Wheat Sells Lower As Demand Slumps; Trend Is Weaker

Export Inquiry Less Active on Reports of Liberal Canadian Offers and Crop Advance in Australia

It was the consensus of opinion among wheat tenders that the farmers' holding movement will not prove a success. Although reports from the interior were somewhat conflicting regarding the attitude of producers, there was nothing to show that country acceptances were falling off.

In consequence, the market closed weak, with net losses for the day of 2½c to 3½c. Early in the session the market experienced an advance of more than 2c on renewed buying, but offers increased materially and prices declined 5¼c to 6½c from the early high point.

The export demand was less active, and this also contributed to the day's weakness, while the more favorable reports regarding the strike situation in England were ignored. Export sales were estimated at about 400,000 bushels, including about 250,000 at the Gulf and the remainder Manitobas.

Advices from Canada indicated liberal country offers there, with only a limited cash demand, and further reports of favorable rains in Australia were believed to be against large export operations.

The December position in Chicago lost about 1c of its premium over March owing to selling, on the fact that the December price in that market was relatively higher than at the outside points, and this was expected to attract more wheat to that market.

Sentiment at the close of the day was again bearish, and the action of the market was thought to disclose a continued absence of confidence in high prices.

In the local market No. 2 red and No. 2 hard were quoted at $2.32 c. i. f. New York.

Liberal Corn Receipts Cause Price Reaction

The corn market reacted from an early advance and at the close was weak, with net losses of ½ to ¾c. Reports of further export demand seemed to stimulate a little buying early, but the trade felt that under the most favorable circumstances export sales are not likely to be of sufficient volume to make much of an impression on the large supplies, especially when the new crop begins to move in volume. Weather conditions were against an enlarged movement, but receipts were again liberal at interior points, while the domestic cash demand was fair.

The local cash market was steady, No. 2 yellow quoted at $1.09½; No. 2 mixed, $1.08¾ cost and freight New York, ten days' shipment.

Oats.—The oats market was dominated largely by the action of wheat and corn and prices eased off from a moderate early advance and net losses of ½c. The cash market, however, showed a rather firmer tone and local prices were ½ to 1 cent higher, with No. 1 white quoted at 67½c; No. 2 white, 67c; No. 3 white, 66c; No. 4 white 64½ to 65c; fancy clipped white, 72c; ordinary clipped white, 67½c, all elevator.

Cent-a-Pound Drop In Cotton Follows Renewed Pressure

Settlement of British Coal Strike and Frost Predictions in Belt Fail to Stimulate Buying in Market

The action of the cotton market yesterday suggested that a settlement of the British coal strike had been overdiscounted on the recent advance. At any rate the English news failed to promote any fresh buying, and as soon as this became apparent selling became general.

Liquidation was active, while there was a renewal of local pressure and more selling for Southern account than for several days was reported on the decline of approximately a cent a pound from Tuesday's closing quotations. This carried January contracts off to 20.66, or 109 points net lower, and they closed at 20.73, with the general market closing barely steady at a net decline of 80 to 105 points.

The indifference of the market to both frost predictions and the better English labor news was evidently a disappointment to people who were still holding on contracts purchased on recent advances. This naturally led to liquidation, while selling for local and Wall Street account was rendered more aggressive by reports of increased Southern offerings and the hedge selling.

Southern spot markets, as officially reported, were unchanged to 125 points lower, Southwestern markets being relatively easy; also relatively active. Middling quotations in the South now range from 20.75 to 22.50, compared with 21.15, the closing quotation for December contracts in the local market.

The local market for spot cotton was quiet and 55 points lower, at 22.15 for middling; no sales were reported.

Cottonseed Oil

The market, after moving in a comparatively narrow range, developed weakness toward the close of the day and closed with net losses of 30 to 40 points. The decline in other commodities, including cotton and grain, appeared to have a bearish influence on sentiment, and there was a general lack of buying power. Total sales for the day were 10,800 barrels. Tenders on October contracts during the month were 4,100 barrels.

Coffee Futures—Cables from primary markets were disappointing, quotations ruling lower, and there was some considerable realizing on the local exchanges, which caused a slight recession. Final prices showed net declines of 26 to 31 points. The local spot market was reported less active, owing to the decline in futures, which apparently reflected various rumors of a loan to Brazil.
