The marriage of Miss Sarah Allene Hart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Hart, to I. Oliver Kipp, of Yonkers, will take place at the bride's home, No. 80 South Highland-ave., this evening.

Mrs. Thomas Gallagher has been appointed a teacher in the Park School by the Board of Education, to succeed Miss Roberta B. Morton, resigned. Mrs. Gallagher, who was formerly Miss Daly, taught in this school for several years, but resigned three years ago.

The seventh annual reception of the German Aid Society will be held in Olive Opera House this evening.

Health Officer Hiram Barber is busy vaccinating those school children whose parents were unable to do so at their expense. The Health Officer called Superintendent Gorton's attention to the requirement of the State authorities in this respect, and an examination showed that about three hundred out of the eleven hundred needed vaccinating.

Dr. J. A. Seafmeister, of this village, one of the candidates for Coroner on the Republican ticket is making an active canvass for the office, and with the present indications of Republican success in the county will secure the election.

George V. B. Frost, of Peekskill, the Democratic candidate for Assembly, against James K. Apgar, spent several days in the last week canvassing in this municipal.... Of Mr. Apgar's success on election day there is little doubt, even prominent Democrats conceding that the indications point that way.

NEW-ROCHELLE.

The Young Men's Christian Association has arranged for a series of lectures to be given this winter under the management of Frederick W. Parsons, chairman of the educational department. The course was begun by Dr. A. H. Elliott on the subject of "Photography." The next lecture will be on November 3 by Joseph T. Brown, vice-president of the Knickerbocker Trust Company, New-York. Subject, "Money."

George E. Davis, superintendent of fire alarms, on Saturday introduced a new system, by which persons who live in the outskirts of the city where there are no fire alarm boxes can send an alarm to the police station by telephone, and have a ring from the tower. Eighteen new calls between 29 and 73 have been established, and will take in Glen Island, Davenport's Neck, Rochelle Park and other outlying places. These boxes are not placed, but a person in the neighborhood can call up the police and give the location of the fire. The officer in charge, by the use of a new indicator which has just been established, will ring in the nearest box number and the firemen will know at once where to go. This is the best protection that the wealthy people living out of the village have had against fire, except from the private hose in their houses.

PEEKSKILL.

The town officers have given notice that all claims against the town must be presented on or before Thursday, November 2, when the Board will begin the examination of claims. This will take several weeks.

The asphalt pavement in Main-st. has seldom been so oily as it has been for several weeks. Village papers of both political parties condemn its condition, and the Democratic Street Commissioners are being severely censured for it. A number of bicycle riders have fallen on the dirty street, and ex-Senator Rogerson's horse narrowly escaped serious injury last week by slipping on the mud that covers the asphalt.

The Rev. J. Ritchie Smith, who was for twenty-three years pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, this village, and who resigned a year ago last May to accept the professorship in Westminster University, at Denver, Colo., has received a call to the Market Square Presbyterian Church, at Harrisburg, Penn. The church is vacant, the Rev. Dr. Stewart, who called Mr. Smith to Denver, is pastor of Auburn Seminary, and preached his farewell sermon on September 3. The Rev. Mr. Smith is the son of the Rev. Dr. Joseph T. Smith, past Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church.

The funeral of Isaac Jay Baxter was held at his home yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. It was in charge of the Masons at the house and at Hillside Cemetery. The clergy who took part were the Revs. John H. Dietz, R. E. Wilson and James W. A. Deane.

The funeral of Richard Hawthorne was held yesterday afternoon. The Rev. Thomas C. Strauss was in charge. Dunderberg Lodge, No. 166, A. O. U. W., attended in a body.

YONKERS.

News of the arrest of John Madden, of Sing Sing, for gambling near the Empire City racetrack has caused widespread gossip in this city. Madden is the man over whose discharge from custody by Police Captain McLoughlin so much interest has been aroused. He was caught by a local detective on Saturday, manipulating a gambling game, the same one which he was charged with operating when arrested in August last. His name has figured prominently in the police investigation. Yesterday morning Madden was taken to court and charged with gambling, in violation of the Penal Code, and, on the advice of his counsel, waived examination. Judge Kellogg held him for the Grand Jury in $500 bail.

Two men insulted a prominent young woman in Main-st. on Saturday afternoon. Policeman McGrath attempted to arrest one of them. The other assaulted the officer, knocking him down. A hand-to-hand fight followed, terminating with the officer clubbing his assailant. McGrath took the other prisoner. He gave his name as Andrew Man to Headquarters. He gave his name as Andrew White, but this is known to be fictitious. The blow from the officer's club opened a deep gash in the man's head, and he was attended by the police surgeon. After being locked up all night Judge Kellogg discharged the man yesterday morning, believing that his injuries were sufficient punishment for his misdeeds.

