she could make a better speech than a great number of those who are now doing so." (Laughter.).

Dr. MacArthur then spoke of woman holding political positions and acting as jurors. "Some men," said he, "fear that she will want to be President. Well, we could get a woman who would make a better President than—some presidents." Dr. MacArthur's suggestive pause and the ending of his remark was greeted with laughter and great tittering.

THE REV. DR. EATON'S OPINION.

The Rev. Dr. Charles H. Eaton, pastor of the Church of the Divine Paternity, Fifth-ave. and Forty-fifth-st., preached last night on "The Heavenly Twins—Has Recent Progress Degraded Woman?"

Dr. Eaton said that the idea that a "rake" makes the best husband is monstrous. Woman would inevitably gain the privileges of suffrage, the preacher declared, and would gain them in the near future.

Dr. Eaton then contrasted the morals of the woman of the present day with those of past ages, and contended that the woman of the nineteenth century was unmeasurably superior. He praised the women of action who are in the fight with the men, and said harsh things about the woman of fashion. "I dislike," said he, "the irrepressible woman of fashion, saturated with morphine and chloral, who sacrifices her ideas to degrading practices."

WILL WORK FOR UNITY.

DR. PARKHURST WILL DEFEAT TAMMANY HALL IF POSSIBLE.

HE HOPES TO COMBINE ALL THE ANTI-TAMMANY FORCES ON A NON-PARTISAN CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR.

The Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst is again on the warpath. At a meeting of the City Vigilance League, held Friday evening, Dr. Parkhurst delivered an address in which he outlined a plan to defeat Tammany Hall in the municipal elections. Dr. Parkhurst's plan is, briefly stated, to perfect a powerful organization, which, while modelled on the plans of Tammany Hall, will in no way become identified with the methods of that organization. Now, this organization is nearly completed. There are to be district leaders, a General Committee and an Executive Committee.

Dr. Parkhurst said to a Tribune reporter yesterday: "When I spoke at the meeting of the City Vigilance League my hint was the first one that I had any such scheme in contemplation. I have been working quietly; so have my friends. Our work has been crowned with success, and at present nearly two-thirds of the organization is perfected."

"Who are connected with the new movement?" asked the reporter.

"I cannot answer that question," said Dr. Parkhurst, laughingly; "come some other time. We are not yet ready to reveal names. You see, many young men who are in business downtown, and who are signed with the league, do not want their names published; so I must refrain from giving them.

"But," continued Dr. Parkhurst, "our organization will be completed before the campaign begins. When the fight begins in earnest we will work, shoulder to shoulder, for the promotion of mutual self-sacrifice between the Democratic and Republican parties, and the sacrifice, I hope, will result in the choosing of a candidate who will be strictly non-partisan, no matter what his politics may be."

As Dr. Parkhurst uttered these words, his eyes glistened, and every tone showed how thoroughly he has thrown himself into the struggle before him. "We must," he said, "select a candidate so strong that no Independent Republican or Democrat can imperil our chances of success. Failure on our part means success for Tammany Hall."

"But, Dr. Parkhurst," said the reporter, "how can you expect to beat Tammany Hall with only one candidate, and that one on a Citizens' ticket?"

"In this way," said he, "I hope that the investigation of the Police Department will show past Republicans and past Democrats that 'party' is not the chief consideration in public affairs. The consideration is the election of a man above reproach. We mean to try and call to the attention of the citizens of New-York the present awkward condition of affairs. 'Awkward' describes it exactly. There are many men who will not sacrifice their party affiliations until they have found a reason good enough to warrant them in doing so.

"What steps will you take to bring about an understanding between the Anti-Tammany Republicans and Democrats as to the sinking of partisanship in the common issue and choice of a candidate?"

Dr. Parkhurst thought for a moment, and then said: "There ought to be, and soon, too, a conference between representatives of the different Anti-Tammany movements. They should meet and come to a mutual understanding, so that when the time comes to name a candidate we shall be able to name a man who shall be satisfactory to all."

Dr. Parkhurst denied that he had any political ambitions, and refused to discuss the candidacy of Seth Low or John W. Goff for the office of Mayor.
