$1,986,346 RAISED FOR CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATIONS

First Day of Campaign Results in Almost Half of Total Being Pledged.

WORKING FOR $4,000,000

Rockefeller, $350,000; Mrs. Straight $300,000, and C. H. Dodge and Miss Grace Dodge $250,000 Each, Head Givers.

To collect $4,000,000 in this city in a fortnight, and to offer nothing in return except the consciousness of having helped a good cause along, is a task worthy of an army, but six hundred men and women gathered at the Hotel Astor last night ready to sacrifice themselves in the effort. Theirs not to reason why, theirs not to make reply, theirs but to dash out into the busy marts and bring back the amount necessary to make the buildings of the Young Women's and Young Men's Christian associations all that they should be.

Nor did it seem as if their faith was misplaced, for before the evening was over George W. Perkins, chairman of the executive committee directing the campaign and toastmaster of the dinner, announced that one-half of the amount was already pledged. Only $1,000,000 a week remains for the noble six hundred to raise, and that shouldn't be hard when you consider the record of the veterans who are leading them.

$1,986,346 Is Pledged.

The total amount pledged, announced by Mr. Perkins, was $1,986,346, of which only $4,346 was made up by gifts of less than $1,000. John D. Rockefeller was the biggest individual giver, with Mrs. Willard D. Straight a close second. The following are the names read:

John D. Rockefeller	$350,000
Mrs. Willard D. Straight	300,000
Cleveland H. Dodge	250,000
Miss Grace H. Dodge	250,000
Anonymous (a woman friend)	215,000
Mrs. Finley J. Shepard	200,000
Mrs. William Douglas Sloane, Mrs. D. Willis James, Julius Rosenwald, of Chicago	50,000
Mrs. Clarence M. Hyde, Mrs. Stephen V. Harkness and Edward S. Harkness, Mrs. Hamilton McK. Twombly	25,000
Mrs. John French and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Fellowes Morgan, Robert S. Brewster, Mrs. Morris K. Jesup, John Sloane, William Sloane, Miss Eleanor de Graff Cuyler, Mrs. Charles H. Senff, Samuel Thorne, Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, James Talcott, Mrs. Elliott F. Shepard	10,000
Mr. and Mrs. R. Fulton Cutting	7,500
Miss Mary M. Roberts, Thomas A. Buckner, Anonymous, Mrs. William Church Osborn, Mrs. W. E. S. Griswold, Mrs. George Blumenthal	5,000
Mrs. Russell Sage	2,500
Gilbert Colgate, Mrs. William H. Bliss, George T. Brokaw	2,000
James B. Ford, Mrs. Samuel Q. Brown	1,500
Banyer Clarkson, Mortimer M. Singer, Mrs. Moses Hopkins, Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, Mrs. Percy H. Stewart, Francis Louis Slade, John Sherman Hoyt, Squire Garnett, Miss Annie B. Jennings, Mrs. William P. Hamilton, Mrs. Frances S. Wellles (legacy), Mrs. Peter Cooper Hewitt, Mrs. William H. Moore	1,000

More than half of this amount, Mr. Perkins said, was conditional upon the whole $4,000,000 being raised. It will be divided between the women's and men's associations, he said, on the same basis as a man divides his income with his wife.

"She gets $3 and he gets $1," explained Mr. Perkins, adding, "if he's lucky."

Mrs. James S. Cushman, president of the local Y. W. C. A., delicately expressed her thanks to the men who had come into the movement, really started for the benefit of the women, and contented themselves with taking only $1,000,000 of the $4,000,000. Reviewing the grounds on which the workers dared to ask their neighbors and friends for so vast a sum, she declared that there was no organization in the city better equipped to work for girls of all kinds and to make the womanhood of the city stand for what it should.

What the Y. W. C. A. Did.

She told of a girl who came friendless to New York and drifted along the well trodden ways until she ended in the Bedford Reformatory. When she came out she got in touch with a branch of the Y. W. C. A., and finally asked to be allowed to form a class of the 200 girls in the factory where she was working.

"If there were more associations," Mrs. Cushman quoted the girl as saying, "there would be no need for Bedfords."

During the dinner "minute guns," loaded by the mayors of various cities where similar campaigns had been conducted before, were wheeled in and marshalled by William Fellowes Morgan, president of the local Young Men's Christian Association, for one grand salvo near the end. They came in the form of telegrams from Rudolph Blankenburg, Mayor of Philadelphia; James H. Preston, Baltimore; George Ainslee, Richmond; Hiram Edgerton, Rochester, and H. C. Hocken, Mayor of Toronto.

Mr. Morgan likewise read letters from Mayor Kline, George McAneny and John Purroy Mitchel. Mr. Mitchel said in part:

"It is my understanding that the money is to be used for the purpose of providing probably ten additional buildings of one sort and another where the ever increasing number of women workers in the city shall be allowed to congregate for rest or study or social recreation.

"There can be no doubt in the mind of any one as to the practical value of this movement, and I am heartily glad that it has begun under such splendid auspices."

A feature of the dinner was a table of young women of society, who will collect under the leadership of Miss Dorothy Perkins. Miss Perkins's team consisted of Mrs. John High, Mrs. William E. Carlin, Mrs. Frank B. Gibson and the Misses Alice Guernsey, Constance McKelvey, Ruth Purves, Florence H. Colgate, Mildred Dodge and Mary Baker.

One Thousand to Seek Funds.

When the campaign starts this morning there will be one thousand workers in all, it is planned, divided into one hundred teams of ten collectors each. Those present at the dinner last night picked from the list of twenty thousand wealthy New Yorkers passed around the people whom they knew personally or to whom they could readily obtain introductions.

The $4,000,000 campaign got its real start precisely at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, when the 2,000,000 members of the Young Women's and Young Men's Christian associations all over the world breathed a one-minute prayer for the success of the undertaking. The prayer idea was conceived only two weeks ago, and the task of making it known to all the members was effected through the complete organization of the two associations.

The great clocks which will register the progress of the campaign were put in position yesterday on the Metropolitan Tower and the new Morgan Building, at Wall and Broad streets. The first is thirty feet in diameter, and beneath it the day's total will be flashed to the city each night in figures four feet high. The Morgan clock measures fifteen feet across.

WANTS HIS $100,000 BACK

Hood Says Wife, Who Asks Divorce, Holds Property in Trust.

Final argument in the suit brought by Richard Haden Hood, a rich civil engineer of Plainfield, N. J., to recover real estate and personal property valued at $100,000 from his wife, Mrs. Frances Sparks Hood, was begun yesterday before Vice-Chancellor Stevens in Newark. Hood holds that the property at The Roses, the homestead in Plainfield, consisting of furnishings, costly paintings, rugs, statues and other property, belongs to him.

He further contends that, although the land and house were deeded to Mrs. Hood, she had promised to convey them to him at any time he requested her to do so. This transaction placed the property in Mrs. Hood's possession as a trust and was not a settlement upon her, Hood argued. Mrs. Hood has brought suit for divorce, but the court decision has not been announced.

SEES COLLUSIVE GAS BID

Deposed Official Says Concerns Are Agreed on Street Lights.

Ragland Momand, vice-president and general manager of the Pressure Lighting Company, through counsel told Justice Seabury yesterday that a combination of gas companies is contemplating the submitting of a collusive bid for the lighting of the streets of New York City. The companies mentioned by the attorney for Momand were the United Gas Improvement Company, of Philadelphia, the Welsbach Street Lighting Company, the New York and New Jersey Globe Gas Lighting Company and the Pennsylvania Globe Gas Lighting Company. The last three, it was said, are subsidiary concerns of the Philadelphia company, which, it was alleged, will probably put in its bid through one of them.

Momand's mission in court was to get an injunction to restrain certain persons from keeping him out of his own office at No. 129 Water Street. He complained that in his absence from the office of the Pressure Lighting Company George M. Landers, president of the company, and Arthur L. Livermore, a director, passed a resolution deposing him as general manager. Momand said that the locks on the doors were changed and a guard was maintained to prevent him from getting possession of any of the concern's papers. Justice Seabury adjourned the case for a week.

Joseph W. Middlebrook, attorney for the corporation, and for George M. Landers, president, and Arthur L. Livermore, the director, said last night at the Union League Club that it was true that Mr. Momand had been ousted from office by a special meeting of the executive board. The reason, he said, was because the directors were dissatisfied with the methods and business activities of the deposed official.

M'LEAN CAN'T OBEY COURT

Executor of Huber Estate Held in Virginia by Illness.

Donald McLean will not appear in court to-day to show cause, as directed by Surrogate Fowler, why he should not pay into court more than $10,000 which he holds as executor of Henry Huber.

The court order was obtained by Gebrugge & Maxfield, representing Mrs. Amelia Huber, widow of the testator, who alleged that Mr. McLean, who was formerly Appraiser of the Port of New York and whose wife is president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, has mismanaged the estate of her husband, and that through his neglect her house in The Bronx has been sold by the city for non-payment of taxes.

Mrs. Huber, who is more than sixty years old, has been dependent on the income from the estate of her husband, and now is without funds to redeem her property.

