MARJORIE QUEEN OF NEW ROCHELLE

Children and Their Band Brave Storm to Meet Her and See Film.

WATERBURY TO SEE GIRL PATRIOT TO-DAY

To Give Monster Benefit, for Which All Services Have Been Volunteered.

New Rochelle surrendered to Marjorie Sterrett yesterday. She approached the town in a blinding snowstorm, hoping to take it by surprise, but found her followers, undaunted by the weather, lined up at attention in the station and ready to surrender unconditionally to the battleship builder.

Mrs. Zaida Wright Beattie, the editor of "The Tattler," which is handling the Marjorie's Battleship branch in New Rochelle, was the mistress of ceremonies, and called for a salute from the Boy Scouts and the Sutton Manor battalion. Then the parade formed.

First, a real cordon of police took their place in the snowy street and the Fort Slocum band of fifty pieces struck up a martial air as the children marchers fell into line, directed by Lieutenant Van Brunt, of the Grand Army of the Republic. Then came Marjorie, in the automobile of Harry Childs, followed by a line of decorated cars.

In spite of the storm, every child possessing a battleship button piled into Germania Hall at 2 o'clock to see Marjorie. The members of the Battleship Boosters' Club of New Rochelle, the first of its kind, were out in force. Harry Childs presided over the meeting, and an address of welcome was made by Alexander Anderson.

Seven, She Dances and Sings.

Little Helen Badgley, only seven years old, sang three songs, which delighted the audience, and finished by dancing to Grieg's "Morning." Then the battleship girl was introduced, and Helen gracefully presented Marjorie with a bouquet of flowers.

After the preparedness film "Defence or Tribute?" which was greeted with intense enthusiasm, Marjorie was whisked away to the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Hebert Childs, the author of the preparedness song "America, Prepare!" and one of the most ardent workers for the battleship fund in her community. There she was given a party by the members of the Sutton Manor Battalion, whose Captain is Hebert Childs.

At the evening performance William B. Gray, president of the New Rochelle Association, acted as presiding officer, and a complete preparedness programme of music and speeches was given before the film. Although the weather was not suspicious, the spirit shown toward the battleship fund was infectious and genuine.

The thriving Battleship Boosters' Club, who with "The Tattler" arranged Battleship Day for New Rochelle, is headed by Mrs. Beattie, chief guardian. The Guardians include Mrs. Martin Keogh, Mrs. William S. Beers, Mrs. Eben Adams, Mrs. Clayton Turner, Mrs. A. J. Huntington, Mrs. Willard Pine, Mrs. Ira Carpenter, Mrs. George L. Cade, Mrs. Hugh Gardener, Mrs. Samuel Swinburne, Mrs. Harold T. Birnie, Mrs. Irving L. Camp, Mrs. H. L. Moore, Mrs. Earl Mayo, Mrs. D. C. Thomas, Mrs. Charles Barnes, Mrs. William Harding and Mrs. Clare Briggs.

Waterbury waits its turn to-day to see the Battleship Girl. All daily records went to smash there on Friday when $158.75 was added to the fund, bringing its grand total up to $1,028.45. With this imposing sum it awaits confidently the smile of Marjorie Sterrett, whose dime was the open sesame for this outpouring of wealth in Waterbury, as in a hundred other cities and towns in this broad land.

This is what "The Waterbury American" has to say in its weekly report:

"These figures are fair evidence that there is no waning of interest here after eight weeks. We keep thinking we have reached the limit, but we seem not to have reached it yet. Washington papers might copy the fact that 'The American' to-day received official indorsement and an official contribution from the Catholic University of America, at Washington, together with an expression of surprise that no Washington paper had yet enlisted in the patriotic cause.

"Thus far we have been unable to expend a red cent on this benefit for Sunday. Even the theatre scrubwomen have volunteered. It looks as though the proceeds would be 100 per cent velvet for the fund. Almon C. Judd, manager of the Hotel Elton, is planning a luncheon party in honor of the little battleship lady, at which representative girls from the schools will make her acquaintance."

