THE DAY'S OPERATIONS IN STOCKS.

Wall Street has little reason for its current uneasiness over the winter wheat crop and the probable yield of the crops in general this year. The best advice that can be given to intending buyers as to this uneasiness is to hope for the best and buy stocks when pessimism in Wall Street is most acute. The cold weather and snow have been favorable rather than unfavorable to winter wheat, and it would seem that whatever damage has been sustained or may be sustained before the maturity of the crops will be offset by the increased acreage planted and the surplus crop supplies in farmers' hands. The intense doubt in the traders' minds over the crops and the monetary situation will not cause a depreciation in the actual worth of securities, although it may reduce margins and frighten the small operator into selling. From the present efforts making to lower prices, it would seem as if many—in fact, the majority—of the traders on the Exchange were looking forward to an active spring bull movement.

The market yesterday was dull and weak, with dealings poorly distributed. The industrial shares were moderately active, the manipulated American Tobacco being a feature. The price of this stock may well be called fancy, and while it is absolutely controlled by a clique of insiders, it is not improbable that the time will come when the insiders will countenance a sharp break to figures well under the present quotation. In the railroad list Manhattan and Brooklyn Rapid Transit were active features, the first named developing extreme weakness and the latter decided strength at an advance that carried the price within a fraction of par. About one-half of the total dealings were transacted in the unlisted department of the Exchange, the only active features in the regularly listed shares being in American Tobacco, Atchison preferred, Burlington, Chicago Terminal, Federal Steel, Manhattan, Missouri Pacific, Northern Pacific, Reading first preferred, St. Paul and Union Pacific issues. The shifting of funds in connection with the payment on the Alton deal account caused a firmer money market, call loans advancing to 5½ per cent, while time money exhibited a stronger tendency. Of the $24,000,000 paid on Alton account, $12,000,000 is due to out-of-town stockholders; but it is not likely that the entire amount will leave this city, as the current price for money offers an attractive inducement to leave it in this market. The strength in the money market caused a slight decline in sterling exchange.

The official report of the country's foreign commerce in February shows an increase in imports and a decrease in exports as compared with February a year ago, but despite this the excess of exports over imports amounts in value to $33,624,117, against $41,842,804 in February, 1898; $20,583,709 in February, 1897, and $57,043,639 in January of the current year. For the fiscal year to February 28 the excess of exports over imports was in value $416,277,007, against $419,593,681 in the corresponding time last year. The gain in imports is an encouraging indication of the growing buying power of the country resulting from business prosperity, while the falling off in exports is too small to be of any significance at present. Upon investigation it will be found that the country's exports of manufactured articles are rapidly increasing, and that under the wise provision of the Dingley law new markets are constantly being opened to the manufacturers of the United States. A reduction in the tremendous balance of trade in this country's favor, owing to an improving home demand for foreign goods, cannot be twisted into a bear card when our money markets are absolutely independent of the Old World and capable of withstanding any extraordinary pressure that may be brought to bear upon them. An enormous trade balance abroad is not now needed, so far as the money market is concerned, and a reduction in that balance will reflect a healthful gain in imports rather than a falling off in the export trade.