Mr. McLean's accounting showed that he still had $10,443 belonging to the Huber estate, which Mrs. Huber now asks for. It was announced yesterday that Mr. McLean is in Virginia, ill. Therefore he will be unable to appear to-day to answer the order issued by Surrogate Fowler. Counsel for Mrs. Huber are expected to consent to an adjournment of the case, probably until Friday.

AERO CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Alan R. Hawley Again Chosen as Head of Organization.

The Aero Club of America elected the following officers at its annual meeting last night.

President, Alan R. Hawley (re-elected); first vice-president, Cortland Field Bishop; second vice-president, Harold F. McCormick; third vice-president, Henry A. Wise Wood; fourth vice-president, Charles Jerome Edwards; treasurer, Arthur Johns; governors, Class A (term expiring 1917), Cortland Field Bishop, Alan R. Hawley, Samuel H. Valentine and Henry A. Wise Wood; governor, Class A (term expiring 1916), J. Stuart Blackton; governor, Class A (term expiring 1915), F. L. V. Hoppin; governors, Class A (term expiring 1914), Mortimer Delano and Evert J. Wendell; governors, Class B, Russell A. Alger, John C. Eberhardt, Albert B. Lambert, Harold F. McCormick, Samuel Reber, George M. Meyers, Clarence F. Wayne and A. F. Zahm.

URGE FOUR NEW WARSHIPS

Directors of Navy League Criticise Construction Programme.

The board of directors of the Navy League, at a meeting presided over by General Horace Porter, in the Union League Club, last evening, passed a resolution calling for the construction of four first class battleships.

The resolution says that the navy's building programme has been so curtailed that "the United States has lost the place among the nations which its responsibilities demand it to take."

WIFE MURDERER SENTENCED.

John Dolan, who murdered his wife, Martha, on March 22 at their home, No. 3 Van Buren street, Newark, was sentenced yesterday afternoon by Judge Martin to die in the week beginning December 28.

ASCENDS BENCH TO AID WIDOW

Jeremiah Mahoney, Appointed Judge, to Give Salary to Predecessor's Family.

[From a Staff Correspondent of The Tribune.]

Albany, Nov. 10.—Governor Glynn announced to-night the appointment of Jeremiah T. Mahoney as judge of the Court of General Sessions in New York County. Mahoney is a law partner of Senator Robert F. Wagner, and is now one of the Commissioners of Accounts in New York City.

It is believed here Mr. Mahoney will turn over the salary to Mrs. O'Sullivan, as the appointment was made to fill the vacancy created by the death of Judge Thomas C. O'Sullivan, and Judge Mahoney's term will end on January 1, when Judge-elect William H. Wadhams goes on the bench.

Mr. Mahoney said over the telephone last night it was true he had accepted the appointment for the short term, and also that he knew Mrs. O'Sullivan was in distress, since her husband left no money whatsoever. It is believed he will turn his salary over to her.

Although a young man, Mr. Mahoney has had an extensive career in political and legal circles. He was made chief of the bureau of law and adjustment in the Finance Department, in 1905, and acted as legal adviser to Controllar Metz in the prosecution of those involved in the sewer fraud scandals in Brooklyn.

He is a New Yorker and a graduate of the public schools and of City College, which conferred on him the degree of A. B. He has also received degrees of LL. B. and LL. M. from New York University and A. M. from the College of St. Francis Xavier. He taught in the public schools for four years, and was admitted to the bar in 1898.

JEREMIAH T. MAHONEY.

Mr. Mahoney has been a member of the general committee of Tammany Hall, vice-president of the Osceola Club, the organization club of the 29th Assembly District, is a member of the Democratic Club and was once one of the governers of the New York Athletic Club and a member of the governing board of the Metropolitan Association of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States. He is an amateur athlete and won the American and Canadian jumping championship.

BANKER'S MISSING WIFE FOUND IN RESTAURANT

Mrs. Frank J. E. Fitzpatrick Disappeared from Home a Week Ago.

After an absence from home of one week, during which the police of many cities had been searching the hospitals and morgues for a woman answering her description, Mrs. Alice Fitzpatrick, wife of Frank J. E. Fitzpatrick, a wealthy banker connected with L. F. Dommerich & Co., of No. 254 Fourth avenue, was found last night in Brooklyn in a restaurant close by the Long Island Railroad station.

Fear that Mrs. Fitzpatrick was no longer alive had taken a firm hold on her husband, as she had tried to commit suicide several times. Mrs. Fitzpatrick had been suffering from melancholia for about a year, but during the summer she spent several weeks in a sanatorium and her friends hoped her condition was greatly improved.

Almost at the point of despair, Mr. Fitzpatrick was in his home at No. 220 West 98th street last night when the telephone rang. A Tribune reporter who was with him heard him say: "Alice! For God's sake, where are you?" The reply was that she was in a restaurant at St. Mark's Place and Sixth avenue, Brooklyn, and would wait there for him to come for her. Mr. Fitzpatrick, taking the reporter with him, set out at once in an automobile.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick was dressed just as she was when she stepped from the door of her home a week before, in a dark blue velvet suit, dark blue jacket and a small purple velvet hat, with an aigrette. Mrs. Fitzpatrick had called up her brother-in-law, A. L. Fitzpatrick, of No. 334 East 17th street, Flatbush, and Dr. J. S. Quinlan, of No. 6 Flatbush avenue, before communicating with her husband, and they were with her when he arrived.

It was an affecting scene when the husband and wife met. Mr. Fitzpatrick sent a telegram to his daughter Azielda, who is thirteen years old, and is living at the College of St. Elizabeth, Convent Station, N. J., saying her mother had been found alive. Mr. Fitzpatrick said his wife's trouble had really begun several years ago when a woman companion had left her service. Since that time they had had considerable difficulty in getting servants to stay at their home in Flatbush, and this had caused his wife great distress.

NINE KILLED AT CROSSINGS

Highways Society Issues Report for Month of October.

According to the report of the National Highways Protection Society issued yesterday, nine people were killed and two injured in grade crossing accidents in New York State in the month of October. In the same time five people were killed and eight injured in grade crossing accidents in New Jersey.

The report shows that in the ten months ended November 1 there were 149 grade crossing accidents in New York State, in which 100 people were killed and 20 injured. During the same time there were 59 grade crossing accidents in New Jersey, in which 43 people were killed and 45 injured.

Fifteen persons were killed in street accidents in New Jersey in the month of October, the report says. Of these eleven were killed by automobiles, two by trolley cars and two by wagons. This is about the same number as in October of last year. Of the fifteen killed, seven were children, five of whom were killed by automobiles.

WIDOW LEAPS TO HER DEATH.

Alice McDonald, a widow, sixty-two years old, of No. 293 Cornelia street, Astoria, jumped from a fourth floor window at No. 573 Broadway yesterday and was instantly killed. She had been employed in a suspender factory there for thirty years. Six weeks ago she decided to retire. After remaining at her home for a while she became nervous, and upon advice of a physician she returned to work yesterday. After a few hours she walked to the window and jumped.

HUDSPETH LIKES THE GAME

Political (Not Football), and So Declines Judgeship.

Robert S. Hudspeth, Democratic National Committeeman from New Jersey, formally declined the appointment as judge of the United States District Court for New Jersey last night.

Mr. Hudspeth's declination of the President's offer followed his conference with Edward E. Grosscup, chairman of the state committee, and other friends, at which Mr. Hudspeth decided that he was a little too young to quit the political game, which, in his opinion, his acceptance of the judgeship would necessarily mean.

It is understood that John W. Wescott, of Camden, who nominated Mr. Wilson at Baltimore, can have the federal judgeship if he cares to take it.

WED, NO TIME TO TELL

Former Actress Announces Marriage to Ensign Phillips.

What with target practice and drills the officers of the United States Navy have little time for the trifles of everyday life. That is why Mrs. Wallace B. Phillips, whose husband is an ensign on the torpedo boat destroyer Terry, has had to relieve him of the responsibility of announcing their marriage, which took place in Wilmington, Del., December 18, 1912.

"Of course, it has been very embarrassing for me," said Mrs. Phillips yesterday at her boarding place, No. 102 West 41st street, "but, you see, Wallace has been just too busy to do anything about it."

Mrs. Phillips was an actress before her marriage to the ensign, which was her second. She was known on the stage as Edith Slosson, and has appeared with Olga Nethersole and Amelia Bingham and has also been in vaudeville. On account of her husband's objection she has left the stage for the millinery business because she felt that he would consider it "more ladylike."

Ensign Phillips comes from "an old Southern family," while his wife's people are of Indiana stock. Mrs. Phillips said that the ceremony was secret simply because it was hurried.

GLOBE TROTTERS MULTIPLY

More Numerous than Ever, Say Steamship Officials.

About this time each year a remarkable migration of American tourists is started toward milder climates. The volume of this travel this winter, it is believed, will exceed that of the summer travel of a decade ago. It is said that Americans are the greatest globe trotters in the world.

The American tourist is not content with the ordinary vehicles of travel. New and more luxurious methods of conveying him from place to place must be produced. As the result of this demand the large and luxurious liners famous in the transatlantic service have been scheduled for making these pleasure cruises.

To meet the demand for travel to the West Indies and the Panama Canal this winter the Amerika, of the Hamburg-American Line, will make two special pleasure cruises in southern waters. The tourist visiting the Caribbean Sea may enjoy all the luxuries of modern travel.

A special type of cruising steamship has been developed to meet the demands of the tourist, the largest being the Victoria Luise, of the Hamburg-American Line, which visits the West Indies this winter. She carries but one class of passengers and no cargo, so the entire ship is placed at the disposal of her passengers. The cruising steamship is equipped with swimming pool, gymnasium, broad decks suitable for athletic contests, and a variety of luxurious cabins.

A novelty in pleasure cruising will be introduced this winter in the Orient-India cruise, which enables the tourist to visit the famous ports of the Mediterranean and the principal cities of India in the course of a three months' cruise. The well known cruiser Cleveland, of the Hamburg-American Line, which has encircled the globe six times, will make the new cruise.

ROBITZEK WAS ELECTED.

Harry Robitzek, Democratic candidate for alderman in the 38th District, The Bronx, was elected last Tuesday, not Harry Cohen, the Progressive and Independence League candidate. When the figures were rechecked an error of 100 votes in favor of the Democratic candidate was found. The corrected figures were: Robitzek, 6,624; Cohen, 6,569. Robitzek won by 55 votes.

GOMPERS DEFIES COURTS TO STIFLE FREE SPEECH

Judges Assume Powers Deeded to President and Congress, He Tells Federation.

N.M.A. BITTERLY ATTACKED

Worst Group of Selfish, Mercenary Interests Now Fattening on Civilization, Report Declares.

Seattle, Nov. 10.—"I promise you that this convention shall be an open forum," said President Samuel Gompers, addressing the American Federation of Labor's opening session to-day, "and if we have a word to say of Judge Wright, or Judge Humphries, or Judge Jeffries we're going to say it.

"We believe it is not in the power of a judge to interfere with the exercise of free assemblage, free speech and free press. These rights were won from unwilling monarchs on the other side of the Atlantic and placed in our national and state constitutions at great cost of life; and do you suppose we shall surrender them?

"When a judge, clothed in a little brief authority, assumes powers deeded to the President and the Congress it is a duty to protest."

Secretary Wilson of the Labor Department sat at Gompers's side.

"Invisible government by organized dollars" was attacked in the report of the executive council. The recent Congressional lobby investigation and the charges of M. M. Mulhall against the National Association of Manufacturers formed the basis of the attack.

The report was signed by all officers of the federation who compose the executive council. It dealt exhaustively with all phases of labor conditions in the United States and the insular possessions, but made only an incidental reference to the new Federal Industrial Relations Commission and Board of Mediation and Conciliation.

The reference to the National Association of Manufacturers was the longest in the report, which on this point said:

"The National Manufacturers' Association has been shown to be the worst group of selfish, mercenary interests now fattening upon civilization. The officials of that organization have not denied their official signatures to any communication offered in evidence. They have not denied that they paid their lobbyists large salaries and honored immense expense accounts.

"They have not denied that they attempted to break strikes, and that their agents went to and fro in the halls of Congress and frequented the rooms of its members to prevent legislation in behalf of labor. The national association, through its overreaching greed for power and pelf, now stands absolutely discredited before Congress and the nation. Its influence for evil has been materially reduced."

Reference to the lobby investigation concludes:

"Now that the existence of the invisible government, the stronghold of organized dollars, has been established beyond doubt or question; now that its methods, purposes and agents have been revealed to the public, those who have at heart the interests of humanity and the maintenance of a democratic form of government are able to attack the problem with the wisdom of experience and knowledge."

The early opening of the Panama Canal was made the occasion to declare for greater immigration restriction through national legislation.

Only brief comment was made in the report on the contempt of court sentences pending against President Gompers, Vice-President Mitchell and Secretary Morrison.

Do you get the gentle (?) hint?

Warm overcoats!

New ideas in overcoat fabrics, made in Scotland; soft finished shetlands and chinchilla effects, warm but not uncomfortably heavy.

Motor coats that stand the hardest test—that of keeping one warm while motoring; some plush lined and some double-texture cloths.

Ulsters; double breasted coats with an extra protection for the throat in heavy weather.

"Scotch Mist" coats for cold, wet days; some with Raglan shoulder; made of warm Scotch cheviot that's rainproof—our own idea.

Not to mention a host of black and oxford gray meltons and kerseys with velvet collars—the more conservative type.

Winter overcoats, $18 to $75.

Fur lined and fur outside coats, also.

Everything men and boys wear.
