MECHANICAL ENGINEERS IN SESSION.

PAPERS AND DISCUSSIONS ON PROBLEMS OF INTEREST TO THE PROFESSION—RECEPTION TO-NIGHT.

The fall meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers began last night at their New-York house, No. 12 West Thirty-first-st. The smoking-room and library were filled early in the evening, and at 9 o'clock the meeting was called to order in the lecture-room, on the first floor, with 321 members present. Worcester R. Warner, of Cleveland, Ohio, the retiring president of the society, read a paper on "The Evolution of the Telescope," and was followed by John A. Brashear, of Allegheny City, Penn., who discussed "Optical Glass."

The second session will open this morning at 10 o'clock, when officers for 1898 will be elected and the reports of the various committees will be read. Gustavus C. Henning, of this city, will make his report as delegate to the international conference at Stockholm. Papers will be read by W. Wallace Christie, of Paterson, N. J., and Francis W. Dean, of Boston.

A reception will be held to-night at Sherry's, and to-morrow morning will be spent in hearing papers by Robert H. Thurston, director of Sibley College, Cornell University; Rolla C. Carpenter, professor of expert engineering at Sibley College; Howard Stillman, of Sacramento, Cal.; William S. Aldrich, professor of mechanical engineering at West Virginia University, and William S. Keep, of Detroit.

At the fourth session, to-morrow evening, and at the closing session, on Friday morning, papers on engineering problems will be read.

The society has 1,800 members, and among those present at this meeting are John B. Mayo, Brooklyn; David Guelbaum, Syracuse, N. Y.; Henry M. Norris, Cincinnati; Charles T. Main, Winchester, Mass.; James Hartness, Springfield, Vt.; Arthur L. Rice, Brooklyn; C. J. H. Woodbury, Lynn, Mass.; George W. Dickie, San Mateo, Cal.; Edgar H. Mumford, Plainfield, N. J.; George W. Bissell, Ames, Iowa; Stonewall Tompkins, Miller School, Va.; Charles T. Hillard, Pittsburg, Penn.; George H. Merrill, Brooklyn; C. M. Morse, Buffalo; J. E. Wilson, Bridgeport, Conn.; William T. Bonner, Montreal, Canada; W. J. Keep, Detroit, Mich.; William D. Cadwell, Nashua, N. H.; Francis H. Boyer, Boston; C. W. Bray, Lisbon, Ohio; W. S. Rogers, Cincinnati; J. D. Cox., jr., Cleveland, and W. E. Scheenborn, Washington.

TWO AMERICAN BOYS IMPRISONED.

THEY WERE ACCUSED OF EXPLODING A TOY BOMB AT THE NATIONAL COLLEGE IN MANAGUA, NICARAGUA.

Managua, Nicaragua, Nov. 11.—William Sheridan, a sixteen-year-old son of William Sheridan, of California, temporarily living at his coffee estate near Matagalpa, who has been attending the National College at Managua, has been imprisoned "incomunicado" in the National prison on a declaration by Roberto Eckman, a German, the director of the college, that young Sheridan was one of a party of students who exploded a toy bomb at or near the college door. Three days later Hugh Sheridan, fourteen years old, and a brother of William, also a student at the college, was imprisoned on a similar charge, preferred by Eckman. None of the native students alleged to have been in the party with the Sheridans were arrested. It is declared that Eckman before he made his declaration against Hugh Sheridan was informed that the Sheridan boys at the time of the explosion of the toy bomb were over half a mile away from the college. Eckman, who is a German subject, was evidently afraid to accuse the native boys, fearing that their parents would make a protest and eventually influence President Zelaya to dismiss him.

The United States Consul at Managua called on William Sheridan once, but was not permitted to see the boy afterward. The United States Legation also made an effort in his behalf during his third day in prison, and requested the transfer of the boy to a cleaner room. The two boys were eventually released from prison by order of the Government of Managua on the evening of the fifth day of the imprisonment of the older boy, and were requested to appear before a criminal judge the next day, the Government evidently hoping that they would run away and go to their father's estate. They were on hand when the court opened the following day, however, and the judge, having no testimony against them, took the declaration of a physician that the accused were under the age of manhood, and dismissed them on the nominal promise that they would appear in court when summoned. In the mean time, they can go wherever they please.

A FRENCH BRIG WRECKED.

St. Malo, Nov. 30.—The French brig Hasparren has been wrecked off Aurigny. A majority of her crew perished. She was of 309 tons, and belonged to S. M. Lagasse, Nevu et Cie, of Bayonne, France. She was built in 1876, and on October 12 last was reported as having arrived at St. Pierre, Miquelon.

TO BACK BOOTH-TUCKER.

NEARLY $30,000 FOR HIS COLONIZATION PLAN ANNOUNCED AT CARNEGIE HALL.

COLLECTIONS TAKEN UP WITH GREAT ENTHUSIASM AFTER AN APPEAL BY THE COMMANDER AT THE MASS-MEETING WHICH CLOSES THE SALVATION ARMY'S CONGRESS.

After a stirring speech and appeal by Commander Booth-Tucker of the Salvation Army to an audience which completely filled Carnegie Hall last evening, subscriptions amounting to nearly $30,000, including some sent in by mail, were raised, amid shouting, applause and trumpet blasts, on behalf of the Army's new colonization scheme. It was an anniversary night for the Army, and before its close it proved a red-letter one. It also marked the end of the five-days' congress which the Army has been holding.

