THE CROP MARKETS

Grains Weaken, but Close Higher—Coffee Also Advances.

There was a moderate rally in the wheat market yesterday and less aggressiveness to the trading. Foreign markets were lower and weather reports indicated that apprehensions of crop damage had been lessened by rains where they were needed. While price changes were narrow the trend was bullish, but the close was at a slight reaction from the top, net ¼@½c above Tuesday's final figures. Corn advanced early on reports of dry weather, but later accounts of rains caused a reaction, which left prices only ¼@¼c up. Oats also were higher early, but declined in the late trading, with the close at a net advance of ⅜@⅝c. Weather conditions were the controlling factors in all the grain markets.

Confidence that the turning point had been reached in the coffee market was apparent from the start of trading, foreign markets showing a substantial advance and reports from Brazil adding to the bullish sentiment.

GENERAL MARKET REPORT.

New York, June 18, 1913.

GRAIN — WHEAT — Prices experienced a moderate rally from the sharp decline of Tuesday, but operators seemed more apathetic and inclined to await developments. Price changes were comparatively narrow, and the market closed slightly below the highest, with a net gain of ⅞@1c. The market is beginning to anticipate increased offerings of new winter wheat, and the July position in the West was under considerable pressure. Northwestern markets were relatively firm, and a good cash demand served as a stimulating factor. Leading commission houses predicted renewed activity on the buying side in the event of a return of hot and dry conditions in the Northwest. Foreign markets were generally lower owing to favorable crop reports, increased offerings of native wheat on the Continent and pressure of foreign cargoes. In the local market No 1 Northern spring wheat was quoted at $1.03, f o b afloat. CORN—The continued dry weather over the greater part of the corn belt resulted in an early advance of ⅝@1c a bushel in the corn market, with further buying by strong commission houses. Late in the day private reports of rains in Illinois brought about renewed selling, and the market lost most of the gain, closing at a net advance of ⅛@¼c. Export corn, 70¼c nominal, f o b afloat. OATS—There were numerous complaints received regarding the crop outlook, and the market ruled firm most of the session, sagging off a little late in sympathy with corn, although final prices were ⅜@⅝c net higher. Cash market steady; standard white quoted 47@47½c; No 2, 48c; No 3, 46½@47c; No 4, 45½@46c; ordinary clipped, 46½@47½c, and fancy, 48⅝@49½c, all elevator. RYE—Steady; No 2 Western, 67½c, c i f New York equal. BARLEY—Quiet; malting, 50@55c, c i f Buffalo; feeding, 54c nominal, f o b New York.

FLOUR AND MEAL—Flour was neglected, owing to the fact that mills are still firm and buyers unwilling to meet the advances asked. The following prices in wood are quoted on the New York Produce Exchange: spring patents, $4.75@$5.10; winter straights, $4.60@$4.75; winter patents, $4.80@$5.20; spring clears, $4.15@$4.30; extra No 1 winter, $3.90@$4.20; No 2, $3.80@$3.90; Kansas straights, $4.30@$4.40; fancy spring patents, $5.50@$5.75. RYE FLOUR—Quiet; fair to good, $3.70@$3.85; choice to fancy, $3.90@$4. CORNMEAL—Firm; kiln dried, $3.45. BAG MEAL—Fine white and yellow, $1.40@$1.45; coarse, $1.35@$1.40. FEED—Western firm; Western spring bran, to arrive, 100-lb sacks, $20.75@$21; standard middling, $21.50@$22; flour do, $27; red dog, $28.00; city firm; bulk bran, $21; 100-lb sacks, $22; middling, $23@$28.50; red dog, $29.50; oilmeal, $28@$28.50.

COFFEE—Early developments indicated a change of sentiment from the bear to the bull side in all the leading markets of the world. The strength was pronounced early in Europe, where Havre showed gains from 3 to 5¼ francs, while Hamburg was 2@2½ pfennigs higher. Private cables attributed the advance to an attempt on the part of shorts to cover in a sold-out market. Private advices from Brazil said that financial conditions there were much improved, and cost and freight prices were advanced ¼@⅜c. Prices here opened firm, at an advance of 23 to 30 points. There was active covering as well as considerable new buying, but the demand was readily supplied, while late in the session there was selling for outside account. Under this pressure the market lost part of the early advance and closed steady, at a net gain of from 15 to 18 points. Sales, 134,750 bags. Foreign markets lost part of the early advance and, on the whole, the tone was nervous and the market unsettled. Spot showed an advance of ⅝c, but trading was quiet, and prices were nominal, on the basis of 10¼c for Rio No 7s. Local contract prices:

PROVISIONS—Big receipts and lower hogs explained an early sharp decline, which was attended by considerable selling through commission houses. The offerings were absorbed by shorts, and following the noon strength in corn the market rallied, and with further support in the afternoon closed well up from the bottom. PORK—Steady; mess, $22.25@$22.75; family, $24@$25; short clear, $20.75@$22. BEEF—Quiet; mess, $18@$19; family, $22@$23; packet, $20@$21; extra India mess, $30@$31. COTTONSEED OIL—There was further active buying in the near positions, and prices again established new high records. Longs sold freely on the early bulge, which brought about a moderate midday reaction, but late in the session there was renewed buying, and prices closed firm at a net gain of 2 to 5 points.
