SILVERITES KEEPING QUIET NOW.

SENATOR MITCHELL, OF OREGON, SAYS THAT IS THEIR PRESENT POLICY.

Senator John H. Mitchell, of Oregon, is at the Marlborough Hotel. He is here having his eyes treated, and says that he is taking no part in the silver fight just now. He said yesterday: "So much has been said and so much has been done that I believe it is time to call a halt. The other fellows are lying low and husbanding their strength, and I believe that we should do the same. The silver element is conscious of its power. I do not see the use of expending it in useless effort. When the proper time comes we can strike a telling blow."

Senator Mitchell was asked about the recent action of the Oregon League of Republican Clubs, who at a recent meeting decided to stand by the party's present attitude on the financial question. The meeting was called for the purpose of selecting delegates to the National Convention at Cleveland. The ticket nominated to urge free coinage at Cleveland was defeated, and a delegation favoring the maintenance of the present attitude of the party on the financial question will be sent. A resolution was submitted to instruct the delegates to demand a free-silver resolution at Cleveland, but it was tabled with great enthusiasm. This would seem to be a severe blow to the silver element in Oregon.

Senator Mitchell said:

"That is all right. I understand it all. It is simply in line with a policy already mapped out. We knew that issue was coming. We decided not to declare ourselves as yet and let them go on without protest. When we are ready that thing will all be changed around."

Mr. Mitchell was asked if he thought a silver party would be in the field in 1896. He said:

"Senator Stewart is advocating ex-Congressman Sibley. He has been doing that right along. I do not think that I am ready to say anything. I continue to hope that my party is going to do something for us. I do not believe in deserting the old party until I am hurt. I believe in educating the party up to my belief, and it is time enough to break out when you see that it will do nothing for you."

A COUNTER-IRRITANT TO CARLISLE.

Memphis, Tenn., May 24.—The delegates to the Sound Money Convention are leaving the city. Mr. Carlisle, greatly fatigued, has also taken his departure from the city. The free silverites here agree that it was a magnificent convention, and bankers and business men are a unit in praise of Mr. Carlisle's speech. The apostle of the free silverites, ex-Congressman Bryan, of Nebraska, who was beaten for the Senate on a free-silver platform in a free-silver election, arrived here this morning to speak as a counter-irritant to Mr. Carlisle's address. He spoke this evening. In an interview he said that the free-silver sentiment was growing, but that he believed there was need for answering Mr. Carlisle. Mr. Bryan made the basis of his speech a composition of the addresses of Mr. Carlisle in 1878 and in 1895, and criticised Mr. Carlisle for his change of views.

RAILROAD INTERESTS.

TO OPPOSE THE ADAMS PLAN.

According to current reports, the Adams plan for the reorganization of the Northern Pacific Railroad, which would practically put Great Northern interests in control of the road, will not be accepted by the Livingston committee and the holders of the second-mortgage bonds. It was reported yesterday from Berlin that independent committees would be formed in Germany and London to oppose the Adams plan.

TERMINAL BONDS TO BE OFFERED IN LONDON.

J. P. Morgan & Co. will offer in this country, and J. S. Morgan & Co. in London, to-day, $4,500,000 of 5 per cent fifty-year first consolidated gold bonds of the Terminal Railroad Association of St. Louis. These bonds are a part of an authorized issue of $12,000,000, of which $7,000,000 is reserved to take up the present first mortgage bonds and $500,000 to construct a belt line in East St. Louis. Of the $4,500,000 now to be offered $3,500,000 takes the place of second mortgage bonds which have been authorized to the like amount, but have never been issued. The Terminal Railroad Association is controlled by the "Big Four," Louisville and Nashville, Missouri Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern, St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern, and Wabash. The roads named own each one-seventh interest, and the remaining one-seventh is reserved for transfer to another railroad when it shall have been admitted into the organization. There has already been a large inquiry for the bonds in Europe prior to the announcement of the issue.

INCREASE IN IRON BUSINESS.

There is reported a large increase in iron business along the line of the Norfolk and Western Railroad, the business having nearly doubled in the last three weeks, and it is understood that a settlement has been made with the striking coal operators. People interested in the property say that a reorganization of the railroad will be arranged by August 1 by scaling down the interest charges and also doing away with the guarantees of the branch lines, which will effect a net saving of something like $500,000 a year.

GETTING ENTRANCE TO KANSAS CITY.

Kansas City, Mo., May 24.—One of the biggest deals in railroad circles in the West, and one of the greatest moment to Kansas City, was formally begun to-day, when the articles of incorporation of the Kansas City and Northern Connecting Railway Company were filed. This railroad has been organized for the purpose of securing an inlet into Kansas City for three Eastern railroads, two of which are believed to be the Baltimore and Ohio and Chicago and Northwestern. Negotiations are now pending with the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway for the use of its bridge, and they are almost closed. The company is capitalized for $1,000,000.

A BURGLAR SHOT DEAD.

Bar Harbor, Me., May 24.—Josiah H. Bunker, a clerk employed by a merchant in Franklin, and who sleeps over the store, heard a man trying to enter the building about 2 o'clock this morning and fired upon him. The shot took effect, and the burglar, who is a stranger here, died at 8 o'clock this morning.