Benefit Entirely Voluntary.

The benefit, which is to be held in Poli's Theatre, given for the occasion by S. Z. Poli, marks an epoch in benefits. Not only have all the principals volunteered their services for this afternoon without price, but the Musicians' Union of Waterbury is giving the services of a twenty-four-piece orchestra for the afternoon. A special meeting of the union was called for last Sunday, and the rule against giving free benefits was suspended in honor of the patriotic cause.

Marjorie will be met on her arrival in Waterbury by automobile from New Haven by three troops of the Boy Scouts of America and a band of thirty pieces from the Waterbury Boys' Club. She will be presented with a brass tablet at the theatre, pledging her admirers in the Brass City to raise a large sum for the U. S. S. America.

From all over the country similar reports of enthusiasm for the battleship fund came into The Tribune yesterday. Naugatuck, Conn., where "Defence or Tribute?" the motion picture argument for preparedness, recently was shown, sent in a check for $150, bringing its subscriptions up to $259.

"The theatre was packed at the first show," reads "The Daily News'" report. "Over fifteen hundred children paid admission to the three performances, though the seating capacity of the theatre is only 650. The campaign is now being pushed among local fraternal organizations and in several factories, and we expect good results."

Reports from a few of the other newspapers in the movement follow:

The Boston Record.

Total contributors, 8,454; total amount, $1,268.15. Society ball tonight at Malden Armory for the benefit of the battleship fund. Boston school regiment numbering 3,000 boys taking it up.

The Newburgh Journal.

Three hundred and eighty-five contributors have paid in $63.11. Just beginning to receive group contributions. The fund is growing rapidly at present.

San Diego Tribune.

The children of San Diego voluntarily started a fund here after reading the story of Marjorie Sterrett. It required no urging, no suggestions. One little boy sent his dime to "The Evening Tribune," and since that time the contributions have been received by this newspaper at an average rate of $2 a day.

This may not seem large, judging by Eastern standards, but for a community of the size of San Diego, coupled with the fact that no urging has been required, it speaks well for the children here. The dimes are still coming, and to date we have received $16.10. No contribution has been for more than a dime.

Peekskill Daily Union.

To Wednesday night we had collected $70.14 from 585 contributors. Thursday night we organized the first Battleship Club. Marjorie Sterrett was elected president and the club named after her. Miss Sterrett has appointed Carrie M. Katz, thirteen years old, her deputy for Peekskill. Peekskill Sons of Veterans will give a benefit dance for the fund on May 1.

Chatham Republican.

In the list of names of subscribers to the Marjorie Battleship Fund will be found people in almost every business or vocation represented in Chatham. The amount raised by "The Chatham Republican" is not large, but will be a link in the big sum which is bound to be totalled during the campaign, and there will be more to follow from here.

ARMY OF PAPERS IN GIRL'S NAVY

Each Day Brings New Publications, Eager to Push Battleship Fund.

More papers are enlisting in Marjorie's navy daily. One by one they come, bringing their crew of readers whose hearts have been stirred by the appeal of a school girl, to whom politics and diplomacy mean nothing, and who looks on preparedness simply as a duty which every person owes to his country.

No whirlwind methods have been used in the campaign to build the U. S. S. America. No spellbinders have made a tour of the country, stirring the people by emotional appeals. Only the brief letter of a child, summing up in a page of girlish handwriting the creed of patriotism, has been printed here and there by editors who believe that all is not right with the defence of the nation. The people have responded. Naturally, the papers which reflect progressive sentiment have reported the response.

Thirty-six Papers in State.

More and more find it necessary to mention this movement every week merely from the standpoint of news. When a sufficient number of people are interested in any one subject it becomes news and must be reported by newspapers which pretend to be alive to the questions of the day. Thirty-six papers in New York State, where the movement started, are publishing regular reports of Marjorie's fund. Many others have referred to it in their news or editorial columns, and are referring to it more and more often here and in other parts of the country.

