Giants Not Banished Beaten by the Cubs

Umpires, Players, Managers and Fans Find Plenty of Action to Keep Their Minds Off the Weather.

By HEYWOOD BROUN.

Maybe it was the humidity. Before the Cubs completed the defeat of the Giants at the Polo Grounds yesterday, by a score of 5 to 2, John McGraw and twelve of his players were put out of the game and a spectator was roundly abused by Roger Bresnahan and gravely chided by Bill Byron.

Upon such a day everybody was prepared to see a player or two kick himself out of the game, but the involution of a con-combatant came as a surprise. It was a most regrettable incident, since it showed that baseball was not the great democratic institution which many had imagined.

While Perritt was pitching in the seventh inning Roger Bresnahan swung three times at the ball and did not hit it. Being out under the rules of the National League, Roger started back for the bench to take the conventional drink of water and make the conventional criticism of the umpire.

But before Roger could enter the dugout a voice from the stand smote upon his ears.

"Get a board," said a man in the third row. Roger looked up. The speaker was a total stranger to him. More than that, he wore a last year's straw hat and an imitation silk shirt with a broad purple stripe. His tan shoes had suede tops.

"Get a board," said the stranger a second time, and this time Roger recognized the intent.

He, Roger Bresnahan, the manager of the Chicago Cubs, the Duke of St. Louis, had been advised to substitute a larger piece of timber for his favorite bat.

Bresnahan paused and looked at the rooter as E. H. Sothern might look at Charlie Chaplin.

"I am surprised," said Roger, "to see a man like you sitting in the grandstand. You don't belong here. You ought to be out in the bleachers."

Up to this point the manager of the Cubs had maintained an air of quiet dignity, but as he began to expand his remarks concerning the social status of his critic his voice rose to such a point that it annoyed Bill Byron, who hates loud talking. Bill and Roger are not always on friendly terms, but at least they are in the same set, and Byron came to the player's rescue.

"You're old enough to know better," said the umpire to the manager. "Let me deal with him."

Roger pointed out the man in the imitation silk shirt and Byron addressed him.

"Leave the players alone," said the umpire. "Don't use no personalities to him."

The spectator had maintained a smile up to this point, but now he grew grave. For the first time he realized that he was mere dust before these splendid denizens of the diamond. A minute or two later, during some mild excitement attending the banishment of a few dozen players, the chastened rooter retired. In all probability, he had gone to the bleachers, where freedom of speech is maintained and liberty still lives.

He had his consolation. On the bare benches there sat with him in spirit Prometheus, Wyclif, William J. Bryan, Rousseau, Patrick Henry, Sun Yat Sen, Walt Whitman, William Randolph Hearst, Marius, Robin Hood, Robespierre, Colonel Roosevelt, Martin Luther, Wilkes, Lot's wife, Karl Marx, Lucifer and the cow that jumped over the moon.

Umpirical activities began in the second inning, when McGraw was ordered to the bat coop and lasted until there were two strikes on the last batter in the ninth inning, when Fletcher was sent to join his manager.

In the third inning Babington, a recruit from Brown University, showed how quickly he is learning the fine points of the game by gaining an expulsion from Eason. He also went to the coop, which must have been a black hole of Calcutta by the end of the afternoon.

Byron banished McGraw and Fletcher, but, working in that petty retail way, he had no chance to merit comparison with Eason, who ordered ten players out of the game in the third inning. Matty, who had been sitting outside the bench with Henry Fabian, demanded immunity on account of his years, but Eason refused to grant it. "You'll have to suffer for the sins of the others," said the umpire.

In the intervals between the exits of players Vic Saier pounded the ball to various parts of the field, and it was his batting which gave the Cubs their victory.

Poll Perritt was the opponent of Jimmy Lavender for eight innings, and Ferdinand Schupp swept the game out in the ninth. Lavender allowed nine hits, but he was always effective when the pinch came, and struck out ten men. Saier scored two runs with a drive into the upper stand in the sixth, and sent another runner home with a single in the eighth.

