BOY GOLF STAR LOSES IN FINAL AT EKWANOK

McIlwaine Makes Poor Showing Against B. Warren Corkran on Homeward Journey.

RAIN ROUTS BIG GALLERY

Hard Strain of Matches in Which He Defeated Herreshoff and Others Tells on the Youth.

Manchester, Vt., Aug. 9.—Perhaps because of the hard strain of the matches of the previous days, in which he defeated G. C. Stanley, Fred Herreshoff, H. K. Kerr and C. H. Gardner, A. G. McIlwaine, 2d, the seventeen-year-old golf star, showed up poorly in the final against B. Warren Corkran at Ekwanok to-day and was defeated by 10 up and 8 to play.

For the first nine holes there seemed to be no reason why McIlwaine might not be a dangerous rival for the cup, but on the homeward journey of the first round he lost in a bunker contest at the eleventh, and had no good hole from there home, being eight down at the end of the morning round.

The feature of the round was a 3 at the first by Corkran. The morning round was witnessed by a large gallery, which was even larger this afternoon, in spite of the apparent odds. Corkran started off again with a win, but the youngster came back with a par 4 at the second and a 3, one better than par, at the third, and reduced the lead by one hole.

On the fourth McIlwaine was too strong with his tee shot, and lost to a par 3, and he missed a six-foot put for a half at the fifth. This made the result 9 down. His win at the sixth was balanced by a long put for a birdie at the seventh by Corkran, and then holes were halved at par, until the result read 9 up and 9 to play.

Going to the tenth, McIlwaine was as poor as at any time in the morning, and as the rain began to fall the gallery rushed to cover and missed a rather inglorious ending.

The cards:

Over one hundred golfers competed in the eighteenth hole medal handicap round to-day, and again the youngsters were evident, as M. R. Marston, of Baltusrol, had the best round and took the gross score prize with a 77. The prize for best net score was captured by Sheppard Homans, of Englewood, who deducted four strokes from a 78 for a net of 74.

Cleverley is proud of his 77, which is several strokes better than his game.

TWO OF THE WORLD'S GREATEST GOLFERS.

Home Golfers Ready to Meet Foreigners

Little Fear That Open Title Will Be Carried Away Despite Harry Vardon's Bombastic Remark.

"Prepare to repel boarders!" is the cry ringing through the golf ship just now in anticipation of the visit to these shores of Harry Vardon and Edward Ray, both former open champions of Great Britain; Arnaud Massey, erstwhile French and British title holder; Wilfrid Reid, another brilliant Englishman, and Louis Tellier, a well known French player. According to present expectations, Vardon and Ray will arrive on the Celtic on Friday morning, having sailed last Thursday from Liverpool.

In dispatches from the other side Vardon has been quoted as saying that he believed the Americans were "easy" and that either he or Ray was more than likely to take the American title back home with him. It is hard to believe that Vardon made the remark, despite the fact that when he visited America in 1900 he annexed the title. Evidently he still believes that golf is a British game and that British professionals excel in it. He will find vast changes since he was here thirteen years ago, and one of the changes he may find later on will be one that will take place in his mind.

At any rate, there is every evidence that the American professionals do not intend to be caught napping. Course records have been falling like raindrops in a shower in the last month or so, which tends to show that the "pros." are on their game. Of course, considerable will be told by the metropolitan open championship at Salisbury on Wednesday and Thursday. The foreigners will get here too late to compete in it.

Those who have made themselves familiar with golf here and in Great Britain say that the conditions are widely different and that it will be as difficult for even such sterling exponents of the royal and ancient game as Vardon and Ray to adapt themselves to American conditions as it was for McDermott and Smith to fall into the British style on the other side a couple of months ago. There are those who venture to predict that Vardon and Ray, world renowned golfers though they be, will do scarcely any better at Brookline than our own professionals did at Hoylake.

Alec Smith's judgment in golf is not to be considered lightly. He knows conditions here and abroad. It is his opinion that Vardon will not be able to repeat his 1900 performance, and he declares that Ray's tremendous driving will avail him nothing at Brookline unless he can overcome the tendency to get off the line, for Brookline calls for accurate direction rather than long driving.

Vardon is more likely to do better there, but his weakness on the greens, which are different at Brookline from what he has been used to, may become manifest, in which event the ever capable McDermott, along with the three Smiths, the two Nicholls and others of sterling worth, would become insurmountable obstacles in the consummation of Vardon's expressed desire to keep Uncle Sam from having things in sportdom all his own way.

Once in America, Vardon and Ray will lose no time in getting down to business, for the day after they arrive, which will be Saturday, they are scheduled to play a match with the Nicholls brothers, Gilbert and Ben, over the links of the Whitemarsh Valley Country Club, near Philadelphia. The week following they are to appear in the open tournament at Shawnee, after which it is likely they will play a series of matches on metropolitan links before the national open. Later they are scheduled to visit the Pacific Coast, returning about October 1.

MOORE AND WATSON IN TIE

Qualify for Shanley Memorial at Deal with Like Scores.

Nearly fifty members of the Deal Golf and Country Club teed up yesterday in the qualifying round for the John F. Shanley memorial trophy, and thirty-two became eligible for match play, the first round of which is scheduled for next Saturday. When all the cards were returned Patrick Moore and H. A. Watson were on even terms for the position at the head of the procession. They had respective cards of 94—25—69 and 84—15—69.

As the result of the semi-final round for the club championship John J. Radel and James T. Smith will fight it out for the title within the next few days. Smith advanced through the defeat of J. B. Turner, jr., by 2 up and 1 to play, while Radel vanquished F. D. Lounsberry by a 3 and 2 margin. H. A. Watson led Class A of the handicap, with 84—15—69, while in the second flight George V. Haggerty and Patrick Moore tied, with 87—16—71 and 94—25—69, because of the club rule that scores under 71 shall count as 71.

LAMBERT BEATS ST. YVES

Rides to Victory in Straight Heats at Motordrome.

Henri St. Yves, of Paris, was beaten by Paul Lambert, of Cleveland, in a match race at the Brighton Beach Motordrome last night in straight heats. Lambert rode a steady race all of the way and the time for the five laps was exceptionally fast. The winner went the distance in 1:16 3-5.

The men went to the post with St. Yves a heavy favorite. In the opening heat Lambert shot out ahead and was never passed. St. Yves complained of trouble with his motor, and when the second heat was called he was confident of being able to garner the race.

Lambert surprised him again with a sprint at the outset and romped home a winner by two lengths. He received a big ovation. The time was 1:16 1-5.

In the three-mile handicap Charlie Davis, of Brooklyn, gave a picked field a lap and a quarter handicap and romped home a sensational winner, beating the field in the fast time of 2:00.

In the three-mile professional battle Johnny Cox, of New York, took first; Paul Ohne, of Brooklyn, second; Ray Veditz, third, and Mike Costello, fourth. The times for the heats were 2:12, 2:11 4-5 and 2:13.

The feature of to-day's programme will be the race between Charlie Davis, the American title holder, and Andre Grapperon, of Paris, who is visiting the United States for the first time.

JOHNSON HAS ELEVEN STRAIGHT ON FILE

Washington Pitcher Has Chance to Break American League Pitching Record.

NOT DEFEATED SINCE JUNE

King of the Fast Ball Has Hopes of Winning More Games than Joe Wood, of Boston, Captured Last Year.

Looming up on the pitching horizon, with a record of eleven consecutive victories, Walter Johnston has an opportunity to break the American League record of sixteen straight, established last year first by Joe Wood, of Boston, and tied later by the Washington twirler himself.

Johnson started his string away back on June 27, when he held the Athletics to three hits and shut them out by a score of 2 to 0. In his quiet manner he toiled, along unnoticed and unwatched. He is the only boxman that has a real "string" since Matty, Marquard, Demaree and Boehling tasted defeat.

Before beginning his run he was knocked out of the box by Philadelphia. The former champions groomed him for five hits in three innings on June 25. But two days later he came back at his foes and started off on his victorious way.

The hardest tussle the "Big Swede" had was in winning his third game. He was pitted against Collins, of Boston, and had to battle fifteen innings to bring down the prize. The score was 1 to 0, the Senators getting nine hits to Boston's fifteen. A pair of doubles in the last frame sent in the only tally of the game. One tie game appears in the list.

On July 26 Johnson faced the Browns and fought through fifteen innings without a decision.

What was probably his most conspicuous victory came on the sixth anniversary of his appearance with Washington. When he twirled his first game for the Senators he faced Detroit, who beat him after a hard struggle. But this year he had a good deal more than the Tigers could cope with. He beat them by a score of 3 to 2.

The Washington pitcher is now going out for the record made by Joe Wood last season in the number of games won. Wood landed thirty-four games and lost five.

Johnson is likely to win nine more games and reach Wood's thirty-four before the season is closed. At present Walter has a mark of twenty-five victories and five defeats. He has won more games than any other big league twirler, Matty being his nearest rival with twenty victories.

The Idaho wonder is the only pitcher who has a chance to make a pitching record this season. It is so late now that no individual moundsman will appear in twelve more games. The strings of the New York stars were all cut this week, Pittsburgh ending Matty's and Marquard's, while Cincinnati halted Demaree.

Johnson's record follows:

Dates and opponents.	i. n.	r.	h.	sa.	bb.	hb.
June 27, Philadelphia	9	0	3	6	1	0
June 30, Boston	4	1	1	4	2	0

*Tie game.

The Giants will stop off at Syracuse to-morrow afternoon for an exhibition game with the State League Club of that city. George Wiltse, the veteran left-hander, who pitched for the Syracuse team before joining the Giants, is slated to work against his former team mates.

Otey Crandall, who was sent to the Cardinals last week by McGraw in trade for McLean, has not yet reported to the St. Louis team. He is in this city arranging his affairs and will join Huggins's outfit on Wednesday when they come here for a series with the Giants at the Polo Grounds.

Joe Tinker has secured Hobbs, an infielder, and Meister, an outfielder, from the Hamilton Club of the Ohio State League. Hobbs broke into the game against the Giants yesterday, batting for Sheckard in the ninth inning.

President McAleer of the Boston American League Club has purchased Mundy, a first baseman, from the Portsmouth, Va., club of the Virginia State League.

Announcement was made yesterday of of the Phillies, is styled the "left-handed pitcher of the Harrisburg Tri-State team, to the Philadelphia Athletics for $2,000.

Addie Brennan, the southpaw twirler of the Phillies, is styled the "left-handed Mathewson" by Charlie Dooin and Pat Moran, the pitching coach of the Phillies.

"Every time Brennan goes to the mound," says Dooin, "he comes off the hill with some new lesson learned, and to-day he is one of the smartest pitchers in the league. Why do I call him the left-handed Matty? To begin with, he is the only left-hander in the National League pitching the fade away ball. It is said that Vean Gregg of the Cleveland Naps also pitches the fade away, and if such is the case they are the only two left-handers who have mastered the ball that made Matty famous. Brennan, though only a youngster, has absorbed much baseball knowledge and is only just coming into his own."

Perryman, the tall preacher pitcher sent to Roanoke last spring by McGraw, under an optional agreement, will join the Giants at the close of the Virginia League season. McGraw has decided to exercise his option on the lengthy youngster.

Harry Camnitz, a young pitcher, brother of the star twirler of the Pittsburgh Pirates, has been signed by the Cincinnati Reds.

Carl Timmerman, a spit-ball pitcher with the Chicago team of the outlaw Federal League, has been signed by Jimmy Callahan. He will join the White Sox next spring.

Playing for the Crescent Athletic Club cricket eleven yesterday afternoon, W. F. Jackson gave a brilliant display of batting and succeeded in compiling the first "century" scored by a Crescent player this season. Going in first, Jackson soon made himself at home with the trundling of the bowlers on the Manor Field team, which opposed the Crescents, and began hitting to all parts of the field.

With the aid of a number of boundary hits and a couple of lofty strokes, which netted him six runs apiece, Jackson soon approached the century, which he passed to the accompaniment of enthusiastic applause on the part of his club mates. Before he was finally caught out Jackson's score had soared to 116.
