Americans to Man American Ships Sought

Ship Owners Will Take Up Question of Securing a Greater Supply of Native-Born Seamen on Vessels

Aliens Have Dominated

Recent Strike Showed Them Responsible for Acts of Violence Against Marine

Plans for the adoption of methods that will insure preference for the employment of American seamen on American ships will be taken up by the American Steamship Owners' Association in the near future.

Meetings will be held to-day by two committees of the association—one on the Edmonds bill to amend the La Follette seamen's law and the other on the Edmonds bill providing for the transfer of the transport service shipping activities from the Army and Navy departments and the government-owned Panama Steamship Company to privately-owned American shipping lines.

American Seamen Unite

Now that an American seamen's association has been formed, with a membership limited to Americans, the prospects for an increased percentage of Americans on American ships are regarded as greatly improved. This new organization is looked to by many shipping men to offset the effect of control of the marine unions in this country by the foreign element.

What this domination means, shipping men point out, was shown clearly during the recent strike. Investigation of acts of violence and intimidation on the part of the strikers almost invariably showed aliens to be responsible. In an attack upon an American ship at New Orleans, for instance, of ninety-three men arrested eighty-three were found to be foreigners.

Winthrop L. Marvin, vice-president and general manager of the American Steamship Owners' Association, states that in looking over the articles of ships that received crews in New York during the last winter and just before the strike he found that these ships' complements, furnished mostly from union headquarters, contained only two or three Americans at most out of thirty or forty men.

Foreigners in Control

"It is an open secret," he says, "that although for political purposes these 'international' unions have been claiming an American enrollment of 40 to 50 per cent, the walking delegates and agents were taking especially good care that men of their own kind were preferred for employment. They would allow no Yankees, and particularly none of an aggressive type, to get upon the payrolls of American ships if they could help it."

Excessive charges, stated to be made by the railroads on coal trimming, were discussed at a meeting held at the headquarters of the American Steamship Owners' Association, 11 Broadway, yesterday by a committee representing shipping men and coal exporters, headed by Henry S. Lyons, of the New England Fuel and Transportation Company. The Maritime Exchange of Hampton Roads is also taking steps to secure a reduction of the charges, in order to enable increased exportation of American coal in competition with the European product.

House Vote Will Suspend Navy's Shipping Bulletin

From The Tribune's Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Navy Department officials said to-day that because Congress had failed to authorize publication of the Shipping Bulletin it will have to be discontinued. This is the publication containing information of movements of ships at sea, their arrival in port, clearing and location. It has been in demand among shipping men and commercial interests.

The House had before it recently a bill relating to various naval matters and included in it was a provision that the department should be authorized to publish the bulletin and sell it to maritime interests and others at cost of publication. The House knocked out the provision and opposed the bill to such an extent that Representative Butler, in charge of it, withdrew it.

Representative Hicks, of New York, made a plea for the bulletin in the House, but on a motion by Representative Mann the provision for publication was defeated, 70 to 25. Representative Hicks brought out the fact that while the government had been out of pocket on this item, the price of the bulletin had been raised to $1 and virtually would be self-sustaining.

Representative Mann said there was no authority in law for the bulletin's publication. He said the main purpose was to give an excuse for employing men in the radio stations under the Navy Department. He declared it was a merchant ship matter and that the Navy Department should have nothing to do with it.

In the face of the opposition in the House there is doubt whether the project can be revived. Efforts will be made, however, to get the matter taken up by the Appropriations Committee later.
