MONTREAL SEVEN DISPROVES SOME ST. NICK NOTIONS

Canadian Hockey Team Is Easy Winner in Well Played Match.

HOBEY BAKER'S STAR IS SADLY DIMMED

He Fails to Shine Because of Fine Guarding of Visiting Players.

By FRED HAWTHORNE.

The hockey team of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association defeated the seven representing the St. Nicholas Skating Club by a score of 3 goals to 1 at the St. Nicholas Rink last night. The visitors from over the border were more accurate in their goal shooting and also excelled in team work in passing the puck.

Champions of the Amateur Hockey League in this country, the St. Nicholas team went into last night's game with the determination of proving that they were better than Canada's best on the ice. The Montreal players, however, were not only as fast on their skates as the Americans, but they were better drilled in the technique of the game, and their victory was well deserved.

Captain Read, point; Spriggins, cover point; Bell, rover, and Sharpe, left wing for Montreal, were the stars for their side, while Hobey Baker, Ellis and Cox did the most effective work for St. Nicholas.

The two teams battled evenly until about fifteen minutes of the first period had passed, and then the Montreals started a vigorous assault on the St. Nicholas goal. Read, Sharpe and Bennett breaking through the local team's defence and scoring the first goal on a beautiful shot by the lanky Read, the puck whistling past Carnochan's head and lodging safely in the cage.

A few minutes later, with the Montreal forwards giving him excellent interference, Sharpe dashed down the ice and lifted the puck into the cage from the side, the rubber coming so fast that Carnochan was able to make only a wild stab at it with his stick in the attempt to turn it off. There were plenty of Canadians in the crowd, and they rent the air with cheers as Montreal went into the lead.

Captain Ellis rallied his men, and desperate efforts were made to score on the Canadians, but each time the visitor's defence stayed off a score by sharp guarding of their goal. Half a dozen times St. Nicholas sent the puck straight at the Canadian goal, but Lukeman, the cage tender, was always on the alert and stopped the disk with stick, skates or body.

With the score 2 goals to 0 against them when the second half began, St. Nicholas scored almost directly after the face-off. Cox lifting the puck into the net during a scrimmage directly in front of the goal. This gave the St. Nicholas rooters added hope, and they voiced encouragement and clamored for another goal to tie the score.

With both teams fighting hard, the playing became faster, and several impromptu skirmishes between the players took place on the ice. A hot mix-up at the western end of the rink terminated when Bell, the Montreal rover, and Baker came together with a crash and spun around like dervishes. Bell's arms were stretched about Hobey's neck, and Referee Horton penalized the Canadian two minutes for roughing.

In another skirmish in the middle of the rink Rowland, the Montreal centre, brought his stick down on the top of Ellis's head, and was sent to the bench for two minutes. Trimble received a similar penalty a little later for poking his stick between Read's long legs and bringing that worthy down with a crash.

In a little more than eight minutes after the second half began Spriggins caught the puck near the centre of the ice as it came rolling out of a scrimmage and slammed it into the St. Nicholas cage with unerring aim. The shot earned applause from rooters on both sides, and it seemed to take away the last hopes of victory from Captain Ellis and his men, although they fought hard to the end.

The Montreal players had evidently been forewarned regarding Hobey Baker's penchant for scoring on wild dashes through the opposing team, for they covered him closely from beginning to end, and Hobey rarely got an opportunity to get away on one of his scoring bees. On the few occasions when he did manage to elude his Canadian guards his speed was such that his teammates could not keep up with him to take the puck when he was ready to pass it.

The next game, marking the opening of the Amateur Hockey League season in New York, will be played at the St. Nicholas Rink on Tuesday evening, when the Hockey Club of New York will face the St. Nicholas Skating Club team.

IRSA HOLDS ABERG TO A DRAW ON MAT

Hevonpaa and "Human Spring" Also Fail to Get Fall.