SECRETARY ROOT AT CAMP MEADE.

Harrisburg, Penn., Oct. 29.—It was raining hard when Secretary Root, Adjutant General Corbin and their party arrived at Camp Meade to-day, but the two regiments still there were reviewed, and made a fine showing. Secretary Root also inspected the quarters, and was pleased with the appearance of the two commands on the march and in quarters. He received the officers at Colonel Howe's headquarters, and at 1:40 the party returned to Washington. The 4th sails for the Philippines on Thursday, by way of New-York and the Suez Canal.

"PETER'S PENCE" COLLECTED.

In accordance with the circular letter recently issued by Archbishop Corrigan, the annual collection for the Pope, commonly known as "Peter's Pence," was taken up yesterday in the Roman Catholic churches in the archdiocese. The response to the Archbishop's appeal was a generous one, but the total amount of the collection will not be known until the returns have been made to the chancery office, at No. 226 Mulberry-st.

SLIGHT PANIC IN CHICAGO THEATRE.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Fire broke out under the stairway leading to the gallery of the Columbia Theatre to-night a few minutes previous to the beginning of the first act of "His Excellency the Governor." Although the house was crowded no one was injured, and the panic which followed the discovery of the fire was quelled by the prompt action of the attachés of the house and the police. The large audience left the theatre in an orderly manner, the fire was promptly put out and an hour later the performance began.

SECRETARY LONG TO DECIDE.

THE DISPUTE REGARDING THE SAILOR'S SNUG HARBOR AND COMMANDER DELEHANTY REFERRED TO HIM AS ARBITER.

The dispute in the Board of Trustees of the Sailor's Snug Harbor as to whether or not Commander Delehanty shall be retained in his place as governor of that institution has now been placed before Secretary Long of the Navy Department. This has been done in such a way that Secretary Long, who has no jurisdiction over the Sailor's Snug Harbor, although he, of course, directs the movements of Commander Delehanty, as the latter is a naval officer, is practically made the arbiter of the quarrel.

Secretary Long gave notice to Commander Delehanty last month to be prepared to receive orders for sea duty, and three letters have now been sent to the Secretary, two of which ask that Commander Delehanty receive a leave of absence, be retired from the Navy, or, at any rate, be kept on shore duty so that he may not be compelled by naval orders to resign from the governorship of the Sailor's Snug Harbor. The other letter asks Secretary Long to send Commander Delehanty to sea in pursuance of the preliminary orders to that effect, so that he may thus be compelled to give up his post at the Sailor's Snug Harbor. The first two letters are from Commander Delehanty himself and from the Board of Trustees, or rather the majority of the Board, which is in favor of the retention of Commander Delehanty. The other letter is from Captain Austin Jayne and Captain George L. Norton, president and vice-president of the Marine Society, who compose the minority and marine portion of the Board, which is opposed to the present governor.

Captain Jayne and Captain Norton ask for a decision in their favor on the ground that the Sailor's Snug Harbor should be presided over by some one who has been a shipping merchant or a master mariner. They say that the Harbor is the only institution of its kind in the country for the maintenance of merchant sailors and that it should be presided over by one whose life and experience place him directly in sympathy with the class of which the founder of the institution was a member; that is, the merchant marine and not the Navy.

The letter from the majority of the Board is written by Morris K. Jesup, the president of the Board, and in accordance with a resolution adopted by the Board makes a strong appeal for the retention of Commander Delehanty in his present post. The letter argues in favor of a naval officer for governor, as there are 231 men in the Harbor who have served in the Navy, and after warmly praising Commander Delehanty asks that he be retired from the Navy now, his regular time for retirement on account of the age limit being only a year or two off, or else that he be kept on shore duty. By way of precedent the letter cites the fact that officers of the Navy have been detailed to the nautical training schools of several States. It also points out the thirty-eight years of sea service already performed by Commander Delehanty.

This letter was signed by the Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix, as well as by Mr. Jesup, and with it was sent Commander Delehanty's letter asking for leave of absence until his retirement, and offering to waive the whole or any part of his full naval pay if the Secretary considers it necessary.

The charges made against Commander Delehanty by the nurses of the Sailor's Snug Harbor and the counter charges preferred by him will be investigated at a meeting of the Board of Trustees to be held next Friday.

FRENCH LINE'S NEW SAILING DAY.

As announced some time ago by the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique, the sailing dates of their steamships will be changed from Saturdays, as heretofore, to Thursdays at 10 a. m. The change will begin with the sailing of La Touraine next Thursday, November 2.

NEW CEMETERIES IN RICHMOND.

