JUROR'S WINKS CAUSE NEW TRIAL FOR SUIT

Flirted with Woman Interested in Case, Say Witnesses.

[By Telegraph to The Tribune.]

Baltimore, Oct. 7.—An alleged flirtation in court between Francis Harrison, one of the jurors who recently sustained a will of the late Mrs. Ellenvra Shelley, and Mrs. Elizabeth A. Shelley, a legatee in the will, resulted to-day in the granting of a new trial in the case by Judge Stump, in the Court of Common Pleas.

Judge Stump in giving his decision said he granted the new trial solely on the affidavits of several witnesses who were in the courtroom. These stated that Harrison and Mrs. Shelley winked and smiled at each other several times during the hearing of the motion last Saturday for a new trial. Several of Harrison's fellow jurors testified that they did not notice the flirtation. Both Harrison and Mrs. Shelley denied it.

The will in question is one of many said to have been made by Mrs. Elizabeth Shelley, who at the time of her death was eighty-two years old.

PEACE KEYNOTE OF YOM KIPPUR

Special Prayer Offered in Synagogues All Over Nation.

JEW IS PICTURED AS WAR SCAPEGOAT

Blamed for All Woes, Dr. Harris Tells Temple Israel.

"We pray to Thee, O Lord, that the war which is destroying thousands of lives in the embattled countries of Europe come to a sudden close. May there no longer be bloodshed, iniquity, the clash of arms. May peace be restored, to turn the sword into the ploughshare and the hate of men to love."

This was the text of the special prayers for peace offered in the Jewish houses of worship throughout the country yesterday, the Day of Atonement, or Yom Kippur. It was part of the sermon delivered by the ministers of both reform and orthodox synagogues.

Dr. Maurice H. Harris, president of the Eastern Council of Reform Rabbis, spoke at Temple Israel, in Harlem, on "The Jew as the Scapegoat." Dr. Harris showed how the Jew was being blamed for defeat by the powers now at war. Russia, he said, was convinced that the Jews blew up munition plants; the Poles sought to win the favor of the Germans by saying that the Jews had endeavored to betray them to the Russians.

"The convenient habit of making the Jew the scapegoat for all sorts of reverses that arise from the imperfections of our economic system and social organization still prevails," said Rabbi Harris. "In Russia he has been called the exploiter of the peasantry. In Germany and Austria he has been called the 'consumer,' as distinct from the producer; and the anti-Semitic movement was a cunning political move to divert the attention of the public in general against the autocratic powers and abuses of government by persuading the people that all their social troubles were due to the Jew.

"Some lay the abortive Boer War at his door. The Russians explained their defeats of 1915 to the Jews blowing up their munition plants. Nearly every writer in literature has had his fling at the long suffering people, from the Greek Apion right down to the unspeakable Tom Watson, of Georgia.

"I would say to you particularly, young people, embrace that portion of the Jewish programme that appeals to you. Give it a real place in your lives. Let it tally with your convictions, and of that conviction have the courage."

Ex-Judge Leon Sanders, of the Hebrew Sheltering and Immigrant Aid Society, spoke at eight East Side synagogues. He made a special plea for the immigrants now here and those who will come. He condemned restriction and told of the conditions of the suffering Jews abroad.

"They are crying to you for help," said Judge Sanders. "They look to America as the land of hope. Lend them new courage, you Jewish men and women. Listen to their pleas for aid."

Another appeal was voiced by Rabbi Joseph Silverman, of Temple Emanu-El, where a large sum of money was raised. Charity, Dr. Silverman pointed out, was a means of gaining atonement.

"Rend your hearts of selfishness, greed, ingratitude, avarice, arrogance, harshness, cruelty, sin, hatred, strife, gossip and slander," said Dr. Silverman. "May Israel rededicate itself to the ideals so long cherished in the faith. May Israel find ever new opportunities for the exemplification of its doctrines of love and justice. In this direction the new federation for the support of Jewish philanthropies is a good omen. It is fitting to appeal to all men and women on behalf of our suffering brethren abroad."

Among those who were present at services in Temple Emanu-El were Jacob H. Schiff, Felix M. Warburg, Louis Marshall, Samuel Untermyer, Isaac N. Seligman and other prominent Jews.

Seven-Day Festival Next.

Dr. Stephen S. Wise's sermon at the Free Synagogue was on the "Dream of Life." Dr. Wise spoke in the morning at the Community House, Southern Boulevard and 163d Street, The Bronx.

"Succoth," or the "Feast of the Tabernacle," will be the next holiday to be celebrated by the Jews of this city. It will start this week and, according to the orthodox observance, will last seven days. In celebration of this holiday little houses are built in back yards or on roofs and the meals eaten therein. The holiday is based on the Biblical quotation:

"Ye shall dwell in booths seven days, that your generations may know that I made the children of Israel to dwell in booths when I brought them out of the land of Egypt."
