H. F. CRISS REINSTATED

His Firm One of the Columbus and Hocking Sufferers.

Hugh F. Criss, of Roberts, Hall & Criss, was yesterday reinstated as a member of the New York Stock Exchange, the privileges of which he had not enjoyed since January 30, 1910, when his firm and two others suspended as a consequence of the collapse of the Columbus and Hocking Coal and Iron Company pool. Mr. Criss had been the specialist in that stock, and the failure of his firm was due to repudiation by members of the pool, on the day of the 63-point drop in the price of the stock, of buying orders which he had executed for their account, as he supposed.

Roberts, Hall & Criss announced several weeks ago that all of their obligations to creditors had been liquidated.

THREE-CENT LINE LOSES

Manhattan Bridge Service Injunction Dismissed.

Justice Van Siclen, of the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, handed down a decision yesterday dismissing the temporary injunction secured by the Manhattan Bridge Three-Cent Fare Line, restraining the Brooklyn and North River Railroad Company from operating cars over the structure, under a permit of the Bridge Department. The decision says the stay secured by the three-cent fare line shall be vacated as soon as the defendant secures the consent of the Public Service Commission. It was made known yesterday that consent has already been secured. The three-cent line is the only company which has a franchise to operate on the bridge. The cost of this was $25,000.

In dismissing the injunction, the court used forcible language, saying:

Obviously the pressing conditions which apparently made it necessary for the giving of the permit, or license, in question have arisen through the fault or neglect of the city officials or the defendant railroad companies, or of other public service companies, or corporations, abetted and complicated by the quibbling and jockeying of the defendant railroad companies, or others, a long time having elapsed during which grants, or franchises, could have been given by the Board of Estimate complying with the letter of the statute—all, it would seem, to the detriment and damnation of the public.

Justice Van Siclen fails to find any reason for the delay since 1907 in granting franchises to the applicants. The decision continues:

It may be conceded that the City of New York, having constructed said bridge, or highway, at a cost of $30,000,000, and constructed railroad tracks thereover, use of the same should have heretofore been made, or at once be made, of the same by the operation of proper transit facilities, and that, if the temporary injunction obtained herein is continued, loss will result to the city and great inconvenience to the public. Further, that if the defendant railroad companies are permitted temporarily to operate their cars, as authorized by the said permit, or license, of the Bridge Commissioner, great benefit will accrue to the city and to the public at large.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

The following petitions in bankruptcy were filed in the United States District Court yesterday:

EMPIRE CITY AUTOMOBILE CO., of No. 1,800 Broadway, involuntary, by three creditors: Eugene Neville, $2,000, wages and commission; Arthur T. Bailey, $20 salary, and Charles Rifenberg, $30 salary. WILLIAM J. MONTGOMERY and JOHN MANO who compose the firm of Montgomery & Mano, who had the Florence Garage at No. 207 West 75th street, involuntary. Liabilities, $1,565, and assets, $572 in accounts. Mr. Montgomery has individual liabilities of $7,048, of which $5,000 is a claim against him by Margaret Moloughney for $5,000 damages for personal injuries, and assets of $2,000 in a counter claim against Charles Rozell, who appears in the schedules as a creditor for $1,054, which is disputed. Mr. Mano has individual liabilities of $605, of which $500 is a disputed claim by Belinda N. Feeney. They began business in April, 1910. Mr. Montgomery is a vaudeville actor.