The following letters, from the many which continue to come to The Tribune inquiring about the fund, will show the way in which this movement is spreading by the weight of its own appeal:

House of Representatives, U. S., Washington, D. C., April 4, 1916.
The Tribune, New York City.

Gentlemen: We would appreciate the favor very much if you would refer us to the proper party having in charge the Marjorie Sterrett Battleship Fund.

"The Liberty Register," published at Liberty, N. Y., and owned and published by Congressman Ward, would be glad to act as receiver for Sullivan County contributions to this fund.

Assuring you of the Congressman's appreciation for any attention to this inquiry, I am, very truly,
GEORGE H. LYNCH,
Advertising Manager "The Liberty Register."

"The Silver State," Deer Lodge, Mont., March 31, 1916.
New York Tribune, New York City.

Dear Sirs: Inclosed you will please find a postoffice order for $4, contributed by forty of the children of Deer Lodge for Marjorie's battleship. These children gave their dimes without being urged to do so and are proud of the fact, although they live in the Rocky Mountain region and are isolated from so much war talk. Kindly send me the buttons and I will see that they are delivered. Wishing you all kinds of success and awaiting a copy of The Tribune with the story, I am, fraternally yours, JOSEPH SMITH, II,
Publisher.

"The Ottumwa Courier," Ottumwa, Iowa, April 1, 1916.
New York Tribune, New York City.

Sirs: Inclosed is a clipping from last night's edition of "The Courier" which shows that Marjorie Sterrett's appeal has not fallen on deaf ears in Iowa. "The Courier Junior," which intends to take up the matter and push it, is a one-page section, once a week, devoted entirely to children. It comes out on Thursday. We would like to print a picture of Marjorie, and if you have a "mat" of her that you would be willing to send us we would greatly appreciate it.

We shall be glad to cooperate with you in this matter, and will forward whatever sum is raised to you in due course of time. Sincerely yours,
R. D. MAC MANUS,
Managing Editor.

"The Norwalk Hour," Norwalk, Conn., April 3, 1916.
New York Tribune, New York.

Dear Sir: In answer to several requests we started a subscription list for the Marjorie Sterrett Battleship Fund. Probably ought to have written you first, but there seems to be quite an interest, and I write you for advice and suggestions. How and when shall we send the money in? How about the buttons? Pardon my ignorance, but I jumped into the proposition without proper consideration. Sincerely,
VICTOR W. FERRIS.

"The Torrington News," Torrington, Conn., April 3, 1916.

Gentlemen: I am in receipt of matter relating to the Marjorie Sterrett Battleship Fund and agree to abide by the conditions. I have already acquainted you with the fact that "The News" will make its first appearance April 17. We expect a daily circulation of about 3,000, and no doubt we will be able to arouse a lively interest in the fund. I am pleased to help in this patriotic movement. Respectfully yours,
JAMES WILLIAM CONNELL.

AUSTRIAN BUYING ADVANCES COTTON

New Crop Contracts, in Active Demand, Gain 6 to 10 Points.

Reports that Continental interests are buying new crop contracts in New Orleans were followed by rather a sharp advance in the cotton market. Offerings were comparatively light after the selling movement Friday, and it did not require an active demand to send July contracts up to 12.07, or about 10 points net higher. That delivery closed at 10.66, and the final tone was steady, with the market showing net gains of from 6 to 10 points for the day. Private wires received here from New Orleans said that the Continental buying there was for Austrian account, and one of them said the demand was against recent big sales, presumably of spots.

Liverpool fully met Friday's declines in the American markets, and private cables reported some hedge selling, but after opening steady at a decline of 1 point to an advance of 1 point, the market here quickly turned firmer, in sympathy with the strength in New Orleans. Trade interests were moderate buyers of near months, while the advance in the Southern market was accompanied by New Orleans buying orders here, and there was also scattered covering which sent the active positions about 9 to 10 points net higher. Closing prices were within a point or two of the best.