Anton Irsa, of Austria, wrestled Alexander Aberg, champion Graeco-Roman wrestler of the world, to a draw last night in thirty-three minutes at the Manhattan Opera House, the bout coming to a close on the stroke of midnight owing to the closing hour regulations. The bout was at Graeco-Roman style, and Irsa, who was taught all he knows about the mat game by Aberg, held the master so even that Aberg could not gain a fall in the time allotted, although it is probable that in a longer match he would have defeated the burly Austrian.

The audience that sat through the long programme was highly amused at the antics of some of the other wrestlers. Sulo Hevonpaa, the irascible Finn, who pitted against Peter Zelesnow, the Russian "human spring," in a limited bout at Greco-Roman style, neither being able to secure a fall, Hevonpaa protested vehemently to George Bothner, the referee, against what he termed Zelesnow's "tailor's hold," which consists of Peter's double toe hold on himself.

CHIP AND SILENT MARTIN BOX DRAW

George Chip, the Newcastle welterweight, and Silent Martin, of this city, fought ten whirlwind rounds to a draw at the Clermont Athletic Club, Brooklyn, last night.

The contest was marked by hard hitting on the part of each man, the bell coming to the rescue of both. Martin, who is a deaf mute, made the bout an even affair by a strong rally in the tenth round.

YALE DEFEATS SWIMMERS IN POOR MEET

Blue Relay Team Disqualified and City College Has Walkover.

By L. DE B. HANDLEY.

The swimmers of Yale defeated City College of New York last night by a score of 53 to 20, and won also in water polo by a score of 10 to 0.

The meet, held in the pool of City College, was marked by inconsistent performances, due chiefly to the crippled condition of both teams. The home squad lacked the services of Bosworth, the star sprinter, and Liebner, the crack diver, while the visitors numbered among the absentees Captain Schlaet, Rosener, Dean and Alexander, four of the speediest swimmers.

The opening event, the relay race, proved a fizzle. Chilton, who took the first relay for Yale, lost his bearings, ran into the side of the pool and crawled out before finishing, thus disqualifying his team, which withdrew, leaving the City College quartet to complete the course alone. No time was taken.

Ferguson and Mayer, the New Haven candidates, had things all their own way in the 50-yard dash and reached the line neck to neck, six feet ahead of their opponents. It appeared to most of the spectators to be Ferguson's event, but the judges declared it a dead heat. The time was 28 seconds.

Hopkins, of Yale, won the furlong swim as he pleased, in 2 minutes 59 seconds, with Haway, of City College, second, and Ferguson scored his second victory in the 100-yard race, beating his teammate, Howe, by about three feet, in the slow time of 1 minute 6 seconds.

The diving was rather a poor exhibition. All the contestants missed some of their dives. Benjamin, of Yale, took first with 83.3 points.

Jones, of City College, carried the honors in the plunge for distance. He covered 68 feet 6 inches, as against 68 feet by Bright, and 65 feet by Loeb, the Blue's representatives.

The water polo game was disappointing. The C. C. N. Y. men played entirely on the defensive, and the Yale forwards seemed to lack aggressiveness. Several times, when they had an opportunity to try for a score, the ball was passed into the backfield, and no attack occurred. The first half ended without a tally.

In the second half the action was a little more lively, and Steiner, the Yale centre, managed twice to pierce the opposing line, touching the only two goals made.

400-foot relay, team (four men, each 200 feet)—Won by C. C. N. Y. (Schamberg, Cording, Hoody, Gross); Yale (Jenks, Steiner, Mayer, Ferguson); did not finish. No time taken.

Fancy diving—Won by Benjamin, Yale, with 83.3 points; Seeley, Yale, second, with 67.6 points; Klemm, C. C. N. Y., third, with 79 points.

50-yards swim—Dead heat for first between Ferguson and Mayer, Yale; Hecht, C. C. N. Y., third. Time—0:28.

