WILSON TO LIGHT 'LIBERTY' TO-DAY

Battleships Will Fire Salute at President's Signal from Mayflower

EXECUTIVE AND WIFE WILL LEAD PARADE

Ruth Law Scheduled for Flight Around Statue in Illuminated Aero

The new permanent electric lighting system installed by popular subscription on Bedloe's Island to illuminate the Statue of Liberty will be officially inaugurated to-day by President Wilson. The ceremonies will include a parade, led by the President and Mrs. Wilson, and a banquet at the Waldorf-Astoria, at which they will be the guests of honor.

The President will arrive in New York from Washington at 3:18 o'clock this afternoon. The party will include Mrs. Wilson, Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, and Mrs. Daniels; William C. Redfield, Secretary of Commerce, and Mrs. Redfield; Joseph P. Tumulty and Dr. Cary T. Grayson. It will be met at the Pennsylvania Station by a special deputation of Mayor Mitchel's committee of 200, which arranged the ceremonies. The deputation will include the Mayor, United States Senator-elect William M. Calder and Ralph Pulitzer.

Ambassadors Among Guests

The Presidential party will proceed to the pier at Eightieth Street on the North River and will be taken aboard the Mayflower in navy tugs. Jules Jusserand, French Ambassador to the United States, and James W. Gerard, United States Ambassador to Germany, will be among the President's guests aboard the yacht.

The members of the Mayor's committee and their wives will board the Dolphin. Secretary Daniels's yacht, which will follow the Mayflower down the river. The warships of the Atlantic fleet division anchored in the Hudson will salute the President's yacht as it passes, and the 1,000,000,000-candle-power Sperry searchlight, atop the Sperry Building, in Brooklyn, will play above the yacht from the time it weighs anchor at Eightieth Street until it stops off Bedloe's Island at 5:45 p. m.

A red rocket sent up from the Mayflower will be the signal for the release of the current from the Liberty lighting plant, and as the statue lights up a twenty-one-gun salute will be fired by the battleships anchored in the river. Simultaneously also, if all goes well, Miss Ruth Law, recent winner of the American long-distance aviation record, will appear above the statue in an illuminated aeroplane.

Parade in Electric Autos.

After the statue is lighted the Mayflower and Dolphin will discharge their passengers into navy tugs, which will land them at Piers 1 and A, North River. Eighty electric automobiles will carry them along the line of the parade, which will be: Around Bowling Green, up Broadway and across City Hall Plaza, thence via Park Row and Lafayette Street to Fourth Street, Thompson Street and so to Washington Square; thence under the Washington Arch to Fifth Avenue as far as the Waldorf-Astoria.

Five thousand Boy Scouts, under command of General E. A. McAlpin, will line Fifth Avenue from Washington Square to Thirty-fourth Street. The ordinary electric lights along the avenue will be replaced by "golden lamps," and immediately preceding the Presidential equipage will be an electrically illuminated float, bearing the symbolic figures "Peace and Prosperity." These figures will act as sentinels at the entrance of the Waldorf-Astoria.

1,200 Guests at Dinner

Twelve hundred guests have been invited to the banquet, which will begin at 7:30 o'clock. Mayor Mitchel will be toastmaster, and the speakers will include Ambassador Jusserand, who will read a cable from President Poincaré; former United States Senator Chauncey M. Depew, Henry L. Doherty, president of the Society for Electrical Development, and Ralph Pulitzer.

The "flood light" system of illuminating the Statue of Liberty entails the use of 240 powerful projectors, divided into fifteen batteries of sixteen lights each. Eleven of these batteries are arranged on the salients of old Fort Wood, three are mounted on the roofs of buildings on Bedloe's Island, and the other is tucked away in the crook of Liberty's left arm. Both gas and electricity are used to give the flaming effect which the torch hereafter will have, instead of the steady light provided by the ordinary incandescent electric bulb now in use.

The new lighting system cost $30,000. The fund wais raised by "The New York World." The maintenance of the light, the Department of War has been informed, will cost not more than $5,000 yearly.

Suffrage Flier to Hurl Votes "Bombs" at Wilson

As the Mayflower steams down the North River this afternoon, bearing the Presidential party to the illumination of the Statue of Liberty, the National American Woman Suffrage Association will fire the first gun in its new campaign for the passage of the Federal suffrage amendment. A woman voter in an aeroplane will pull the trigger.