The local market for spot cotton was steady and 5 points higher at 12.05 for middling upland; sales nil. Range of prices:

PRODUCE AND GRAIN PRICES

Wheat Is Heavy on Reports of Cold Weather—Corn Lower.

WHEAT.

After a show of strength at the opening in response to reports of cold weather in the Northwest and possibly delayed seeding the wheat market developed heaviness which lasted a good part of the forenoon, being checked toward the close by rumors of a more favorable turn in international political news. After selling off to $1.15 for May and $1.13 for July, representing a decline of 2½c under the previous close, covering orders caused a rally of a cent a bushel, and final prices were about 1c below the close of Friday. Some export interest was shown on the break, but appeared to be withdrawn on the late upturn.

Foreign markets displayed little feature and Broomhall cabled predictions for large world's shipments, a good portion of which will be destined for the United Kingdom. Cash wheat quoted as follows: No 1 durum, $1.33; No 2 hard, $1.30; No 1 Northern Duluth, $1.39; No 1 Northern Manitoba, $1.40¾, all f o b, New York.

CORN.

The corn market had a steady opening, but showed weakness later in response to the heaviness in wheat and rather heavy unloading by Western bulls. The better late political news started a covering movement, however, which rallied May from 74½c to 75c and July from 75¾c to 76¼c, the close showing ½@¾c net loss. Cash demand was not particularly active, and while the movement at the interior is not liberal, it seems ample to supply the demand. No 2 yellow corn in the local market was quoted at 85½c, c i f, New York. Cables were firm on bullish Argentine advices and covering.

OATS.

Opening without change from the previous night, oats advanced a little on the unsettled weather report, but weakened with other grains, followed by a slight rally near the close, which was ½@¾c under the previous night. The local cash market was easy and somewhat lower, closing as follows: Standard, 51@51½c; No 3 white, 50@50½c; No 4 white, 49@49½c; fancy clipped white, 52½@53½c; ordinary clipped white, 49½@51c, all elevator.

RYE.

Market steady; No 2 Western, $1.04, c i f, New York.

COFFEE.

Reports of higher ocean freights and talk of a further advance in cost and freight offers seemed to be responsible for a renewal of bull support and covering in the coffee market yesterday. Business was more than ordinarily active for a Saturday half-holiday, and all the active months made new high records for the season, with July contracts selling up to 8.33c and December to 8.58c, or 79@8 points above Friday's closing figures. The close was at practically the best point, or 86@8 points net higher, and sales amounted to 43,250 bags, including switches from May to December.

The official cables showed an advance of 200 reis in the Rio market and of 50 reis at Santos, with a decline of 1-32d in the rate of Rio exchange on London, while interior Santos receipts were light, and in connection with the firmness of the primary markets probably served to emphasize the recent smaller estimates of the crop.

Cost and freight offers were in line with the higher official cables, being reported about 10 points higher in most cases, with quotations ranging from about 10.45c to 11c for Santos 4s, while 4s and 5s were quoted at 10.35@10.45c and 3s at 11@11.75c. The opening here was 2@14 points higher. There was some Wall Street realizing on the advance, but offerings were well absorbed and there was scattered covering, as well as renewed support from some of the more prominent recent buyers.

The market for spot coffee was firm, with quotations unchanged at 9¾c for Rio 7s and 10½c for Santos 4s. Range of prices:

SUGAR FUTURES.

Futures opened steady, unchanged to an advance of 1 point, with sales on the call 300 tons. Trading during the morning was not overactive, but the undertone was steady, with trade interests moderate buyers. The market closed steady, net unchanged to an advance of 1 point, with total sales of 2,600 tons. Range of prices:

COTTONSEED OIL.

The cottonseed oil market showed little feature, opening a few points lower on reports of easier crude in Texas. There was only a scattered commission house trade, with later a little support from bull interests, as the reports of lower crude could not be confirmed. Range of prices:
