THE CROP MARKETS

Wheat Steady, Corn Lower—Oats and Coffee Show Gains.

After a lot of fluctuations, with narrow ranges, the wheat market closed steady on September, at an advance of ¼c net, with later months showing a slight decline. Weather conditions dominated the market, although export rumors and reports of freight room engagements turned a selling movement into a rally. Rains in the Southwest continued, and diminishing receipts are looked for if the wet weather continues. New crop corn contracts reached a point 1⅝c below the close of Tuesday. September, however, stood up against the decline, receding only ½c, with a rally of practically a cent, leaving the position at a net gain for the day. Other months felt this influence and closed only about a cent net lower. Oats struck new low ground early, but the reductions checked new short ventures and the market rallied, regaining all the loss and closing ⅛@⅜c net higher.

Coffee felt the effect of an unfavorable report from Santos regarding the new crop flowering, opened steady, kept on the upward trend all day, and showed a net gain of 11 to 16 points at the close. The crop report seemed to be helped in its bullish tendency by an impression that strong bull interests had absorbed almost all the weakly held coffee within the last month, and that any further declines would meet important opposition.

GENERAL MARKET REPORT.

New York, Aug. 7, 1912.

GRAIN—WHEAT—Owing to further rains in the Northwest, delaying harvest, the market had a steadier opening and was relatively firm all day on the September position. December and May contracts, however, opened weak and declined ¾@1¼c under the previous night before the selling was checked by export rumors and reports that a considerable amount of freight room had been taken. A rally of ½@¾c from the low point followed, and the market closed quite steady at ⅛c net advance on September and a partial decline of ⅛c on later months. Outside of the rain news from the Northwest, which was considered of little importance, news from that section was generally bearish, including a report from Snow that the probable yield per acre would be in excess of the government par, which is 17.3 bushels per acre. Up to the late afternoon about 20 loads had been reported for export, with orders for more, which were checked by the strength of September and the advance in ocean freights. Liverpool market closed ¼d higher to ¼d lower, but the Continent showed little change. Receipts, No 2 Red here, 14 cars; c i f, track, and $1 68 f o b afloat, to arrive; new No 1 Northern Duluth, $1 02⅝ f o b afloat. CORN—New low records were established by new crop positions, and at one time they sold 1⅝@1¾c under the previous night. September did not share the heaviness, however, and at its lowest was only ⅛c under Tuesday, from which there was practically no rally in the late afternoon, leaving that position ⅜c net higher. The late months steadied up in sympathy and closed practically ⅛c net lower. Liverpool closed unchanged to ¼d higher, and export corn here at 82c f o b afloat. OATS—A decline of ⅛@¼c carried oats into new low levels, restrained new ventures on the short side and the market rallied usually in the afternoon, closing ⅛@⅜c net higher. Cash oats quiet and nominal, except new natural white, which were quoted 57@58c, and old white, clipped at 61@64c, on track. RYE—Easy. No 2 Western, 75c, c i f, Buffalo. BARLEY—Steady. Malting, 70@80c, c i f, Buffalo.

COFFEE—A cable from a prominent Santos house claimed that the first flowering had been irregular and partial, and this may have accounted in a measure for the firmer tone of the market, which, opening steady at an advance of 5 to 9 points, showed a generally upward tendency and closed steady at a net gain of 11 to 16 points for the day. Sales, 123,750 bags, of which 48,000 represented switches.
