MR. WOODRUFF WANTS A RETRACTION.

HE AVERS THAT HE NEVER CALLED MR. CLARK WHAT THE LATTER SAYS HE DID—THE MUTUAL RESERVE FIGHT.

The fight which A. Edward Woodruff, of No. 120 Broadway, a well-known lawyer, who lives at Rahway, is making against the Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association in behalf of policy-holders who are protesting against recently increased assessments bids fair to take on a serious phase. Mr. Woodruff yesterday mailed the following communication.

New-York, September 24, 1895.

J. E. Clark, esq., No. 61 Beekman-st., city.

Dear Sir: My information is that you have stated that I said you were a "damned fool" at the meeting in my office on Saturday last.

Having lived for upward of fifty years without having applied such an epithet to any person and challenging you to find any one who will say that they ever heard from me such an expression, and having refrained, as aforesaid, for upward of fifty years from having the satisfaction such as I understand is afforded sometimes by characterizing a person as you have apparently characterized yourself, I hereby formally notify you that if you do not at once retract your slanderous and as published libellous statement, as I am informed you have made, I shall feel justified in affording you an opportunity to prove that I made any such statement to you, or indeed that ever any such epithet was applied by me to any human being. An early reply will oblige yours, etc.,

A. EDWARD WOODRUFF.

The cause of this communication was the statement published on Sunday last, in which Mr. Clark appears as making the assertion at the meeting of dissatisfied policy-holders the day before. Mr. Clark, after leaving Mr. Woodruff's room, asserted that Mr. Woodruff applied to him the epithet set forth in the letter above.

Speaking of the matter yesterday, Mr. Woodruff, after repeating the substance of his letter, added: "Mr. Clark came to the meeting, not as a dissatisfied certificate-holder, but a satisfied one. In other words, he came in the interest of the Mutual Reserve, and that means President Burnham. I did not put him out of the room. He walked out when he found that his real purpose was discovered.

"This is only one of the many tricks Mr. Burnham has been up to in this matter. In the case of William D. Scisco, a dissatisfied stockholder, against the Mutual Reserve I found he had been sent for, went to Mr. Burnham's office, and that that company paid his $81 60 assessment itself, and now Mr. Scisco is classed by the company as a satisfied policy-holder. I made affidavit of this buying off of my client in court before Judge Beekman on September 18, when I withdrew the case from court."

Mr. Woodruff showed his affidavit, which was such as he described, and proceeded:

"One of the men at the meeting was a smooth-faced young fellow of apparently twenty years, five feet eight inches tall, of medium weight and dark complexion. He professed to be the son of an alleged E. F. Church, of No. 387 Manhattan-ave., who had attended a previous meeting, and he gave his own name as Douglas Church, in business at No. 637 Broadway. He said he had come in to see about the assessment on the policy of an uncle, of Hurleyville, this State. He had the alleged policy, but would not leave it, since his father would call on me the next day.

"I have ascertained that no such E. F. Church lives at No. 387, but an E. F. Church lives at No. 386 Manhattan-ave. But he is a wholly different man. No Church is at No. 637 Broadway. The whole building is occupied by a men's furnishing house.

"Now, I will contribute $10 to The Tribune Fresh Air Fund for next year if I can set my eyes on that young man who called himself Douglas Church. The Scisco and Douglas business shows me some of the tricks Mr. Burnham has resorted to. The falsehood told by his man Clark shows another phase."

"Does your letter to Mr. Clark not admit the interpretation of a challenge to a duel?" Mr. Woodruff was asked.

"Well," he smilingly replied, "I want to see what Mr. Clark proposes to do about it. I suppose I have lost much satisfaction in not calling some men 'damned fools,' but I am too old now to learn how."

Mr. Woodruff said he did not care to go into the ethics of "damned," especially after the scholarly article in "The Sun" some two years ago, in which the argument was made that the word was not profane, but only good Latin English for filling satisfactorily a need springing from violent emotion.
