FRENCH GET CALL TO HELP MARJORIE

Profits of Theatre Francais Concert, March 12, to Go to Warship Fund.

SEEK TO SAVE U. S. FROM BELGIAN FATE

Promoters Urge Compatriots to Support Girl's Plan of Preventing Invasion.

The French people of New York have been called to the colors in Marjorie's Battleship campaign. The call is issued by Lucien L. Bonheur, director, and Mme. Blanche Arral, artistic director of the French Theatre, 19 West Forty-fourth Street, in the form of an appeal to every one of French and Belgian blood to come to the Sunday evening concert at the theatre March 12. The entire net proceeds will be given to help Marjorie build her big war boat for Uncle Sam.

Plans were well under way yesterday to make this concert to the French community of the city what the Hippodrome show of last Sunday was to New York in general.

"We French people love the United States, and we want to do our part in helping any plan that will save this country from being exposed to the fate of Belgium and France," Mme. Arral said yesterday. "We know that preparedness is the only thing that can prevent that—plenty of warships, fighting men and guns.

Sure Plan Is All Right.

"Nothing could be finer than little Marjorie Sterrett's plan for building a battleship. We French and Belgians have learned to love and trust The Tribune because of Mr. Simonds's wonderful editorial tributes to our countries. We know that anything The Tribune is backing as it is backing Marjorie's fund is all right."

Mme. Arral is a prima donna of four continents, having sung at the Theatre National de l'Opera in Paris, Des Theatres Imperiaux, at Petrograd, the Metropolitan Opera House, the Theatre Royal de La Monnale, Brussels, and L'Esbekie, Cairo. In Sunday's programme she will appear in the opera comique "Les Noces de Jeanette," with Mme. Jean Maubourg, of the Metropolitan Opera House.

The comité de patronage of the French Theatre is composed of Mr. Bonheur, president and founder; Mrs. Francis M. Bacon, jr., Mrs. Clarence C. Buel, Miss Susan B. Chase, W. Bourke Cockran, Mrs. Charles H. Ditson, Mrs. Moise L. Erstein, Joseph Freedlander, Miss Gillespie, Eliot Gregory, Mrs. B. S. Guinness, Mrs. P. Cooper Hewitt, Mrs. Archer Huntington, Mrs. Roland F. Knoedler, Philip Lydig, Mrs. S. Stanwood Menken, Mrs. H. A. Murray, Mme. Carlo Polifeme, General Horace Porter, John Quinn, Mrs. Douglas Robinson, Mrs. William G. Rockefeller, Jefferson W. Seligman, Miss Beverly Sitgreaves, Mrs. I. N. Spiegelberg, James B. Townsend, Lloyd Warren, Mrs. Butler Williamson, Mrs. Norman de R. Whitehouse and Mrs. Henry Fairfield Osborn.

New Branch Fund Started.

Mme. Arral has already asembled a programme made up of the best musical and dramatic talent in French circles in the city. It will be announced later. She is also preparing a special feature, mingling French and American patriotic sentiment, in which she hopes to persuade Marjorie Sterrett to take part.

From C. B. Hollinger, managing editor of "The New Era," Lancaster, Penn., came word yesterday that George Feusch, ten years old, had won the honor of being the first Lancastrian to contribute toward Marjorie's battleship. He gave a party to his playmates, at which $2 was raised. "The New Era" has arranged to serve as custodian of contributions for its section.

In the list of contributors published on March 1 $15.47 was credited to a collection made by Dorothea Graham Smith, of Elizabeth, N. J. The following are the subscribers whose offerings made up the amount: Major William B. Martin, Arthur C. Hall, Margaret Martin, Mary Martin, F. X. J. Keimig, H. E. Caulier, L. H. Schwed, Cora W. CALIFORNIANS DANCING IN SNOW IN CENTRAL PARK.

Why six perfectly moulded little damsels of the Los Angeles High School, who could just as well have disported in the lukewarm sunshine and salt waves of their own Pacific Coast, should choose to gambol on Central Park's snow-carpeted green none of the large crowd that admired and pitied them yesterday could say. But they did. Protected from the chill north wind by sunny dispositions, red hair ribbons and silken red veils that hung over their shoulders and fluttered about their bare knees, the merry Californian maids skipped over the snow, which their bare toes touched as lightly as the squirrels and the sparrows, with whom they made friends.

Miss Marian Morgan, who led them, called it a "Spartan dance." It was one of the many interpretations of Greek and Roman dancing which they were giving in dancing schools and private parties, Miss Morgan said. Her shy and demure little followers wouldn't think for a moment of dancing in a horrid, vulgar restaurant, she said, and the Central Park chauffeurs, whose long rows of cars lined the lawn, thought she was quite right.

DEFENDERS LEAD SUFFRAGE DANCE

Mrs. Whitehouse and Mrs. Laidlaw led off in a one step and the dance was on again for the ten thousand. For the leaders there was a scant hour to explain the political situation to their husbands, and then dash off again for the 12:20 train to Albany. Fifty of the Assembly district leaders who accompanied them down from Albany will go up again this morning to show the gentlemen of the judiciary that even on the morning after a ball they cannot neglect the cause. These fifty district leaders are the real heroines of the occasion, for they had perfectly good ball gowns at home, which never saw the shining lights of Madison Square Garden. They came directly from the train to the dance after their day in Albany.

The Garden was decorated with miles of yellow and blue bunting, with American flags above the musicians' platform. White pillars divided the dancing space from the promenade. This proved a great convenience to the dancers, as it saved them from being run down by preoccupied groups heatedly discussing the affair at Albany.

No Smoking Rule Upheld.

Moncure Robinson and his little group of floor police issued a rule early in the evening, "No smoking." This was to protect the flimsy paper caps and ruffs of the programme girls from the danger of fire. The heroes who assisted him in the thankless task of keeping 4,000 American youths from cigarettes were Henry W. Bull, Francis W. Crowninshield, Bertram de N. Cruger, Charles B. Dillingham, William O'D. Iselin, Charles D. Wetmore and Norman de R. Whitehouse.
