HE POSTOFFICE.

NUE COMPANY'S LINE IN FULL ATION, BUT WITH SOME DELAYS.

st electric car of the Third Avenue Rail- o go around the Postoffice loop was No. 281, the time of the circuit was yesterday morning 1:41 o'clock. The car came all the way from Harlem, and when the construction gangs along Printing House Square and in front of the Post-office stepped aside to let it pass they swung their hats and cheered the motorman and Michael Kelly, the chief inspector, who manned the car. The service around the loop was poor yesterday, but the workmen kept at their tasks, and better things are promised for to-day. Cars ran around the loop all day yesterday, but there were frequent interruptions not only there, but at other points as well. Between 5 and 6 o'clock a blockade took place just below Cooper Union, and there was a delay of thirty minutes. Superintendent Robertson said last night that everything would be working better to-day. The big new cars of the company give satisfaction, the only criticism now being that there are so few of them.

A conference took place yesterday morning between A. J. Elias, president of the Third Avenue Railroad Company; Superintendent John H. Robertson, of the company; President Cyrus Clark, of the West Side Association, and John McDonald, attorney for the West Side Association, in which the matter of the building of the road along the Boulevard was discussed. The West Side Association complaints of the lack of rapidity in getting the system established.

The talk lasted over two hours. A statement will be given out this morning at 11 o'clock at the office of Mr. McDonald.

Mr. Clark said later that there would be no further friction between the company and the association, as the company had satisfied the committee from the association that the work was being pushed as fast as practicable.

NO GENERAL REMOVAL OF THEIR BONES.

Mr. McDonald, the interpreter at the Chinese Consulate, No. 26 West Ninth-st., does not believe the story from Chicago that a systematic effort has been begun to transport to China at the expense of the Chinese Government the bodies of all the Chinamen who have died in this country for the last twenty or thirty years. It was reported that the bones of sixty-nine Chinamen would be exhumed in Chicago for shipment to China.

"There is no general movement in New-York to ship back the bones of any Chinamen," said Mr. McDonald last night. "It is the custom for the relatives on the other side to pay the cost of the transaction. The government never does it. There is nothing new about sending the bones of Chinamen back to their native land. It is just like people in this country who have relatives die in Manila or Cuba. They would rather have them at home. They go further in China than we do here, however. There the thirty-third or thirty-fourth cousin takes just as much interest in having his relatives properly buried as do the children of the dead. All the Chinamen of particular provinces in China consider the inhabitants of that province their relatives, and cheerfully contribute toward having their bodies transported to their native land. No bodies are shipped until the expiration of about twelve years."

Mr. Naughton, the undertaker in Mott-st., who does much of the funeral work of the Chinese in New-York, said last night that he had no knowledge of any large number of Chinamen's bones being sent back to China.

Among those expected to arrive here on the Cunard liner Campania to-day are Dr. A. H. Doty, Health Officer of the Port of New-York; Lady Victoria Gray, Le Comte de Kergorlay, Mrs. and Miss Galloway, and the Countess of Minto, the wife of the Governor General of Canada.

Among the passengers on the incoming St. Paul of the American Line are Mrs. Jesse Seligman, Mrs. Lyman Short, General Stewart L. Woodford, and William Struthers and family, of Philadelphia.