Circling high above the President's yacht, Mrs. Richberg Hornsby, who hails from Illinois and who had the privilege of voting for Mr. Wilson, will bombard the Presidential party with bombs containing petitions from the women of the West, urging speedy action on the Susan B. Anthony amendment. In addition, her biplane will fly a strip of bunting bearing the inscription, "Women Want Liberty, Too."

Mrs. Hornsby will leave Midland Beach, Staten Island, about 3:30 o'clock, and will meet the President's yacht. She will circle the yacht at an altitude of 1,000 feet, and after dropping the petitions of the Western women and a bushel or so of small "Votes for Women" pennants, will return to Staten Island.

CAR MEN WON'T FIGHT RULING

Court's Decision That Anti-Strike-breaker Ordinance Is Illegal Stirs Men

The striking car men will, for the present, at least, make no fight on the decision of City Judge Joseph H. Beall, of Yonkers, that the anti-strikebreaker ordinance is illegal. William B. Fitzgerald said last night the Amalgamated Association might take some action.

The decision of Judge Beall that the ordinance is unconstitutional was made in the case of a strikebreaker charged with violating its provisions. He held that it protected the company in failing to live up to the terms of its franchise, and conflicted, he declared, not only with public policy but with the constitution and railroad law of the state.

The ordinance was passed eight years ago after a serious strike, and has been considered a bulwark of unionism in that in disturbances prior to the existing one no attempts were made to run cars, nor for over a month in the present strike. Now the company is operating on a 50 per cent basis.

"I presume," said Fitzgerald last night, "that the city officials of Yonkers may have something to say in this matter. Later the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes may do something. But for the immediate present there will be no action."

LOSE 9 DEPOSITS ON HOUSE

Purchasers Forfeit Often on Building Now Joseph H. Hoadley's Home

All records for foreclosure proceedings have been broken by the ten different auction sales of the property at 18 East Eighty-second Street, occupied by Joseph H. Hoadley, president and promoter of the International Power Company, who, with his wife, was recently arrested for contempt of court. Nine times deposits of from $6,700 to $11,700 have been put up by the purchasers and forfeited.

The first of the foreclosure proceedings was begun in January, 1912, by the New York Life Insurance Company, which had bought the mortgage. And the end is not yet. Application was made yesterday to the Supreme Court to permit Alfred Steckler, jr., receiver of the property, to pay $14,540, the amount of two forfeited deposits, to Arthur B. Westervelt, who finally took title to the property.

DETECTIVE BEATS 'SLAVE' WITNESS

District Attorney's Office Says Policeman Assaulted Man with Blackjack

One of the most important witnesses used by District Attorney Swann to prosecute leaders of the East Side white slavery ring was assaulted early last evening at First Avenue and Ninth Street by a policeman in plain clothes, according to Assistant District Attorney Smith, in charge of the investigation into police graft and vice. The description of the man's assailant is said to fit a detective who is at present under charges of grafting, preferred against him by a white slaver.

The victim of the assault was Jacob Solomon, whose testimony last summer led to the arrest and conviction of David Parrish, alias "Dave Siberia," a notorious white slaver. Solomon has earned an honest living since his discharge from the house of detention, the prosecutor says, and was on his way home from work when he was attacked. First Avenue was crowded.

"How many detectives are you sending to jail, you stool pigeon!" the detective shouted, according to Solomon.

Solomon protested that he had not testified against any policemen, whereat, he says, the man tried to choke him. A woman screamed "Police!" at the top of her lungs, and instantly the avenue was in an uproar.

"You don't need to call the police; they're right here," the man is said to have cried, showing his police badge. With that he struck Solomon in the face with a blackjack half a dozen times and knocked him down, according to the story. When Solomon got to his feet he ran away, with blood streaming down his face. Half an hour later he was in the District Attorney's office telling his story to Mr. Smith.

"This man was attacked," said the prosecutor, "because certain policemen believe he has been corroborating the charges of Sam Stein, who was arrested for white slavery last week at 328 East Fifteenth Street, with Kitty Wilson.

"Both pleaded guilty, and Stein has made a confession involving two detectives, who are alleged to have made a collection from Stein of $500, which they said was for a present to a certain police inspector. Stein has also told what he knows of police protection in the First and Third Inspection districts."

Jewish Farmers to Dance

Members of the Jewish Farmers of America finished the business sessions of their eighth annual convention yesterday at the Educational Alliance, and will have a ball at the Grand Central Palace to-night. Contributions made by members toward war relief work hereafter will be made through the Jewish Farmers of America instead of through other relief organizations.

CITY LIFE WRECKS A HOME

Happy Ten Years in Red Bank, Pair In Court After Year Here

Peter and Almira MacDougall found married life comparatively flawless while they lived in Red Bank, N. J. After ten years they came to New York. One year in New York, and Peter lives at 22 West 135th Street and Almira at 61 West 131st Street.

Peter was in the Domestic Relations Court yesterday on a charge of non-support, and there he told the favorite story of melodrama and the movies—how the wife got "highfalutin" ideas, discarded the old-fashioned bureau for shiny instalment house chiffoniers, grew dissatisfied with the clothes that were the mode in Red Bank and with Red Bank conceptions of amusement.

"Don't you wish, then," asked Magistrate Cornell, "that the thing to do is to return to Red Bank?"

"I am willing," said Peter, "but my wife says New York suits her."

Almira said her husband left her last August; and, anyway, she didn't care to be reconciled, because he had no system for giving her money. She said he earned $25 a week as a tailor, and she asked for $5 each week. Peter claimed his earnings averaged from $6 to $8 a week. The court ordered Peter to pay Almira $5 a month.

UNION MEN MARCH TO-DAY

15,000 Will Show Sympathy for Imprisoned Minnesota Miners

A police permit was granted yesterday afternoon to the defence committee of the Minnesota Iron Strikers' Association for a parade to-day in Manhattan and Brooklyn. It is expected that about 15,000 members of the American Federation of Labor, representing all branches of industry, will be in line.

The purpose of the parade is to express sympathy for strikers who are in jail in Minnesota awaiting trial for rioting.

The first division will meet at 2 o'clock at Rutgers Square, march to East Broadway, to the Bowery, up the Bowery to Cooper Square and up Fourth Avenue to Eighteenth Street, where a meeting will be held.

The second division, which forms at Montrose Avenue and Leonard Street, Brooklyn, will march over the Williamsburg Bridge and join the first at Rutgers Square.

5,000 WIN WAGE INCREASE; SHORT DAY FOR OTHERS

Chicago Clothing Workers Are Granted 48-Hour Week—Ten P. C. Raise for Mill Men

Woonsocket, R. I., Dec. 1.—More than 3,000 operatives in worsted yarn mills here will receive a 10 per cent increase in wages, beginning Monday according to notices posted to-day. The mills adopting the new schedule are the French Worsted, the Lafayette Worsted, the Woonsocket Worsted, Samoset, Desurmont Worsted and the Alsace Worsted, all manufacturers of fine worsted yarns. The Montrose Woollen Company also will grant an increase, it was announced.

Toledo, Dec. 1.—Two thousand men are affected by increases in wages granted by two companies. Three hundred employes in the car shops of the Wabash Railroad started this morning on a 10 per cent increase, which includes all classes of employes, piece work and salaried men, as well as day workers. Under the schedule, coach carpenters get 34 cents an hour, coach painters 30 cents and wrecking crew employes 24½ cents.

Seventeen hundred men in the employ of the Edward Ford Plate Glass Company began to-day under an increase of 8 per cent, making a total increase for the year of 26 per cent.

Framingham, Mass., Dec. 1.—The Dennison Manufacturing Company today posted notices that beginning January 3 the plant would be operated on a forty-eight-hour weekly schedule without reduction in wages. About 2,500 employes engaged in the manufacture of paper goods will be affected.

Chicago, Dec. 1.—Chicago clothing workers, heretofore paid on a fifty-hour weekly wage scale, will be paid the same wages for forty-eight hours' work beginning to-day, Jacob Abt, president of the Chicago Wholesale Clothiers' Association, announced. Time and a half will be paid for overtime. Mr. Abt asserted that to-day's reduction in working time means that more than $1,000,000 additional yearly will be paid to employes by members of the organization.

COURT HITS TAX REDUCERS

Appellate Division Rules Corporations Cannot Act for Owners

Corporations engaged in obtaining tax reductions for property owners received a setback in two decisions handed down yesterday by the Appellate Division. If these are sustained in the Court of Appeals it is likely that this phase of corporation activity will end.

In one case Samuel Floersheimer had obtained writs of certiorari to compel the Tax Commissioners to file in the Supreme Court the records of their department on certain property taxed. Floersheimer is an attorney employed by L. Tannenbaum, Strauss & Co., organized to "aid in the reduction of assessments on real estate." Lawson Purdy, president of the Tax Board, asked the Supreme Court to dismiss the writs. This was denied, and he appealed to the Appellate Division.

An owner or his authorized agent may apply at any time to the Tax Board to have his assessment reduced, but in the case of a writ of certiorari the services of a lawyer are required. Because of this the corporations that have been obtaining reductions have hired lawyers to take care of the legal end of the work.

The Appellate Division reversed the Supreme Court and sustained the Tax Board, saying: "The Tribelhorn (property owner) agreement with the Tannenbaum company is illegal and the retainer of the present counsel by Tribelhorn in this proceeding was unlawful. The machinery of the law was set here in motion by an attorney not employed by the relators and not subject to their control or power of dismissal. It would seem that the attorney had no legal status before the court."

The other case in which the decision is binding was that of the Trojan Realty Company against the Tax Board. The plaintiff obtained the services of an attorney, who organized a corporation known as the Expert Property Appraisers, Inc.

ALDERMEN FIGHT SALARY INCREASE

Would Cut Administration's Additions to Pay of City Officials

The Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen, which has had the city budget for 1917 under consideration for two weeks, met yesterday and decided to recommend to the full board at its meeting Monday reductions in the increases of salaries passed by the Board of Estimate.

Among the larger cuts to be recommended are those in the increase of the salaries of the President of the Board of Aldermen from $5,665 to $7,500; of Tilden Adamson, director of the Bureau of Contract Supervision, from $6,000 to $7,500; of George L. Terrell, director of the Bureau of Standards, from $6,000 to $7,500, and of Merritt H. Smith, chief engineer of the Department of Water Supply, from $10,000 to $12,000.

The salary of Professor William Wirt, who has been engaged in putting the Gary plan in the public schools of the city, receiving $10,000 for ten weeks' work a year, is recommended to be reduced to $5,000. The new position of executive manager of the Board of Education, at $10,000 a year, probably will be eliminated by the Aldermen. The increases to policemen and firemen will be allowed to stand. Cuts will also be recommended in some other increases.

It is expected the total cuts will amount to about $120,000 a year. Mayor Mitchel has the power either to approve or veto the action of the Aldermen. He probably will read his message on the budget at the meeting of the Board of Estimate next Friday.

Little Mothers' Bazaar To-day

The Little Mothers' Aid Association, of which Mrs. Clarence Burns is president, will hold its annual bazaar this afternoon in the grill room of the Waldorf. Among the articles on sale will be a doll dressed by Miss Olive Whitman, daughter of the Governor and herself one of the Little Mothers. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and Mrs. Whitman have also contributed gifts.

Lining Up for Greatest Labor Fight in History

On one side, are the railroads of the United States representing a capitalization of twenty billion of dollars, and employing more than one and a half million persons, combined to fight the Adamson Law by injunction. They are supported by a new eight billion dollar organization of business men, called the National Industrial Conference Board, who give employment to nearly seven million persons. On the other side, are four hundred thousand members of four great Brotherhoods, backed by nearly four hundred thousand other workers and by the two million members of the American Federation of Labor.

With such an alinement there are ominous possibilities of a tremendous labor war this winter.

The railroad companies, according to one of their official spokesmen, "are agreed to fight to the end," against the enforcement of the Adamson law, while Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, says warningly: "You throw down the gauntlet and we accept the challenge. When the time comes it will be another case of 'Lay on Macduff and damn'd be him that first cries "Hold, enough."'"

"The Digest" Makes You An Independent Thinker

"Give every man thy ear" is the shrewd advice of the immortal bard, "but reserve thy judgment." No one of the sage maxims which he puts into the mouth of Polonius contains more practical wisdom than this. It applies with peculiar force to the question of modern periodicals. There are so very many of these and their statements and opinions differ so radically. Obviously to "give ear" to all of them and then to make one's own decision as to what appear to be the facts is the best way to arrive at the truth, but no one has the time or the energy to dream of attempting this. The LITERARY DIGEST actually does this for you every week and presents you with an impartial survey of the results, leaving you to form your own conclusions. It gives you all sides of all the great questions of the day without an atom of partizan bias, and makes you the judge and jury. Buy it to-day and do your own thinking.
