Several Golf Stars Bite Dust of Links

The Misses Curtis and Miss Hollins Suffer Defeat.

MRS. BARLOW WINS AT THE NINETEENTH

Miss Hyde, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Daley Reach Second Round for National Title.

Numerically at least, the metropolitan district again scored heavily in the women's national golf championship tournament over the links of the Nassau Country Club yesterday. Of the sixteen winners in the first match play round no less than six are from clubs in the vicinity of New York. The West has four, while Pennsylvania and Massachusetts have three each.

Three of the matches went to extra holes, and three out of the five former national title holders competing fell by the wayside. These were Miss Margaret Curtis, thrice the champion, who was beaten on the nineteenth green by Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow, of Philadelphia; Miss Harriott S. Curtis, who was eliminated by a 2 and 1 margin at the hands of Mrs. H. Arnold Jackson, formerly Miss Kate C. Harley, and Miss Frances C. Griscom, of Philadelphia, who went down before Miss Eleanor Allen, of Oakley, by a score of 2 up and 2 to play.

The most prolonged contest of the day was the one in which Mrs. H. R. Stockton, of Plainfield, defeated Mrs. Caleb F. Fox, of Huntingdon Valley, on the twentieth green. Mrs. Stockton was in the comfortable position of dormie one, but Mrs. Fox squared the match when her opponent got into difficulty at the home hole. In the other protracted contest Mrs. Isaac Harter, of Richmond County, succeeded in brushing aside Miss Bertha Stratton, of Cranford, on the nineteenth green.

Miss Hollins in Defeat.

Much interest centred in the match between Miss Lillian B. Hyde, the metropolitan champion, and Miss Marion Hollins, the runner-up to Miss Havemeyer last year. The first named won handily by 4 up and 3 to play.

Mrs. Edwin W. Daley, the Southern champion last year and now a member of the Oakley Country Club, near Boston, played sound golf and defeated Mrs. G. M. Heckscher, of Piping Rock, by 4 up and 2 to play.

Mrs. Barlow and Miss Margaret Curtis furnished the most thrilling match of the day. The speed at which Miss Curtis travelled may be understood when it is told that she went round in 41, within a stroke of the woman's record for the course, made last year by Miss Hyde.

The seeming paradox of her being beaten is explained by the statement that it is one of the peculiarities of match play. It must not be imagined for an instant that Mrs. Barlow did not do well. Her 85 indicates that, and if it had not been for a 6 and 7 to start with her score also might have been 85. It was fine golf all the way, and one of these matches rarely seen in women's golf.

Miss Curtis Wild Off Tee.

When Miss Curtis lapsed it was largely through her shots off the tees, and as a result she sometimes was called upon to do much with her second. That was brought out toward the finish, so that Mrs. Barlow soon was level and became dormie one. She then proceeded to get trapped at the home hole, and Miss Curtis squared the match.

On the extra hole Miss Curtis's driving went awry, and she needed three to reach the green. Mrs. Barlow did not find herself much better off, but she ran down a twenty-foot putt for a par and the match.

The card follows:

Mrs. Barlow, out	6	5	5	4	5	5	5	5	4	4—44
Miss Curtis, out	4	6	5	5	5	5	5	5	4	5—45
Mrs. Barlow, in	5	3	4	5	4	4	5	4	5	6—41—85
Miss Curtis, in	4	4	4	5	3	4	5	6	5	5—38—83

Extra holes—Mrs. Barlow, 4; Miss Curtis, 5.

One of the interesting developments of the match between Miss Hyde and Miss Hollins was the fact that as a putter the metropolitan champion is somewhat improved over the time she won at Essex County, N. J., last June. Usually her long game was good, although occasionally she was a trifle off the line. She went out in 41.

Miss Hollins was often wild off the tee, besides being unsteady on the greens.

Through a sterling finish Mrs. Jackson was able to dispose of Miss Harriott Curtis. It was a nip and tuck contest all the way. Miss Curtis developed rather a costly fondness for bunkers at times, and Mrs. Jackson showed evidences of not having obtained the right touch for the greens. They were even at the turn and were still that way at the fifteenth. Then Miss Curtis became wild again, and with two fives Mrs. Jackson won by 2 up and 1 to play.

