LUCK OF LAGER TURNS AND HE WINS A GAME

Pitcher of the Tompkins Square Nine Baffles Columbus Park Boys.

CLOSE RACE ON FOR THE TRIBUNE PRIZES

Wonderful Playing of Teams from Thomas Jefferson Park Feature of Tourney.

Sam Lager, who pitches for the Tompkins Square 85-pound team of the Tribune Baseball League, has had a hard row to hoe during the interpark series in the tournament which is being conducted by the Park Department. He has been in the same boat that Red Ames used to paddle when Red was a member of the Giants' pitching staff. No matter how well Red twirled the Giants had the habit of spilling all sorts of misplays behind him and away went the ball games. The same fate has been Sam Lager's.

But it is a long lane that has no turns, as the poet remarks, and the turn in Lager's case came Thursday afternoon when he faced the Columbus Park nine. Sam's start was most inauspicious. He walked seven men in the very first inning, and in a jiffy four runs were scored by the Columbus boys. To make matters worse the Tompkins Square ball tossers were unable to tally a single run in their half.

It was a different Lager that Columbus lined up against the next inning, however. The foam, so to speak, had worked out of Lager's system and he began to do some real pitching. Columbus was shut out, and from then on until the end of the game not another run did Columbus tally.

Tompkins broke the ice in the second frame by scoring three runs, and added one more in the fourth, tieing the count. Both teams had steadied, and when two men went out for Tompkins in the fifth it looked as though the game would have to go beyond the six innings set by the playground instructor, Mr. Kalmbach. Lager for his part feared that the brace he had made was to be of no avail and that it would just be his luck to have the game end in a tie or, worse still, that Columbus would squeeze over a run that would spell victory.

Sam was therefore most pleasantly surprised when Rosenfeld, the Tompkins Square centre fielder, lined out a beautiful two-bagger. Rosie darted for third on the next ball pitched and scored on a wild throw by the Columbus catcher, A. Parella. The Columbus lads struggled hard in their half to even things up again, but Lager, with a chance to break his long run of hard luck, turned back their attempts with ease. At last Sam had won a game.

The tournament, like the vacation season, is now growing to a close, and only one more week of the interpark games remains to be played. Next week will see the teams battling for the final honors. The winners in each section will play a series in each division for the final championship of the city. The schedule of these games will appear in next Sunday's Tribune.

The feature of the entire tournament is the wonderful playing of the teams representing the Thomas Jefferson Park Playground, in the eastern section. The 100-pound, 115-pound and 130-pound teams have gone through the interpark series without one defeat in nine games played, and they have cinched the championship in each of these divisions. They have only one more game to play, and they could lose this and yet win by a large margin.

The John Jay team is leading in the 85-pound class, and it looks as if it will play for the championship. John Jay has won seven games and lost one, and can afford to lose both games scheduled for next week.

There have been many interesting games in the southern section during the last week. In the 100-pound class Columbus was the leader, but dropped two games, one to Hamilton Fish by a 5 to 4 score and another to Seward by a 12 to 5 score, while Hamilton Fish also defeated Corlears Hook by a score of 6 to 2 and jumped into the lead. This puts Hamilton Fish first in the 85, 100 and 130 pound classes and tied for first with Seward Park in the 115-pound class. The Hamilton Fish teams are scheduled to play at Seward tomorrow, and some interesting games will be the result. Special arrangements have been made to handle the big crowd expected.

In the northern section Reservoir holds its lead in the 85 and 130 pound classes. The 85-pound boys, after winning nine straight, feel content with their work, and are leisurely preparing for the championship games, just like big leaguers preparing for the world's series.

In the 100-pound division, if Jasper wins the games scheduled against Riverside 96th st. and Riverside 79th st., and Reservoir loses to Bennett Field, Jasper and Reservoir will have to play off a tie for the championship.

Carmansville jumped ahead of Reservoir Oval in the 100-pound class by beating Jasper 7 to 2, while Reservoir lost to Jasper 4 to 3. Jasper Oval is at the top of the ladder in the 115-pound class, but by winning from the 79th and 96th Street Riverside teams Carmansville has a chance to lead, providing Jasper loses to 79th Street Riverside.

West 59th Street heads the western section, with leading teams in the 85-pound and 130-pound classes, while Chelsea has a string of seven straight victories to its credit in the 100-pound class and is the contender for the championship in this section. Central 66th Street jumped from second position to the top of the heap in the 115-pound class by beating Central 99th Street 11 to 7.

Ellwood Hughes, director of athletics for the Toronto Exposition, August 29 to September 14, is in town, trying to get some of the champion athletes to take part in his games, which are scheduled for the same day as our nationals, September 12. The chances are slim that the Canadian officials will change their date.

Mr. Hughes saw James E. Sullivan, and they discussed the question of American athletes competing in Toronto on the same day as the American championships. Mr. Sullivan stated positively that it was out of the question. No permits would be given to any athlete to compete anywhere else than at Baltimore.

Now only one thing is left for the Toronto people to do, and that is for them to try to hold their athletic meet on September 5, a Saturday previous to their original date, which Hughes is willing to do. Mr. Sullivan promised him all the aid possible, provided the date is changed.

Still waiting to hear from Berlin in regard to the Olympics of 1916. Nothing can be done until the German officials state whether or not they can hold their games. In the mean time Cincinnati has come forth with a good proposition to the American A. A. U. Its Chamber of Commerce is more than willing to undertake the work.

Lawson Robertson, the Irish-American Athletic Club coach, is getting the novices these days. Last Sunday, at the Eccentric Firemen's games at Celtic Park, Lawson corralled the winner of the mile novice, McDonald, who won in 4 minutes 57 seconds. Considering the condition of the track and the heavy wind blowing at the time, it was a very good performance. On August 8, at the Knights of Columbus games, Messer was the winner of the mile novice, and Lawson has also signed him up.

Future champions are to be found in to-day's novice events. The more these events are added to various sets of games, the better are our prospects for future Olympics. An event that is not being put in the athletic programmes is the javelin. In order to compete with Finland, Sweden and Austria in the javelin, the committees must have it on their list of events. In the last Olympic, 1912, in Sweden, our javelin throwers were lost.

At the Alpha Physical Culture Club games, on August 20, at Ulmer Park, Brooklyn, Jack Eller's sprinting was the feature. Starting from the 2-yard mark in the 100, he was just nosed out by a man from the limit handicap, 8 yards, in 10 2-5 seconds. This was very good time, as it is a very heavy track. Again, in the medley relay, Eller, running the 220, picked up over fifteen yards on his opponent, putting his team in a commanding lead, from which it won very easily. "Flying Jack" will take a lot of beating in the national 220-yard low hurdles, as he is now in the best of condition.

Val Wilkie, the Yale and New York Athletic Club quarter-miler, on Thursday ran his first race since the intercollegiate games last May.

THORPE BEARS OUT M'GRAW'S HOPE

Is a .300 Batter, Although He Has Played in Only a Few Games.

AMONG REGULARS DALTON IS LEADER

Meyers, of Brooklyn, Has Stopped Badly in His Bid for Batting Honors.

Shortly after Jim Thorpe reported to the Giants in Marlin last season John McGraw remarked: "Thorpe is a natural batter, and unless I am much mistaken he will develop into a .300 hitter."

Opposite Thorpe's name in the averages this week appear the figures .308. McGraw's prophecy has come true. Of course, Thorpe has not had much of a test yet, for he has only taken part in sixteen games and has been at bat just thirteen times. He has made four hits. If "Jim" gets in and plays a bit more frequently there is no telling how his average will stand up, but one thing cannot be taken from him. He has been a .300 hitter.

Eddie Grant picked up five hits during the week and boosted his average 15 points. He is now hitting for .360. Yet he does not lead the league, for the place at the top is held by Steele, of the Brooklyn club. Steele, however, has only been at bat nineteen times.

Dalton is the real leader of the regulars. In ninety-six games he has hit for .335. Becker comes next with .323. Meyers, the Brooklyn outfielder, who was making a strong bid for batting honors, had a very bad week of it. He dropped 33 points, and is now only a few points above .300 and well down in the list.

George Burns, strangely enough, did not vary a single point. He is still at .313. Connolly stepped over the line and gave the Boston Braves a representative in the .300 class. His mark is .304.

The following figures are compiled from official scores as published in the various cities of the league by the Moreland News Bureau, and include the records of players who have taken part in game to and including August 20:

MITCHELL LEADS IN AMERICAN LEAGUE

Holds Amazing Mark of .390 After Being Cast Out of National.

BAKER AND COBB ARE DROPPING BACK

Hoblitzell Is Hitting Hard and May Figure in Race Before the Season Ends.

Old Mike Mitchell, who was not fast enough for the Reds and not good enough for the Pirates, is leading the American League in batting. His average is .390. In twenty-one games Mitchell has made thirty-two hits. Of course, a slump would bring him down very rapidly, since he has played in only a few games, but at present none of the other hitters are pressing him.

Joe Jackson lost a point during the week and is only .359. Eddie Collins dropped five, sliding back to .345. Ty Cobb was a heavy loser, dropping to .339, ten points worse than in his previous week.

Cree picked up a point and is now only two notches behind Cobb. Baker is falling out of the race. He lost eleven points and Cree passed him. Tris Speaker moved up just a bit, gaining a single point as the result of his hard week's work. Crawford remained without change.

Hoblitzell may be in the struggle for top honors before long if he keeps up his present gait. The first baseman who could not hit hard enough for Herzog has found American League pitching just to his liking. He gained nineteen points during the week and is one of the best batters among the Red Sox.

Doc Cook, the second best hitter of the Yankees, is losing ground and has dropped back to .275. He lost five points during the week.

The following figures are compiled from official sources as published in the various cities of the league by the Moreland News Bureau, and include the records of players who have taken part in games to and including August 20:
