SIMMONS FIGURES $26,000,000 DEFICIT

North Carolina Senator Refutes Fitzgerald's Estimate of $100,000,000.

EXPECTS RECEIPTS NOW TO INCREASE

Statement Believed To Be a Reflection of the Views of the Administration.

(From The Tribune Bureau.)

Washington, March 27.—Senator Simmons, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Senate, in a statement to-day agrees with Representative Fitzgerald that there will be a deficit in the federal Treasury this year, but disagrees with the Brooklyn Representative as to the amount.

Senator Simmons is one of the administration's lieutenants, and he has been disturbed that his fellow Democrats in the House should intimate that extravagance on the part of the administration will produce a deficit this year of upward of $100,000,000. Senator Simmons says the deficit will be only $26,000,000.

Senator Simmons says that Mr. Fitzgerald and others have made the mistake of assuming that the excess of disbursements over income will be the same for the last half of the fiscal year as for the first half. According to his estimates, which may be taken as the estimates of the administration, the income will exceed the disbursements when the income taxes begin to come in, and the present deficit will be reduced instead of increased. The $26,000,000 deficit with which, he predicts, the fiscal year will close does not include expenditures for the Panama Canal.

The North Carolina Senator blames the war, Mexico and the normal growth of the government for the deficit, but he doesn't say a word about the unkept economy promises of his Democratic colleagues, despite the fact that the receipts were much under the estimates.

"During the last week," Mr. Simmons says, "I have been closely investigating this matter in conference with officials of the Treasury Department, and as a result of these investigations and conferences I feel safe in saying that the probable deficit will not, if any, much exceed $26,000,000. Of course, this does not include the expenditures on account of the Panama Canal. These expenses are otherwise provided for by law, and are not required to be paid out of the current funds of the government. The following statement shows the basis upon which this calculation has been made and the result reached.

"The estimated receipts of the government from all sources as made in September, 1913, were as follows:

From customs	$240,000,000
Internal revenue	365,000,000
Corporation and income tax	122,000,000
Miscellaneous	60,000,000
Total receipts	$836,000,000

"The probable net ordinary expenditures were estimated at $718,000,000, showing an estimated excess of receipts of $18,000,000.

"The receipts from practically every source have fallen below the estimate, due to depressed business conditions on account of the war in Europe.

"Although the revenue derived from internal revenue tax will probably be increased by the emergency revenue act over the estimates by about $20,000,000, there is at the present time, March 15, 1915, an excess of ordinary expenditures over receipts of approximately $85,000,000, against a deficit of $24,000,000 on the same date last year.

"The estimated receipts for the remainder of the fiscal year are as follows:

From customs	$72,000,000
Internal revenue	50,000,000
Corporation and income tax	30,000,000
Miscellaneous receipts	21,500,000
Total	$208,000,000

"But the ordinary disbursements will amount to $207,000,000, an excess of receipts over expenditures for the remainder of the year of $59,000,000, showing a net deficit at the end of the fiscal year of about $26,000,000.

"The increases are due, in part, to the normal growth of the government and, in part, to conditions arising out of the European war and the abnormal conditions in Mexico.

"When the fact that the income tax is not required by law to be paid until about the end of the fiscal year (June 30), and that the bulk of this tax is not, in fact, paid until about the end of the fiscal year, is considered, the circumstance of an excess of disbursements over receipts for the first half of the year, and an excess of receipts over disbursements during the last half, will be readily understood; and it will also be apparent that any estimate based on the assumption that the proportion of the receipts and disbursements will be the same during the second half of the year as during the first half is both misleading and erroneous."

KICKS IN GREETING TO BOY VISITORS

East Side Youngsters Find That West Side Jaunt Is Costly Affair.

After the lesson they received yesterday, when they entered the enemy's country, two twelve-year-old East Side boys will probably not venture over to the West Side of the city soon again.

Herbert Solo, of 1239 Madison Avenue, and Morris Greenwald, of 24 East Ninety-third Street, neatly dressed in their velvet knickerbockers and with their hair carefully parted and combed, started out yesterday afternoon for a pleasant time in Central Park. After walking for some time, they reached Ninety-fifth Street and Central Park West.

Here they saw two West Siders, dressed less immaculately but apparently having a good time in a friendly game of marbles. They were James Deone and Frank Joy, both of 27 West Ninety-seventh Street, and both thirteen years old.

A sudden inspiration stirred Herbert and Morris that they might enjoy a game with their West Side opponents, but their intrusions were resented by the home talent. They were told to go home.

When they refused, Morris and Herbert say, they were knocked down. They add, incidentally, that they were relieved of all their joint capital, $1.17.

Shouts for help brought Patrolman Haverty. He started after James and Frank, and rounded them up at Ninety-seventh Street.

Both boys were taken to the West 100th Street station, where their mothers later guaranteed their appearance at Children's Court to-morrow morning.

FAKIRS TO GIVE BALL

Artists to Dance in Costume to Aid Needy Students.

Charles Dana Gibson, Eugene Speicher, Luis Mora, Cecil Chichester, Thomas Fogarty, James Montgomery Flagg, E. T. Powers, and many other prominent artists are on the committee for the charity ball under the auspices of the American Fakirs at the Vanderbilt April 8.

The American Fakirs is an organization formed twenty-five years ago by artists, who made copies of famous paintings, and sold them at the Art Students' League headquarters for the purpose of creating a fund to assist struggling students.

The proceeds of the ball will go to this fund. Any guest who appears in regular attire will be fined $2.

'PHONE A BURGLAR ALARM

Yeggmen Knock It Over and Central Calls Police.

(By Telegraph to The Tribune.)

Philadelphia, March 20.—The alertness of a telephone operator in the North Keystone exchange here prevented the completion of a burglary and led to the arrest of one of two yeggmen to-day.

The girl was Vera McMenamin, of Germantown. Some one moving around in the office of C. O. Struse & Sons knocked over a desk telephone at 1 o'clock this morning. She responded to the call and heard:

"Go ahead, Frank! We can get it yet. Break it!"

She also heard the pounding of metal on metal. She called the Ridge Avenue police station, told Sergeant Hess of the mysterious voice, and gave him the location of the telephone.

FUTURE READ FOR JAPANESE SEER

Hagistrate Simms Sees Danger for Kodama, Fortune Teller, Who Is Fined $600.

When Don-Show Kodama, "professor of Oriental divination," arranges the Sengi blocks, touches off the incense and goes into executive session with the future it costs his anxious customer just $5 to know whether the worst is yet to come. It cost the professor $600 yesterday, however, when that mighty soothsayer, Magistrate Simms, told his fortune in the West Side court.

Last Thursday Ada McMahon, a police matron, went to Don-Show's shrine, in an apartment house at 10 Manhattan Avenue, and learned that she was soon to get rich and have a husband. She gave up $5 and in return handed the seer a summons.

Kodama and William Yasuda, his interpreter, were in court yesterday. Yasuda explaining that his master had got into trouble only through his ignorance of American law.

Without Sengi blocks the magistrate then told the seer's fortune. He predicted that the next ninety days would be fraught with peril for Kodama. It would be bad luck, he predicted, for Kodama to interview the spirits in behalf of any one, but worse if he accepted a gift from the grateful patron.

Should Kodama defy the prophecy, he continued, he might look for a man in a blue suit. Immediately afterward "Professor" Simms predicted Kodama would find himself in a small room, and that twelve moons would wax and wane ere he left its vicinity.

THE WEATHER REPORT

Forecasts and Records of the Last Twenty-four Hours.

Washington, March 20.—Low pressure continues east of the Mississippi River, but with a rising tendency, except in the Northeast. Pressure is also low in the extreme Southwest, but elsewhere west of the Mississippi it remains high, with a marked crest over Montana. Notwithstanding the absence of a definite disturbance east of the Rockies, the weather has been generally cloudy, with rains and snows, except in New York and New England. In the extreme West the weather was clear and warmer. Low temperatures continue, except in the middle Atlantic states and the extreme North, and in the South temperatures are from 10 to 20 degrees below the seasonal average. Killing frosts occurred Saturday morning in Northern and Central Texas, Western Arkansas and Northwestern Louisiana.

There will be snow Sunday in South Dakota, Western Nebraska and the central and southern Rocky Mountain region, followed by generally fair weather Monday. On Sunday night or Monday there will be snow in Kansas and Oklahoma, rain or snow in Arkansas and Northern Texas, and rain in Southern Texas and Louisiana. Over the remainder of the country generally fair weather will continue, but with considerable cloudiness Sunday from the lower Mississippi Valley eastward. Temperatures will not change decidedly. Frost warnings have been issued for the Gulf states, including Northern and Central Florida.

Winds for Sunday and Monday: North Atlantic, moderate west and northwest; middle and south Atlantic, moderate northwest; east Gulf, moderate north and northwest; west Gulf, moderate north; upper lakes, moderate, mostly northwest; lower lakes, moderate west and northwest.

Forecast for Special Localities.—Eastern New York, New England, New Jersey, Eastern Pennsylvania, Delaware, Virginia and North and South Carolina, generally fair Sunday and Monday.

Western New York, western Pennsylvania, partly cloudy Sunday and Monday.

West Virginia, local snows Sunday; Monday, fair and warmer.

ERIE'S ERROR COSTS $302.

Hackensack, N. J., March 20. The Erie must pay $302.90 to Miss Ida H. Gerety, of Hackensack, because John Bahr, a conductor, took away her commutation ticket on August 28. The ticket agent had made out her ticket for "Mr." I. H. Gerety, instead of "Miss." Several other conductors had accepted the explanation, but Bahr lived up to the rules. To add to her humiliation, Miss Gerety told the local jury, the conductor was offensive in manner and language.

The $2.90 in the verdict was spent for fares after the ticket was taken up.
