WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

PORT CHESTER.

The election held on Monday in Mamaroneck on the question of disincorporating the village resulted in a victory for those opposed to the proposition, just as a former election resulted about two years ago. The vote for disincorporation was 91, and in favor of continuing the village government 174.

The Port Chester Street Railroad Committee has made an application to Supreme Court Justice Martin J. Keogh for the appointment of commissioners to condemn the easements in its uncompleted route of those who have not consented to the building of the railroad. A commission will probably be appointed in a few days.

NEW-ROCHELLE.

All of the firms except the one which received the contract for brick paving in Webster-ave. began work yesterday tearing up the streets and getting ready to put down block and sheet asphalt, brick and macadam. The town docks are crowded with barges containing the materials and horses and carts to be used by the contractors, and a horde of Italian laborers are pouring into the city. Some people are making best profits by leasing them their barns to be used for living apartments. The cost of rebuilding the streets will be about $60,000, one-half of which is to be paid for with city bonds. The remaining half will be assessed against the owners of the abutting property, to be paid for in five years.

Bonds are soon to be issued for $12,000 for the purpose of erecting a modern firehouse in the centre of the city to contain the offices of the Commissioners and apartments for Relief Engine Company. It is rumored that the Commissioners have an option on a lot in Church-st., near Main-st., and will probably purchase it. It will require about $25,000 to build a suitable headquarters, but as the appropriation is limited to $15,000 the commissioners expect to put up a plain lot, and after putting up the foundation and lower floor wait for the people to give them another appropriation to finish the building.

YONKERS.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the Board of Police Commissioners will hold its first meeting of the investigation into the department, recently ordered by Mayor Leslie Sutherland. Acting on the Mayor's order the Commissioners met recently and caused an official notice to be published announcing that a public meeting would be held by them to-day, and requesting that any person having any information of irregularity in the department bring the matter before them, supported by affidavits. This line of action has not generally been commended. It is pointed out that should no one appear with complaints before the Commissioners an opportunity to drop the entire matter will be afforded. The Commissioners, however, are all men of recognized integrity, and it is generally believed that they will trace the "rumors," which have already become bywords in the city, to their source, and then determine what course to pursue.

At the meeting of the Common Council on Monday evening it was decided to appeal from the order of mandamus recently issued by the Supreme Court in the Ludlow-st. assessment matter. The City Clerk was authorized to advertise a notice for the general elections to be held on November 7. The Board also voted to illuminate Washington and Grant parks with incandescent lights, and to issue school bonds for $85,000, bearing interest at 3½ per cent, for the erection of a new schoolhouse at Lowerre.

NORTH TARRYTOWN

Mrs. Rachel Gibson Brown died yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Moses Yorkes, in College-ave., from old age. Mrs. Brown was born in Scotland ninety-two years ago, and came to this country with her parents when a girl. Seventy years ago she was married to William Brown, in New-Haven, Conn., and two years afterward moved to Yonkers, where they lived until last year, when they came to this village. Besides her husband, who is eighty-eight years old, Mrs. Brown has three daughters and one son—Mrs. Yorkes, of this village, Mrs. George Paton, of Corona, Long Island, Mrs. Pilson and Robert Brown, of Yonkers. The funeral will be held on Thursday.

TARRYTOWN

The trustees on Monday evening received a written application from the local branch of the "Huckleberry" trolley company for an extension of its route in the village. A public hearing will be given on the application on October 3.

SING SING

The Democrats held a lively town caucus yesterday, at which over seven hundred votes were polled, for delegates to the county, Assembly and School Commissioner conventions. The ticket indorsed by the regular organization won by 30 majority. Ex-Senator Henry C. Nelson, president of the First National Bank, led the opposition. Dr. E. F. Sheehan had charge of the regular forces as usual, and with the Town Committee, made such a canvass that the opposition was overwhelmed. The candidates voted for are as follows: For County Convention—Messrs. Nathaniel S. Hyatt, Cornelius Dooley, William M. Rutherford, James H. Morgan, John C. Parlow, and T. F. Walsh; for Assembly delegates, Dr. E. F. Sheehan, Frank S. Reid, John Connelly, Arthur Brown, Benjamin Foran, Charles H. Lent, Lansing Terwilliger, Joseph Will, Henry H. Reynolds, E. F. Campion, William McKelvey and James Brennan; for school delegates, John H. Lee, James H. Howe, Frank T. Kelley, Esmeralda Purdy, Frank L. Irving, James T. Crane, George Terwilliger, William Cullen, John Broderick, Montgomery A. Lozee, William Sutton and Michael J. Ierman.

