THE YEAR'S GREATEST DRAMA.

Ruth Honeywill and William Falder (Cathleen Nesbitt and John Barrymore) face each other in John Galsworthy's "Justice."

Actors' Fund Again.

The final benefit this season in behalf of the Actors' Fund is to take place at the Metropolitan Opera House on Tuesday afternoon. The second act of Madame Butterfly will be given, with Geraldine Farrar, Antonio Scotti, Rita Fornia, Angelo Bada and Pietro Audisio, under the musical direction of Georgio Polacco, with the full Metropolitan Opera House Orchestra. Fritz Kreisler, the violinist, will make his farewell New York appearance, and Leopold Godowsky, world-famous pianist, will appear in several solos. Mme. Louisa Villani, Anna Fitziu and Andreas de Segurola, of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will contribute vocal numbers. Edna May will appear in the "Follow-On" song from "The Belle of

New Brighton to Open.

The opening of the New Brighton Theatre, harbinger of summer, will take place on the afternoon of May 22. The playhouse by the sea will once more dedicate itself to vaudeville. It is announced that there have been a number of changes in the interior of the house, as well as one or two on the outside. The most important of the latter is the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company's promise to run more trains.

Tree Elsie Ferguson
"Sir Herbert Tree lifts production to success with his portrayal of Shylock. It is a luminous picture that the gifted English actor offers us, a picture splendidly daring, startlingly artistic. In his Shylock there comes to life one of Shakespeare's most complex creatures. And, as the man's rare reveal every shade of the diamond, this interpreter lays bare to our view every one of the innumerable twists and turns in Shylock's intricate character. His concentrated passion, his searing anguish, his studied hatred provoked the mixture of pity, sympathy, repulsion and wonder that the Bard of Avon aimed to evoke."—Brooklyn Eagle.
"Tree is an uncommon Shylock, consistent, pictorial and dramatic. In versatility and intelligence it is little less than astonishing."—Eve. World.
Last Performances of Sir Herbert Tree's production of Shakespeare's Merchant of Venice
LAST NIGHTS
"Such a young and such a beautiful Portia has not been seen since Miss Julia Marlowe's beginning in Shakespearean drama. Worthy of the best traditions."—N. Y. Herald
"A new and very gifted Portia in the graceful person of Elsie Ferguson. The change from less classic characters to a Shakespearean part was a great test of the young actress's intelligence, no less than of her courage. She was more than equal to it."—N. Y. American.
"Sir Herbert Tree's conception had the virtue of splendid theatre, which is always found in the performances of such an intellectual player as the distinguished Beerbohm Tree. There has been no recent performance of 'The Merchant of Venice' so admirable in all its details as that which the audience at the New Amsterdam Theatre witnessed."—N. Y. Sun.
