Ship Men Plan New Services To Philippines

Extension of Coastwise Laws to the Islands Will Employ Thirty Additional Steamers, Is Estimate

Prompt Action Expected

Will Win Back Traffic Now in Hands of British and Japanese on the Pacific

Thirty to forty vessels now idle on the Atlantic Coast will be placed in service between the United States, the Philippines and island possessions when the coastwise laws are extended on February 1, 1922, according to estimates made by steamship officials yesterday. It was said that while a large part of the additional traffic which will result from the exclusion of foreign vessels can be carried by the regular liners, a considerable number of medium size freighters will be needed.

Ship companies are co-operating actively with the Shipping Board to determine whether services to the Philippines and the islands are adequate for the trafic and to establish any other lines necessary under the new law.

The board is proceeding upon the assumption that the President will make the law effective, though no announcement has yet come from the White House. It is understood in New York that there will be no delay in applying Section 21 of the Jones act, which covers this subject.

Thorough Inquiry First

The law gives the President authority to defer the section if he finds that there are not sufficient steamship lines at reasonable rates to accommodate the freight and passengers. It provides that it shall not be extended to the Philippines especially until this has been established by a thorough investigation. W. J. Love, vice-president of the Shipping Board, in charge of traffic, said yesterday that the board was convinced there need be no delay.

Other islands included in the scope of the act are the Virgin Islands, Guam and Samoa. Hawaii is now covered by the coastwise provisions, as the merchant marine act repeals the permission extended during the war to vessels of foreign construction and foreign registry to engage in trade with the United States.

Officials of steamship companies said yesterday that at present British and Japanese vessels are carrying more than half of the commerce between the United States and the Philippines. The transfer of this traffic, it was said, would prove to be a great advantage to the Barber Steamship Company, the Pacific Mail and the Admiral Line, the principal companies operating to the islands.

Service from Atlantic Doubtful

There has been talk of the establishment of a passenger service between the Atlantic and the Philippines, but it is doubted if this will be profitable, chiefly because of the better time that can be made by traveling overland and by either the Admiral Line or the Pacific Mail from the Pacific Coast.

It is understood that the Barber lines plan additional cargo services from the Atlantic Coast on regular schedules. It is expected also that many tramp vessels under the American flag will be attracted.

Savannah Line Prepares For Greater Coast Trade

Additional Sailings Begun From Boston and New York; Idle Vessels Put in Operation

A steady revival in coastwise business has been the reason for the increased sailings begun by the Savannah Line, according to officials of the company. Several vessels which have been idle throughout the summer have been put into operation between New York, Boston and South Atlantic ports.

The Savannah Line has increased its sailings at New York from two to three weekly, and at Boston from one to two.

The increased service has been accomplished by placing in operation the City of Rome and the City of Atlanta, passenger and freight ships which have been tied up for several months. The fleet of the Savannah Line now includes seven ships, four sailing from New York and three from Boston. All are vessels of 5,400 to 6,200 tons, and are owned by the company.

Harriman Line Will Not Operate Foreign Vessels

Officials of the United American Lines, of which W. Averell Harriman is chairman of the board of directors, have denied the report that the company intends to operate ships under a foreign flag. This rumor grew out of the information from Washington that application has been granted by the Shipping Board for the transfer of two small vessels from American to Hungarian registration.

It was said that these vessels, the Mount Summit and the Mount Sidney, formerly were Austrian freighters especially adapted to the Levant and Black Sea trades, but useless to the United American Lines. Negotiations are under way for the sale of the vessels to a Hungarian corporation, and the application for the transfer of registry was a preliminary to the sale. The deal has not yet been consummated, it was said.

Fire Fighting Test To Be Staged Aboard Leviathan

A fire-fighting test will be staged on the Leviathan this afternoon by the International Mercantile Marine Company, custodian of the vessel for the Shipping Board. The demonstration will be in charge of William F. Gibbs, chief of construction. It is planned to have fifty lines of hose playing at once over the ship's superstructure and sides, each throwing a heavy stream. The water will be from the ship's fire pumps, on which steam has been kept constantly for the two years she has been laid up.

The readiness of the Leviathan's fire-fighting apparatus for use in emergency saved the vessel on August 24, when the adjacent pier was burned, officials said yesterday. Twelve lines of hose were used by the crew, but they were sufficient to extinguish fires which caught in forty places on the life boats and upper works.