The Board of Town Officers last night appointed tenant officers. George Romaine was appointed for the Second School District, Jackson Young for the Third and Sixth, Montgomery A. Lozee for the Fourth, and Daniel Moriarty for the Fifth.

THE TRANS-SAHARA RAILWAY.

PLANS FOR PUSHING FOURTEEN HUNDRED MILES FROM THE MEDITERRANEAN.

From The Engineering Magazine.

In view of the growing strength of England in Africa, the construction of a railway crossing the desert of Sahara, and uniting the French colonies of Algeria and Tunis with the fertile country about Lake Tchad, is urged as a political and military necessity.

There is now a railway about 250 kilometres (150 miles) long from the port of Sfax, on the Mediterranean, to Gafsa, in the interior of Tunis, where a valuable deposit of phosphate rock is found, from which annual shipments of over 300,000 tons are now made. The general conditions of railway construction in this country are well known, and it may be assumed without serious error that the prolongation of the Sfax-Gafsa railway across the desert could be made at about the same cost per mile as that portion already built. The climate is about the same, water is found at the frequent intervals, and the topography does not greatly differ from that of the existing railway. It may therefore be estimated that the entire 2,000 kilometres (1,240 miles) could be completed at the cost of 60,000 francs per kilometre, including rolling stock, or a total of 120,000,000 francs ($24,000,000), and, even if this amount be increased by one-half to provide for unforeseen contingencies, it is yet far within the estimate of twenty years ago, which reached the enormous sum of over 500,000,000 francs.

Apart from the strategical value of such a railway, there is some probability that its construction would have the effect of developing materially the natural resources of the country through which it would pass. As a matter of fact, the real value of this portion of Africa is not imperfectly known. It is but a short time since the phosphate deposits of Algeria began to be worked, and even now, with proper transportation facilities, the present output of these beds could readily be increased to over a million tons per year. For some time there has been reason to believe that there exist in the interior of the Sahara important deposits of nitrates, which only need accessibility to rival those of Chili, and there are salt deposits already known to be awaiting development on the Soudan frontier.

These sources of traffic, however, are almost entirely in prospect; there is every reason to assume that the primary reason for the construction of a railway across the desert is that of extending and at the same time consolidating French power in Africa, and meeting the British colonial expansion in that continent by anticipating her in railway construction.

It is especially interesting to the engineer to note that in the attacks which are being made by nearly all the nations of Europe for permanent territorial hold in Africa engineering work is depended upon as a more certain and enduring form of attack than military power, and that the railway, canal and harbor are the real weapons in the conquest of a continent.

NEW-YORK CITY.

The examination of five police captains who are applicants for promotion to the vacant inspectorship, which was to have taken place on Thursday, has been indefinitely postponed by the Police Board.

Arnold, Constable & Co. will close their stores on both days of the Dewey celebration, Friday and Saturday. This is done so that all their employes may enjoy the holidays.

The committee of the Merchants' Association appointed in the early part of the summer for the purpose of considering certain amendments in relation to formulating a plan for the revision of the Customs Administrative act has determined to begin active work to reach the end in view. This committee was appointed at the suggestion of President McKinley, and has been assured of the co-operation of the Secretary of the Treasury, and through that branch of the Government of all customs officials of the United States. John Gibb is chairman of the committee. He has called a meeting of the executive members of that body for to-day at the rooms of the Merchants' Association, at 2 o'clock.

FOUND DEAD IN HIS CHAIR.

GEORGE GURNEE OF NYACK, EXPIRES SUDDENLY WHILE SITTING AT HIS DESK.

Nyack, N. Y., Sept. 26 (Special).—George Gurnee, one of Nyack's most prominent and wealthy citizens, was found dead in his room last evening. He was nearly sixty-three years old. Mr. Gurnee's wife has been dead for several years. His son went to the city yesterday, leaving Mr. Gurnee apparently in his usual health. Last evening when he returned home he went to his father's room, and found him sitting in a chair in front of his desk dead. Mr. Gurnee had been seen on the veranda of his house in the afternoon, and shortly afterward he went into the house and up to his room. His death was caused by cerebral hemorrhage.

Mr. Gurnee was born in this county, and received a good education. He had lived in Nyack more than thirty years, being in the coal and lumber business until three years ago, when he retired. He had accumulated riches both by business and inheritance. Besides his business here he was the principal owner of a large and lucrative brickyard at Fishkill. He is survived by a son, George H. Gurnee, and one daughter, Mrs. William Alexander Smith, jr., of New-York.

LOCAL BUSINESS COMPLICATIONS.

Deputy Sheriff Badley has received two executions aggregating $8,884 against the Acme Soap Company, manufacturers of soap at No. 23 Pearl-st., in favor of Robert Easton Irwin, formerly the president and capitalist of the company. The Sheriff levied on the effects of the company at No. 23 Pearl-st.

Deputy Sheriff Strauss yesterday sold the fixtures and contents of the Amphitryon Café and restaurant, at No. 264 Broadway, under various attachments against Max S. Rosenweig, who left the place in the hands of his employes about six weeks ago.

The Sheriff has received notice from Adolph Aarons that he is the sole owner of the saloon at No. 132 Maiden Lane, which has been conducted by Kroll & Aarons. The Sheriff has a keeper in the place under three attachments obtained on Monday by Austrian banks against Jacob Korn.

Deputy Sheriff Roberts said yesterday that under the execution obtained on Monday against the Lexington Avenue Ice Company, at One-hundred-and-seventh-st. and Lexington-ave., by Davies, Printz & Co., for $1,021, he had levied upon the seats and furniture used by the Lenox Athletic Club in the same building. It is said that these belong to the Lexington Avenue Ice Company, which leases them to the Lenox Athletic Club. Mr. Roberts said that he would not interfere with the entertainments given by the club.

PETITIONS IN BANKRUPTCY.

Adolph Tode and John Wulling, clerks at No. 1008 Third-ave., have filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities of $56,659 and no assets. They were formerly in business as Tode Brothers, dealers in delicatessen at No. 222 Bowery and at Fifty-ninth-st. and Third-ave., and also as the Monroe Cheese Company, at Monroe, Orange County, N. Y. They were sold out by the Sheriff in 1896.

George H. Loft, living at No. 211 West One-hundred-and-seventh-st., has filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities of $12,220, and nominal assets. He believes that while a director of the William Loft Company he made or indorsed paper which is held by the creditors.

Samuel W. Richards, living at No. 292 St. Nicholas-ave., has filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities of $5,462 and no assets. Mr. Richards formerly kept a drygoods store at No. 58 West Twenty-third-st.

THE WONDERFUL MACHETE.

TOOL OF ALL WORK, INCLUDING HAIR CUTTING.

From The New-Orleans Times-Democrat.

"The machete is the most wonderful instrument in the world," said a man from Bluefields. "A native Cuban or Central American can do anything with it, from carving a toothpick to cutting down a tree. It is about the only implement of the common people down there, and the dexterity with which they use it must be hereditary, for they are too lazy to acquire such a high degree of manual skill solely by practice. In other words, it comes 'natural' to them, and I never saw a foreigner, white or black, who could come anywhere near equalling their performances. I know a native on a plantation near Rama who is especially clever with the machete, and I have frequently seen him do apparently impossible things with its clumsy blade. Not long ago a boat belonging to the plantation was stove in, and he repaired it very neatly. It was a job that would have worried an ordinary carpenter, with plenty of tools at his disposal, but this fellow used nothing but his machete. I have seen him clean and dress ducks with the same handy implement. He uses it to cut bananas, mow weeds, manicure his nails and fight his neighbors. He lives in the ordinary native hut, made of light tree trunks and bamboo thatch, and he built the whole thing with that same old machete. Of course, it is not much of a house, but it is a wonderful edifice to conjure out of the raw material of the forest with such a piece of steel. The oddest use to which the Central American Indians put the machete is in cutting their hair. They do this by spread out their flowing locks on a board, and allowing friend chops off the surplus growth. I cannot recommend the operation for style, but it answers the purpose."

President Andrade. The insurgent forces were large at the opening of the movement. They abandoned the city of San Cristobal only because of the advance of the main army of the Government, numbering eight thousand men, well drilled, well armed and supported by strong artillery. These troops defeated San Cristobal and occupied the place. It was expected at that time that they would overtake the forces of the revolutionary chief. Cipriano Castro, who is now at the head of those revolutionists, is believed to be in the interior of the country, in the direction of its capital city, Caracas.

STREET ON STATEN ISLAND UNSAFE.

At the meeting of the Borough Board of Richmond Borough yesterday morning complaints were received from the dealers in Lincoln-ave., Colonia, in regard to electric lights. For some time the lights have been extinguished, and the recent rains have made the street unsafe for pedestrians. President Cromwell said that something should be done to improve the illumination of the island. The matter was referred to the Commissioner of Buildings, Lighting and Supplies, and a resolution was adopted asking that immediate action be taken to improve the lighting of the island.