Miss Georgianna M. Bishop, of Brooklawn, the medal winner, had her work cut out to beat a sixteen-year-old girl from Atlanta—Miss Alexa Sterling. The little lady plays in graceful style, has a manner of approaching a green boldly and putts nicely.

Miss Bishop was 1 up at the turn, which advantage was increased to 3 at the fourteenth. The plucky Southern girl then brought off two fours and reduced the margin of her opponent to one, and if it had not been for a fine aussie shot from a hard lie to the seventeenth hole by Miss Bishop her opponent might have carried the contest further.

The summaries follow:

BOYS SHOW SKILL WITH RACQUETS

(By FRED. HAWTHORNE.)

The original field of ninety-six boys had been decimated yesterday when play ceased in the first annual junior metropolitan lawn tennis championship singles on the clay courts of the West Side Tennis Club, at Forest Hills, Long Island. Only nine boys are left to face the struggle to get into the final brackets, and of these Charles Garland, of Pittsburgh; Harold Throckmorton, of Rahway, N. J.; H. W. Forster, of Plainfield, N. J.; H. L. Bowman and S. Holt are considered the most formidable.

Fred B. Alexander, the mentor of the tournament, continued his rapid fire work yesterday in running off the play, and in addition to disposing of the matches in the singles started the doubles and brought the teams up to the round before the semi-finals. Alexander was loud in his praise of the boys, who, he said, showed a wholehearted willingness to co-operate with him in disposing of the matches.

Some time about 1921, when this country is either defending or challenging for the Davis Cup, one of the American team, according to the opinions of old experts who watched the play yesterday, will be Cecil Donaldson, the twelve-year-old Brooklyn schoolboy, whose work in this tournament has astonished such keen judges as Alexander and H. H. Hackett.

Donaldson was pitted against G. E. Donnell in the third round yesterday, and, although defeated at 6—3, 6—2, showed a remarkable ability at the net, almost invariably outplaying his opponent in this department. Donnell towered at least a foot over the little flaxen-haired boy, and it was his ground strokes that finally wore down the youngster and gained him the victory.

Harold Throckmorton continued playing strongly, defeating D. Fletcher at 6—0, 6—1. The New Jersey boy's service was particularly severe, and at the net, too, he scored point after point with sharp volleys.

The summaries follow:

Metropolitan junior lawn tennis championship singles (third round)—C. W. Warner defeated W. H. Benedict, 14-12 (default); D. Fletcher defeated A. Mayer, 7—5, 6—4; S. Holt defeated C. THE WEATHER REPORT

Forecasts and Records of the Last Twenty-four Hours.

Official Record and Forecast.—Washington, Sept. 16.—The disturbance reported Tuesday morning as being central in the vicinity of the Bahama Islands was apparently central Tuesday night off the east Florida coast and moving north or northeastward. This disturbance will probably increase in intensity. Storm warnings have been displayed on the south Atlantic coast from Hatteras to Key West, and vessels in those waters have been advised to use caution. There were showers in the last twenty-four hours in the Mississippi Valley, the upper lake region and the Northwestern states, and generally fair weather elsewhere. Temperatures have risen over the plains states and the middle Rocky Mountain region and have fallen decidedly over the northern Rocky Mountain and plateau regions. Moderate temperatures continued throughout the eastern half of the country.

The indications are that there will be showers Wednesday and probably Thursday along the south Atlantic coast and in the Northeastern states, and generally fair weather elsewhere during the next forty-eight hours. The temperature will be lower on Wednesday in the middle Rocky Mountain region and on Thursday in the middle and north plains states and the upper Mississippi Valley. Temperature changes elsewhere will be unimportant.

Winds for Wednesday and Thursday: North Atlantic, moderate variable; Middle Atlantic, fresh northeast and east; South Atlantic, strong northeast, shifting to northwest, probably reaching gale force; East Gulf, fresh north; West Gulf, moderate east and southeast; upper lakes, fresh south; lower lakes, southeast and south.

Forecast for Special Localities.—New York, New England, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and the District of Columbia, fair Wednesday and probably Thursday.

Virginia, fair Wednesday; Thursday, fair in interior, unsettled on coast.

West Virginia, fair Wednesday and probably Thursday.

Local Official Record.—The following official record from the Weather Bureau shows the changes in the temperature for the last twenty-four hours with the corresponding date for last year:
