THE WEATHER REPORT.

Official Record and Forecast.—Washington, Sept. 16.—The southwest disturbance has reached Southern Wisconsin with steadily decreasing intensity, but owing to the strong high pressure areas on either side the precipitation area has extended through the northern tier of states, and during Tuesday covered practically the entire country east of the Rocky Mountains except New England and the middle Atlantic states. Over this large area temperatures continue moderately low, but are somewhat higher as a rule, except in the central plains states. West of the Rocky Mountains the weather was fair, with falling pressure and high temperatures, especially in California, and at San Francisco the temperature of 102 degrees was the highest ever recorded in that city.

Unsettled weather will continue Wednesday east of the Rocky Mountains, with rain in the plains states, the lake region, the Ohio Valley and the Atlantic states, probably continuing Thursday in the north Atlantic states. There will also be local showers Wednesday in New Mexico and Western Texas, but elsewhere in the extreme West the weather will be fair Wednesday, with somewhat lower temperature in the coast states by Thursday. Except in the Pacific states temperature changes will not be of great importance during the next two days.

The winds along the north Atlantic coast will be moderate southerly, middle Atlantic coast moderate southeast and south, south Atlantic coast moderate northeast and east, Gulf coast light to moderate, mostly east; on the lower lakes moderate south and southwest; upper lakes moderate variable, becoming northwest.

Forecast for Special Localities.—For Eastern New York, local rains to-day and probably to-morrow; warmer to-day; moderate south winds.

For New England, rain (this afternoon or to-night and probably Thursday; warmer to-day; moderate south winds.

For Delaware, New Jersey and Western Pennsylvania, unsettled and warmer to-day, probably rain; Thursday, generally fair; moderate southeast and south winds.

For Maryland, unsettled and warmer to-day, probably rain in eastern portion; Thursday, generally fair; moderate winds, mostly south.

For Western Pennsylvania local rains and warmer to-day; Thursday, probably fair; moderate south and southwest winds.

For Western New York, local rains and warmer to-day; Thursday, unsettled; moderate south and southwest winds.

Humidity.
