GENERAL MARKET REPORT.

New-York, Aug. 7, 1896.

COTTON—The market closed weak with a net loss of 25@32 points. Total sales were 345,600 bales. The closing prices were about the lowest of the day. The highest prices were 20 to 40 points above the closing. The first prices were at 20 to 40 points above the closing. The weakness toward the close was due to a heavy break in New-Orleans under selling pressure, which was followed by a general desire here to realize profits. The quotations from New-Orleans were closely watched. There was also heavy selling on stop orders, and altogether a good deal of long cotton was unloaded. Weather conditions were about as unfavorable as they have been, the continued drouth adding to the precariousness of the crop, but the market was controlled little if any by the weather, the dominating forces being almost entirely the execution of buying or selling orders. The weather map does not show rain in Texas, and dry weather is reported in nearly all sections of the cotton belt. The market was very wild all day. The opening was exciting, the highest point being reached then. A good deal of long cotton was liquidated early and there was heavy selling on stop orders. Orders were executed on certain months at a difference of 3 to 4 points, as the brokers could not tell just where the market was, and they executed their orders at random. Liverpool was wild, making rapid changes and closing with a net advance of 10 to 12 points. The demoralized condition of affairs on the Cotton Exchange added to the excitement and weakness in cotton. It is supposed that the short interest is pretty well covered up, and apparently buying support seems lacking. Local traders are quite at sea regarding the situation.

FLOUR AND MEAL—The market for flour was dull and depressed to-day with association brands quote down to $3 25, or less, less the usual discounts. FOREIGN GREEN FRUIT—The demand for lemons continues active, with desirable stock rather scarce and the tone firm. Bananas are in quite good request for outport shipment, and prices are firmer. We quote: Lemons, $3 25@$3 50; orange, $2 50@$3; bananas, $1 25@$1 75; cocoanuts, $25@$32 50; Florida pineapples, $11@$18.

GRAIN—WHEAT—The wheat market opened firmer this morning and for a short time exhibited quite a confident undertone, but the weakness in Wall Street soon led to some selling. Notwithstanding the demoralization reported from the Street, the decline in wheat futures was not important, and by midday prices had improved again. The early firmness was due to foreign buying locally and the midday recovery to reports from Chicago of 400,000 bush of wheat for export, direct. The foreign news was of quiet markets abroad, but the foreign buying was somewhat of a surprise in the confidence with which it was executed. The report of "The London Times" making the condition of wheat 100 did not seem to influence the markets abroad. The reports from the Northwest continue to reiterate the damage advices, and the reported offers of new winter wheat are light, although the primary movement for the week is fairly well maintained. Some of the reports from the Pacific Coast indicate a much better outturn of the crop than than anticipated a short time ago, and estimates have been raised to 45,000,000 to 50,000,000 bush. Minneapolis reported that it was possible that some of the large mills would shut down for about two months within a few days. It was alleged that this shutting down has some connection with the spring wheat millers association and an attempt to advance prices by curtailing production. This morning association prices on spring patents were reduced 10c to $3 70 net. The market in the afternoon was very firm on reports of good export buying at outports, and the close was firm at ⅛@¼c net gain. The cash market was quiet, but firm locally. Sales were reported of 8,000 bush on private terms, f o b afloat, and 32,000 bush ungraded spring, on private terms. No 2 red was quoted at 4¼c over September f o b afloat; September closed at 62⅝c. No 1 Northern 1½c over September f o b afloat, and No 1 hard 4½c over September f o b afloat. CORN—The market for corn opened fairly steady this morning and showed during the forenoon quite a steady undertone, due to the liberal buying of corn yesterday for export. This buying was possibly at all points between 800,000 and 900,000 bush, and it tended to give holders some degree of confidence, as there were reports of a further good demand to-day. The crop advices were satisfactory and the movement of old corn at primary markets has in five days increased 784,000 bush. The reports from Galveston were that the water on the bar was 25 feet deep and that it was expected that a heavy movement of corn would be seen via that port for export this season. An analysis was reported from Chicago prepared by a prominent railroad president, showing the cost of moving corn from Kansas and Nebraska, plus the Chicago expenses, and the net result at 27c a bushel at Chicago, was figured at 52 91 for the Kansas and Nebraska producer. The current market is about 3c a bushel lower, so that even this result is above the actual value of the corn. In the afternoon the market was very quiet, with the undertone heavy, notwithstanding the steadiness in wheat. There were also rumors of good export business reported at outports, and locally 104,000 bush were taken for shipment. The close, however, was quiet at unchanged to ⅛c net gain. The decline made a new record for quotations at New-York, with cash corn, 2 cars, selling at 30c elevator, and 5,000 bush at 31c delivered; 104,000 bush of No 2 sold at 1⅝c over September, and private terms, f o b afloat, and 4,000 bush yellow corn at 30⅝@31c elevator. OATS—The market for oats was moderately active to-day, with prices exhibiting a rather heavy undertone. There did not seem to be any special feature to the trade, but the large primary movement, which has gained 1,288,000 bush in five days this week, and decreasing exports, together with the depression in corn, served to influence the transactions. After some weakness at the opening a little steadier feeling was exhibited. The close was quiet at ⅛@¼c decline. The cash market was slightly easier. Sales were reported of 35,000 bush of ungraded mixed oats at 23⅝c delivered and private terms; 20,000 bush ungraded white at 26c to 31c, and 1 car of old No 2 at 24c elevator. Quotations for No 2 white were 28 elevator, and No 2 oats 23¼c elevator. Exporters took 20,000 bush. RYE—The market continues quiet, with No 2 Western quoted at 37@37½c c i f. BARLEY—Market quiet and about steady at 32@32½c c i f. FLAXSEED—Market quiet, with prices quoted at 77⅛@78¼c c i f; sales, 8,000 bush, private terms.
