FOREIGN FINANCIAL.

London, May 8.—Consols closed 3-16 lower at 80 15-16 for money and 81 1-16 for account. Anaconda was unchanged at 17⅞, Canadian Pacific was 1 point lower at 239¾, and Grand Trunk was unchanged at 27⅞.

There was a good supply of money and discount rates were quiet.

The Bank of England bought the bulk of the £600,000 South African gold available.

The stock market opened heavy. Fears of labor troubles caused a sharp fall in home rails and nervousness regarding the settlement of the Mexican troubles weakened Mexican rails, while Kaffirs suffered from Paris selling. Later the markets were supported and everything closed above the lowest.

American securities opened easy and below parity. Prices sagged until near the end of the first hour, when covering caused a rally in a part of the list. Small Steel bought in the late trading and strengthened prices. The closing was steady.

Call money in London, 1¼@1½ per cent; open market discount rate for short bills, 2⅛@2 3-16 per cent; long bills, 2⅛@2 3-16 per cent. Berlin discount rate, 2¾ per cent; Paris discount rate, 2½ per cent; Paris exchange on London, 25 francs 30 centimes. Berlin exchange on London, 20 marks 45 pfennigs. Bar gold, 77s 9d, and American eagles, 76s 3½d.

Paris, May 8.—Three per cent rentes closed 17½ centimes lower at 95 francs 72½ centimes. The tone on the Bourse was heavy.

Berlin, May 8.—Realizing depressed prices on the Boerse.

FINANCIAL MARKET

Money Is Still Moving Into Bonds and Short Term Notes.

The general stock market was irregular and dull in the five hours of trading. Opening prices, as a rule, showed small losses from Saturday's closing, and while offerings were well taken on the decline no efforts were made by the prominent Wall Street interests to bring about a higher level of quotations. Commission houses practically were without orders from the public on either side of the speculative account, although the character of inquiries received by brokers in response to week-end advices on the probable course of stocks in the weeks to come suggested the probability of an outside buying movement later in the season. The expectation of a favorable government report on crop conditions was responsible for covering of shorts in the early afternoon, but the movement was not followed by advances in prices large enough to leave final figures among the prominent issues above the high points recorded on Saturday. Crop conditions as shown by the returns to the government promise a large harvest, and the favorable exhibit of winter wheat percentages, together with the outlook for a large increase in the spring wheat acreage, ought to be something of a factor in to-day's speculative markets. The Department of Agriculture reports winter wheat in better shape than noted at this time in 1910 and 1909 and marked improvement in the condition of fall planted rye. In addition to the crop report Wall Street now has the monthly report of the Copper Producers' Association for market purposes, but the relatively satisfactory showing so far has failed to find reflection in speculative movements in the metal issues or in any part of the list. Amalgamated Copper closed fractionally lower yesterday, likewise United States Steel. Atchison and American Can were strong features throughout the day. Atchison was helped by the announcement of the practical completion of the negotiations for the sale of Colony on the Paris Bourse.

The position of the stock market does not suggest important movements in the current week, but if Supreme Court decisions come next Monday in the American Tobacco and Standard Oil suits something in the nature of activity doubtless will develop. Substantial interests appear quite willing to buy all the stocks the bears care to offer, although they are doing nothing to incite an active bull speculation, as they believe that pending the elimination of the various uncertainties in the situation the public will take no part in speculative operations. The best feature in the general market is the willingness of capital to move into bonds and short term notes and the confidence exhibited in investment circles over the probability of a big forward movement in our industries at no remote period. Apparently liquidation in all lines is a thing of the past. The supply of money in the country is enormous and present movements in the bond market prove that capital is anxious to find employment. Bank statement figures of the last week show an abnormal reserve above legal requirements for this period of the year, but it is interesting to note that whereas currency continues to come to this centre receipts are less than those recently reported, while shipments from here reflect an expanding tendency, the two movements naturally suggesting a growing mercantile demand for accommodation throughout the country. The federal Treasury's working balance is now less than $24,000,000, and it therefore appears quite probable that an offering of Panama bonds soon will be announced. No difficulty will be experienced by the government in finding bidders for its issues, while it is not likely the transaction will exert much of an influence on the money market.
