RAILROAD INTERESTS.

STEAMSHIP COMPANIES COMPLAIN.

THEIR GRIEVANCES AGAINST THE GRAND TRUNK TO BE DISCUSSED TO-DAY AT CHICAGO—WHAT L. J. SERGEANT SAYS.

The Tribune announced yesterday the receipt by S. P. Farmer, of the Trunk Line Association, of a letter signed by the local managers of the transatlantic steamship companies, requesting the association not to "route" any immigrant business by the Grand Trunk Line until further notice. It would seem that the grievance of the steamship companies is that the Grand Trunk, by paying a high commission on all prepaid passengers "routed" by way of Montreal, is directing transatlantic business to Canadian ports, to the consequent detriment of New-York and the steamship companies whose vessels come into this port. It is said further that the steamship men declare that unless the Trunk Line Association compels the Grand Trunk to stop this practice they will make a deal with some particular railroad which will be willing to allow the best commissions. Although the steamship companies have protested against the high rate of the Grand Trunk commissions before, the Trunk Line Association does not appear to have ever taken any pronounced action in the matter. But the implied threat of the steamship companies to take the solution of the affair in their own hands has resulted in the calling of a joint meeting of the trunk lines, to be held in Chicago to-day, for the consideration and, it is hoped, the adjustment of the complaints of the steamship companies.

L. J. Sergeant, the general manager of the Grand Trunk Company, was in New-York yesterday on business connected with the controversy which has arisen, and when seen at the Windsor Hotel by a Tribune reporter he said:

"No serious controversy has arisen. The Western Association has sought our assistance, and we have always expressed a desire and willingness to assist in bringing about a solution. I cannot see why the ocean steamship lines should have taken action in the matter. The ports of Montreal and Quebec are now hermetically sealed with ice two feet thick, navigation is consequently interrupted and no immigrant traffic can arrive there by water. The season has not yet commenced, and to me it seems quite absurd to talk about diversion of traffic in consequence of any acts of the Grand Trunk Line.

"I may tell you that the trunk lines, the Eastern lines and the members of the Central Trunk Association have indorsed the actions of the Grand Trunk Line."

ATCHISON REORGANIZATION.

PROVISIONS FOR STOCK AND BOND HOLDERS—A LIST OF THE SECURITIES UNDER THE NEW PLAN.

The Atchison reorganization plan contains, it is understood, the following provisions:

Holders of the general mortgage 4s are to receive 75 per cent in new general mortgage 4s and 40 per cent in new adjustment 4 per cent bonds, the same lien as the general 4s, but subsequent to them, and $10 in cash for each bond, to represent interest from January 1, 1895, to October 1, 1895, when the new bonds are issued. Each holder of $1,000 general mortgage 4s, therefore, receives $750 new general mortgage 4s, $400 in new 4 per cent adjustment bonds, and $10 in cash. Of the new general mortgage $1,500,000 is reserved to take up Chicago and St. Louis first mortgage 6s, $1,500,000 to take up certain outstanding bonds, and $15,500,000 for $9,000,000 guaranty fund notes, $1,500,000 car trust obligations, and $1,750,000 equipment bonds, the new bonds to be issued at not exceeding $1,250 for each $1,000 par value of these securities.

Thirty million dollars of the new 4s are reserved for improvements at the rate of $3,000,000 each fiscal year. In case it is deemed best to issue 30 year 4 per cent prior lien bonds in place of the $15,000,000 new generals to retire the above prior lien bonds, it may be done, the new prior lien bonds to be given dollar for dollar for the securities specified and $5,000,000 prior lien bonds may be sold for improvements at any time within five years, general mortgages being reserved to retire these prior lien bonds at the rate of $1,250 for each $1,000, the new 4s to be sold whenever they can be at 90, the prior liens to be retired at 103 and interest on three months' notice. Holders of Class A bonds and scrip will receive 113 per cent in new preferred stock, non-cumulative and preferred in case of liquidation. The B bonds will receive 118 per cent in new preferred stock. The old income bonds, never exchanged, shall receive 113 per cent in new preferred stock.

The common stock pays $10 assessment and receives for it new preferred stock and an equal amount of new common stock. The assessments are payable $3 on deposit, and $3 at intervals of not less than thirty days. The $4 assessment on A and B bonds is payable 2 per cent on deposit and 2 per cent on call. The company will receive from assessments $13,600,000.

THE READING AND NEW-ENGLAND.

Philadelphia, Feb. 28 (Special).—The old committee of the Philadelphia, Reading and New-England (Poughkeepsie Bridge) bondholders has shown a disposition to attend the adjourned meeting of the Wilson Committee, and to co-operate in its efforts to put the property on its feet. In consequence of this the Wilson Committee decided to-day to alter its call to the meeting in such manner as to include all the holders of Philadelphia, Reading and New-England bonds, which will enable all interests to be present, and, if possible, to unite in taking action to secure the rehabilitation of the property.

NORTHERN PACIFIC REORGANIZATION.

The Reorganization Committee of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company has taken up the remainder of the issue of receivers' certificates. It will be remembered that the committee originally took $2,500,000 and agreed to take the other half of the issue as the receivers might require the funds to conserve the trust estate. They have since taken up $2,400,000, making the total amount now outstanding $4,900,000. The receivers asked to be relieved from delivering the last $100,000 of certificates for the reason that they were unable to furnish the collateral to secure the amount as required under the terms of the order authorizing the certificates. All of the proceeds of the certificates have been used to conserve the trust estate. This last contribution of the Reorganization Committee makes a total of $6,000,000 that it has furnished within the last eight months. The first $1,000,000 was provided to prevent a default upon the first mortgage bonds of the company last July and the remainder has been used to prevent the sacrifice of valuable treasury assets that had been pledged as security for the floating debt. The Committee on Stock List of the Stock Exchange has added the additional issue of certificates to the list, making total amount listed $4,900,000.

WESTERN RAILWAY NEWS.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—The Missouri Pacific was not represented at to-day's meeting of the Western Trunk Line Committee, and as no progress can be made without that road, an adjournment was taken until Saturday. General Passenger Agent Townsend telegraphed that he would be present at that time.

Notice was to-day given to the Western lines by the Chicago Great Western that it was not a party to the St. Paul-Minneapolis rate sheet and would not be bound by it. The Chicago Great Western would have become a member, but the other lines interested insisted on dictating terms which were not acceptable.

A decrease of $8,362 is shown by the statement of earnings of the Santa Fe for the third week in February as compared with the corresponding week the preceding year. The figures for 1895 are $684,789.

AN OLD ROAD WITH A NEW NAME.

Albany, Feb. 28.—The Western New-York Railroad Company was incorporated with the Secretary of State to-day with a capital of $10,000,000. The new corporation is a reorganization of the Western New-York and Pennsylvania Railroad Company, whose property was sold at public auction on February 5 under the foreclosure of a mortgage held by the Fidelity Insurance, Trust and Safe Deposit Company. The capital stock of the new company is divided into 200,000 shares of $50 each. The directors are Isaac N. Seligman, Gustav E. Kissel, David J. Seligman, Howard Mansfield, Henry A. James, Albert Symington, Emil Carlebach, Albert Strauss, Charles D. Lithgow, Edward D. Phillips, Charles C. Howard, Patrick F. Vaughn and John E. Derby, of New-York City.

DETERMINED TO BRIDGE THE DELAWARE.

Philadelphia, Feb. 28 (Special).—There is but little doubt now, notwithstanding the legislative warfare made by Senator Quay, that the bridge of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company across the upper Delaware will be built as proposed. Despite the opposition that has been advanced, the railroad company has not faltered in its work in the least, but has pushed the operations on the east and west approaches to the structure as rapidly as the weather would permit.

SPRECKELS PRESIDENT OF A RAILROAD.

San Francisco, Feb. 28.—Claus Spreckels was yesterday elected president of the San Francisco and San Joaquin Valley Railroad Company, the new road which is to run between this city and Bakersfield.

LIVELY ANNUAL MEETINGS.

DISAGREEMENT AMONG MEMBERS OF A MUTUAL ACCIDENT ASSOCIATION AND A BENEFIT ASSOCIATION.

A great deal of bad feeling has been stirred up among the members of the United States Mutual Accident Association over the alleged attempt of the alleged "ring" in it to turn the business of the association over to another insurance concern, presumably the United States Casualty Company. A large number of the policy-holders are strenuously opposed to such a move, and the report that their officers are determined to carry out the plan has intensified the bitterness. This feeling was exhibited in a rather sensational manner Wednesday night, at the annual meeting of the association, which was held at its offices, Nos. 320 Broadway. Charles B. Peet, the president of the company, presided. One of the members said to a Tribune reporter yesterday: "The meeting certainly was a disgraceful affair. Mr. Peet began to ride roughshod over the members from the first. The trouble began with the reading of the minutes. One of his men moved that the reading be dispensed with, and a dozen more of his men seconded the motion, and without calling for the nays he declared it carried. The by-laws of the association say that a unanimous consent must be had before the reading of the minutes can be dispensed with. Some one called his attention to this, and to the fact that the nays had not been called for. There are 50,000 policy-holders in the company, but only 150 were represented. Mr. Peet overruled the protest, and said that the election of officers was the next order of business. Without waiting for nominations he appointed two tellers to hand around a printed list of officers. Somebody said that nominations should be made, but a number of men jumped up and shouted him down. Down went the electric lights went out, and we were left in the darkness for a few minutes, during which there was great confusion, but the tellers went right on just the same. When the lights were on again Mr. Peet declared that the vote had been taken, and as 81 had been cast for the printed slip and none opposing, the officers were reelected. I do not consider that the meeting was a legal one."

The annual meeting of the Mercantile Benefit Association, whose offices are at No. 319 Broadway, also was held Wednesday night, in the Masonic Temple. This also was a turbulent meeting, a strong effort being made to prevent it from continuing business as an insurance association. President William Wills endeavored to preserve order, but gave up in despair, and the first vice-president, Henry Rosenheim, took the chair, and was equally unsuccessful in maintaining order. A minority report, signed by Edward D. Candee and J. Granville Smith, declared that there was no hope of the association continuing business for another year, and that the only way out of their difficulties was to reinsure the policy-holders in some other company. The report was not accepted, and the following were elected officers: William Wills, president; Henry Rosenheim, first vice-president; James K. Andrews, second vice-president; William H. Crolius, third vice-president; Joseph Gales, fourth vice-president; W. S. Gilmore, John W. Jacobus, S. Ellis Briggs, William L. Gerrish, jr., Frank J. Mora, Edward W. Williams, Executive Committee; Ira W. Steward, secretary and treasurer.

Speaking of the minority report, which declared that the association was incapable of successfully continuing business for 1895, Secretary Steward said to a Tribune reporter: "This is only a move on the part of some discontented members to turn over the business of our concern to other concerns in which they probably have an interest. No doubt these other companies would be glad to get our business, but as we have a surplus of $80,000 in hand, it does not look as if we were insolvent or likely to go out of business just yet. We have paid over $1,000,000 to policy-holders, and we are confident of meeting every obligation in 1895."

ACTORS ARRESTED IN KANSAS CITY.

Kansas City, Feb. 28.—McKee Rankin and Patrick O'Neill, who, with a company, are playing a week's engagement at the Ninth Street Theatre, were arrested last night at the instance of the proprietor of the Centropolis Hotel for obtaining board through deceit and trickery. They were taken before a justice and released on bond signed by Manager Clark of the theatre. Rankin and his company laid off here last week and so incurred the board bill.

REAR-ADMIRAL GREER RETIRED.

HE REACHED THE AGE LIMIT YESTERDAY—HIS CONNECTION WITH THE TRENT AFFAIR.

James A. Greer, president of the Naval Examining and Retiring Board, and senior Rear-Admiral of the Navy, was placed on the retired list yesterday, having reached the age limit. This action promotes Commodore William A. Kirkland, who has been acting Rear-Admiral in command of the European station, and places Rear-Admiral George Brown, at present commandant of the Navy Yard, at Norfolk, at the head of the list.

Rear-Admiral Greer's career has been an active and stirring one, and a long sketch of his naval record was published in The Tribune of February 10. He was a lieutenant on the San Jacinto when Captain Wilkes, in command of that vessel, fired on the British steamer Trent, on the morning of November 8, 1861. Lieutenant Greer was the one who was selected, after the Trent hove to, in response to a shot across her bows, to head a force and remove from the Trent the Confederate commissioners, James Murray Mason and John Slidell, who were known to be on board. They declined to leave the Trent except under force, but Lieutenant Greer took them to the San Jacinto. The incidents which followed, ending in the release of Mason and Slidell and the disavowing of the act of Captain Wilkes, are matters of history. It has since been believed that the lieutenants in charge of the boats realized, whether Captain Wilkes did or not, the gravity of the situation, and that it was through their finesse that Captain Moir, of the Trent, failed to give up his ship as a prize to the San Jacinto, and serious complications, if not war with England, were averted.

Soon after this affair Lieutenant Greer was commissioned lieutenant-commander, and was assigned to the shop of war St. Louis, following his services in that vessel by joining the Caronelet, of the Mississippi squadron, under Porter. He was in charge of the Benton at the time of the passage of the Vicksburg batteries.

A peculiar point in relation to the retirement of Rear-Admiral Greer is that it leaves half the list of officers of that rank in sea service, the first three being Brown, at Norfolk, Walker, at the head of the Lighthouse Board, and Ramsay, of the Bureau of Navigation. The three at sea are Meade, in command of the North Atlantic Station, at present on the Raleigh, in the West Indies, Carpenter, in command of the Asiatic Station, on board the Baltimore, and Kirkland, in command of the European Station, on board the San Francisco, at Alexandria.

COMMOTION IN A CHURCH.

A WOMAN BECOMING SUDDENLY INSANE FRIGHTENS THE CONGREGATION.

A woman afflicted with religious mania became wildly insane in St. Lawrence's Church, at Eighty-fourth-st. and Park-ave., yesterday morning. Father Prendergast had just begun to say mass, and absolute quiet prevailed, when the woman, who had a seat nearly in the middle of the church, suddenly arose from her seat and began to exhort those present in a loud voice, using quotations from the Bible and from the church service. Then she rushed from her pew, and began to tear down the names and curtains from the confessionals. A stampede of the frightened congregation, which might have involved most serious consequences, seemed inevitable, but a few cool-headed men prevented it by blocking the aisles so that people could not rush out. Policemen Kane and Herne, who were on duty outside of the church, aided in allaying the commotion.

Some of those present recognized the woman as Mrs. Williams, a widow, who lives with her two daughters at No. 132 Park-ave., and who has been a devout attendant at the church for a long time. Father McKenna, who knows her well, was summoned from the rectory, and he succeeded in quieting her. Meantime an ambulance had been summoned from the Presbyterian Hospital, and Mrs. Williams was taken there.

CONCERT OF THE COLUMBIA MUSICAL CLUBS.

The annual concert of the Columbia College Musical Society will be held to-morrow evening in the Madison Square Garden Concert Hall. At present everything points toward a successful entertainment, as the clubs have been practising regularly ever since the mid-year examinations, and the numerous concerts already given have accustomed the boys to playing together. Among the pieces to be sung is a medley entitled "Chestnuts," arranged by Kenneth M. Murchison, leader of the '93 Banjo Club. The quartet will give the "Song of the Steeple," and, assisted by the Glee Club, will also give "Mein Herr Van Dunck." F. A. Cokefair, leader of the Glee Club last year, will sing a solo with guitar accompaniment and violin obligato, and C. H. Carr will give his well-known song beginning "I Am King," with the Glee Club humming an accompaniment. The Mandolin Club, among its selections, will render a waltz composed by D. H. Taylor, of the senior class of the School of Arts.