Commander Booth-Tucker had previously outlined his plan for colonizing waste lands in the West with the waste labor of the big cities of the East in order that idle capital may be employed for the benefit of the poor and of the charitably disposed investor. Last evening he again described the scheme and invited subscriptions, saying that it was believed that 5 per cent could be paid on investments so made inside of five years. Besides the Commander's address, his wife spoke on the army's work in the slums and among the criminal classes, and several object-lessons of the benefit the army had brought to small children were given.

The members of the Army marched to the hall early in the evening, and by 8 o'clock, when the meeting opened, every seat on the floor, in the boxes and in the two galleries was occupied. Even the standing room was taken, and it was evident that the public felt a keen interest in the Army's new work. On the stage in rising tiers were massed the Army's staff officers, representatives of the Army from all over the world, dressed in the costumes of every land, and in the midst the brass band. The meeting opened with music, a prayer and a song by the Salvationist troupe of colored jubilee singers from Kentucky, after which the Commander delivered his address. His plan has already been fully described in The Tribune, and in bringing it before the public himself last evening he did not materially add to it. In brief, it is a scheme for obtaining large tracts of waste land in the West, either by gift or purchase, and settling on it poor people who are willing to work. They will be provided with neat homes, and it is believed that their agricultural labor will not only earn their living, but will even earn interest on the money invested in the scheme. Mr. Booth-Tucker said last evening that he needed $100,000 to begin operations.

Letters of regret, which expressed great interest in the colonization plan, were read from President McKinley, Abram S. Hewitt, Benjamin F. Tracy, Frances E. Willard, John Wanamaker and Mayor Robert Pratt of Minneapolis. Cards were then passed about among the audience, on which would-be subscribers to the plan could write their names, addresses and the amount they desired to contribute. While the Army lasses were moving about the aisles in this work Colonel Higgins read a list of subscriptions received by telegraph and mail, among these being John E. Milholland, $1,000; Roswell P. Flower, $500, and Elizabeth Livingston, $1,000. Several persons wished their names withheld, although one subscribed $5,000, and many others for smaller sums. These sums, with those collected at the meeting, amounted altogether to nearly $30,000.

A collection was also taken up for the immediate needs of the Army, and the meeting closed with a series of stereopticon views.

RAILROAD INTERESTS.

QUICK TIME TO SAN FRANCISCO.

The Southern Pacific Company announces that freight routes Morgan Line via Sunset Route leaving New-York on the steamship El Norte at 3 p. m. Saturday, November 20, arrived in Los Angeles, Cal., at 9 a. m., Pacific time (equivalent to 12 m. Eastern time), November 29, and in San Francisco at 5:30 a. m., Pacific time (equivalent to 8:30 a. m. Eastern time), November 30, establishing a record of eight days and twenty-one hours from New-York to Los Angeles, and of nine days and seventeen and one-half hours from New-York to San Francisco. This eclipses any record ever made to California.

REFUNDING PLAN PERFECTED.

The refunding plan of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway has been perfected. The operation is to be conducted by Speyer & Co. Four per cent ninety-year gold bonds are to be issued to retire existing issues. The authorized amount of the new 4 per cent bonds is $100,000,000. The bonds to be taken up are $40,394,000 extension and collateral trust 5s, which may be called at 105; $4,500,000 debenture 5s, which also are subject to call at 105; $5,000,000 Chicago and Southern 7s, due in 1899, and $12,500,000 first mortgage 6s, due in 1917. The new bonds in excess of the requirement for refunding purposes will be reserved for the purchase of new property. The refunding will result in a saving in interest equal to 1 per cent on the stock of the Rock Island company.

THOROUGHBREDS SOLD AT LEXINGTON.

GOOD PRICES REALIZED—W. C. WHITNEY INVESTS $15,950.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 30 (Special).—Thoroughbreds sold well here to-day. William C. Whitney, of New-York, bought some of the highest-priced animals. He secured Lou Bramble for $9,000, Sir Vassar for $1,650, Ruskin for $900, and King Bermuda for $500. The two latter are two-year-olds. These, with his purchases, Loki and Jean Ingelow, yesterday, caused Mr. Whitney to draw his check for $15,950 this afternoon. He employed local horsemen to bid for him. Altogether, eighty-two horses were sold for $29,555; average, $365. Those bringing $500 and over were:

Lou Bramble, b. f. (3), by Bramble—Lou Dudley; W. C. Whitney	$9,000

Lillian Bell, b. f. (2), by Bermuda—Saitta; J. F. Winn, Winchester, Ky.	2,000
Irwin, b. c. (2), by Julius—Marie Irwin; R. Tucker	1,675
Sir Vassar, b. h. (4), by Sir Dixon—Vassar; W. C. Whitney	1,650
Whipsta, ch. m. (5), by Hanover—Victorine; J. R. Viley, Midway, Ky.	1,250
Mary Louise, m. m. (11), by Luke Blackburn—Buttercup; George Long	575
Ruskin, b. h. (2), by Buchanan—Bonnie Girl; W. C. Whitney	900
Horace, b. c. (2), by Hinnyar—Dareela; W. F. Hayes, Doneral, Ky.	550
King Bermuda, b. c. (2), by Bermuda—Queen Isabella; W. C. Whitney	500

The horses did not sell so well to-night, but the following five brought $500 and over:

Jim Floco, blk. h. (5), by Hazes—Messalina; D. Henley, Cincinnati	1,100
Ingomar, b. g. (7), by Jubilee—Josephine; Timothy D. Sullivan, New-York	550
Gasperone, b. g. (4), by Jim Gore, dam by Leonatus; D. Henley	500
Brennan, b. g. (2), by Prince Royal—Gypsy; Timothy D. Sullivan	550
Becky B., ch. m. (15), by Longbow—Bettie Magruder; George Long, Louisville	625

The total sales to-night were thirty-seven head for $6,285; average, $169.