Singles by Fisher, Schulte and Zimmerman gave the Cubs a run in the first inning, but the Giants tied the count in their half, when Robertson doubled to left and came home on Fletcher's single to centre. Robertson was safe on a sharp tap to Zimmerman in the third, and after stealing second came home when Larry Doyle tripled to deep left centre.

Saier's home run scored Fisher, as well as himself, in the sixth, and this put the Cubs one run in the lead. A hit by Fisher, Schulte's sacrifice, Zimmerman's single, accompanied by a wild throw from Snodgrass and Saier's clean smash to right, gave the Cubs two extra runs in the eighth.

NO "FIXED" RACE, SAYS JOHNNY EVERS

In Advance of Investigation Boston Player Pleads Bad Temper.

Boston, July 15.—Remarks alleged to have been made from the side lines by Captain Evers of the Boston Braves during last Tuesday's baseball game with the St. Louis Cardinals are to be the subject of the investigation which President Tener will make here tomorrow.

Evers, taking exception to a decision by Rigler, who declared Bob Bescher safe at the plate on a close play, was quoted in a newspaper as having shouted:

"They're trying to get the crowds out; they've ordered a close race; leave them alone, boys; they're only following instructions."

Evers later expressed indignation because his remarks had been interpreted as a claim that the National League race was "fixed." He said:

"I claim no such thing. I've been in baseball long enough to know better. To be sure, I might have said anything on the ball field. When an umpire hands you one like Rigler did at the home plate what you say will invariably be the result of hard feeling at the time.

"You're out there fighting, and anything you can get away with goes. Nobody living could fix a race like the one in the National League just now. It's the greatest ever, and we all have a chance."

George Stallings said: "There is absolutely no truth in the story that Captain Evers said that the National League race was 'fixed.'"

BRAVES ON THE JUMP

Get Enough Runs in One Inning to Beat Pirates.

Boston, July 15.—Boston defeated Pittsburgh by a score of 3 to 2 here to-day.

The Braves scored all their runs in one inning. Magee walked and took second when Schmidt's grounder rolled through Wagner's legs. Both scored on Smith's double, Maranville sacrificed Smith to third, and the latter scored on Rudolph's sacrifice fly.

Vlox singled in the second inning and scored on Baird's two-bagger. In the third Maranville threw wild when Carey grounded, the batter reaching second. Carey stole third and scored on Johnston's bunt to Schmidt.

DOUGLAS BEATS OLD TEAMMATES FOR SUPERBAS

Killifer Only One of Reds to Give Pitcher Much Trouble.

GETZ AND MYERS SHARE IN HONORS

Latter Does Some Clever Work on Bases and Gets Homer in Seventh.

Phil Douglas was elected to membership with full privileges in the Ex-Reds' Club, an exclusive organization of good ball players who were not good enough for Cincinnati.

The election was made at Ebbets Field yesterday afternoon in the presence of some 2,500 fans, and Douglas went straightway about proving his worth. He defeated his former companions by a score of 4 to 2, and every one was happy except Charley Herzog.

Douglas went about his task of winning the game with great deliberation and forethought. It took him some little time to find the groove for service to Wade Killifer, and before he made the discovery Killifer had just about accounted for the two runs the Reds scored. He tripled in the second, scoring on a subsequent hit, and his double drove home the other. Heinie Groh gave him a bit of trouble also, but was unable to make the circuit of the bases. Groh tripled in the ninth, with only one out, too.

Gus Getz, who was named by Johnny Evers as the coming star of the big leagues at third base, and Hy Myers shared the glory of the afternoon with Douglas, and it may be said in passing that there was glory enough for all hands. Myers scored two runs, while Getz drove two home.

Myers was by far more distinctive in his endeavor. He tricked the Cincinnati infield most beautifully in the third frame. Having singled to right field, Hy loafed indolently around off first base until Herzog relaxed his vigilance and Joe Rodgers was dreaming of world's series games that he might never play in. When Ivy Wingo raised his arm slowly to toss the ball back to the box Myers raced down to second. Wingo saw, and cut loose a throw that fairly cleaved the bag, but no one was there to receive it. Myers ran to third and scored on Ollie O'Mara's Texas leaguer to centre.

In the seventh inning he smashed the ball to the centre field fence and raced around for a home run. This exertion in the heat took a lot out of Myers, and when, in the eighth inning, he had to run hard after a line drive by Rodgers he became sick. Time was called while restoratives were administered and Hy finished the game.

Rube Benton, a candidate for motorcycling honors, started the game for the Reds, but retired in the fifth inning to let Tommy Leach hit for him. Three runs had been scored off the southpaw before he retired and Red Ames was found for only one. This was the home run smash by Myers.

PHILLIES WIN IN THE TENTH INNING

Stock Does His Duty as Pinch Hitter and Defeats the Cardinals.

Philadelphia, July 15.—The Phillies won a hard fought game from St. Louis in the tenth inning here to-day by a score of 4 to 3, when Stock, a pinch hitter, singled and sent in Killifer with the winning run.

After two runs had been scored by the home team in the sixth, Robinson was taken out, and Perdue was so slow in going to the rubber that a ball was called by Umpire Klem. Griner succeeded Perdue in the seventh.

TIP TOPS NEED EXTRA INNING TO BEAT TERRAPINS

Home Team Ties Score in the Ninth—Kauff Leads Attack in Tenth.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.]

Baltimore, July 15.—The Brooklyn Tip Tops won the final game of the series from the Terrapins here this afternoon after ten innings of nip and tuck baseball. The score was 4 to 2.

The Tip Tops held the lead risk down to the ninth inning when Baltimore came through with a run, thanks to a short, but sharp batting rally, and tied the score. Playing extra innings on the eve of the long Western trip was not to the liking of Lee Magee, so in the tenth the Brooklyn men pitched in and won the game.

With one down, Kauff and Bradley got scratch hits. A sacrifice moved them up, and Hap Myers ran for Bradley. A single to right by Smith scored Kauff and Myers with the winning runs.

Joe Bailey, who pitched for the Terrapins, was at his best for nine innings, during which time he allowed only two hits. Both of these came in the fourth inning, however, and with a base on balls were good for two runs.

Jim Bluejacket was in the throes of one of his good days himself. McCandless got to him for a home run in the third, and then he pitched runless ball down to the ninth, when as told previously, the Terrapins tied the score. He retired in the tenth after giving a base on balls. Seaton finished the game.

TO MOVE HOME OF FEDS

Gilmore Says Headquarters Will Be Established Here.

Chicago, July 15.—New territory will be invaded by the Federal League next season, it was announced to-day by James A. Gilmore, president of the organization in confirming the report that the league's headquarters will be moved from Chicago to New York City within the next two weeks.

Plans are being made, Mr. Gilmore admitted, for a new circuit in 1916. Clubs may be launched in Detroit, Boston or Cleveland. It already has been decided to put a club in New York.

The decision to transfer the league's headquarters to New York came as a surprise.

The St. Louis Feds Fall Short a Run

St. Louis, July 15.—Despite a ninth inning rally, which netted three runs, the St. Louis Feds were unable to overcome Chicago's lead to-day, and lost by a score of 6 to 5.

St. Louis used three pitchers, who allowed twelve hits, but Brown was less liberal. The result gave the visitors a better hold on first place, from which they pushed St. Louis yesterday. Brown took special delight in defeating Fielder Jones's team, from which he was ousted as manager last year.

NEWARK FEDS PAY OFF A SCORE WITH BUFFALO

Pound Two Pitchers in First Game, Shutting Out Blues—Second Easy.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.]

Buffalo, July 15.—The Newark Feds defeated the Buffalo Blues twice here to-day by scores of 7 to 0 and 4 to 3.

After Ed Lafitte and Hugh Bedient had been driven to cover in the third inning of the first game Krapp held Newark to two hits for the next six innings. Buffalo had to be content with three scattered hits. Hal Chase, who made two of them, tripled at the opening of the seventh, but there he remained. Moseley fanned eight men.

Krapp pitched eight innings of the second game and Newark hit him freely. Marshall twirled the ninth. Ed Keulback pitched in old-time form, holding Buffalo to three hits in seven innings. Buffalo bunched five more hits in the last two innings and scored its three runs in the eighth, when Watson, batting for Downey, hit a home run into the right field bleachers, with two on bases.

The score follows:
