PICKENS, SOUTH CAROLINA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1907

NO. 17.

In Society's Whirl.

Miss W. M. ... of Central, has returned from a visit to her sister, Mrs. J. A. ... of Belton, and Mrs. ... of Donalds. She reports having a pleasant time among the many friends she met on her visit.

September 14 was the birthday of Mrs. M. J. Harris, and her eldest son, T. D. Harris, gave her a dining at the Hiawatha Hotel, at which all of her children and grandchildren were present, spending a happy day together.

Miss Cora Bowen entertained her Sunday school class on Monday afternoon with a melon feast, which was greatly enjoyed by the children.

A straw ride Monday evening was given in honor of some of the visiting young ladies. The moon shone brightly and the merry party spent a most delightful evening.

The U D C Chapter met at the residence of Mrs. C. E. Robinson, Friday afternoon. Delicious refreshments were served, and after the meeting adjourned the Daughters were invited out on the lawn, where J. E. Cox gave them a melon feast. Mrs. Robinson is a charming hostess, and the members of the Chapter always enjoy a meeting at her home.

Last Thursday evening the young people of the town had much pleasure and fun at a watermelon slicing in Legare's park, and the festivities were kept up until a late hour.

Hovey Earle, who has been teaching in the county during the summer, gave his school a picnic on Glassy Mountain, Friday, that being the last day of the summer term.

Miss Viola Ashmore left on Tuesday for ... she will on ...

Miss Nellie Grandy returned to Greenville, Tuesday, to resume her studies in the G. F. C.

Reese Allgood left Tuesday for Spartanburg, where he made a fine record as a student in Wofford College last winter.

Miss Addie Anthony left Friday for Atlanta, where she will take a course in stenography this winter.

Mrs. A. M. Morris left Monday for the Jamestown Exposition. She is accompanied by her son, Edgar.

Mrs. Charlie Bowen and children have returned from a pleasant visit to Mrs. J. F. Banister in Liberty.

Miss Jennie Yates, of Whittles, Va., is stopping at the Pickens Inn for a few days.

Mrs. Jas. Hagood and Miss Lillian Carter, of Easley, are visiting Miss Lucia Folger.

Miss Daisy Chamblin, of Woodruff, is visiting the family of William Ashmore.

Mrs. Larry Thornley and her little daughter, Emily, are visiting relatives and friends in Anderson this week.

M. K. Moore, of Spartanburg, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Mauldin last week.

L. E. Grandy and family, who have been spending the summer in Pickens, returned to their home in Columbia last week.

Capt. J. E. Baker and his two daughters, ... and ... have returned from the Jamestown Exposition.

John D. Harris and family, of Greenville, spent several days last week at the Hiawatha.

Miss Lena Rivers, of Charleston, is the guest of Miss Louisa Jones.

Charlie Robinson, Jr., has returned from a visit to relatives and friends in Rutherfordton, N. C.

Mrs. M. L. Fowler and children, of Fountain Inn, visited relatives in Pickens last week.

G. D. Cureton, of Greer, spent Sunday with relatives in Pickens.

Miss Katie McDaniel, who has been visiting relatives in Pickens, returned to her home in Rutherfordton, N. C., last week.

Mrs. C. L. Cureton and children returned last week from an extended and pleasant trip to the family of her father, J. H. G. McDaniel, of Rutherfordton, N. C.

Mrs. Shanon Morrison and J. T. Richey, wife and baby, left Saturday for an extended visit to relatives in Columbia.

Miss May Robinson and brother, Sondley, of Norris, spent a portion of last week with their brother, Bailey C. Robinson, in Pickens.

Miss Viola Moore, of Liberty, is visiting her brother, David G. Moore, in Pickens.

Mrs. G. B. McLeskey is visiting relatives in Piedmont.

Mrs. Minnie Sadler, of Starr, S. C., accompanied by her two interesting children, returned home Saturday from a pleasant visit to the family of her father, J. K. Kirksey, of Crow Creek.

Judge H. D. Baker, who has been spending the summer with his friend, Hon. Geo. S. Legare, returned to his home in Charleston, Saturday.

Victor Lathem and sister Kate, of the Clement section, visited the family of Auditor N. A. Christopher last week.

Miss Stella Newbery has returned from a visit to Mrs. A. R. N. Folger, at Gaffney.

Clarence Lathem, of the Clement section, who for some time was a book-keeper in Greenville, has gone to Safford, Arizona, to go into business.

Liberty.

A social occasion that was greatly enjoyed by all was on the evening of September 9th when Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown entertained a number of their friends. Those present were Misses Lannie Blair, Lois Smith, Pearl Richardson, Nettie Parsons, Ethel Boggs, Callie Chapman, Kate and Minnie Griffin, of Greenville, Annie Johnson and Miss Kinard, Florence Willson, Allie Blackman, of Atlanta, Otis Odell, Annie Belle Brown, Carrie Hutchins, and Jessie Glenn, Messrs Prof. Taylor, James McCord, E. E. Stuck, Eugene Brown, W. B. Glenn, Frank Smith, Parker Brown, Almo Chapman, Joe Brown, Dennis Craig, Y. P. Taylor, C. L. Clayton, W. G. Black. Refreshments consisted of salads and ices.

Women Nameless in Korea.

The Korean woman has not even a name. In her childhood she receives a nickname by which she is known in the family and by her near friends, but which when she arrives at maturity is employed only by her parents. To all other persons she is "the sister" or "the daughter" of such and such a one. After her marriage her name is buried. She is absolutely nameless. Her own parents refer to her by mentioning the district into which she has married. Should her marriage be blessed with children she is "the mother" of so-and-so. If it happens that a woman has to appear in a law court, the judge gives her a special name for use while the case lasts so as to save time and to simplify matters.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT

Liberty Locals.

Mrs. Rosa Callaway opens a millinery store at Westminster this week; her sister, Mrs. Nellie Moore will have charge of the one here.

The Misses Blackman, of Atlanta, are visiting Mrs. J. J. Wakelin this week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Greer attended a family reunion at Honea Path last Wednesday 18th instant.

W. S. Davis, of Gaffney, and M. A. Davis, of Seneca, visited here last week.

The school at this place is progressing nicely. There was another grade added this season making the tenth, and the writer notes with pleasure that several of those who graduated last year are taking the tenth grade. Too many close their school days too early as did ye scribe, scarcely fourteen, and I assure you children that many the times I have longed to resume my studies, although I am three times "sweet sixteen;" had I the time I would make a scholar yet.

A most pleasant affair for the little folks was the birthday party given by Miss Lorena Brown on her eleventh birthday. The colors were pink and white and each table was lighted with pink and white tapers and decorated with flowers. Those present were Pet Chapman, Alta Callahan, Hortense, Catherine and Frank Parkins, Marie Smith, Narda and Geo. McCravey, Ethel and Roy Greer, Ollie Belle Crane, Festus Chapalear, Fannie Skelton, Irene Abercrombie, Clara Strickland, Garnet Sheldon, Mildred Moore, Lorena and Pauline Brown and Misses Johnson and Sanders who added much pleasure to all present by entertaining in their usual jolly sweet manner all present.

Mesdames Lawrence and Strickland assisted Mrs. Brown in serving refreshments which consisted of pink and white cream, sandwiches and cake. Lorena will often be reminded of the occasion by the many presents she received.

A boy came home from school one day and said, "Mother, the teacher made me tell a lie to-day." The mother said, "Why son, what do you mean?" "Well, Johnnie Green and I had a fight and I licked him, and the teacher told me that I had to tell him that I was sorry and I wasn't sorry worth a cent." "Well, son, why didn't you tell him that you were sorry that you were forced to lick him?" "Why, mother, that would have been a lie too, because I was glad to get a chance to whip him, for you have always taught me that if I could not get out of a fight honorably to give them a good one and I've always wanted to lick him and I did."

Clevie, write often, your letters are interesting. Dreamer.

Dacusville.

A picnic will be held at Dacusville, Sept. 21. The people about this place have for some time been trying to strike some plan by which they can better their school. They have realized the importance of educating their children; they know that they cannot give them anything better. In order to have a revival in the school spirit they have decided to give a picnic at the old schoolhouse stand in Dacusville on the above date. Everybody who can be present will be entertained in some way, for there will be three or four speeches, also music by the Easley band. If possible the Dacusville people are going to have a graded school. We all extend our best wishes, and bid them godspeed in their movement. Let us all turn out on the 21st and enjoy their picnic with them. Come all and bring well filled baskets—old as well as young. W. E. F.

Six Mile.

The farmers are having fine weather to save their fodder and forage crops and they are making good use of it.

Six Mile is soon to have a school. Work will begin on the building at an early date; a high school is the object.

C. W. Garrett is enlarging his shop.

A. D. Mann ginned his first bale of cotton this season on Thursday. He is ginning this season for one dollar a bale. Cheap enough.

The gospel mission mass meeting will be held at Six Mile on the 20th to the 22d instant.

T. R. Merck is erecting a nice residence on the road above his old one. His son Cleveland who has recently married will occupy the old one.

Six Mile still improves. Mr. Harvie Kenmore keeps coming up and doing some improvement to the new dwelling. We look for him to bring in some one to keep house soon. We welcome you Harvie.

Mr. Bernie Parrott's house is still empty. Make haste, Bernie, we want our town to fill up. Remember the high school.

With best wishes to the Sentinel-Journal. A Reader.

Pickens, R. F. D. 4.

Arthur Smith has been improving his dwelling.

R. L. Harris, who has been very sick, is improving.

Our school at Ambler closed on the 12th inst.

W. T. Day is still canning beans and tomatoes.

Jas. Conley and Jos. Finley visited relatives near Slabtown recently.

Mrs. John Skelton and children, of Six Mile, are visiting friends in this section.

Walter and Solomon Brown are visiting relatives in these parts.

A large crowd attended the literary at Griffin.

"Dreamer," I hope you did not get offended at what I said. I did not aim to tramp on your toes. I composed that poetry to go out for everybody, I did not mean it for you individually. It has always been my desire to compose poetry and even write songs, and Mr. Thompson has always been my friend, and I hope he will continue to print my letters. Now, dear "Dreamer," I hope you will not get displeased at that, for I did it all through love and kindness, which is, indeed, the greatest part of our character. I believe our effort to overcome passion and cultivate kindness will not only brighten our lives here but will add happiness to our lives beyond. We never accomplish anything without some effort on our part. So often we fail to speak a kind word or do a kind deed, and in vain would call back the past, but the past is deaf to our regrets. The hardest thing is to keep cheerful under little worries and little heartaches; little things are so often harder to overcome than greater things. Contentment is greater than wealth. Without contentment and kindness wisdom is but a shadow and virtue a name; but I believe there are times when we all feel sure that we have become complete failures, and are almost ready to give up the struggle in utter despair. Then we'll remember that every cloud has a silver lining, and it's good for us to have the dark side turned to us for a while so that we can more fully appreciate the brighter. Sometimes our troubles are our greatest blessings, although it is hard for us to realize it.

If you've a dear thought about me,
Which from real affection flow,
Do not wait until I'm dying,
And then begin to let me know.
If you're ever going to love me,
Love me now, while I can know;
Loving words they cost but little,
When for me affection show.
But they make the weak and weary
Stronger, braver for the strife;
Do not count them only trifles,
Journeying up the hills of life.
There are tender hearts around us
Who are thirsting for our love;
Never was a kind word wasted—
Makes them crave all else above.
CLEVIE.

REMARKABLE RESCUE

That truth is stranger than fiction has once more been demonstrated in the little town of Fedora, Tenn., the residence of C. V. Pepper. He writes: "I was in bed, entirely disabled with hemorrhages of the lungs and throat. Doctors failed to help me, and all hope had fled when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. The instant relief came. The coughing soon ceased; the bleeding diminished rapidly, and in three weeks I was able to go to work." Guaranteed cure for coughs and colds. 50c. and $1.00, at Pickens Drug Co., drug store, Trial bottle free.

Dining.

O hour of all hours, the most blest upon earth,
Blest hour of our dinners; the land of his birth;
The face of his first love; the bills that he owes;
The twaddle of friends and venom of foes;
The sermon he heard when to church he last went;
The money he borrowed, the money he spent.
All of these things a man, I believe, may forget,
And not be the worse for forgetting, but yet
Never, never, oh, never! earth's luckiest sinner
Hath unpunished forgotten the hour of his dinner!
Indigestion, that conscience of every bad stomach,
Shall relentlessly gnaw and pursue him with some ache
Or some pain; and trouble, remorseless, his best ease,
As the Furies once troubled the sleep of Orestes.
We may live without poetry, music and art;
We may live without conscience, and live without heart;
We may live without friends; we may live without books;
But civilized man cannot live without cooks.
He may live without books—what is knowledge but grieving?
He may live without hope—what is hope but deceiving?
He may live without love—what is passion but pining?
But where is the man that can live without dining?
—[Owen Meredith]

Hay Fever and Summer Colds.

Victims of hay fever will experience great benefit by taking Foley's Honey and Tar, as it stops difficult breathing immediately and heals the inflamed air passages, and even if it should fail to cure you it will give instant relief." The genuine is in yellow package.