220-yard swim—Won by Hopkins, Yale; Haway, C. C. N. Y., second; Carston, C. C. N. Y., third. Time—2:59.

Plunge for distance—Won by Jones, C. C. N. Y., with 68 feet; Bright, Yale, second, with 68 feet; Loeb, Yale, third, with 65 feet.

100-yard swim—Won by Ferguson, Yale; Howe, Yale, second; Gross, C. C. N. Y., third. Time—1:06.

Total score, Yale, 53; C. C. N. Y., 20.

Two College Swimming Meets on Card This Week

Columbia to Face Quakers While Yale and New York A. C. Men Try Conclusions.

By L. de B. HANDLEY.

Two interesting college swimming meets are scheduled for Friday. Columbia will face Pennsylvania in Philadelphia and City College of New York will try conclusions with Yale at New Haven. The former fixture is likely to bear considerable influence on the race for intercollegiate league honors. Experts believe Columbia has the best swimming material this year, and consider the Pennsylvania contingent next in line, so that results should give a very fair idea of general prospects and establish the winning team as favorite for the title.

Despite the probability of seeing Herbert Vollmer capture the 50, 100 and 220 yard events, the Philadelphians must be conceded a fighting chance at victory. On past performances they should score heavily in plunging and fancy diving and take enough seconds and thirds in the swimming races to pretty nearly equalize matters. There is reason to believe, therefore, that the highly rewarded relay contest may prove the deciding factor, and here everything indicates that the competition will be very close.

In water polo the odds point to Pennsylvania. Scores are not always a safe base of comparison, but when one notes that the Philadelphia players defeated City College 48 to 0, while the Morningsiders could do no better than 18 to 0 against the same team, it is difficult not to draw conclusions.

The meet at New Haven should prove an easy one for Yale, both in swimming and in water polo.

The elimination trials of the 100-yard metropolitan swimming championships will be held to-morrow at 6 p. m. in the pool of the New York Athletic Club. If all the entrants report several heats will be necessary. Herbert Vollmer will take advantage of the opportunity to continue until the 150-yard mark, after finishing his heat, in an attempt to lower C. M. Daniels's world's record of 1 minute 32 2-5 seconds.

Arthur Raithel and Perry McGillivray, of the Illinois Athletic Club, Chicago, have decided not the join the American swimming team which is to compete next month in the Honolulu-mid-Pacific water carnival. The announcement was made by William Bachrach, their coach, last Thursday.

Western followers of aquatics are wondering why the American 100-yard record of 54 2-5 seconds, set by Arthur Raithel last spring, is not listed in the new book of the Amateur Athletic Union. They claim that it has as much right to brackets as Duke Kahanamoku's indoor standard, identical in time, which has not been overlooked.

The opinion may be safely ventured that discrimination was made because Raithel swam in a 60-foot pool and Kahanamoku in a 75-yard one. The belief evidently still obtains that turns always afford an advantage. This belief is unwarranted, though. There is absolutely no doubt that after a certain speed has been attained—and 55 seconds is the estimated constant—a swimmer loses on the turns instead of gaining. A good proof of this is the fact that Kahanamoku has been able to do 100 yards straightaway in 53 1-5 seconds, officially, and has never beaten 54 2-5 seconds in a pool.

For the rest there is something contradictory about the recognition of these two records of the Hawaiian and the rejection of Raithel's. If turns are an advantage, then his indoor time is not deserving of standard honors; if they are a handicap instead, Raithel's is the better pool performance.

The swimming tournament of the Public Schools Athletic League enters its semi-final round this week, and four meets are on the cards: Commercial vs. Townsend Harris Hall, De Witt Clinton vs. Bay Ridge, Stuyvesant vs. Erasmus Hall and Boys' vs. Commerce.

A set interscholastic swimming events will be run off on Saturday under the supervision of Pennsylvania University in the Weighman pool, Philadelphia. George Kistler, who has charge of the meet, expects a number of the speediest boys in the East to be on hand.

