NEWS AND NOTES FROM THE WINTER RESORTS

Florida's Season Starts Out To Be Gayest in Many Years

Every Day Brings New Arrivals at the Various Resorts and in Another Week All Fashionable Hotels Will Be Crowded; Palm Beach Club Opens

Every day brings new arrivals to the Florida resorts, and in another week it will be almost impossible to obtain reservations at the fashionable hotels. Reports from the South indicate that the next two months will be the gayest and liveliest in years, with golf, tennis, swimming, dinners and dances filling the daily programme.

The season's activities at Palm Beach started in earnest yesterday with the formal opening of the Palm Beach Country Club and the golf course. In the afternoon there was dancing in the Cocoanut Grove, which was continued in the evening in the palm room of the Poinciana.

At Miami yachting, tennis, swimming and fishing are the chief attractions. Much excitement was caused there a few days ago by the arrival of the dirigible C-1 from Far Rockaway, which made the trip in three days. Much interest also was aroused in the launching of the big houseboat Deep Sea Mystery, owned by Lawrence T. Cooper, which is said to be the most perfect craft of its kind ever launched at Miami.

The first golf tournament at Ormond begins to-morrow, and many well known golfers will take part. The links are crowded daily and the tennis courts are proving almost as popular. Some of the more daring already are indulging in surf bathing.

The swimming pool and casino at Belleair are proving very popular, and the afternoon dances are well patronized. From St. Augustine, Seabreeze and other gathering places come reports of a brilliant season already under way.

Lakewood and Atlantic City as usual are crowded, especially over the week-ends, with New Yorkers.

Supremacy of Golf Contested by Tennis At St. Augustine

Special Correspondence.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Jan. 25.—Golf, as usual, holds its own as an outdoor amusement, although it has a close rival in tennis, while a great many of the younger set have taken up horseback riding. There are many parties arranged for a gallop over the bridle paths of Anastalia Island and the hard beach of the ocean.

William H. Beardsley, president of the Flagler System, has arrived at the Ponce de Leon from New York and will remain for several days. Robert W. Parson was registered at the Ponce de Leon early in the week, from New York.

In an automobile party which reached the Ponce de Leon from Ormond early in the week were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence F. Abbott and their daughter, Miss Dorothy V. Abbott, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl P. Riedel and their daughter, Miss Eleanor Riedel, of Montclair, N. J., are guests at the Ponce de Leon.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Hoppin, of Providence, are also there, as are Harry E. Felton, president of the Union Tank Line of New York, and Mrs. Felton.

Le Grand B. Cannon, of Tuxedo Park, arrived early in the week at the Alcazar. Others there are Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey D. Anderson and their daughter, Miss Olive Anderson; Miss Marion L. Mrs. William Bradford Stryker, of Trenton, N. J., with her children, Katherine and William B., jr., have arrived to await the return of Lieutenant Stryker, who is of the Park Corps in France. They have the Cordova cottage. Mrs. William S. Stryker also is there.

Mr. and Mrs. John Parkin Gilford at their cottage on Fort Marin Reservation have as their guests Lieutenant James Potter Brown and Lieutenant Howard Kenney, of the destroyer Preston, recently returned to the Charleston Navy Yard from overseas duty; also as guests Francis Manin Riley and William H. Grinnell, of New York.

C. Weckliffe Yulee, of Tuxedo Park, N. Y., has been joined by Mrs. Yulee, who came to Charleston, S. C., early in the season.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Miles, of Pomfret, Conn., have joined the cottage colony and are on Cordova Street.

Mrs. Florence B. Sumner entertained at bridge Thursday afternoon on the balcony of the Ponce de Leon. At the tea hour Mrs. John Donald MacJennan and Mrs. Charles M. Swift poured tea. The guests included Mmes. Murray W. Seagears, Joel H. Lyman, D. H. Puller, George Fletcher, James D. Martin, N. G. Pierce, Edward A. Sumner, the Misses Elizabeth Biglow, Clarissa Anderson, Marion Swift and A. C. Falconer.

Palm Beach Season Earlier Than Usual: Hundreds Refused

Special Correspondence.

PALM BEACH, Fla., Jan. 25.—The fact that hundreds of people wishing accommodations at the Poinciana and Breakers hotels later than February 1 have been refused is a good gauge of the season, which is about ten days earlier than usual. With every single outside circumstance favorable to making this the gathering place of people with plenty of means who want to celebrate the ending of the war and give play to their pent up feelings, it is not remarkable that this is so.

Mayor John E. Hylan of New York has made reservations at the Poinciana for three weeks beginning February 10, and will be accompanied by his wife and daughter, Virginia. This is a familiar winter vacation spot for the Mayor, who has not missed a season in the last decade.

William K. Vanderbilt, jr., and Harold Vanderbilt transferred their headquarters this week to the Bradley cottage on Lake Worth, next to the villa of Sergey Friedo, but are keeping the household, the Ruffhouse, in commission. Mr. Vanderbilt was down early and lived for some time aboard the boat.

Leland Sterry returned from New York this week for the third time since the season started, having completed a deal by which he becomes president of a company that has taken over the famous old United States Hotel at Saratoga. Mr. Sterry is manager of The Breakers here, and, in his Saratoga deal, has his brother, Fred Sterry, of the Plaza, New York, with him.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Ostby and friends made up a foursome on the golf course on Wednesday. Harold Vanderbilt, Douglas Page, James Wallace, jr., and H. C. Clark were others going out together. Mr. and Mrs. T. Frothingham, jr., who have arrived at The Breakers from Boston for an indefinite stay, were on the links frequently during the week. Richard A. Hudnut also played over the course. George H. Barnes, Alfred Morrell, M. L. Keith, C. C. Magill, H. B. Smithers, G. H. Dunscombe, Mrs. D. L. Chambers, Miss Mae Lewis, Miss Rhesa G. De Bois and J. Arthur Hull were others registered this week at the golf club.

Van Dyke Hill, of New York, is registered at The Breakers and Lieutenant Commander William C. Van Antwerp, C. S. N., is stopping there. Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Hudnut, of New York, have a suite at The Breakers while looking for a cottage. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Berry, of Montreal, are registered for a short stay. Mrs. E. A. Wickham and Miss Berle Blackburn, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, are arrivals from the West. W. W. Hawkins, of New York; B. M. Gibbs and Mrs. O. H. Gibbs, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. E. McMooney and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Allen, of Detroit, are stopping at The Breakers. From Philadelphia, at The Breakers, are Dr. and Mrs. William R. Clark. Boston arrivals there include Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Shepard, Mrs. Stephen H. Brown and Mrs. William B. Trowbridge.

The arrivals at the Royal Poinciana this week included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Radford, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Buckley, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Vail, of Newark, N. J.; Lieutenant and Mrs. A. K. Laughlin, jr., of Savannah. Other Poinciana arrivals were Frederick A. Hoyt, of Bronxville; Lawrence Priddy, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Gidding, Frank P. Wilson, of New York; Captain and Mrs. George G. Van Duseu, of Washington; Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Van Dusen, of Minneapolis, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren B. Smith, of Binghamton, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Mitchell, of Philadelphia, have leased the Reef cottage for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Colgate have arrived for the season.

The Sailfish Club, of Palm Beach, a closely limited social organization, held its first meeting of the season, those attending including Henry T. Sloane, John C. King, Leonard D. Abl, H. C. Phipps, Harlan Kent Bolton, Walter J. Mitchell and Leonard Thomas.

Mrs. Louis Stumer, of Chicago, will join her husband to-morrow at Lotus cottage, accompanied by her daughter, Alene Stumer. Mr. Stumer had charge of conservation of industries in Illinois during the war.

British Women Form To Get Labor Rights

Lady Rhondda Leads League of Industrial Workers—Praises Lloyd George

LONDON, Dec. 20.—Lady Rhondda, president of the Women's Industrial League, announces in a letter to the newspapers that the object of the new league is to organize industrial women workers of all classes so that they may speak with one voice on matters of common concern in the employment of women in industry. District committees are being formed in industrial centers and these committees will select members of the Central Executive Council.

Lady Rhondda describes Premier Lloyd George's promise to organize women in industrial work as "a new charter of women's industrial rights. His pledge that new industries shall remain open to the employment of women, she says, opens a new future for women and will make it possible for them not only to fill well paid vocations but to raise to the highest positions in the industrial world.

"But," she added, "they must band themselves together to fight for their future, and this league with its annual subscription of one shilling gives them the opportunity. I am glad to say they are embracing it in large numbers."

Miami Woman's Club Has Many New York Guests at Luncheon

Merrymakers at Florida Winter Resort See Navy Dirigible on Record 1,800-mile Endurance Trip

Special Correspondence.

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 25.—There have been many luncheons and dinners at the hotels this week, at which New Yorkers figured prominently. The most notable was a dinner tendered by the Miami Woman's Club to a couple of hundred winter visitors. It was held at the Graiyna Thursday evening. California poppies and cream white roses banked the tables. Among those present were Miss Margaret L. James, Mrs. Thomas V. Moore, Mrs. Dudley S. Carrington, Mrs. Porter Sherman, Mrs. Homer W. Jackson, Miss Florence Barr, Mrs. Frank C. Allen, Miss Alice M. Brokaw and others.

Thousands of bathers and golfers glanced up from their sport Wednesday morning and beheld the largest of Uncle Sam's dirigibles, the C-1, as it hovered over the Miami Beach Casino on its way from Far Rockaway, N. Y., to Key West. It made the 1,800-mile trip in three days at an average speed of forty-eight miles an hour, and completed without a mishap the longest voyage of its kind ever undertaken in the United States.

One of the most complete houseboats ever launched in Miami was the Deep Sea Mystery, being constructed for Lawrence T. Cooper, of New York. The craft is eighty-five feet long and twenty-six feet beam. The floating residence has a main saloon on the first floor, while the second floor provides eight staterooms and three private baths. Mr. Cooper is expected to arrive shortly with his family to occupy the boat.

The Royal Palm grill has been the scene of some notable dinner parties this week. Forty guests were entertained Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hanan, of New York, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Kennett Cowen, also of New York, who are their house guests.

A score of varieties of deep sea fish are running abundantly, amberjack, mackerel and sailfish being especially numerous. Mr. and Mrs. George H. Seymour, of Montclair, N. J., enjoyed a day's angling Monday aboard the Gipsy Queen. At Soldier Key Mrs. Seymour hooked the first tuna of the season, while her husband caught a pound fish, which resembles a dachshund in shape, being forty-two inches long and an inch wide. It glistened like silver, but had no scales. Mr. Seymour also landed a thirty-eight-pound sailfish.

Henry McVickers, of New York, a guest at the Royal Palm, chartered the Savalo early in the week and left with a party of friends for a week's cruise down the bay. The Savalo will proceed to Angle Fish Creek and Indian Key.

J. Craig Havemeyer, of New York, recently returned from England, cruised down from Palm Beach this week on his power yacht Trio, and is staying at the Royal Palm. Upon Mrs. Havemeyer's arrival they will cruise among the keys. His two sons are in service, one of them being stationed with the American army of occupation in Germany.

William K. Vanderbilt, jr., is expected to arrive in Miami from Palm Beach to spend the winter. He has leased Soldier Key from Major Henry Sanford, of New York, and will use this island as a base for his fishing trips. He has chartered the houseboat Ruffhouse for the season.

From New York State at the Halcyon are Frederick Quitin Kennelly and Roy C. Wright, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. William N. Bavier, of New Rochelle; Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Williamson, of Kew Gardens, Long Island; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pratt, of Utica, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Williams, of Brooklyn.

John Wanamaker will arrive in Miami aboard his trim yacht Gadfly. The craft is now at Daytona, taking on supplies. Mr. Wanamaker has made Miami his base for many winters, and has cruised among the keys and to the Florida west coast. Last year the merchant came South on the Hibiscus, which was recently chartered to J. Harrington Walker, of Detroit.

John L. Palmer, state golf champion of Florida, defeated Irving Nelson, the local professional, on the Miami Beach course Thursday afternoon. The score was 4 up and 3 to go. Nearly 100 persons composed the gallery.

George L. Carnegie, of Pittsburgh, who is wintering at Fernandina, is located for a short period at the Halcyon. He cruised down the peninsula on his houseboat with a party of friends.

John C. Cook, of Brooklyn, recently purchased the Tea House Plantation, at Buena Vista, from Harold L. Ogden.

Judge John Walsh and Hugh Skelly, of New York, were hosts on Thursday, when they chartered the steam yacht Dorothy and invited their friends to accompany them down the bay and have luncheon at Cape Florida. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Van Hamm and their daughter, Mrs. Henry S. Stevens, Gil N. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. John Havlin, Miss Vivian Skelly and Mrs. John Walsh.

Mrs. C. Hogan Hill, of Douglaston, L. I., has arrived at the Esmeralda. Also at this hotel are Miss Isabel Darlington, of Westchester; Mrs. Cora B. Hedges, of Bellville, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. William J. Beatty, of East Orange.

The Hotel Urmey is entertaining from New York Mrs. Benjamin Tripp, Mrs. Charles F. Messenger, Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Brachanan and E. D. Case.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Gordon, of New York, have Mrs. Thurston Page and Miss Bertha Jones, of Philadelphia, as their guests at the Royal Palm.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Harden and Miss Rosemary Harden, of New York, have joined friends at the Royal Palm for an indefinite stay.

Professor and Mrs. Herbert Raymond Moody, of New York, motored to Miami on Thursday from Palm Beach and had luncheon at the Royal Palm.

Lieutenant J. R. Combs, of New York, is spending the season at the Graiyna with Mrs. L. E. Porter and Mrs. S. M. Combs.

At the Graiyna are Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Lyndeman, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley S. Lyndeman and Miss Doris Lyndeman, of Edgemere, Long Island; Mr. and Mrs. James E. Schwerin, Mr. and Mrs. Milton S. Rubin, Miss Edith D. Brower, Vernon Brower, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Perkins, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Hudnut have arrived at the Royal Palm from New York.

New arrivals at the Urmey include Cooper Runyon, of Perth Amboy; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carter, Mrs. Frank Ferguson, Hamilton Harris, Miss Florence Reynolds, Mrs. W. Robert Sullivan and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Compton, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. William M. Purvis, of Brooklyn, and Kenneth Crowley, of East Orange.

Late registrations at the Halycon are Miss Ruth Taylor, Miss Margaret Powell, Roy C. Wright, Miss Maria N. Sheffield and J. Otis, of New York.

Bookings Indicate Capacity Crowds At Ormond Beach

Special Correspondence.

ORMOND, Fla., Jan. 25.—With the opening of the Hotel Ormond, January 7, the winter season at Ormond Beach may be said to be officially begun, as this hotel will be the centre of many social gatherings and functions.

Bookings for the season indicate a capacity house. In fact, it has been necessary to refuse late applicants for February and March reservations, as every room will be filled unless cancellations are made.

The glorious Florida sunshine and June temperature of the last week brought many golfers to the Ormond links from this hotel and the Bretton Inn. The first tournament is scheduled for January 29. Surf bathing also is fast becoming popular, although the water is yet a trifle cool for a beginner.

Horseback riding along the hard-packed beach for miles in either direction or through the tropical trails which abound in this vicinity is a strong attraction. The stables at the Ormond Hotel are in charge of William Eagleston, of the Hope Riding School, Providence, R. I.

New York City arrivals at the Hotel Ormond during the week were Arthur Hunter, Howard Cole, Professor and Mrs. Henry Fairfield Osborn, J. A. Campbell, J. H. Thompson, Dr. and Mrs. J. Blake White, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Johnson and daughter, Miss Hope Johnson, who have made the Ormond their winter home for several seasons.

Mrs. John C. Breckinridge, of New York City, will occupy Talahloko Cottage, on Hotel Ormond grounds. John D. Rockefeller and a party of about twenty-five are occupying two cottages on the river front, his own home being The Casements, near Hotel Ormond, overlooking the Halifax River. With him are Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Davis, Miss Spellman and Miss Evans and former Judge Shiras.

War Museum Planned

PARIS, Jan. 23.—A bill is soon to be introduced in Parliament calling for the creation of a professorship in war history. The bill also will provide for a war museum and a war library.

Mother of Six Children Dependent on Charity

The influenza carried off John Cant well two months ago, leaving his wife and six children destitute. The oldest child is twelve years of age, the youngest one years, and a new baby is expected in the family. Friends helped the family for a time and the mother, up until recently, earned a little money herself, but there is no income now except what charity supplies.

The St. Vincent de Paul Society at 4 Court Square, Brooklyn, earnestly asks contributions to maintain this family in its own home so that the children may enjoy the greatest of human blessings, the care of a good mother. One hundred and fifty dollars would support this family for the next three months.