Three new cemeteries have been laid out in the Borough of Richmond, and have obtained permits from the Health Department in Manhattan. St. Agnes and Ocean View cemeteries are both on the Fresh Kill Road, Gifford's, in the Fourth Ward, while the Baron Hirsch Cemetery is in Richmond-ave., Graniteville, in the Third Ward.

There is considerable indignation among the taxpayers over the setting aside of the many acres of valuable lands for cemetery purposes, because cemeteries are exempt from taxation.

GOLFERS HAVE NEW HOME.

THE APAWAMIS CLUB, OF RYE, OPENS ITS HOUSE AND LINKS.

New-York golfers have another fine country resort open to them at Rye, Westchester County, thirty minutes from the Grand Central Station. An eighteen hole course and a handsome clubhouse have been completed by the Apawamis Club, and were opened on Friday last.

The Apawamis Club has occupied a nine hole course on the Boston Post Road, which was leased several years ago, when golf was just being introduced in Rye, and the success of the new sport was still in doubt. Recently the Board of Governors purchased 120 acres of land from the heirs of Charles Park, only a short distance from the Rye railroad station. The land is in a pretty part of Rye, and is divided by stone fences built in Revolutionary times. It is on a high elevation, so that on a fair day a good view of the Hudson River and Long Island Sound may be obtained from the clubhouse. Fine macadam drives have been constructed through the property to connect it with the main thoroughfares of the village. The total length of the course is 6,400 yards, making it one of the largest in the world.

The clubhouse was designed by S. Edson Gage and W. J. Wallace, architects, with offices in the Lincoln Building, this city. It is about 100x50 feet, with big balconies overlooking the links. There are a restaurant, buffet and eight sleeping rooms. The Board of Governors started out with the object in view to combine the features of both a golf and country club, to take in the best players of the Westchester, Pelham and Larchmont clubs, making it one of the largest clubs between New-York and Lenox. They have been successful, for the membership has been increased since the project began from about two hundred to nearly twice that number. It is expected to reach five hundred before the present season is over.

The officers of the Apawamis Club are: George E. Dearborn, president; Henry W. Cooper, vice-president; Richard T. Wainwright, secretary, and J. Lawrence Pool, treasurer.

SOLDIER SLAYS MOTHER AND BABE.

THREE LITTLE ONES ARRIVE IN THIS COUNTRY ALONE AND WILL BE CARED FOR BY THEIR FATHER.

A pitiful story was told yesterday regarding the mother of three children who arrived at the Immigration Bureau, in the Barge Office. The mother, with the three and another child, a babe, started from Podolsk, in Russian Poland, to take steamer for America, so the story goes, but had neglected to secure a passport. In attempting to cross the Russian frontier she and her babe were shot dead by a Russian soldier. The three children were taken in charge by the rest of the party and arrived here yesterday from Havre.

"You see, it was this way," said one of the party yesterday, through an interpreter. "There are agents on the Russian frontier who for 10 or 15 rubles agree to take people across the border. They promise to get passes, but they do not do so. They trust to luck to get people over and keep the money for themselves. There was a party of ten or twelve of us. I had something that I was told was a passport, and so had some others. We were hustled along and driven like sheep. It was nearly midnight when we got to the border line. We had no wagon, but were walking and dragging our sleepy children along. All of a sudden there came a cry from out of the darkness for us to stop.

"'Run' said our guide. We did run. Then some one fired on us, and the woman dropped dead. A bullet had gone through the child, and then into her heart. We stopped long enough to find out that she was dead, and then got away as fast as we could.

"Of the three children two are girls, Chane Kreisel, nine years old, and Rifke Kreisel, aged three. The third is a boy six years old, named Abram. Their father, David Kreisel, who has established a business as a manufacturer of suspenders, took them from the Barge Office yesterday to his home, at No. 244 Eldridge-st.

DELAYED BY LACK OF CARS.

THIRD-AVE. ROAD, HOWEVER, EXPECTS TO HAVE ELECTRICITY IN USE AS FAR AS THE POSTOFFICE NEXT SUNDAY.

The Third-ave. surface road was unable to have in operation yesterday the change of motive power from cable to electricity on that part of the line between Sixty-fifth and Sixth sts., as was expected.

"We hope to be running all right next Sunday," said Superintendent J. H. Robertson to a Tribune reporter. "We expect to get down to the Postoffice by next Sunday. The delay has been caused by the fact that our cars have been held up at St. Louis, where they are being made, on account of a short supply of raw material. We shall operate eighty or ninety additional cars by electricity. We have now sixty-four, running from Harlem Bridge and Fort Lee ferry, as far downtown as Sixty-fifth-st. There are about a hundred cars in our own shops, at Sixty-fifth-st. and Third-ave. and in Harlem, held up because we can't get the material to finish them. We shall not stop at Sixth-st. next Sunday, if we have the cars, but shall certainly go down to the Postoffice."

NO MORE STROLLS ON THE BALCONY.

The members of the 9th Regiment have been stirred up by an order of Colonel William F. Morris, forbidding any members of the regiment from congregating in the gallery on which the company rooms open. The order went into effect the other night. Since the new armory was first occupied by the regiment the gallery was the common meeting ground of the members of the various companies. On Thursday night a well known noncommissioned officer and a number of other members of the regiment were told by the armorer that it was against the rules to stand in the gallery. So strong is the feeling among the men that some of them talk of leaving the regiment as soon as their time is out, and of not trying to secure any more recruits. The feeling has been increased also by the enforcement of another rule, to the effect that no man should be allowed to enter the company rooms unless a commissioned officer, or the first sergeant or the quartermaster sergeant is present.

TO LAUNCH A RUSSIAN CRUISER.

TO BE FASTEST ARMORED VESSEL OF HER CLASS EVER BUILT BY THE CRAMPS.

Philadelphia, Oct. 29.—The Russian cruiser Variag, which is designed to be the fastest armored vessel of her class ever constructed by the Cramps' shipbuilding firm, will be launched on Tuesday. Prominent Russian naval attachés and Government officials are expected to attend. The choice of the woman to name the warship has not yet been made, but the favored one will be either Miss Cassini, niece of the Russian Ambassador, or Miss Mertnago, daughter of the Russian attaché.

This new Russian cruiser, the construction of which was begun in May, 1898, will be of a distinct type, and will represent the latest development of the art of naval architecture as applied to armored seagoing vessels. The builders in this instance have been called on to solve the most difficult problem that has confronted them in shipbuilding. The plans call for a guaranteed speed of twenty-three knots for twelve hours. In order to accomplish this task she will be provided with water tube boilers of the Niclausse type, calculated to develop 20,000 indicated horsepower. The motive power is to consist of two vertical inverted triple expansion four cylinder engines driving twin screws.

The vessel is 400 feet long, 52 feet beam, 19 feet 6 inches draught and 6,600 tons displacement. Her main battery will consist of twelve 6-inch breech-loading rifles, and her secondary battery of twelve 75-millimetre and six 47-millimetre guns, all of the rapid fire type. The vital parts of the Variag are to be protected by a steel deck extending the whole length of the ship. She will be provided with two under water torpedo tubes and four above water, and all the auxiliary appliances and equipment embody the latest devices and the most approved development of modern construction. The cruiser's complement will consist of twenty-one officers and five hundred and fifty-nine petty officers and crew. The Cramps are also constructing a high class battleship for Russia, to be named the Retvizan. The contract for the two vessels calls for their completion about October, 1900.

TITLE TO ROMAN CATHOLIC PROPERTY.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 29.—The recent decision of the Supreme Court in the suit brought by Archbishop Katzer for the purpose of securing a return of taxes assessed against property owned by him, when he claimed was Church property held in trust, has brought about a radical change. According to the decision, property, even when held in trust by the Archbishop, is subject to taxation. As it has been the custom for all property in the diocese to be held by the Archbishop, who, on his death, wills it to his successor, it is readily seen what the decision would mean.

All the Roman Catholic churches in the Milwaukee Diocese have been directed to arrange for the incorporation of the parishes. A circular has been sent by Archbishop Katzer to all parishes in the diocese instructing them to hold meetings Tuesday evening and take steps to incorporate wherever the parish is not now incorporated. In case any parish does not comply with his instructions the Archbishop intimates it will be in danger of being reduced to a mission charge.

As soon as the parishes are incorporated and ready to receive the property it will be deeded to them by the Archbishop and the title will hereafter rest with the parish instead of the Bishop of the diocese.

THE WEEK IN PETROLEUM.

Another advance in credit balances of three cents, making the price $1.53 for Pennsylvania oil, was the feature of the crude petroleum market last week. In refined there has been no falling off in the demand, and prices have made further material improvement in consequence of the rise in crude oil. Activity in the fields continues as a result of higher prices, and operators are increasing their efforts in the search for new productive territory, with the belief that still higher prices will prevail. As to securing new territory, however, they have not as yet met with much success. Some new wells have been struck which at first looked like good producers, but their staying qualities are yet to be tested. At the present time interest is centred largely in the Camden well, in Lewis County, W. Va., and the Cadiz well, in Harrison County, Ohio. Both are said to be wildcats, and are considered of not much importance in their respective territories. The first mentioned is producing at the rate of 20 barrels a day, and will probably be drilled deeper next week. The well at Cadiz is holding up near the 100 barrel a day mark.

The partial pipe line returns from October 1 to 27, (charters to the 26th inclusive) are as follows:

	Total bbls.	Daily av. Oct., 1899.
Runs	1,845,391	73,368	74,364