And speaking of high school swimmers, E. M. Shields, of Mercersburg Academy, who will be a contestant at the national interscholastic championships next month, seems to be in line for the 100-yard title. He is credited with covering the distance in 57 seconds, and his most dangerous opponents—Leo Handy, of Brookline, and Theodore Cann, of Hamilton Institute—have not so far touched this mark.

Matthew Mann, the noted Boston coach of water sports, has taken charge of the New York Athletic Club swimmers, and is enthusiastic over the prospects. If he succeeds as well with his new pupils and he has in the past with every team he has handled the Mercury Foot representatives will soon brook no rivals.

High Score at Basketball.

(By Telegraph to The Tribune.)

Manlius, N. Y., Jan. 8.—Another high score was made by the Manlius School basketball team when it snowed under the Phœnix High School here to-day by a score of 100 to 4. The Manlius boys played rings around their opponents, piling up a big lead in the first half, when it forced the play at a fast pace. The second half found the Phœnix still unable to stop the steady bombardment at their goal, and they were glad when the final whistle blew.

THE WEATHER REPORT

Forecasts and Records for the Last Twenty-four Hours.

Washington, Jan. 8.—The disturbance that was noted on the north Pacific Coast Friday night has increased in intensity and the general depression covers practically the entire district west of the Rocky Mountains, with more general rains in progress in the Pacific states and snows in the middle and north plateau. There is also a moderate disturbance over the Dakotas and Manitoba, but east of the Rocky Mountains pressure, although falling, is high, with a marked crest over the Northeast. There was no precipitation of consequence other than that in the Far West. Some of the lowest temperatures of the present season were recorded Saturday morning in the middle Atlantic states and temperatures are quite low throughout the Atlantic and Gulf states generally, but elsewhere, except in the Pacific states, they are rising and are above the seasonal average.

Fair weather is indicated Sunday east of the Mississippi River, with rising temperature followed on Monday by snows or rains in the Ohio Valley, the upper lake and probably the lower lake region. It will also be warmer Monday in the Atlantic states.

Winds for Sunday and Monday: North and Middle Atlantic, moderate east to southeast; South Atlantic, moderate northeast; East Gulf, moderate northeast and east; West Gulf, gentle to moderate northeast and southeast; upper lakes, moderate to fresh south winds Sunday, with increasing cloudiness, probably snow on Superior; lower lakes, moderate southeast Sunday with fair, slightly warmer weather.

Forecasts for Special Localities.—For Eastern New York, fair and quite cold Sunday; Monday increasing cloudiness and warmer, probably rain or snow in north portion.

For Northern New England—Fair Sunday, slowly rising temperature; Monday fair and warmer, except probably snow in North Vermont.

For Delaware, New Jersey, Eastern Pennsylvania, District of Columbia, Maryland, West Virginia and Southern New England—Fair, slightly warmer Sunday; Monday partly cloudy and warmer.

For Western New York—Fair, warmer Sunday; Monday unsettled; probably local snows, warmer east.

For Western Pennsylvania, Ohio and Kentucky—Fair, warmer Sunday; Monday unsettled; probably local snows or rains.

For Florida—Fair Sunday, except local rains and colder south; Monday fair.

For South and North Carolina—Fair Sunday and Monday, with slowly rising temperature.

For Virginia—Fair Sunday and Monday, with rising temperature.

FLECK WINS MILE RACE

Little Johnny Fleck, of Morris High School, won the one-mile open race at the annual indoor games of De Witt Clinton High School, held at the 69th Regiment Armory, last night.

The race was a nip-and-tuck affair from the starting pistol shot, Fleck being closely pressed by R. McLay, of Yonkers, and B. Hopper, of Richmond Hill High School, who finished second and third, respectively. On the bell lap Fleck was leading by a yard, with his two rivals bunched at his heels, when he started a wild sprint.
